PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By DARRELL W. BAKER
207 Shirleen Drive
Seabrook, Texas 77586

By the time this column comes out the 1977 Summer Specialty will be history. I am at this time looking forward to my trip to Harrisburg, Pennsylvania for the specialty and American Pomeranian Club Board Meeting. This is the second chance each year to get together with breeders and exhibitors from across the country, first opportunity of course being the big Annual Specialty in New York in February. These are great shows and they give us all an opportunity to compare notes about Poms from various sections of the country, to see lots of friends that we only get to see at this time of the year, and to conduct the business of your Club.

I personally would like to see more interest throughout the country in hosting the Summer Specialty. This is an opportunity for a regular or area club to have a National Specialty, which is certainly important to the breed and is a definite shot-in-the-arm to membership interest in the area. Here in Texas we still get very welcome comments and compliments on the specialty we hosted in Houston several years ago, complete with square dancing and Texas festivities plus a super show. All the Pom "greats" came for this big event and our members rose to the important occasion and we are still resting on our laurels from this one. There have been others just as good . . . one at Devon that was much loved and well attended . . . the one in Des Moines last year that was another whiz bang affair! There have of course been lots of others . . . these just came off the top of my head. Incidentally, you do NOT necessarily have to be a sanctioned club to be a host, just a struggling area club can most certainly do it. This is exactly what we did in Houston with the encouragement and urging of Mary Casey. The Parent Club welcomes an opportunity to consider you to host such a show and will assist in any way we can with such an effort. I for one would like to see some specialties held in California . . . the Midwest . . . Florida maybe???? How about New Mexico, Louisiana, or Oregon, or ?? Let's make some noise . . . all you need do is ASK!

I have just received formal announcement from the American Kennel Club (AKC) authorizing that a notice regarding HAIRSPRAY be published on the Secretary's page of the August, 1977, AKC GAZETTE. I am enclosing a copy for our Editor, Sophie Mayes, to publish for your information just in case you have not yet had a chance to read it. Within our breed, exhibitors will find this AKC ruling most interesting as this is a common offense . . . spraying with some special substances for various reasons (i.e. for holding hair in place following brushing, for making hair "stand out", or in some instances to alter the texture of the dog's coat).

In the past there have been numerous discussions, written notices, opinions, etc. on this subject; however, this is quite a different thing. THIS ANNOUNCEMENT LEAVES NO ROOM FOR INTERPRETATIONS OR PERSONAL OPINIONS but states most positively that "It is AKC's position that a judge should not place a dog if, in his or her opinion, any substance is present in the dog's coat, such that the judge cannot properly evaluate the natural texture or body of the coat." (The article says much more and should be very carefully read by everyone.)

All of us have "toted" around spray bottles of mysterious substances that we applied to Poms prior to entering

SILVER MEADOWS

Silver Meadows Frostee Cub

Introducing the first "cream" at Silver Meadows since we lost his grandsire, Ch. Sunflash. Sired by Ch. Silver Meadows Sun-Dae Cub, out of Silver Meadows Ruffles.

Frostee is shown above at Buffalo K.C. winning Best of Breed. He went on to Group III later that day, from the classes. At this writing, he has 14 points including three majors. We think he is really "special".

More about him later.

It makes us especially happy when others, besides ourselves, show and promote a Silver Meadows Pom. Congratulations — and appreciation — to Gloria Setmayer for finishing her boy, new Champion Silver Meadows Tom Tom.

We have just a few promising puppies available, write us your needs.

Our Best Wishes and Congratulations to our friend
Joan Grant on this month's Kennel Visit!
Keep up the good work, Joan!

SECRETARY'S REPORT

by ANTHONY R. PIAZZA
102 Old Egg Harbor Road
Gibbsboro, N.J. 08026

The American Pomeranian Club Officers, Board Members and the Editor wish to make it clear that the paragraph on Page 6 of the July issue of the Review was not intended to cast blame on any one individual.

The Board and the Editor want all members and subscribers to know that in making a change of the chairmen for the Trophy Committee for the February Specialty, no criticism of Dr. Pat Scelso or Mr. J. Michael Meyer was implied or intended.

We wish to apologize to Dr. Scelso and Mr. Meyer for any inconvenience caused by the decision to replace them. They are to be commended for their past work as Trophy Chairmen.

This change was made due to a personality conflict with certain Board Members and not due to a lack of ability or trust worthyness, real or implied, on the part of Dr. Scelso or Mr. Meyer.

