MRS. MARLENE SCOTT

Rt. 2, Box 178-C

Raleigh, N. C. 27610

By the time you receive this Review, our Summer Specialty will be over, and it will be time to start your plans for our New York Specialty to be held at The Statler Hilton Hotel with Mr. Edd Bivin judging Regular Classes, and Mr. Darell Baker judging Sweepstakes. Let's make this the largest and best Show yet. We have a beautiful, newly decorated room at The Statler Hilton, twice the size of the Show Hall last year. For Premium List, write to Mrs. Mary Casey, Show Chairman, or Moss-Bow Dog Show Organization. Our Trophies this year will feature a unique new trophy, that everyone will want. That is all I will tell you about it. You will just have to come to New York to the show to see. Other than seeing all of the beautiful Poms entered and enjoying the Show and Annual Meeting, we do have a marvelous time along with it. Ask anyone who has been there. Plan to stay over for The Westminster Kennel Club Show, also. Toys will be judged on Monday.

I don't know if you realize how fortunate we are to have a publication like The Pom Review, that is edited and published by members of our Club, who are breeders. Our Columnists are very generous to devote their time to writing for The Review. Some of them have been writing for The Review for as long as nine years. I think Katherine Birk has been with The Review at least that long. Dr. Jim Arima was our first Editor.

He is now a judge, and lives in California.

The Review has tripled or more in size and circulation, and Sophie Mayes is to be commended for her work with our Review. I am sure none of you realize what a task it is for Sophie to get The Review out. She donates her personal time for the work. We have appointed two assistants to help her prepare the material for the printer. I subscribe to several Breed Magazines, and ours is equal or better than most, don't you think? If you use our Magazine for advertising, it will help greatly if you get your ad in on time. Select your words with care in presenting your Pom Pups and Stud services for sale. We do receive some mail from Pom Fanciers who are disappointed in Poms they have purchased from ads in our Review. As the Parent Club, we have taken it upon ourselves to uphold, protect, and further the breed. For the wording of your ads, we have to leave it up to you to be honest. "Yips and Yaps" is to be used to share opinions and experiences, not to express your opinion about one dog, person, or Kennel in particular, and there are ways of doing this without mentioning names. I thoroughly enjoy my Review, and I hope you do, too. Thank you Sophie Mayes, for a job well done, and don't edit this last sentence.

Good luck with your Poms and let me hear from you.

NOTICE

The Review would like the BOB picture of EVERY Specialty Show. This will be printed free of charge and used in the write-up of the show. The picture will be returned. Other top winners can send pictures for publication by paying $5.00 each and they will get the cut, afterwards. For American Pomeranian Club Specialties ONLY, we print FREE pictures of BOB, BOS, WD, WB, and Best in Sweepstakes.

COVER STORY

by: Mark Roma

The first words uttered by Sharon Griffin Dwier, handler, when she first saw "Aristic Man of Flint", were, "He's super!"

For the uninitiated in today's vernacular, super is equated with "Something special". Indeed, Lick (as he is affectionately called because he loves everybody), is something extra special.

The story really begins with a phone call to Mr. Ken Mayes, of Mayken Kennels. I had decided that I wanted an Aristic dog to breed to my bitch "Scotia Sensational Sally" who had just taken winner's bitch at the New York Pomeranian Specialty show in February 1973.

During the course of our conversation with Mr. Mayes, he said that he did indeed have an outstanding puppy for sale. Mr. Mayes told me that this puppy had been bred by Mrs. Gladys Schoenberg, and in his words, "He's a good one". Respecting Mr. Mayes integrity and judgment, I said, O.K., send him to me.

At this point I would like to sincerely thank Mr. and Mrs. Mayes for sending "Lick" up north.

"Lick" is sired by Ch. Holder's "A Li'l Red Flint" and his dam is "Aristic Mandarin Doll", one of the famous Schoenberg "Doll" bitches.

This outstanding pom is 4 pounds very short bodied and cobby, carries a very heavy red coat, has a gorgeous tail set, small ears and an exceptionally outgoing personality. In short, he truly is a super-pom.

"Lick" is now 1 year old, he has 13 points, including one major. In a very short time "Lick" has compiled a record of 3 B.O.B.'s from the classes, 6 B.O.W.'s, and 2 Group 3 placements.

I cannot give enough thanks and love to Sharon Griffin Dwier who has handled "Lick" exclusively.

"Lick" is an aggressive proven stud, having sired a litter to a bitch owned by Sharon.

In conclusion, I consider myself extremely fortunate in having such a beautiful, small bundle of fluff to enjoy.

STEPHEN MCNERNEY Spring, Texas

Being a devoted reader of your publication for over a year now and a member of the Pomeranian Club of Greater Houston, I thought that you and your readers might enjoy this "tid-bit" I ran across in the book Famous Dogs of Famous People. The following is a poem written by Mr. Percy Fitzgerald about Charles Dickens' Pomeranian Mrs. Bouncer of whom he was very fond (as we all are of ours).

As you can see, at that time in history, the Pomeranian was still referred to as a Spitz.

Furry, lazy, warm and bright,
Peeping from her fringe of white,
She blinks and sleeps both day and night,

A happy Spitz!

She need not fear the cruel stick,
Nor has she learnt a single trick—
Just deigns her mistress' hand to lick,
As she knits.

She eats, and drinks, and eats again,
Is never out in wind or rain,—
Takes many a journey in the train,
That lucky Spitz!

She has her own coquettish charms,
Knows no sorrows, no alarms,
And dozes in her mistress' arms—
A sleepy Spitz.

At dinner—ah! that pleasant Babel!
Touch her paw beneath the table,
She'd bite your foot—were she but able
A naughty Spitz.

THE AMERICAN POMERANIAN CLUB INC. FEBRUARY SPECIALTY SHOW

by MARY F. CASEY, Show Chairman

By the time you receive this issue of the Review, you should have all received letters from the trophy chairmen and advertising chairman. DID YOU ANSWER THOSE LETTERS YET? ? ? ? If not, please do so right away. We really want all of the members and subscribers to actively participate in this years show. We know that it is impossible for every one of you to attend the show, we wish that you all could, but there is no reason why you cannot be an active supporter. We have a big surprise for the exhibitors this year, at least all of the class winners, and if you do not enter you cannot win.

The cost of putting on a Specialty Show is rising, the same as everything else and each year the Club loses a tremendous amount of money. You can help overcome this deficit by contributing toward the advertising. Not only do you help yourself by getting your name before the Pomeranian Public, you also help the club defray the expenses. PLEASE HELP MAKE THE SHOW A SUCCESS—

If each member and subscriber would take an Ad we would have a catalogue that would be a treasured keepsake. If each Breeder would take a Breeder's Directory Listing, we would all know which members were Breeders, who had puppies and who had Stud Service. This helps when it comes to referring customers who are looking for information on where to buy or to breed. If each Pom Enthusiast would just send $2.00 for a booster they would be doing their part in supporting this Pom Event of the Year.

With your cooperation we can make the 1974 A.P.C. Specialty Show self supporting. As your Show Chairman I cannot do a good job unless YOU HELP ME.

This year we want the Regional Clubs to know that they are a part of The Parent Club—We need you and want you and in order to show that we do, we are offering each local club 10% of all Advertising that is sent in for the Annual Show Catalogue through their Club Secretary. This give each Local Club a chance to help build up their own treasuries as well as helping the Parent Club. So if you are a member of a Regional Club get your Ad to the Secretary of your Club right away, be sure your check accompanies it and have your Secretary send it to the Advertising Chairman.

Our Advertising Chairman will keep an accurate accounting of all Advertising received from the Local Club Secretaries and after the show each Club that submits Ads will receive a check for their 10%. If you want to add to this, get some of your friends to give you a booster — these add up quickly and with your cooperation your Local Treasuries can profit. Advertising Chairman for the Specialty is Mrs. Jessie W. Young, Loudon Ridge Road, Loudon, New Hampshire.

The Premium List Deadline may be closed by the time you receive this issue, check your calender and if you still have time and haven't already done so, send your trophy pledge to Bill Pottebaum and Tom Daniels, Davis Road, Southwick, Mass. This is their first attempt at being trophy chairmen and they want to have a display that you will all be proud of and that will be a credit to Our Breed.

Remember the date for the Specialty —February 10, 1974 at the Statler Hilton Hotel in New York City, with the Westminster Show the following day Our Poms will be judged on Monday this year, so it should be a very pleasant weekend for all who enter. The Superintendent will be Moss-Bow Dog Show Organization, P. O. Box No. 20205 Greensboro, N. Carolina 27420 or 9999 Broad Street, Detroit, Michigan 48204.

THE POMERANIAN CLUB OF MICHIGAN

by: LILY KELLY, Secretary

13282 S. Dixie Hgwy, Holly, Michigan 48442

The Pomeranian Club of Michigan held its Specialty Show in conjunction with the Ann Arbor Kennel Club, Inc. all-breed dog show in Ann Arbor, Mich. on Sunday, June 3, 1973. Judge was Mrs. Georgina Lane.

In spite of the bad weather, it rained cats and dogs most of the morning, and the fact that our breed was judged at 10 a.m., there was a fairly good turnout. We had an entry of 18, 6 dogs, 10 bitches and 2 Best of Breed Competition.

Our Martin Booth photograph shows Ch. Millamor's Mark of Dixieland going Best of Breed under Mrs. Georgina Lane, handled by his owner, Eleanor W. Miller. With this win, Eleanor retired the Ducal Memorial Trophy.

Best of Breed was taken by Eleanor W. Miller with her Ch. Millamor's Mark of Dixieland. With this win Eleanor was entitled to the "S. R. Ducal Memorial Trophy" which has been offered by our Club at its Specialty Shows only, and was to be retired when won three times by the same owner, not necessarily with the same dog nor at consecutive shows. This trophy was originally won by Ducal Billy Buttons, owned by Mr. Robert Stein, (deceased), who then donated it to the club as a Memorial Trophy.

Best of Opposite Sex went to Patricia A. Larrissey's Ch. Tomahawk's Red Face, C.D. and Best of Winners to Minnette Winkel's Bright Destiny of Nanjo.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who contributed to the success of the show.