NOTICE

ALL PICTURES that were in the Editor's possession have now been mailed back to owners. Unfortunately, working in the wee small hours of the night I guess, a mistake was made and the photo of Edna Girardot's "S Robins Lay Wey Sweet Charity", seen on page 47 of the April issue has been sent to someone else. Anyone who received pictures between April and July of this year: kindly open the envelopes and check the contents. We will gladly pay the postage for sending this photo back to Edna by First Class Mail. Let us know if you find it.

COVER STORY

By CLARA WIESE

Wiese's Precious Gem of Flash is what we had dreamed of in ten years of breeding Poms. He is sired by Ch. Wiese's Flash of Timmie Again, a son of Ch. Great Elms Timstopper Again, and his dam is Wiese's Goldstar Timstopper, a daughter of Scotia Cavalier's Golden Gay and our first registered Pom we acquired from Edna Girardot ten years ago.

At the Metro Mile-Hi Show in Denver on May 27, 1977 he went Best In Show from the Open Class under Mr. Frank Oberstar.

On May 29 at Terry-All Show near Denver, "Buddy" as he is known to his friends, again took Best of Breed and 4th place in Group.

Again on June 12th at Colorado Springs, Colorado, he took Best of Breed and 2nd in Group under Judge Dr. William E. Field, Jr., going over a lovely special for this win.

Buddy has one point yet to win for his championship title and we feel sure he will have earned that by the time this has been printed.

This outstanding Pom is 4 lbs., very short bodied, cobby, carries a heavy coat which is brilliant orange in color, has a high tail set, small ears and is very unusually well up on his toes — and has personality PLUS! He has yet to meet a stranger. The judges speak highly of his fire and stamina.

He is a double line-bred great grandson of Ch. Sungold's Gay Cavilier on his sire's side and a great grandson on his dam's side. We like to feel that "Buddy" is very much like this Great Dog, Pomdom's all time leading sire of champions.

We also want to say that we have very consistently used Ruth Beam's top stud dogs in our breeding program as our first bitch was a granddaughter of Ch. Great Elms Little Timstopper.

Buddy is an aggressive, proven stud, having already sired a litter. We have another bitch bred to him due to whelp in two weeks, a Riggins bitch with a fabulous pedigree.

DELEGATE'S REPORT

By H. W. POTTEBAUM

As reported in the July Review, the AKC had pending before the Delegates, the possibility of instituting the charging of a Recording Fee, as provided in Chapter 16, Section 2 of the Rules Applying to Registration and Dog Shows. I am pleased to report that before the actual voting took place, this item was removed from consideration, for the time being. The AKC Board will review the effects of the increased litter fee on the financial picture and will report later to the Delegates on this fee.

One of the most interesting things to come out of the June meeting was the possible change in the rules requiring that a Veterinarian be present during a dog show. Many clubs have objected to having a vet on the premises, when they are seldom called upon and also objected to the fees charged, that often are as high as $50.00 per hour. Speaking from past experience, we have paid between $100.00 and $125.00 to have a Vet present at our Annual Specialty in New York. During the last two years, we have never had reason to use their services. As a result of the AKC survey, it is proposed that the rules be changed and that a Veterinarian not be required. This would be handled in one of two ways, either have a Vet present, or have the Vet "on Call". If the "On Call" option is chosen, the name and address of the Vet, on call, must be shown in the Premium List and Catalog. The only exception to this is the "Bench Shows", a veterinarian would still be required in attendance. I anticipate a vote being taken on this at the September Meeting and with the approval of the APC Board, I will vote for this change.

Based on complaints received from handlers' clients, along with pressure from the fancy, the AKC Board has reached the conclusion that it is in the best interest of the sport to discontinue the licensing of professional handlers. It is expected that this will come for a vote at the September Meeting, and if passed will become effective January 1, 1978. Since this meeting, I have had a letter from the President of the PHA and they feel that perhaps this is a little faster than they are ready to handle. I personally have mixed feelings, and wonder just how long before licensing is not required for Judges. I will review this with the APC Board before casting a vote.

The Springfield Kennel Club, of which I am a member, and the Farmington Valley Kennel Club have been conducting a survey of approximately 400 Kennel Clubs, with the idea of changing Rule Section 9, Chapter 16, to allow neutered animals in non-regular classes at dog shows. After discussion with the AKC it was determined, by survey, that 82% of the clubs questioned favor allowing neutered animals in the Stud Dog and Brood Bitch Classes Only. 61% favor allowing neutered animals in both Veterans class and Stud Dog or Brood Bitch Classes. Based on these results, a vote will be taken at the September meeting, asking for an amendment to allow neutered dogs in Stud Dog and Brood Bitch Classes only. It is felt that will receive the ¾ vote of the Delegates voting, and will pass. The amendment to allow these same animals in the Veterans class does not appear to have the required votes and I doubt that this portion will be voted on. I feel that this amendment for Stud Dog and Brood Bitch is good and unless instructed different from our Board, I intend to vote for this change.*

*The Board voted AGAINST the change and instructed him to vote thus.

CH. BLOSSOM VIEW MADAM BUTTERFLY

Shown finishing under Judge Edd Bivin. She also won a 5 pt. major under Judge Art Davison at the Dallas-Ft. Worth Specialty and a 5 pt. major under Judge Joy Davison at the Galveston Co. Kennel Club and a 4 pt. major at Fresno-Sunmaid K.C. in California.

SAN DIEGO POMERANIAN CLUB

By GLORIA CARLIN, Publicity Chairman

Greetings from sunny, southern California. I'd like to share with you all some news of our club activities in San Diego, as well as reporting on our recent Pom Specialty.

For the size of San Diego, our Pom Club is quite small. However, the members that attend regularly are richly blessed with a wealth of information on breeding, raising, and showing Poms. Quite a few members in our Club are amateurs, so we just soak up every drop of information we hear from the "old time" breeders and handlers, and file it away for future reference. A well-known breeder and judge, Pauline Hughes, is our Club President. Each month at our meetings, we have classes either on grooming our dogs or training our new Poms for the show ring. She shares with us a lot of her knowledge that she's learned throughout her show career. We will be holding future classes on whelping, tube feeding, genetics, care of the matron and brood, and care of the stud dog. We are all really looking forward to these training classes!

Now for the exciting news of our annual Pomeranian Club Specialty. It was held on May 21, 1977, in conjunction with the Cabrillo K.C. all breed show at San Luis Rey Downs. It was such an honor having Dorothy Bonner as our judge. We had a Pom entry of 22 — which for southern California is a miracle! I felt very privileged to show under her, and could hardly wait to introduce myself following the judging. I only wish I could have spent more time visiting with her!

Let me tell you how Mrs. Bonner placed our Poms. Winners Dog and BOW went to KOUCHOLOU — owned by Isabelle Weishampel. He is a gorgeous male with one of the most fantastic coats I've ever seen! He needs only a major to finish his championship. Winners Bitch and BOS went to SUNRAY'S CHERUB — owned by Gloria Carlin. She's what breeders call a show brood. She too, only needs a major to finish her championship! Last but not least, you'll just never guess who won the Best of Breed competition. Yep, you're right! CH. SUNRAY'S LI'L BEAVER — owned by Ted Dickinson, June Smyth, and Carol Partain. As usual, he showed beautifully — prancing into the ring like the proud little Champion that he is! Later in the afternoon, "BEAVER" went on to win Group I under Dorothy Bonner.

Needless to say, our San Diego Pom Club had a very exciting and rewarding day. Both our amateurs and "old timers" took a share in winning the laurels that day! In closing, I'd like to thank Dorothy Bonner once again for the great job she did in the judging ring — we all really appreciate you!

Ch. Sunray's Li'l Beaver is shown going Best of Breed at the San Diego Pom Specialty on May 21, 1977, under Judge Dorothy Bonner. Mrs. Bonner later gave him Group I.

Then in Montgomery, Alabama, under Judge Miss Martha Jane Ablett Best of Breed, handled by my very good friend, Harry Pennington of Atlanta, Ga. Thanks for all the T.L.C. All this under 7 mo. and pure white.

GOLD GEMS COUNTRY SQUIRE'S (P'd) FIRST FAMILY

Out of Sunrays Flare. We wish the best to them and their new owners. Left to right: Gold Gems Miss Dior and Mrs. Karen Bell, Alpine, Calif. Gold Gems Squires Lil Page and Mrs. Shirley Sabo, Bessemer, Alabama. Lil Hairy owned by Fern Rodrigues, Lakeside, California.

Gold Gem Kennel would like to thank Fern Rodrigues for letting us acquire 2 lovely bitches and a son of Ch. Scotia's President Jim to linebreed to Dragon and Squire. Also a warm thanks to Sue Lyons of Milady Kennels in Florida for "Tiki", 10 mo. bitch (Corn Duke) and "Jet Sue" pup (Cavalier) to add to our program.