JUDGE'S CRITIQUE

by: Mrs. Georgina Lane

I had the honor to judge the Pomeranian Club of Michigan Specialty on June 3rd at Ann Arbor. I found the quality of all entries to be very high and in spite of a very dreadful thunderstorm there were no absentees.

I found my Winner Dog in the American Bred Class-Bright Destiny of Nanjo, Owner-Minnette Winkel and this dog was also Best of Winners. The Winner bitch was from Bred by Exhibitor class, Eleanor Miller's Millamor Marita. Both owners felt the four point major finished championships but this is unconfirmed. Best of Opposite Sex was Patricia Larrissey's Ch. Tomahawk's Red Face, C.D. The Best of Breed was Eleanor Miller's Ch. Millamor Mark of Dixieland and this win retired the S. R. Ducal Memorial Trophy as Eleanor Miller had won it three times.

I was of opinion that the youngsters entered showed excellent promise and will be a credit to our breed. Many old-time breeders had entries and the dogs looked so nice I was sorry the storm kept spectators away. I have never judged at any show where exhibitors seemed so happy and friendly with each other, and I enjoyed the assignment very much.

SHAMROCKS' POMERANIANS

"REGRETTABLY"

The Poms listed below were bred or purchased to be used in our breeding program and were intended to live out their lives here with us. Due to illness on my part, we are forced to reduce our numbers and discontinue our breeding and showing programs. Of course we regret this very much and hope it won't be too long before we are back in Poms again.

BAY COLONY POMERANIAN CLUB

MARY F. CASEY

60 Wilbur St., Raynham, Ma. 02767

June 30th, 1973 was the day that we had looked forward to with great anticipation. It was the day of the Bay Colony Pom Club Specialty. As dawn broke, it was quite obvious that the day was not going to be the bright sunny day that we had all prayed for. The rain that we had been having all week long was going to continue. Maybe it would clear for the Pom judging—I still had hopes as I left home for the Norton Elementary School grounds and the Hockamock Kennel Club Show.

We had a good entry of Poms, for this area, and when I arrived at the show grounds I found that several of the exhibitors were there before me. We soon picked a spot to set up our festive headquarters and then went checking for the ring in which we would be shown. You can imagine my disappointment when I discovered that the ring had several inches of water in the largest area of it. I could just see the little Poms swimming their way around with their handlers sloshing along beside them. My next visit was to the Superintendent's tent to see if we could have our assignment moved to higher ground. After much discussion and getting nowhere, the H.K.C. Show Chairman, Mrs. Barbara Brodie, came to my rescue and told the Supt. to move the Pom Specialty to another ring and we were all happy. The rain had subsided and we proceeded to set up our ring. The ground was level and the grass well mowed—our Poms would look lovely as they strutted around for our judge Mr. Edd Bivin to pass upon. With the help of Frank Burns, Our BCPC V. Pres. and his wife Amber, Club Sec'y. we set up the trophy table and the lovely Pom Place Markers that Frank Burns had spent many hours making. Everything was set when the judge walked in the ring and the first class was called. THEN THE RAINS CAME—I neglected to mention that this new ring that was so ideal was not under any tent—therefore when the heavens opened up, judge, Poms and exhibitors were thoroughly drenched. The hours of brushing and preparing for the show were all washed down the drain and our little charges looked as though they had been dunked in a tub of water. Mr. Bivin did an excellent job of judging and gave each exhibit a thorough going over before making his final selections.

POMERANIAN COLOR

by: SOPHIE H. MAYES

Newcomers to our breed are at a loss to know the correct description of allowed colors in our Standard, as Black and Tan and particolored are the only detailed descriptions given. It was and is my personal opinion that the description of proper sable markings should have been retained in the Revised Standard, as a great many breeders still do not understand the difference between a true sable and a solid color Pom with black shadings or a sprinkling of black hairs throughout the coat.

In an attempt to answer a letter in Yips and Yaps in the July Review, I will draw upon my experience as a breeder, upon any knowledge I may have gleaned from reading numerous early books on the Pomeranian, and to a lesser extent on what I have read and been able to absorb on the genetic inheritance of coat color. Corrections, additions or any pertinent correspondence will be most welcome. I do not set myself up as an expert in these matters, and confess that the science of genetics is beyond my complete comprehension. Terms used, therefore, are probably not scientifically correct, and are used for convenience in conveying ideas to the reader.

Our breed Standard, prior to the recent revision, described the beaver color as "dark beige". In The Complete Pomeranian, Viva Leone Ricketts states that "Beavers are a deep taupe with reddish overcast over the body". A letter will be found in the Yips and Yaps section of this issue with still another possible description. As I have never seen a Pom authentically described as "Beaver", I will have to bow out of this discussion!

The former Standard says, "Sable-colored dogs must be shaded throughout as uniformly as possible, with no self-colored patches. In orange sable, the undercoat must be a light tan with deeper orange guard hairs ending in black tipping. In wolf-sables, the undercoat is light gray with a deeper shade of steel-gray guard hairs ending in black tipping. A shaded muzzle on the sables is permissible."

As our Revised Standard permits all sables, without further explanation, it is certainly obvious that all other genetically possible Sable-colored Poms would be welcome in the show ring. The new AKC "Blue Slip" in giving the 9 most frequently used colors, lists "Red sable" as one. Other sables equally acceptable would be the brown-tipped or blue-tipped sables (with self-colored noses), and the cream sables with black tips — frequently mis-registered as "Wolf Sables". As the true Wolf Sable has NO cream or orange cast, and has become exceedingly rare, I question the inclusion of this color by AKC in the list of frequently seen colors.

To quote Miss Ives book, Show Pomeranians, "Pure-bred blues are born the color of new silver, and a lovelier sight than four or five of these pearl-grey atoms cannot be seen in dogdom. The blues that come occasionally from black, brown or sable dogs are simply 'flukes', and cannot be relied on either as stud dogs or brood bitches. Their produce frequently reverts to the color from which they were bred — if from black, they are too dark, and might almost be called bad blacks; if from browns, they become bronzy when adults; and if from sables, they turn yellowish on haunches, and develop shadings. It is most surprising that a colour so soft and delicate as a pure-bred blue should not have greater attention paid to its breeding . . . Very often the blues darken in colour with the adult top coat, the undercoat retaining its silvery appearance."

The blue Pomeranian, then, has a silvery grey undercoat and a darker slate blue top coat, with dark blue nose, lips, eye-rims and foot pads. As pure-bred (or color-bred) blue Poms can be called absolutely non-existent today, the few blues that are produced are seen mostly as "sports" in breeding blacks, whites and chocolates. To secure and perpetuate the true pale blues, breeders should mate blues only to blues for several generations, selecting as breeding stock only the best in color. If an occasional outcross is necessary, it should be to a white or cream Pom, for lightening and improving the blue color.

The term "Brown" covers all shades of brown including Beaver and the dark, self-colored brown known as "Chocolate". It would also include the brown and tan Poms, usually not recognized as such, but called browns with lighter shadings. (The genetically possible blue and tans would not be permitted under our new Standard.) Chocolate Poms are self-colored throughout, with lighter shadings, if any, very very slightly perceptible. All brown Pomeranians have brown noses, eye rims, lips and foot pads — sometimes so dark as to appear black.

Cream Poms are not very light oranges, but are an even, self-colored cream throughout, with no white on breechings or under parts, although due to the harsher texture of the guard hairs, the top coat may seem slightly deeper in color than the under coat. Cream Pomeranians MUST have black noses, eye-rims, and lips. The "Blonde" color which our July correspondent inquired about is not a correctly termed color for Pomeranians. It would cover any very light orange colored dog, with or without lighter or possibly white shadings.

Cream Pomeranians, orange Pomeranians and some white Pomeranians are descendents of the early "biscuit" or "fawn" dogs, genetically termed "Liver". As such, it is their tendency to have brown noses in some cases. It is due to the tremendous ability of early English breeders to improve and sometimes completely change the type of animals they are breeding that the orange Poms have become so well established with black noses. Although I have not been able to verify it, it seems probable to me that the black noses, eye rims and lips and foot pads were secured by judicious sable crosses, early in the evolution of the orange color. When you consider that in certain other breeds where similar colors are recognized, notably the white and apricot Poodle, and the Samoyed where only white, cream or biscuit are permitted, breeders are still struggling to secure the prepotent black nose color, the skill of these long-ago English breeders is apparent.

The occasional cream or orange Pom with brown nose is simply a "throw-back" to his early ancestors. It means a recessive liver gene exists in each parent. This dog is not eligible for the show ring, as our Standard very clearly states that on all but blue and brown Poms, nose color MUST be black. Such Poms can be used for breeding purposes if mated to animals with black noses; eye rims, etc. Deep orange, red or orange sables will almost always produce desired black noses, but to avoid the possible recessive gene for liver, an outcross mating is advisable.

White Pomeranians, the earliest color seen in England, have been a "problem" and a challenge to modern American Breeders. This is due in part to the desire for the ideal complete absence of tint or color on body coat, along with true Pom type, and the demand of our Standard for black points. Its fairly easy to secure one without the other—the combination is extremely difficult of attainment.

As a very stubborn breeder of white Pomeranians, I have struggled for more than ten years to breed a white Pom worthy of being shown. The second part of this article will deal with the problems encountered in breeding white Poms, and delve into the "linking" of certain coat colors with different types in conformation. Meanwhile, I leave you with this thought: almost all white Pom puppies are born snow-white, with raspberry pink noses, lips and foot pads. The "points" darken gradually, the coat often stays pure white. The breeder is elated — at last! success!! Many puppies are sold as pure white, only to have those heartbreaking cream ears appear at 3 months, 6 months or even after 1 year.

The Ohio Pomeranian Club Supported the entry of Poms at the Medina Kennel Club Show on July 21, 1973. The judge was Mrs. J. H. Daniell-Jenkins who awarded Winners Bitch, Best of Winners and Best Pom to "Myway Dae Dream" owned by Jacquelyn Klein for 3 points. Winners Dog and Best Opposite Sex was "Windfalla of Highland" owned by Carol Galavich who received 2 Pts. Reserve WD was "McKamey's Enchanting Pepper" owned by Mrs. Norris McKamey and Reserve WB went to "Marlorn's Queen of Diamonds" owned by Mary and Loren Straslicka.