THE POMERANIAN CLUB OF MICHIGAN SPECIALTY SHOW REPORT

By MARGARET M. GORMAN

The Specialty Show of the Pomeranian Club of Michigan was held May 22, 1977 in conjunction with the Oakland County Kennel Club in Oak Park, Michigan. The Detroit Artillery Armory provided spacious grounds for the show. A reserved grooming area, near the entrance, was set aside for Pomeranians. The Sweepstakes was judged by Thelma M. Dunn with regular classes judged by Winifred L. Heckmann.

The number of Pomeranians entered, forty-five, was a record for the Club. This year marked our first attempt at a Sweepstakes which was highly successful in spite of the fact that Michigan breeders had few puppies of the right ages to be entered. Our friends from Ohio were not only more prolific with puppies, but theirs were the correct ages.

SWEEPSTAKES

Judge: Thelma M. Dunn

Puppy Dogs 6-9—Millamor's Dixieland Rock. Owner, Eleanor W. Miller.

This year was the first in some time that Michigan breeders took the points for both dogs and bitches. Both the Winners Dog and Winners Bitch were bred on the old Adora Line of Michigan. Buster, a flashy cream, finished his championship with that win. Cara, a lovely red-sable, has since taken up matronly duties but will be seen in winter shows.

Congratulations to the winners. Thanks to the judges for nearly doubling our entries over last year and for setting a new entry record for our specialties. Thanks also the dedicated Ohio breeders who consistently attend the Michigan Specialty in spite of the unpredictable weather and distance, and to those club members who worked hard to make the show a success; Lynda Dearing, Trophy Chairman and John L. Gorman, Show Chairman.

POMERANIAN SWEEPSTAKES CRITIQUE

By THELMA M. DUNN

I was extremely pleased to have the opportunity to judge the Pomeranian Club of Michigan Puppy Sweepstakes. An entry of 13 puppies.

Except for the 6 to 9 months puppy bitch class which had an entry of 4, the classes were evenly divided by 2, simplifying my choice of winner for each class.

My winner in the 6 to 9 month Dogs was Millamor's Dixieland Rock, a sound little guy with an exceptionally heavy coat. My choice for winner in the 9 to 12 month Puppy Dog Class, was Pixie's Puff the Magic Dragon, owned by Carol Galavich, Ohio. An extremely typey male, orange in color with a good coat texture, nice head, sound in body and legs. The selection for winner in the 6 to 9 month Puppy Bitch Class was Dixieland Pepper Rock, co-owned by Eleanor Miller and Mrs. Tankesley. A beautiful red, heavy coated female with very nice body conformation that I would have loved to take home with me. In the 9 to 12 Puppy Bitch Class, I chose Meg's Liberty Bell of Flair, Owner: Donna Megenhardt. A very nice puppy that should finish easily to her Championship. Laurolyn Hot Cha Cha was given the win in the Senior Puppy Class consisting of an entry of 2 Puppy Bitches, almost identical. I later learned they were litter sisters.

With the class wins out of the way, I now had to pick my Best Junior Puppy and Grand Sweepstakes Winner. No easy task, as I had some exceptionally nice quality puppies, in perfect show condition, waiting to be chosen. My final choice went to the 9 to 12 month Puppy Dog winner Pixie's Puff the Magic Dragon. A truly flashy little Pom, sparkling with animation.

I sincerely thank everyone who supported the Sweepstakes with an entry and wish to commend all the exhibitors for the excellent manner in which they presented their puppies.

BAY COLONY POMERANIAN CLUB SPECIALTY

By THELMA M. DUNN

This year I again had the pleasure of attending the Bay Colony Pomeranian Club Specialty, held in conjunction with the Hockamock Kennel Club on Saturday, July 2, 1977.

The weather was ideal. A warm sunny day with just enough breeze to keep everyone from feeling uncomfortable. The Show Grounds were spacious, with an abundance of shade and nice green grass, perfect for grooming and exercising the dogs or just relaxing.

The Specialty had an entry of 19 Poms with 5 absentees. Three of the absentee Poms were owned by Nancy Vayo, Maine, who unfortunately encountered some problems enroute to the show and arrived too late to exhibit her entries. Needless to say, Nancy was quite upset and very disappointed.

The judging of the Specialty was capably handled by Mr. Alfred R. Treen. His selection for winners are as follows:

Best of Breed — Ch. Silva Lade Mamma Tried. A small sable bitch of nice type, owned by Mrs. D. Whiteside and handled by William Trainor.

Best of Opposite Sex — Ch. Jabil's Simply Smashing, bred and owned by Jessie and Barbara Young, was as his name implies, "simply smashing."

Winners Dog — Fun Fairs Pinto-O Joe Dandy, an extremely nice orange male, was handled by Joy Brewster.

Winners Bitch & Best of Winners — Jabil's Emily, an animated, sassy little girl, orange in color, received her wins from the Bred by Exhibitor Class. Breeder, owner handled by Jessie W. Young.

After the judging, the Bay Colony Club members with Carmen Ekman in charge, hosted a Buffet Luncheon for the Members, Exhibitors and Guests. The table was laden with a wide variety of delicious food prepared by the members and enjoyed by everyone.

A meeting of the Club followed the luncheon. While the members were busy attending Club affairs, the rest of us took time out to watch the dogs in obedience. The highlight of the day for me, was the performance of Casmar's Chiper, owned by Jennie Martin, Southwick, Mass., an exceptionally well trained Obedience Pom that took first place in Utility with a score of 198.

We wish to THANK all the members of the Club for their kindness and hospitality. They are to be commended for the time and effort spent to make this Specialty a success.

As your delegate to A.D.O.A., I submit this report of our annual meeting, held in Washington, D.C. July 23, 1977.

Some items of interest and importance that were discussed:

1. A.D.O.A. now has 20 persons available to speak at your meeting or symposiums.

2. The need for an educational group, to "convert" the irresponsible dog owners.

3. Powerful legislation is OK, IF it is fair to all. There is a trend in the United States, to write legislation, that would eliminate the "Hobby Breeder."

4. An agreement has been reached with Canada, to allow show dogs to cross the border, with a three year inoculation.

5. Report on the Washington scene on the rulings and laws regarding the shipping of dogs on an aircraft. We are the ONLY organization doing any thing about aircraft as dog carriers. (WARNING: DO NOT PERMIT YOUR DOG TO BE SHIPPED IN THE REAR COMPARTMENT OF THE DC-10.)

6. Our Association needs, from all areas of the United States, "LEGAL" help and "DOG ORDINANCE WRITING" personnel.

7. Form a standing committee, to give us information on "MODEL" laws, and a list of people we may contact.

8. Animal laws should be watched EARLY, at the local and county level.

9. We are still working with A.K.C. to get the N.B.A. approved. (Non breeding agreement.)

10. Will continue to help the people, of Los Angeles county, Cal., in their struggle to get the unjust dog law repealed. (If you are not familiar with their problem, a future article will give more details. It is long, complicated, and unjust to all dog owners.)

11. A new pamphlet is being prepared, for distribution, containing facts and accomplishments of A.D.O.A.

12. "LIMITING DOG ORDINANCES", our number one project for this fiscal year. I am sure you are aware of the limiting dog ordinances which are being drafted and passed into law in every village, city, town, county and state across our nation. Most of these ordinances are designed to halt breeding of dogs in the private home. Generally this is done by limiting the number of dogs you may house or own to two, three or four. Or, limiting you to one breeding every eighteen months. This action forces the "hobby breeder" to abandon breeding. Thus, only the commercial breeder is in business, and that's the end of show dogs. We believe it is in violation of YOUR constitutional rights, for any one to tell you how many dogs you may breed, or own. (How many of you are in violation of your local laws?) There are two cases, now at the appeal stage, now on the way to the U.S. Supreme court. These two cases could cost the A.D.O.A. $100,000.00. This money must come from you, the fancy. Yours truly, has been given the job of raising the funds. It is to be done in two ways:

1. "PROJECT" 8, which is to get 8,000 new members by June 30, 1978. Each present member will be asked to get and/or give two new members this year. All present members will receive a mailing from A.D.O.A. office. This should not be too difficult as there are more than 500,00 dog showing people.

2. "PROJECT" 80. We are asking each of our 800 member clubs to be responsible for at least, $100.00 extra contribution this year. Hence, an additional $80,000.00 this year to pay the legal fees. All clubs will receive a mailing also, suggesting ways to get the extra $100.00. Remember, this work is being done for YOU, THE FANCY. If everyone wants a free ride, WHO WILL PULL THE WAGON? YOU, THATS WHO.

This project is going to be expensive, so lets get started and get the job done. It would be a pity to get half through the courts, with these cases, and run out of Wishes to congratulate Joan Grant on her kennel visit.

Another Ch. son of the Great Cavilier has passed on, Ch. Scotia Cavilier's Jungle Jim, owned by Phyllis Andrews of Woodville, Washington. A potent great stud leaves us with several champions to his credit.

Due to circumstances beyond my control, I am unable to show all my show potentials. I offer 2 females, show quality, barely 4 lbs., orange, for sale.