Our fun match was held on June 2, 1973. Best of Breed Junior Puppy went to "Cream Puff" owned by Sue Hollingsworth. BOB Sr. Puppy was "Marlorn's Queen of Diamonds" owned by yours truly and BOB Senior (Adult. was "Davis Wee Gold Smarty Doll" owned by Donna Megenhardt. Highest Scoring in obedience was "Lordonn's LaMonte" owned by Donna Mohn.

At our last meeting on July 14, 1973, one of our members, Fred Bassett, showed slides and pictures of some very lovely Poms that he photographed in England. Among them were Ch. Saymar the Saint, Ch. Saymar the Scotsman, Cynpeg's Saymar Gay Gambler, Ch. Cynpeg's Gentle Thoughts, and Ch. Cynpeg's Guided Missile. We also viewed slides of Dorothy Bonner's kennel and the Aristic Kennels of Mrs. Schoenberg.

I am happy to report that Donna Megenhardt has recently finished her "Ch. Meg's Dandy Little Boy" at the Columbiana Kennel Club Show.

Eleanor Miller recently finished an exceptional 7 month old puppy bitch "Millamor's Marketta" in six shows with 4 majors for an undefeated championship. Another recent Champion belonging to Eleanor, "Ch. Millamor's Moon Rock", placed 2nd in the Toy Group at the Grand River Show on July 15, 1973, under Mrs. Yan Paul.

We would like to thank the Pom Club of Michigan and the Fort Worth Pomeranian Club for exchanging club news with us.

At our next meeting, to be held on Sept. 8, 1973, our guest speaker will be Dr. W. Sternecker who will talk about heartworm and answer questions on various topics.

Phoenix, Az. 85021

The following listed officers were elected for our year 1972-1973: President — A. T. Buckendorf, Vice-President — Clarence Smith, Treasurer — Charlene Johnson, Secretary — Eva Smith, Bench Show Chairman — O. Raney, Members At Large — are Marsha Buckendorf and Lois Daniel.

Our club enjoyed their SECOND FUN MATCH, May 6, 1973 in Phoenix. There was 38 entries in competition, plus 8 in Junior Showmanship, 5 in the Parade of merit and this time we were proud to add an Obedience exhibition with 7 entries. Two of these are CD Certificate owners, making a total of 58 entries in all.

Sancha, Mrs. William Harvey, from Camp, Az. who is an AKC licensed judge, did the honors for us.

Best in Show went to the gorgeous little two month old Smith's Cut A Caper, owned by Clarence Smith, Trained and shown by Mrs. M. Buckendorf.

We are so proud to have Mrs. Buckendorf in our club. She is a licensed groomer and obedience trainer. At this time our club has 9 little Pomeranians in obedience and we are looking forward to a full class of exquisitely groomed Poms in an obedience exhibition.

I will take this opportunity to thank AKC and The American Pomeranian Club for their help. WE ARE PROGRESSING. WE ARE GROWING.

PUGET SOUND POMERANIAN CLUB

VIRGINIA NIEHOUSE, Secty.
1928-46th SW, Seattle, WA 98116

The past three months have been active ones for our Club. We have Incorporated, held our annual elections, hosted a Specialty Fun Match and several members have finished their Poms to their titles. Our new officers are Alicia Kvamme, President, Elza Anderson, Vice-President, Virginia Niehouse, Secretary, and Bernard Niehouse, Treasurer. Named to the Board are Phyllis Andrews, Erin Hundley, Ray and Nora Higbee.

We miss a number of the old faces, those who have dropped out or moved away, but we are glad to have Elsie Kurtz, Cindy Anderson, and Raymond and Marie Smith as new members. We are sorry to lose Sandy and Larry Hanks to California where his job took them, and Darlene Pugh, who had to move to Philadelphia. All will remain as members. We are also sorry that several of our members have been on the sick list. Nora Higbee, Edna Girardot and Phyllis Andrews have all been under the weather. We hope that they will all be better soon.

Wins in the Ring have been noted, too. Donna Harris recently finished her second bitch in a year when "Lil Red Hot Pants of O'Kala" took the points to win her American title. Winning her Canadian title is Alicia Kvamme's bitch "Cedar Glen's Magnificent Moon." Alaskan member, Erma White finished her "Tinkler's Gypsy Princess" and Edna Girardot, our Florida member, finished her "Scotia Leader's Bunny Hon-Bun" to her Championship. We are proud of all of you. We are also proud of the activities of the 4 Higbee children. They are active in nearly every phase of dog showing and we can't help admiring the spirit and verve they display when they are showing their Poms. They put a lot of adults to shame without even trying.

Beautiful weather, a lovely park complete with a lake, and a congenial group of people with a mutual interest are all factors that combined to make our July 14th Specialty Fun Match-Potluck Picnic a pleasure to attend. Throw in a lot of good-natured rivalry in the Ring, pleasant conversation about our Poms and enough good food to feed an Army, and I don't know how a Pom lover could ask for more to enjoy themselves. We had visitors from Oregon including our judge, Joy LeCompte, Rita LaVerne and Margaret Coleman and a family who were so very nice to visit with, but who's name we didn't get to our sorrow. We hope that all of these nice people will join us again on Sept. 16th, when we will co-host with the South End Sheltie Club, an All-Breed Fun Match at Spanaway Park, near Tacoma, WA. It would be nice to be able to repeat our Specialty Fun Match for Pom Fanciers every year, it was so much fun this time.

Our sympathy to Clyde and Phyllis Andrews on the loss of their Champion male, Scotia Cav's Sensational Kid from a heart attack. They are fortunate, however, to own a lovely daughter of his out of Ch. Scotia Cav's A-Tisket A-Tasket, who is a real beauty and shows a great potential to enter the Ring someday. We wish these nice people the best, they have tried so hard to do everything they can to upgrade the Pomeranian breed.

Should we congratulate you, Erin Hundley? Weren't you heard to say that you didn't want any males in your house, the 4-legged variety, that is? Then didn't you become the proud (?) owner of five (5 count them) MALE puppies in one litter? Congratulations anyway, Erin, we couldn't let the opportunity pass to rib you a little.

Well, dear readers, that covers most of the highlights of the past quarter, so we'll see what develops between now and the next time you read this column.

AKC SANCTIONED MATCH

by Dolly B. Trauner
 Match Secretary

There were some mighty fine surprises in store for those attending the Match on Sunday, August 12th. Surprise No. 1 was the trophies — candles, all which made a colorful display in a wide variety on the embroidered satin table cover.

For match Judge, Edward L. Perko, Surprise No. 2 was a turnout of 10 champions for a Champion Parade. Since he aspires to judge our breed, owners graciously allowed him to examine and gait each of these title holders individually, a courtesy for which he was most grateful as an important addition to his education in the breed.

Surprise No. 3 was reserved for Dave and Bobbie King and their 9-12 mo. puppy bitch, "Annie". The young couple were attending their first Match as spectators. When it was learned they had their puppy with them, Club members prevailed on the Kings to enter her. Bobbie and "Annie" were alone in the class, and with a little instruction from the judge "got their feet wet". That meant coming back to compete for Best and Best Opposite Puppy against all the other class winners. Well, "Annie" got the nod for Best Opposite Sex, winning a garlanded, pedestaled candle nearly twice her size. It's a good bet that the Kings, and "Annie", will be around to enter the next Match, and that NCPC may gain a couple of new members. "Annie" was bred by Club member Bob Ramos.

Best Puppy — Blossom View's Li'l Gold Nugget, bred and owned by Irene Weltz, from the 2-4 mos. class. Best Adult — Kem's Stand Pat, male, bred and owned by Ken and Elizabeth Matheson. Best Opposite Adult — Blossom View's Ruby Red, bitch, owned by breeder Irene Weltz. Best Stud Dog — Creider's Navajo Britches, owned by Anne and Bob Hayden. No Brood Bitches entered.

Both the Judge and Mrs. Perko expressed delight with the Judge's Gift: an antique-style, glass-domed watchstand with the Club's medallion hung on the peg instead of the expected lava-lie or pocket watch.

Between the Match proper, and the Champion Parade, an Obedience demonstration was presented by Club member, Valeria Wagoner, and her "giant Pom" — her Keeshond "Liebchen". Valeria called the orders while husband Paul performed the Novice exercises with the Kees. This was a substitute for Emma Heyde and her obedience-trained Pom Brace which could not attend.

The day concluded with a lavish "dime-a dip" pot-luck buffet, organized by Hospitality Chairman, Paula Dodero, and her crew. The day's only flaw was the announcement of the hospitalization of George Forsberg, critically ill with pneumonia. George, 80 years "young", is one of the Club's oldest members and staunchest supporters, never missing any of its activities if he can help it. We all wish him a speedy recovery. He would appreciate hearing from his many friends and cards may be sent to him at St. Mary's Hospital, Hayes and Stanyan Streets, San Francisco, CA.

New officers elected at the June meeting are as follows: Mr. John D. Metz, resident; Mr. Howard Hale, Vice-President; Mrs. Jewel Ellis, Secretary-Treasurer. Board of Directors elected are Mr. Julian Andries, Mr. Bill Kennedy, Mrs. Mildred G. Patrick and Mr. B. G. McDonald (immediate past President).

The Board of Directors worked on proposed amendments to the club's By-laws which needed clarification and which when presented to club members at a special meeting was voted unanimously in favor of the amendments as proposed.

The Fort Worth Pomeranian Club's Fun Match held on Aug. 11, 1973 had an entry of 21, with Geraldine Sealy's "Toy Boy of Toytown" going Best of Breed, Mildred G. Patrick's "Patrick's Miss Muffit" going Best Puppy in Match and Roger and Barbara Grider's "Hi Dotti Dot Dot of Robar" going Best of Opposite Sex.

At the SPCA Match on the following day in Dallas, Texas, Geraldine Sealy's "Toy Boy of Toytown" won the Breed, Peggy Bush's and Laura James' "Creider's Mischief O'Shadows" won Best Puppy and Roger and Barbara Grider's "Hi Dotti Dot Dot of Robar" won Best of Opposite Sex.

John D. Metz' "Creider's Ebony Souvenir" won Best Junior Puppy at the Cen-Tex Kennel Club Match in Waco, Texas and Bill Kennedy's "Count de Shawn" won Best of Breed and Group II at the Austin SPCA Match.

Club members are looking forward to a successful year for the club and our breed, and are working hard to achieve this goal.

KENNEL VISIT WITH RUTH DOTSON AT SUN-DOT'S KENNEL

by: CHUCK REYNOLDS

There is a new bright spot shining in "Sunny California", between Sacramento and Roseville in the suburbs of Citrus Heights. This shine emits from the kennels of the colorful SUN-DOT'S POMERANIANS owned by Mrs. Ruth Dotson.

Ruth Dotson with (l. to r.) Int. (FCI) Am., Mex. Ch. Sun-Dot's Buster's Last Stand, Ch. Corn's Duke Dragonfly son and Ch. Sun-Dot's Just A Nip.

To know Ruth is to love her. Seldom do we meet such a peerson who can take a breeding project such as hers with steady sincere diligence and seriousness and yet maintain a true spirit of happiness, sportsmanship and often a "Devil may care" attitude. When Ruth has a new litter of promising puppies or one of her Poms performs in the ring to pick up a new win record, she fairly bubbles with joy. Yet, in times of bad fortune with one of her Poms, knowing she has done all she could, she takes it in stride without complaint and vows that "next time" will be better. It is wonderful, being at ringside with Ruth, to see her pleasure at her Poms' wins, but even more so to see her laugh at her own dogs when they misbehave and her sincere applause for the Pom and owner who does the winning on that day. Don't let me mislead you. Ruth does not approve all Poms that win. If she observes a faulty Pom go up, she does it with critical eyes and quietly speaks of it rather than make loud noises as one hears from a poor loser. But boy, if Ruth Dotson likes the Pom, regardless of owner, you could not ask for a louder cheering section for that other person's winner.

Ruth had her first Pomeranian as a four year old. Unfortunately, when she moved from Oklahoma to California there was no room for her pet so a new home was found for it. She had always hoped that some day she would again have one of those "fluff balls" to love. That love came in 1962 when her husband, Roy, brought her a Pom for the combined occasions of Anniversary, Birthday and Mother's Day gift. It was a lasting and growing "Gift of Love" as Ruth has had many more Poms around her since.

Shortly after getting her Pom gift, Ruth acquired more and attended one of Sacramento Dog Fanciers All-Breed Matches. It was here that she met the late Phyllis Ann Picksley of Pom-Ador Kennels. This was the start of a beautiful friendship which was destined to have lasting influence on Ruth's success in breeding and exhibiting Pomeranians. Phyllis Picksley was the owner of the Ch. Golden Glow Dandy son, Fa Rob's Red Buttons, producer of Champions. Ruth liked what she saw in Phyllis' Bombardier line and decided to use this as the foundation for her breeding stock. She also visited the Golden Glow Kennel of Sally McGilbry at Battle Ground, Washington. Sally still had offspring from her famed Ch. Dromore Bombardier, and Ruth had this opportunity to set in her mind her objective to maintain the type from this great line of dogs. She was able to do this through the use of Phyllis Picksley's Poms stemming from the Dandy son, Fa Rob's Red Buttons. It was one of his sons, Pom Ador's Buster, who sired Ruth's outstanding Int. (FCI) Amer. Mex. Ch. Sun Dot's Buster's Last Stand. In 1967, we saw the untimely death of our very dear friend, Phyllis Picksley. Ruth purchased the Poms which Phyllis had and has since followed on with the Bombardier line as a foundation for her breeding program. In addition to some lovely bitches, Ruth acquired with this purchase the Fa Rob's Red Buttons son, Ch. Pom Ador's King and one of his sons, Pom Ador's Play Boy. She also obtained another Fa Rob's Red Buttons son, Pom Ador's Page Boy, one of her favorites. Both Play Boy and Page Boy were very near to being finished. Ruth also has the last Pom pup bred by Phyllis, Sun Dot's Midnight Terror. He is a handsome Black and Tan used so successfully by Ruth. Among the bitches she acquired at the time was Pom Ador's Little Red who, when bred to Ruth's Ch. Buster, produced Ch. Sun Dot's Bubble Dancer. Ruth shall always be grateful to Phyllis

One of Ruth's favorite brood bitches, Ch. Queenaire's Peach Brandy.

It was in 1967 that Ruth saw a picture of a beautiful bitch, Ch. Creider's Debbie. Ruth knew she must have her. Dudley Roach put her in touch with her owner, Norma Creider, so that Ruth could purchase her. Ruth later purchased another bitch with the Creider Breeding background from Kit Noble. This was Ch. Queenaires First Lady. Her next purchase of this line was from Dudley and Wanda Roach, a full sister to the above Ch. First Lady and the well known Int. (FCI) Ch. Queenaires Scotch and Soda. She was Queenaire Peach Brandy who Ruth quickly finished. She then purchased Ch. Queenaires Cinnamon Twist, half sister to Ch. First Lady and Ch. Peach Brandy out of Creider's Melissa, who Ruth also purchased. This gave Ruth a good supply of the Creider bloodline she so admired and has used so well. One of the latest successes Ruth has had from this line is the current Top Winning Pomeranian Bitch, Ch. Wee Witch Hodges of Sun Dot's, owned by Mrs. A. W. Hodges of Laramie, Wyoming. This outstanding show girl resulted when she bred her Ch. Cinnamon Twist to SAM'S Gay Blade Sandidol. Wee Witch completed her Championship in five shows on the highly competitive Texas circuit at 8½ months of age. Ch. SAM'S Gay Blade Sandidol is now making his home and stands at stud for Sun Dot's Pomeranians.

In 1970 Ruth had the opportunity to see a little Red male Pom visiting the West Coast. She has always admired the beautiful Model Pomeranians owned by Bob Goodrich, especially his Ch. Models Son of Fun and Ch. Models Magic Timstopper. She was delighted to learn that this little fellow resulted from a combination of these two. She bred a Fa Rob's Red Buttons granddaughter, Anns Little Angel of Sun Dot, to him and got her favorite Pom of all, her constant companion, Ch. Sun Dot's Just A Nip. He is a perfectly named little three pound "nip". His color is the most unusual rich red mahogany we have ever seen in this part of the country. In fact, while still a puppy, one Pom breeder who judged him at a local match swore up and down that Ruth had to be using dye to get such a color. That breeder later changed her mind as she admiringly watched Nip go through a very colorful show career.

Current show hopefuls at Sun Dot's are two terrific young males. One is sired by the famous "Texas Tornado", Ch. Corns Duke Dragonfly out of Ch. Queenaires Doodad. The other is by Ch. Queenaires Gambolin Man out of Ch. First Lady. Both will soon be making their presence felt in the rings. All in all, Ruth, with careful breeding and purchases, has owned ten Champions for Sun Dot's. Four of these are of her own breeding. This, in just a few years is a record for many, some who have been trying much longer, to envy and applaud.

Typical Bombardier line-bred puppy at Sun-Dot's Kennel.

While actually visiting the kennel for this writing, Ruth was in the process of moving from Sacramento to Citrus Heights. It is a beautiful home with large grounds shaded by Oak trees. Three of Ruth's children, Shelly, Eddie and Kenny, were enjoying the "neat" swimming pool area in the back of the house. Ruth also has two grandchildren from her oldest daughter, Debbie. Her husband, Roy, was busy building the new kennel facilities which will be completely sound proof to avoid any possible disturbance to the new neighbors. While there, the place was virtually buzzing as close friends and relatives came to see Ruth's new "Haven" for her Sun

Dot's Poms. I was particularly happy to see one of Ruth's dearest friends who has been so helpful with her vast dog knowledge. She is Mrs. Pat Thurman who had moved to Sacramento from Dallas, Texas, where she was so well known in the "Doggy Circles" and famous for her North Lane Min Pins. She asked to be remembered to her many Texas Pom friends. It was truly a wonderful experience to visit this kennel. I hope many readers will be able to feel the warm glow that Ruth Dotson causes to come from this bright spot at Sun-Dot . . .

KENNEL VISIT

The January Kennel Visit will take us to Texas City, Texas to the Tono Kennels of Tom and Norma O'Rourke. We've been told that Texans like to boast about their Pom's so here is the golden opportunity to support the Kennel Visit and boast about your own super Poms, Too! Deadline is November 20.

WRONG NUMBER

We regret the error in listing the telephone number of Linda and Molly Miller in one of their ads in the July issue. The correct number is:

713-332-1847

OBEDIENCE RING

by EMMA HEYDE
170 Chicago Way
San Francisco, Cal.