"Nadine" — wh. Mar. 28, '76, by Ch. Scotia W. Girl Little Joe Dandy x Ch. Scotia Robin's Mamas Girl. Double Cavilier and double Hadleigh breeding.

"Dee Dee" — wh. Oct. 31, '76 by Ch. Scotia Colleen JJ's Major Dink x Ch. Sungold's Dee Dee. Double Cavilier and heavy Aristic breeding.

Will consider selling Ch. Lund's Just Dandy of Hadleigh.

KENNEL VISIT TO JAYENN KENNELS

by TAMI HOURIE

After a 900 mile move across Canada in October of last year, Jayenn Kennels is now settled down (or should I say 'up'), in the mountains of B.C. Ten miles south of Golden, you will find the renovated log cabin kennel building with the sign that is not really needed to let you know you are at the right place. The dogs do that. The 'A' frame house in the center of the yard is where my mom and dad, Joan and Neil Grant, live with my younger brother Lance, and my sister Susan.

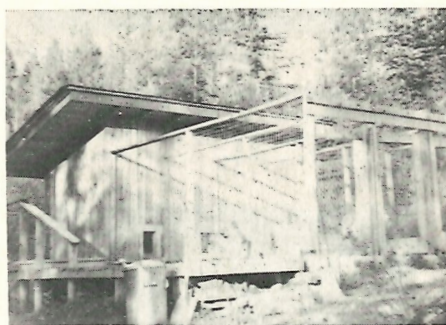

Joan strides off across the lawn with Poms trailing behind her — as she says, "like the Pied Piper". The house is in the background.

At the far side of the yard over the hill, is the new addition, a small boarding kennel. After travelling all over Canada and in Europe with my father, while he was in the services, they know they have found the place where they are both content to settle: Mom with her kennel, and Dad with an auto parts store. This is an ideal location for the kennel too, surrounded by trees and mountains, with lawns, hills, birds, and squirrels. The dogs even have a view!

I cannot remember Mom being without a dog, but she always wanted to have a Pomeranian. She bought her first one, a black female, when I was 9 years old, but when Fluffy proved unbreedable, Mom started looking for better stock. (Fluffy's name was not very original, but she proved to be worth the money paid for her and the time spent on her, even if she wasn't a producer. She saved Dad's life once, when he was on a trip by himself, by awakening him during a fire. She barked and licked his face until he woke and was able to get out, not an easy job with my father!)

Newly Built boarding kennel — not quite completed.

Three years later, from a kennel in Alberta, two female puppies were purchased, one of which died shortly after arriving. The other was a good brood, but still not the quality Mom was looking for, so the following year, after a lot of letters, she bought a trio from an Ontario kennel that was selling out. The male 'Silver Meadows Windy Brea Tag' started Mom on her show career, as well as giving her some nice puppies to work with. One of the females, 'Heid', who had Zambo of Zanow as a Grand-sire, and great-grandsire, was a sable who produced some nice youngsters, one of which was a black and tan female that did very well in the show ring in spite of her color. (faulted in Canada). At the time she died in an unfortunate house accident she had two three point wins and a two point. The other female 'Dixie', of Beland and Aristic breeding, bred to Tag gave Mom her first home-bred champion and first C.D. Pom, as well as everyone's special favorite. This girl 'Patty', still controls the family, and the kennel, and accepts every visitor from babies to grandparents as her own personal responsibility, if they only provide a lap for her.

The year I started high school, having decided she liked what the Silver Meadows male had passed on to his puppies, Mom contacted the Kleins, and bought 2 more females: 'Silver Meadows Nance Marie' for show first, later to breed, and 'Silver Meadows Sunkist' proven producer. Nance came home with trophies more than once during her show career, and after earning her championship and bred to another import, 'Bonners Sandtown Mister Wag' produced 'Jayenn's Hurricane of Valacey' — a champion before a year old, then Best in Show in Winnipeg in 1975, and second highest winning Pom in Canada in 1975 and again in 1976, and is still placing in group in 1977. Line breeding on Pepper Pod produced this stylish Pom.

Ch. Wee Mite Red Velvet, C.D. has her own way of baby sitting!

Through membership in the Toy Club of Canada, Mom learned of and bought 'Wee Mite Red Velvet' a girl with Queenaire background. Velvet soon had her championship and a C.D. and because of the quality puppies even to an out-cross, 'Wee Mite Pepper Pot O'Gold' with Queenaire in his immediate background, was brought to Jayenn to breed with the Silver Meadows bitches and their offspring. He, too, proved to do well in the ring, earning his championship in three shows, with two group placings. In all he was only shown five times, once as a special when he was given Best of Breed. At this time, there are two young pups that have Mom all excited again, one from Pepper and Nance and the other from Pepper and Nance's daughter 'Precious', who is also a Canadian champion.