We believe we have a record! Don't know for sure, but if anyone has heard of a Pom who topped this please let us hear about it. Linda Marden of Independence, Kansas, finished MARDEN'S LITTLE ARISTOCRAT for his C. D. in three straight shows at the tender age of less than seven and a half months. "Amos", as he is informally known, has been trained and handled by Linda, and is owned by her mother, his breeder. He began obedience training at four and a half months. Two months later, on April 29, 1973, he went to his first trial—the Mid-Continent KC of Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he earned his first leg with a score of 191½. At that show he also won a trophy for first in the puppy conformation class. The second leg came at Lawrence KC on May 12 with a score of 192½. There he was fourth place in Novice B, and high scoring Pomeranian. The third leg was made at Topeka where he scored 183. Linda says he decided to play that day (shall we say that should be the privilege of such a youngster?). "Amos" is the fourth Pom Linda has finished for C.D. so with such a good trainer and such a Pom—no wonder they are dreaming of a CDX under a year of age. Lots of luck to them. In a recent Graduate Novice class little "Amos" blew the drop recall, but still managed to come in second place out of a class of five. Nor is his obedience the only thing he stars in: At a recent match he was best Pom puppy in conformation and placed Group 4—all this just one day after his eight month birthday!

a new C.D. In the Pomeranian Review of July, 1972 we sadly reported that Valerie's "Sunny" had just completed his C.D. with a tremendous record of scores, and was beginning CDX training when he succumbed to a cardiac arrest. Our hearts went out to her at that time, and now we are so happy to hear from her as follows: "Last summer I began training DUKE'S TAWNY OBERON (handsome son of Ch. Corn's Duke Dragonfly) owned by my parents William and Ruth Potts. "Tawny" and I attended obedience classes and prepared for his introduction to obedience trials. After only thirteen weeks of training he earned the first leg of his degree at Lafayette, Indiana; the heat of that mid-September afternoon was almost overwhelming (the Old English Sheepdog did collapse), and I was proud of "Tawny's" score of 184. His training was interrupted when I left home to attend university in another city, but in the three short weeks that I've been home from school he has managed to complete his C.D. At Fort Wayne, Indiana on May 5 he scored 193½ and won the trophy for highest scoring dog from the Toy Group; the following Sunday in Crown Point, Indiana his Mother's Day presents to Mom were the completion of his final leg for the degree (with a score of 192) and two Highest Score from the Toy Group trophies." Valerie also reports that her sister Lori's little Pom BUFFY has now completed her C.D. The scores for that degree are also commendable: At Steel City KC last fall it was 189 for the first leg. Then, as with Valerie and Tawny, training was interrupted when the girls went off to college. However, on June 10 at Notre Dame, Indiana (Michiana KC) she scored 195 for her second leg; and two weeks later at Berrien KC show at Berrien Springs, Michigan, placed fourth in the class with a score of 192 for her third CD leg. Both Tawny and Buffy are now in training for Open, and in the meantime will be showing in some of the Graduate Novice classes, as will Valerie's six-month old puppy "Dawn", who will be entered in the sub-novice class. Great work—get those obedience Poms out where they can be seen!

Last, but by far not the least, comes news of a new CDX! This is COY's TINY TERROR BANNER, owned and shown by Martha M. Sackenheim of Hamilton, Ohio. "Banner", (whose sire is Ch. Skylark Crimson Banner, owned by James M. Coy) completed CDX on June 2, 1973 at Queen City Dog Training Club's trial. His first leg was at Middletown with a score of 193; the second at Louisville Dog Training Club, score 183, where he was fourth place in Open A; and the third leg was made at Cincinnati with a score of 187½. Mrs. Sackenheim says that many spectators have told her how much they enjoyed watching "Banner" perform, and that he likes to be applauded (well-deserved applause I would say). They are now starting Utility training and then will go on to tracking.

Martha bought her first Pom O-HI-LAND TOY PRINCE ("Scampy") when she was 12 years old; he earned his C.D. in 1957; and was with her until last March when he died at the age of 15. Some valuable and helpful hints come from this clever trainer: She says, "My first Pom refused to take a dumbbell, so "Banner" had a little dumbbell by the time he was two months old." They would have a little game during which he learned to "take it", "hold it" and "bring it here"; he also learned to "sit", "find it" and "let go". His toys included a ball, unpainted squeaky toy, glove and a rag. She says all this helped when they were ready for Open (and it may be noted here that this procedure—starting the very young puppies gently and at their own level, is advocated by all of the leading obedience trainers.)

EDITORIAL

Would you spend 35c a month to support and protect the breed we all love—Pomeranians? Isn't that a silly question! Of course you would! Would you spend 86c per month to support and protect our breed AND in return for this 86c, also receive 4 issue of Pomeranian Review?

Last October, the future of the Review looked very dim. We could not find anyone to help with the editorial and advertising work, and the mounting cost of printing and mailing the magazine made it appear likely that the American Pomeranian Club would have to discontinue publication or hand over the Review to a commercial or private owner.

We sent out a questionnaire on the subject, and a good proportion of members answered that they did NOT want the Club to give up the Review, but that they would support a privately owned Review with their advertising and that they would pay $6.00 for 4 issues (or $9.00 for 6) if only some way could be found to continue the magazine.

When the Board of Directors met to decide the fate of the Review, they found that it would be expedient to separate the Annual Dues of Members from the charge per member allocated to the Review. Members thought of the Review as a "Gift" included in their membership, and so it had been. BUT . . . it was a "Gift" subsidized by several dollars of their annual dues—and galloping inflation over the years had made the annual income from dues (fixed at $7.00 single and $10.00 husband and wife in the By-Laws) inadequate to cover increased expenses of operating the business of the Club, the Specialty Show and the Review.

There was no thought of "pulling the fast one". In meeting to find a way to get more assistance for the Editor, or to turn over production to an alternate source, the Board investigated the entire operation in depth, and discovered that immediate measures were necessary to avoid catastrophe. As bills for Annual Dues had already been mailed, it was decided to announce the increase in general subscription rates and the $3.00 rate for Members in the January Review.

We wish there had been time to warn Members BEFORE their 1973 dues had been paid, but there just wasn't. So we hope that our much-wanted and needed Members will think in terms of our introductory statement: it costs 35c more a month to be a Member of the American Pomeranian Club, Inc., with a reduced subscription to the Review, than to be "just a Subscriber".

If all Members who have not paid their 1973 Subscription will send $3.00 to Thelma Dunn before November 15, she will send you the April, July and October issues of 1973 and January 1974.

In the future, Members subscriptions will be billed at the time of Annual Dues and can be included in the same check and mailed to the Treasurer. And this we promise: there will be no further increase in Members Subscriptions without advance notice.

All Regional Clubs are requested to send a list of their officers, especially the name and address of their Secretary, if we do not have it. All Regional Clubs may send a column, whether AKC recognized or just getting organized. This must be typed, double spaced with 1-inch margins, and should not be more than two typewritten pages in length.

ASSISTANTS

A glance at Page 3 will tell you the names of our two newly appointed assistants on the Review Staff. Thelma Dunn is also helping on the production end. She and "Ray" Edney travel 100 miles to spend one whole day typing, etc. Cathy comes the other "working weekend". We hope we finally have this problem solved. BAY COLONY—(cont'd.)

Results were as follows: 21 entries—9 males, 4 pts. 7 bitches, 3 pts. 4 champions—2 absentees.

Best of Breed—Ch. Tim-Sue's 'Lil Love Bug owned by Tim and Sue Goddard and handled to his win by Ray Wine. Love Bug also placed 2nd in the Toy Group.

Best of Opposite Sex—was the Winners Bitch Scotia Leader's Bunny Hon Bun, bred, owned and handled by Edna Girardot.

Winners Dog and Best of Winners—went to Silva Lade Gentle Ben, a lovely little black male owned and handled by Bill Ernst. This little fellow celebrated his first birthday 3 days after the Specialty and I might add finished on August 18th at the Cheshire Kennel club Show in Keene, N. H.

Reserve Winners Dog went to Edna Girardot's Robin's Even Steven and Reserve Winners Bitch to Boda's Ginger Robin of Topaze, co-owned by Francis and Mary Casey.

Winner of the Veteran Dog Class was our own Am., Can. & Bda. Ch. Nanjo Interlude.

As soon as the judging was over there was a rush for the towels to dry off both the Poms and the handlers and then prepare for Our Annual Picnic Luncheon. The weather might have dampened the dogs and the exhibitors, but it didn't dampen the spirit that the Bay Colony Members are known for. Picnic tents were set up and the table prepared with the various foods that our members are noted for. We all gathered together and enjoyed conversing about Poms, Poms and more Poms.

It was a pleasure entertaining the Pom Folk from various sections of the country—Stanley and Clarice Oganeku, all the way from Honolulu, Hawaii, with their young daughter and young cousin, Edna Girardot from Florida, Ray Wine, also from Florida, Norma Jean Jenkins from Virginia, Mary Jane Wilson and Bill Ernst from Connecticut and Ina Kniffin from New York, plus our Bay Colony Members from Massachusetts. We hope that you enjoyed yourselves as much as we enjoyed having you. We sincerely hope that next year you will all return and bring others with you. We'll really try to have better weather. Our Sincere Congratulations to all of the winners and Special Congratulations to Edna Girardot on finishing her little girl "Bunny Hon Bun" and to Tim and Sue Goddard on "Love Bug's" tremendous performance in the group. We all thought he should have won it.

EXCITING NEWS !!!

In response to our plea for early issues of the Review, Mrs. Mabel B. Dubell of Merion Station, Pa. sent us the September 1960 and June 1961 issues for which we had already had requests. The $20.00 realized from the sale of these two issues will be offered by Mrs. Dubell as a memorial cash prize for Reserve Winners Bitch on our February Specialty.

Mrs. Dubell also sent the following unavailable issues, to be auctioned to the highest bidder and proceeds to help reduce the Review deficit. SEND NO MONEY. Send Thelma M. Dunn a "Sealed Bid" — i.e., a note telling the issue(s) you would like to purchase, and the price you are willing to pay — minimum price will be $5.00 each. Closing date for bids, November 15, 1973.

The various issues will be sold to the highest bidder, not the first received. In case of tie bids, lots will be drawn to decide the winner except in case of identical bids for any one issue where one bidder has already been awarded one or more other issues, the person who has not won any other issue will be the winner.

CANADIAN CAPERS

by DOROTHY JONES

Box 57, Salmon River Drive
Dartmouth, R. D. No. 1, N.S., Canada

Canadian Capers must begin with an apology. In the last issue I named the top Pom in Canada. Unfortunately, the information which I received was incorrect. It came along with a number of show reports. When the results were accurate I felt no hesitation in publishing the whole report. My sincere apologies to the owner of the dog named in error and to the owner of the winner, Jean Schroll. Our top Pom was Ch. (Am. & Can.) Holders A Lil Red Flash with 869 points, followed in second place by Ch. (Am., Can. and Ber.) Mi Lo's Mischief Gold Pat, 758. Third place went to Ch. (Am. & Can.) Topaze Happy Interlude, 584. Congratulations everyone.

No Toy dog placed in the top ten all breeds. Incidentally five of the top ten were working dogs. Eighteen dogs in Group Five were awarded B.I.S. Pekingese claimed six of these, with the Poms winning four.

Kendra Shaw sent me a note confirm-

This finishes our show news for this time.

Now let me tell you a bit about our recent vacation in England and the Pom folks we met. On arrival we learned the East of England Championship Dog Show was to be held the next day. The fact that the show began at ten in the morning, and we were about one hundred and thirty miles from the gates didn't discourage us a bit.

new highway vocabulary, which talks about "Dual Carriage Ways". "Fly Overs" and "RoundABOUTS." Oh yes, we also had to drive through London.

The time between departure and ultimate arrival at the show might better be left to your imagination. The River Thames was most unruly and kept getting on the wrong side of the road. The river proved completely innocent, the problem was my map reading.

No sooner would I get the map spread out for easy study that Walter would begin to do things with that stick shift. There would be a great clashing of gears, rattling of maps, accompanied by veiled threats of what should happen to a wife who spread maps out over the whole car—then expected a man to drive. Despite all this we arrived safely and the show was well worth all the wear, tear and dark looks.

Forty-three Poms were entered in seven classees.

The champions compete in the open class. Last year twenty-four to twenty-six champion certificates were awarded in male Poms. Ch. Wynwrights Mid-Winter Boy won eight of them; Ch. Saymar the Scotsman won twelve, and the rest were spread about. Three are required to make a champion. The Poodles are not shown in the Toy Group but find themselves in the Utility Class along with Tibetan Spaniels, Schnauzers plus our usual Group Six dogs.

This was a benched show, held outside. The weather was fine until the last minute of group judging. Then everyone dashed to an empty tent (huge) where Ch. Saymar the Scotsman captured the group. They didn't seem to have group placements.

The show was very informal. I don't believe I saw any hair spray at all and not one grooming table. The dogs were in the ring for a few minutes when we got there, but if they had tables they were not in evidence. A lot of grooming is done on top of the crates.

One item really caught my fancy. They do not use dollies but seem to convert baby carriages of the stretch out variety, as against the stroller. The crates are stacked on it and off they go.

On to the Poms themselves. They were lovely! The coats were of the harsh stand off type with a fair variety of color. Fronts were average, but rears were weaker than those I'd seen at our Specialty. One other point of interest. The Poms there are trimmed more than ours. It is an art. One of the breeders treated me to a trimming lesson. It really amounts to removing stray bits and pieces of hair that stick out and spoil the outline of the dog. The effect of the trimming was most pleasing to the eye, but, the small amount of hair removed is almost past belief. In this case it was contained in a very small ashtray, and the tray wasn't full.

I've just mentioned the coats. Perhaps I've picked up a couple of hints I can pass on to you. First, in winter they keep the temperature for adult dogs down to about sixty degrees. Secondly they feed fish—mackerel for example. If the cost of beef continues to climb my next column may well be entitled "Gon Fishin".

While we use talc on our Poms, I noticed Fullers Earth being used instead. Finally, great care is taken in the selection of a brush — natural bristle only. There, I've tossed to you the ideas I picked up.

One thing did trouble me and I hesitate to mention it lest it be assumed I'm in agreement. The English Pom breeders are selling dogs to Japan at very high prices. These are not backyard breeders but the pillars of the breed. Three weeks prior to our arrival seventeen good Poms had been sent there. The buyer will return in time for Crufts.

We were told that Mrs. Dyke of the famous Hadleigh Poms visited Japan. Her host asked her to name the imported dogs and the kennels she wanted to see. They set out and arrived without notice. The Poms were in fine shape. All this is contrary to what I've heard or read previously and I'm puzzled. It appears there is a bottomless demanding market.

Pom folks are certainly the prize winners when it comes to hospitality. We were treated like visiting Royalty. One breeder, Mrs. K. Fellows, elected to guide us down to Wales. (She must have heard of our map reading problems). This is a distance of about two hundred miles. There we were greeted by Anne Winter with whom I'd been corresponding. Their home, tucked into the side of Caerphilly Mountain must once have belonged to a Welsh nobleman. The house seemed to ramble over a huge area. Outside a very prolific pussy cat played with a number of kittens in half hidden, forgotten gardens. The setting was truly romantic.

First we had a good look at some very promising puppies, paid tribute to "James", Ch. Wynwright Mid-Winter Boy, then set off for dinner.

It is a pity there isn't more inter-changing between the Americans and English breeders. While at the Poodle ring I was sitting with Sterg O'Dell and was struck with how familiar he was with the breeders and their stock. Later, visiting the Barlows I was again pleasantly surprised to hear the names of the great breeders of the U.S. spoken of with familiarity.

My English friends were eager to hear of the Pom doings in Canada and the U.S.A., but knew little of the breeding of the dogs. Perhaps next year I'll be able to introduce my new little English man to you. I bought him at that awful five month stage and have been trying very hard to think positively about his future—I trust he's making plans too!

One of the letters I have received regarding better ways of admitting new members to our American Pomeranian Club fails to solve the problem but it shows reason that there should be a change in procedure. The letter contains other matters I think you will find interesting. The letter, IN PART, follows: "As for myself, I was recommended by a woman hundreds of miles away and the only way she knew me was by letters and that I had some of her stock." "NOW THIS IS WHAT I'M ALL STEAMED UP ABOUT." . . . A woman called me the other day and asked me to write a letter to A.P.C. to recommend her for membership. I told her I would come to see her Poms and get to know her a little first. The house was nice, the dogs and everything well cared for. She had two nice girl puppies 8 mo. old and 3 pups were 8 days old and their sire and dam. I told her I thought one of them was good enough to show. (I would have been proud to own any one of the lot) I asked who the sire of the pup was. She said, "XXXX" (her male) I asked to see the papers. They were beautiful and I was thinking how well he would go with my newest Ch. bitch. I noticed by the papers, the registration papers, he was 10 mo. old. I said wait a minute . . . there is something wrong here, he would have sired the 8 mo. old before he was born. She said "Oh! my husband will kill me for this, I wasn't going to let you see his age." The explanation was that the dog "XXXX" had been sold twice and taken back and his papers were lost, so the breeder she got them all from gave her some other papers for him. Also had advised her to register 4 pups, not just three, and said "then, if you get a nice pom with no papers you can use the extra one."

My letter writer continues . . . "By this time I was flipping. I think I could excuse her if she didn't know better but both she and her husband both know. When I calmed down she said, 'I suppose you won't recommend me now.' I said . . . I think not.

"But Mrs. Birk, you know someone will and there we have another undesirable Pom member. The sad part is its just my word against hers. They are good looking Poms and somewhere along the line have had good breeding. She also told me that her "XXXX" dog was the sire of the older ones but another dog's name was down as sire because the age of "XXXX" wasn't right. How in the . . . do you cope with people like that?

"If I could get her to commit herself in front of someone I would go to A.K.C. about it. I mentioned it to several of our club members and they said, "Oh!". In other words they could care less . . . So I'll cry on your shoulder . . ."

The above letter is not an isolated case and shows that the members who are concerned about the unethical activities that among some of our members, would like to be able to report these activities . . . To stop such practices . . . To discourage the deliberate dishonesty. It is sad indeed, when crying on a shoulder is all that we can do. We need to clean house and do a better job of screening new members.

Our Ft. Lauderdale All Breed club had a FIRST and a LAST in June. It was our LAST June show . . . It was the FIRST time a POMERANIAN had been our BEST IN SHOW winner. CH. RANDY'S JOLLY WEE PEPPY was the winner. He is owned and bred by our good friends, Randall and Paul Frech.

I had inquiries about the book I recommended in the last issue of Review. Dogsteps by Elliott. You can now read it in the Gazette. I am happy to know that A.K.C. thinks as much of it as I do.

MIDWEST REPORT

Barrington Hills
Algonquin, Ill. 60102

Several things in the last issue hit vital spots with me and as if to confirm my apprehensions, I was notified that a Pom with a huge coat and BROWN nose had finally accrued the required points for title. This is a most graphic rebuttal to the thinking that everyone knows the proper rules for the Pom standard and everything does not have to be pointed out. This faulty logic leads to the supposition that anything goes as long as you can get away with it. Because we have so many judges licensed to go over our Poms that really don't know a toe from a testicle, or if they do know, just don't care as long as they see a familiar face in the ring, we shall continue to have Champions made up that do not comply with the standard.

There are some that have to have every single point in conformation spelled out, backed up with a disqualification and the listing of the major and minor faults. I am up to my neck in a similar confrontation with the Papillon Club where there is an element that wants to have disqualification dropped and leave to the conscience of the breeder the right and wrong of conformation standards. This standard is in process of revision at present. Here too, a simple statement that eye rims and nose pigment must be black is being pushed in order to remove the disqualification of all Liver Paps. Because of protests over color markings last year, it was pointed up by the show committees that unless a specific thing is listed as a disqualification, the dog cannot be put out, even though the body of the standard contains a statement as to what the markings must be.

I would not want to see protests pop up at every show at the Pom ring since we do not have any disqualifications to enforce in the present standard. However, when ever I see some serious fault being shunted aside by a judge such as a BROWN nose, I shall make it my business to lodge a complaint against the judge with the prevailing show committee and follow it up with a letter of protest to AKC. Perhaps this method of attack will get it across to those unknowing judges that the fancy is up in arms against poor judging. For the nine and ten dollar entry fees, everyone deserves an honest going over of his dog by a competent, knowledgeable judge.

In my last column, I promised a summary of an article I have received on how to put on an exposition in a shopping center to help promote the purchase of a pup from a breeder. The original article though very funny is too long for reproduction here, but in a nutshell, here it is.

Preparation for the three day event involved the assembling of as many as possible breeds and two all breed clubs participated. Various degrees of proficiency in obedience as well as breed conformation were displayed. A commentator would announce the name of the breed and give a short history as the dog paraded as well as the suitability for being raised with children and in apartments etc. Because the cleanup gang did a thorough job and the exhibits attracted big crowds, the exhibition received raves from the merchants who no doubt reaped additional business. The group has been asked to return next year. Such an exposition gives the prospective puppy buyer a chance to compare the breeds without the hard sell of a commercial atmosphere and though I am sure that some of the exhibitors did sell puppies as a result of the exposition, it gave the viewers a one to one basis of comparison.

We had a marvelous time in Oklahoma where the hospitality of the Mid Del Tinker Club was just fabulous. There was a nice turn out of Poms and I did note that in general they carried more coat and were more uniform in size than the average Pom exhibited in our area. I had my second look at a black and tan in lovely coat. I had never seen one till the Wines brought up one some years ago for the specialty and International.