Susan with the girls: Janenn's Concertina, Ch. Jayenn's Palakore Patty, Ch. Wee Mite Velvet, C.D., Ch. Silver Meadows Nance Marie, Ch. Jayenn's Precious Princess.

After living on my own for two years and remembering all these different dogs, I was not surprised, when I came from Manitoba for a visit this summer, to see a black female pup in with the others. Mom tells me she now hopes to work with some of the colors not often seen in the Canadian show rings, or in the kennels either. To this end she has contacted May Morning and Boulder River Kenels and asked them to put her on their lists in case they ever have a nice one they would part with.

I was also not surprised to discover there is never a dull moment at Jayenn. First thing in the morning you must make sure you are wide awake before you visit the kennel, but even if you aren't you soon will be. As I mentioned

It's been a pleasure being involved with you and your Poms.

After being 3rd Top Pom in Canada in '75, Willie was 2nd Top Pom for '76!

In '77 Willie's kids have been doing very well in the show ring:

Ch. Valacey's Joy To Behold with Janice and David Beazley finished at the Portage Show in July.

Ch. Glendary's Early Dawn Duke with Yvette Gesell finished at the Manitoba Canine Show in July.

Valacey's Tornado (white) here at Valacey needs but a couple of points to finish his title.

before the kennel building is an old log cabin, remodelled inside by my father. He lined the walls with two inch cedar, so it is warm and sweet smelling, and the floor is cement with a drain so it can be properly cleaned, but he has left the original door, which is not quite 5 feet, so it is easy to hit your head going in or out. He has installed a grooming table and storage shelves near the combination window, and has built roomy cages along three walls, two especially planned as whelping pens for the Poms, with wide opening gates so assistance can be given when needed, and special wire to prevent small puppies from falling through. The lower cages are used to house the Finnish Spitz at night, or for when they whelp and nurse their litters. One of the counter tops has been planned so it is large and long enough for a mattress if it is necessary to keep watch for long periods.

Lance tries to convince a trainee to show: Jayenn's Tempest In A Teacup, grandson of Nance.

Early in the morning the cages are opened and out pours the family of Poms, Finnish Spitz, Elkhounds, and occasionally a boarder or visiting brood is carried out to a run. (Pours is really the only way to describe this exodus, and photographing it proved impossible.) While the cages are cleaned and freshened, and the breakfasts are mixed and dished out, the dogs all have a frolic together in the bush run. Most visitors find it amazing that this time when all the breeds are allowed to run together, harmony exists in spite of the variance in sizes, ages, and temperaments. Tiny Pom puppies are usually given special protection at this time, but once a 3 month Finkie stole a 2 month Pom and gently carried it down the hill to play with. No harm was done, although the Pom wasn't too pleased with the performance. (Later in separate runs the Finkie pups are always asking to be allowed to get into the Pom puppy area to play, but in spite of their soft 'bird-dog' mouths, two together would likely do quite a lot of damage to the wee 'Rag-Dolls' as they probably think of them).

Susan with young showoffs from two months to 14 months. Largest Pom is granddaughter of Sunkist (also daughter of Hurricane).

This lower bush run was originally used as a temporary structure to prevent the dogs from running out onto the road, but has proven to be so worthwhile it is now strengthened, raised, and the bottom edges made Pom-proof. It is the largest run, and is on a good slope, with all varieties of trees and bushes, many of which now have exposed roots that offer no end of hiding places, or shelter from weather. The slope itself has been great for developing good muscles and therefore strong hind and front quarters. The one drawback is the work involved in walking in and out of the bushes, and up and down the hills with the pooper scooper, all too often having it catch on a low branch spilling the contents. Mom tries to remember the adage about one in the hand being worth two in the bush, but when there is room on the shovel she forgets.

While the runs are all being cleaned the family of dogs are caged to eat separately, so each appetite can be watched. Then as they finish they are taken out one at a time, and time is taken to give each a check-up, and a special loving, before being taken to special day time runs. Anyone needing medication, or a bit of show training, or specific grooming, is seen to and if weighing is needed for checking an in-whelp brood, or a growing puppy it is done now. Several times during the day, between visitors, yard work, gardening, training classes, and the occasional trim job on a visiting dog, members of the family spend time in the runs with the dogs. Of course, each person has his favorites, but my sister Susan seems to prefer the Elkhound, and my brother Lance is spoiling one of the Finnish Spitz pups more than the others, but neither would like to be without the Poms.