There has been a rash of accidents resulting in the serious injury and death of some of the local Poms and it cannot be stressed too much that extreme care and attention must be given a toy dog especially in hot weather. The freak accidents are hard to explain. My own little Ch. Missy broke three tiny bones in her rear paw probably by getting a nail caught in a seam in the kitchen floor covering. She is so small and the seam would never enter my mind as being the culprit till the vet pointed it out as a possibility that he had encountered before. So be sure that nails are kept trimmed back. We generally do all the dogs' nails every three weeks except for the ones we are showing who get a weekly trim. Missy is fine now thanks to my wonderful vet, Dr. Lloyd Prasuhn and his new assistant Dr. Brown.

Though most of us are breeders and do not have reason to board our dogs while on vacation, there may be a few who can benefit from the warning of being careful of the place selected for your Pom. Just yesterday I had a very tearful client who had left her Pom in a supposed vet supervised boarding kennel only to come home to a dying dog encrusted with blow flies. I was simply furious that any dog could have been so mistreated. I always urge one dog owners to take the little one along on vacations as they will pine if left behind. I have taken a Pom to Yellowstone and Estes Parks and even into the Iron Mine in Mich. under my slicker as I couldn't leave her in a warm car. At Yellowstone, our picture was taken almost as often as the bears!

Majors are on the increase and I hope that AKC does not raise the entry requirements. A veritable Gazette of wins has been sent in. Ray Radzinski's Ch. Ceeraes Master Copy now has his Canadian Ch. and two Gp 4's won in Canada. Nadine Hersil's Ch. Queenaire's Jigger of Scotch has several Gp placings and Gp. 1 at Stone City. At Blackhawk K. C., Mr. Berman sent Hodson's Ch. PomPuf Fancy Duke Masterpiece to the group where he took Gp 2nd.

We have had a nice new thing that has come about in our area. The veterinarians have gotten together and opened an emergency clinic for after hours and Sundays. You do not need an appointment just go in. It is open all night and the wee hours in the morning. The only things they treat are emergencies, and you go back to your regular vet for follow-up treatment. This is good when whelping problems arise in the middle of the night or a puppy is ill and can't wait until morning. My own vet who has seven vets working for him in three hospitals will also have a day and night service for his clients soon.

Do you have a dog that doesn't seem to quite come into Coat? Or is always dropping it and has very dry skin? It might be Thyroid problems. The only way you can check this is to have your vet do a blood test. Another thing, while I am on the subject, watch those shots. A lot of vets give shots in the hind quarters, and with the little muscle on a Pom any shot might cause a temporary or even permanent damage. I always insist that shots be given in the shoulders. I have received several letters from people here in California, and this is an excerpt from one, but they almost all say the same thing. "The blind kennel owner who talks down others as if they were the only one that had good Poms. It is time for all Pom people to admit that theirs is not always the best, and unless we do realize this blindness we are going to continue with the faults and really not improve our Vacation time is a poor time to collect news, and when a correspondent can't get to most of the summer shows for various reasons, the events and news we need for this column are sadly lacking. The show season has been a busy one here with a new club making its debut with an entry of 1114 dogs, thus giving us our only all-Oregon circuit. Nine Pomeranians were entered at the new Coos KC show, thirteen at Chintimini and sixteen in Portland's Dog Fanciers show.

On June 3rd Ch. Starlite's Rigal Miss Magic, owned by Gayle Griffin of Amity, Or. took Best of Breed under Mrs. Merle Smith, and on the following weekend at Tacoma, Wn. this little sable bitch repeated the win with Beulah Hatch judging.

The Mt. Baker show at Bellingham, Wn. on July 1 gave Ch. Holder's A Lil Red Flash the Best of Breed win, with Marcella Bingham judging. "Texas", owned by Jean Schroll, also took the Breed at the Coos, Chintimini and Dog Fancier shows with Tom Stevenson, Winifred Wartnow and William Kendrick doing the honors. At the Coos show I was given no report on wins other than BOB, but I believe Cedar Glen's Magnificent Moon was Winners Bitch for a three point major. She is owned by Alicia Kvamme of Tacoma, Wn.

Chintimini gave Winners Dog to Riggins Stylish Pepper of La Moda, owned by Dolores Riggins of Tigard, Or. A four point major in bitches went to Maykin's Cheerleader, owned by Kenneth Mayes of San Antonio. Cheerleader took BOW and BOS along with her major, with Cedar Glen's Magnificent Moon going Reserve.

Dog Fanciers had a three point major for bitches, which went to Marianne's Bambi Chip-Sungold. Marianne Melville of Vancouver, Wn. is her proud owner. Winners Dog, who also took BOW for the major, was Riggins Stylish Pepper of La Moda. These entries are considered good for our area, where major wins have been hard to come by in the last year or so. Not like the twelve or more entries in males during the show season a few years back.

Judge Piper awarded BOB to Ch. Holder's A Lil Red Flash at the Longview-Kelso show on July 22nd. Winners Dog for the two points to finish him went to Riggins Stylish Pepper of La Moda. This is the second champion for this young kennel, and both these champions are half brothers. Joy LeCompte of Salem, Or., a top breeder of quality blacks, was owner of Goldpaz Patti Midnight, a black, the Winners Bitch and Best of Winners.

Seattle's big 1476-entry show on Aug. 5th saw BOB going to Ch. Holder's A Lil Red Flash. Fourteen Pomeranians were entered, and Winners Dog and Best of Winners went to Rainbow's Pip Puff O'Willow, owned by Margaret McKune of Vida, Or. I believe this two point win finished this male. If so, this is the second champion Pomeranian for our area in just two weeks. Good going. Now, if everyone who has Poms would get them out to the showing instead of sitting at ringside criticizing the ones that are being shown, we could really go someplace. Winners Bitch at this show, for two points, was Queenaire's Bit O'Fluff D'Bon Qui, whose owner is Mary Conrad of Medford, Or.

Several breeders in this area, in other breeds as well as Pomeranians, have been asking if anyone has had any experience with an illness that causes deformed pups, pups whelped at full term but very immature, or that are aborted a week to ten days prematurely. It sounds like a virus, but the different veterinarians who have treated these dogs have different ideas about the cause and cure, and nothing has helped so far. A breed column in another dog magazine mentions a viral infection of a lowgrade type which doesn't noticeably affect the pregnant bitch but which does affect the pups in the above mentioned ways. The article mentions that the virus affects puppies from two consecutive litters before it runs its course. The people I know who have affected dogs would appreciate any advice they can get, and I would be glad to pass the letters on to them.

Four shows in British Columbia, with two shows each weekend, gave the BOB wins each day to Jean Schroll's Ch. Holder's A Lil Red Flash. North Shore's first show, with Graham Head judging, gave Jay Jay's Robin of Charmar two points for Winners Dog. Robin is owned by Jean Schroll and M. Neuschwander. Winners Bitch, also for two points, was Perkipom's Baby Sunbeam from Senior Puppy Class, who was BOW the first day, Best Canadian Bred Pomeranian both days, Best Canadian Bred Puppy both days, and Best Opposite both days. Her second show, under Henry Stoecker, was a three point win. Very good going for this puppy owned by Jean Wilson of Vancouver, B.C., especially since the second show was a Booster. Winners Male and BOW at this Booster for three points was Joy LeCompte's Am. Ch. Goldpaz Colonel Midnight winning his first points towards his Canadian championship.

At the Coquitlam, B. C. show Am. Ch. Lancer of Sun Ray was Winners Dog and BOW both days with Langdon Skarda as judge for the first day, and William Bergum doing the honors for the second show. Lancer, owned by Fern Rogrigues of California, took a three point win at the first show, and possibly at the second. Winners Bitch at the first show went to Cedar Glen's Magnificent Moon, for two points, and to Perkipom's Baby Sunbeam for the second day, and this puppy was again Best Canadian Bred and Best Puppy for both days.

I have been told that a litter of five puppies is considered to be a large litter for Pomeranians. What would you say to a litter of five that is all chocolate? I know that chocolate in Pomeranians is not a rare color, but it is considered uncommon, so getting a litter of five that are all a deep, dark chocolate is something to start talking about. Owner Dolores Riggan of Tigard, Or. is understandably proud.

Two Pomeranian Club matches have been held in our area lately. The very active Puget Sound Pomeranian Club held a match in Tacoma, Wn. at Spanaway Park for Pomeranians in both conformation and obedience classes. Joy LeCompte, doing her first judging assignment, was quite impressed with the Club and the beautiful lake setting for their match. Joy gave Best in Match to Pomland's Tediber O'Cambellyn, owned by Alicia Kvamme of Tacoma. From what I am told, the trophies were outstanding, being handcrafted ceramic pins, figurines and such. A lovely picnic was enjoyed later. Coming up from Oregon were Margaret Coleman, Rita LaVerne and Averil Asbeck of the Columbia Pomeranian Club. Another Oregon exhibitor was also present but I was not able to get her name or address. Portland's Columbia Pomeranian Club have a very successful match also. Entries were judged by Bess Pickens of Portland. Best in Match went to Riggan's Kristol Bomber, owned by Dolores Riggan. Riggan's Duchess, a four months old cream puppy with very winning ways was Best Junior Puppy, Best Puppy in Match and a strong contender for her sire's Best in Match win. Best Senior Puppy went to Muriel Gunther's entry, whose name I did not get in all the rush. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne George of Coos Bay were there with several of their Poms, as well as several other people whose faces were new to me. A picnic was also enjoyed by exhibitors after this match. Matches are fun, even

As I write, I can hear the school bells being tested, and I am reminded that fall is not far away although my air-conditioner is laboring to push back the mid-August heat and maintain the illusion of approaching fall. As is usual in my area, the summer quarter has not been one of many shows. This summer we have remembered them often by our various efforts to prepare for the October specialty, which, by the time you read this, may be history. If so, I hope you had a chance to be with us, and that I had a chance to visit with you.

Even though shows are scarce in this area during the summer, I do want to tell you of two new Louisiana champions. Faye Celentano has finished her home-bred bitch Ch. Celtan Dance of Dragon Lady. This lovely red-orange girl is the daughter of the late Ch. Millamor's Fancy Gold Dancer, the sire of several champion children and grandchildren, and Celtan's Dragon Lady, who had produced two litters for a total of three puppies — two of whom are champions.

Faye also writes that she has recently purchased Tim Sue's Dancin' Dragon, who is a full younger brother to Ch. Tim Sue's Lil Love Bug. This is good news for those of us who hated to see both of these boys go quite so far away as Florida. I wonder what the chances are of moving all the Goddards back one at a time . . .)

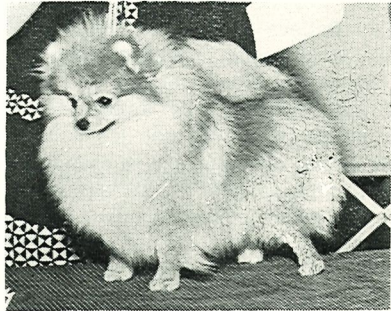

Marie Buonagura, another Louisiana breeder, has just finished her first champion, Ch. Tomar's Sugar Sweet Lady. This orange girl is also home-bred and is the daughter of Ch. Artistic Pepper

Sugar our lovely female finished this spring after only being campaigned one season and under a year — earning her last Major as Best of Winners at Santa Monica, Calif. Sugar at 7 months had already won 2 Best of Breeds at her 1st and 2nd shows.

My appreciation and thanks to the Judges who liked Sugar so well, to Myra Harris who started Sugar on her exciting wins; Lisa Buonagura my daughter who showed Sugar 4 times, 3 for Best of Winners and once for Best of Opposite sex; and Barbara Chadwick who handled sugar once completing her championship for me in California.

My thanks also is extended to Kenneth and Edith Mayes, agents for her lovely sire Ch. Artistic Pepper Pod Beautiful and the Bakers, owners of her grandfather Ch. Corn Duke Dragonfly.

Inquiries invited on 2 show quality female puppies — 9 months — full and $\frac{3}{4}$ breeding of Sugar — and also new litter just born sired by Ch. Artistic Pepper Pod Beautiful.

I am certain that most of us guard puppies from small objects that they could swallow; however, do we also guard adults? Strange as it may seem adults too may swallow strange items. Ed Cooper recently wrote to me of his Duchess' swallowing whole, three acorns which damaged her digestive tract. The acorns were removed surgically, but the resulting damage and infection was too great, and Duchess died. Karen Holder's Kandy ate, of all untasty things, a piece of screen wire. Kandy must have a digestive tract made of cast iron for the wire moved through and caused no problem. I, too, have had an unlikely sounding problem. About a year ago my Fairlight swallowed a needle which lodged in her throat. Fairlight was pregnant at the time, and the resulting in-

In answer to Barbara Pierce—I don't know much about Beaver or Wolf Sable, but can honestly say the white does come in snow white as I now have it. It took quite a while to find it. Ask for samples of the fur before buying. I feel the white ones can be just as outstanding in quality as any other color. It does need good black pigment to set it off right.

Ed. Note: Black pigment of nose, lips and eye rims is required for white Poms.

About the question concerning the "Beaver" color, (See letter from Barbara Pierce, July Yips & Yaps) the color of a beaver's fur would be covered under brown, but perhaps "Beaver" referred to the ladies' beaver skin hats popular in the late 19th century. The ones I have seen were a taupe color, which might accurately describe the blue dilution of chocolate which infrequently appears.

I have noticed while showing in the Northeast that trimming has become more obvious in the past year. I have seen Poms with tails trimmed to "contour" over the back. Now I see rear "pants" shortened and shaped in a manner similar to the English method of trimming. This may be a simpler way of showing rear gait to the judges, but . . . any judge that must have shortened "panties" to see movement should not be judging Poms.

What bothers me most is that judges are not penalizing these alterations. As a newcomer to Poms, I studied grooming technique by watching Poms in the ring (and) I was lucky enough to have been taught correct grooming of Poms. What will happen to the novice who watches sculptured Poms win, and trims his likewise, but not as skillfully?

It saddens me to see a beautiful Pom win with "modifications", when it could win just as easily groomed as it should be.

Chicago and I feel it my duty to give a word of praise to Helen Nowicki for making that show a success. It was a major in both sexes, even with odds against her. . . . I went and even without knowing who was judging until I got there. It would have made no difference to me for I show under all the judges when I can. I feel that clubs and exhibitors of our breed should cooperate and support one another, for there is much truth in the saying that "United we stand and divided we Fall".

When in Chicago, I was the guest of Debbie and David Priester who moved out about a year ago. They were formerly from Florida. They met me at the airport, returned me, taxied me to the show and made me welcome in their home. It was fun being with them and talking over show goings in Florida. I did not stay for International because of the bad weather. Flight home was real rough, couldn't even hold a drink in my hand, coffee I mean. Was three hours late arriving in Tampa. Whenever I fly the Cilibertos who live near the airport, drive me to and from the airport and keep my car in their yard. This makes possible driving myself and dogs home no matter what time it is. A convenient arrangement for which I am most grateful.

An example of courage and determination to keep a club going, is the Bay Colony Pom Club of which I am a member. Got a girl to come in part-time for the four days and I flew out to attend and exhibit. The Caseys met me and returned me to the airport. While the affair was dampened a bit by heavy rains, the show and lunch went right on and everyone had fun. The members of that club deserve much credit for their work in making the show a success. Majors in both sexes and a rich feeling of friendliness and hospitality. Trophies were in abundance. One of the highlights was the presence of the Oganeku family from Hawaii. They had visited and spent a day with me a week before in Florida. They are most enjoyable and knowledgeable and by the pictures I saw would say they have some very nice Poms. They are on an extended trip and want to visit as many interesting places and Pom folks as is possible. Disney Land was their target in Florida.

Just a note of warning. Get your ads and materials in to Sophie by or before deadline time. I missed out last time by three days even tho I had thought they went in in plenty of time.

Here are the names of the new World
 Champions:

Finnenspitz—Lillemarks Toino, Holland
 Wolfspitz (Keeshond)—Rex v. Christelhof, Germany
 Mittelspitz—Cherry v. Spessarttor, Germany
 Kleinspitz (Pomeranian)—Locki zur

 Heike v. Westring, Germany

I am very glad for Rex v. Christelhof as the breeder is a friend of mine. Apparently, Rex was sold. The breeder is also the Breed-warden for all Spitz varieties and dead set against what he calls "Squirrel" Pomeranians.

In the Braces, my best friend won the 5th position with her Poms, the Keeshond brace from Holland won the 29th position. There were 5000 entries, 160 different breeds, and a gate of 23,000.

MRS. MABEL DU BELL
Merion Station, Pa.

I was surprised and pleased to see the article on Mrs. Unwin. I know she would be pleased. She truly loved her dogs, and they were her whole life.

I'm not a breeder or exhibitor — just a lover of Poms. Twenty-five years ago, I bought my first two Poms from her, and we became good friends through the years. I, too, have that picture of Ethel and treasure it. After Ambergold almost died on the operating table, Ethel decided not to breed her again. Ethel gave her to me because she wanted her to have the loving home and good care she knew she would have here, and she knew she wouldn't be bred. Ambergold gave me many years of pleasure and happiness. I was heartbroken when she died in her sleep in 1955.

As both you and Mr. Goodrich say, we've lost a good friend. I know the last few years Ethel was in much pain and distress, but in spite of that, she rarely complained. I kept in touch with Ethel every week, even the many times she was in the hospital. I spoke with her in the hospital the week before she died . . .
 and I like to think she is now with all her little Poms that she loved so much.

I am sorry I did not notice the mistake on the Sample Stud Card, and so it was repeated in the July Stud Register. "Denny's" (Am. Can., Ber. Ch. Nanjo Interlude) Stud Fee has been $100 for some time now. Will you put the correction in Yips & Yaps, if you can?

SHEILA M. MARION

Hurrah! for your Editorial in the April issue. I'm with you all the way. I have sat at ringside many times and been shocked at dogs going up for the points and to Best of Breed that had bad legs and also other features such as too short a muzzle, many times over a sound dog with a fox-like expression. I'm sure we have all heard people say, "Oh, what a DOLL FACE!" — but I think things have gone too far.

I have heard many breeders sit and talk about dogs in the ring and point out this one with bad stifles, etc., then later see this same breeder in the ring with a dog of their own breeding with the same problem. What is it — Kennel Blindness? I, like many others, have failed to produce the "Perfect Pom", but I am doing my best towards working for that.

K. Birk wrote in the July Review about a film she had seen at the Seminar held here in Birmingham last year. I, too, was at the Seminar and saw the film on the Dog in Motion. I had felt I was pretty good at judging a dog's legs, but my eyes were really opened by this film, and I found out that my very best male pup that I had planned to show had a hock problem. Much to my sorrow, he is now in a pet home (and very happy). This film is fantastic. They will be showing it again this year at the Seminar in August. If possible, all breeders should see this film. Let's hope more breeders read and heed your editorial.

ETHICS IN ADVERTISING

The Advertising Manager of the Review has the right and indeed the duty to edit copy and delete any material considered objectionable or not suitable. (See page 3). During my several years in this position, it has seldom been necessary to refuse or change copy, and in the few cases where I thought it better to make a change, advertisers have consented very graciously to my suggestions. There are, however, a few hidden pitfalls that I should like to point out to our advertisers in the interest of complete honesty and truthfulness in composing copy. These are mostly items impossible for me to check until too late.

1. Please do not use the term "Champion Bred" unless the puppies have champion sire and/or dam.

2. Use "Show Prospect" instead of Show Quality, unless you give facts to back up your opinion, such as show wins with outside competition.

3. Do not say "Went from the classes to Best of Breed" unless your winner defeated a champion on the way to his win. If no Special was present, a win "from the classes" is automatic.

4. Do not advertise your dog as a "Proven Stud" unless he has sired at least one puppy which has been registered with the A. K. C. or is alive to prove your statement.

5. Do not use the term "Proven Matron" unless your bitch has produced at least one litter which has been registered or has lived past weaning age.

6. Try to stick to actual facts and avoid statements that can be misinterpreted. You can, of course, air your own opinions concerning your own dogs — provided you make it perfectly plain it is ONLY a matter of opinion, i.e., "We think he is the best red Pom we have ever seen."