Joan in the kennel. Poms in foreground, Elkhound and Finnish Spitz in back pen.

My mother admits too, that although the Poms remain very special to her, and she is indeed proud of having 6 home-bred champions, as well as finishing 5 other champions, she can't help but brag about her Elkhound and Finnish Spitz. The present litter of Elkhounds is only the sixth one she has bred, but there are already 6 Jayenn champion Elkhounds, — two of which placed in the top ten the year they were exhibited, and in the three years with Finkies, there are 5 Jayenn champions as well as the English import finished in Canada and two of them have placed in group a total of 6 times. A special pride is taken in these trophies.

As I watch Mom strike off, up the hill, on a hike towards the creek and garden at the North end of their property, I am reminded of all the reading, discussing, special breeding, and endless culling she has done in an effort to have sound legs on her Poms. All 13 that she has now are bouncing and racing around her, just having a ball, and ready and able to go wherever she does, while the 5 Finkies and single adult Elkhound wait their turns (sometimes vociferously) in the runs. Often the larger dogs are accompanied by one of the family on the horse so they can get a really good work-out. When she is away at shows, or busy in the house she sees that someone takes time for this special running.

Later tonight, nearly all are bedded down and quiet in the log building ready for a night's sleep. The exceptions are Patty, who is accepted now as being the house dog, and whichever one is having his turn in the house, and two outside to listen and let the household know of approaching dangers, such as visiting bears, or possibly a lynx. Who knows, even a cougar perhaps, although this is really hoping for a lot!

So we end another full and happy day at Jayenn, and anyone who is in the area is to remember there is a special welcome ready for you any time, and you can join in on the hike, the grooming, the visiting, or just sitting and watching the grass grow, which there is time for too.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

The following OFFICIAL notice which was published in the August issue of Pure Bred Dogs, AKC Gazette and is also currently being reprinted in dog show judging schedules, may have escaped your attention. Everyone who exhibits Poms should read it carefully.

To: EXHIBITORS, HANDLERS AND JUDGES:

The Board of Directors of The American Kennel Club has authorized the following notice about HAIRSPRAY for publication on the Secretary's Page of the August 1977 issue of the Gazette:

The Board of Directors is extremely concerned over the increasing use of hairsprays, lacquers, and other substances that alter the natural texture or body of a dog's coat. While their effect on the coat may be temporary, they clearly falsify the quality of the coat and their use in the show ring must be considered highly improper.

If any substance is applied to a dog's coat for cleaning purposes or any other reason, any residue from the substance that alters the coat's natural texture or body also has the effect of falsifying the coat quality and is to be removed before the dog enters the ring.

It is AKC's position that a judge should not place a dog, if, in his or her opinion, any substance is present in the dog's coat, such that the judge cannot properly evaluate the natural texture or body of the coat.

The judge also has full authority, which he may invoke in any case that he considers extreme, not merely to leave such a dog unplaced, but to excuse it from the ring altogether. In such cases he should mark his judge's book "Excused — foreign substance — unable to judge coat texture."

Under no circumstances should the judge offer to judge such a dog if the offending condition is corrected.

MAKING FRIENDS FOR THE BREED

By MARGARET McKEE

What have you done lately to make friends for our lovely breed? Breeding a quality litter, exhibiting one or two dogs, and advertising in the Review are great, but they usually reach a very limited audience. Have you missed some good opportunities?

Our local humanitarian organization has a dog and cat exhibit several times a year in the malls of various shopping centers. We try to have as many different breeds as possible "benched" on tables or in crates. Two or three of our Poms sit on their grooming table to be petted while John and I try to answer questions. It is educational for the public, but we've learned a lot, too. It's amazing the things people think about our breed:

1. They're Pekingese.
2. They're mean and bite a lot.
3. They're yappy, barking incessantly.
4. They come in two sizes, regular and toy.

These misconceptions have frequently come from seeing a poorly bred Pom. In answer to the second and third, I simply point to my quiet, friendly beasties being petted by strange children and ask "Does that look mean to you?" When asked if they are good with children, I mention that we have small children, but I generally do not recommend Poms for preschoolers, because of the Pom's size. We're usually asked if they're for sale. Of course, I take advantage of this opportunity to give my spiel about the importance of buying from a breeder. We also answer general questions on such things as leash laws, health, grooming, showing and training, and we make available pamphlets on heartworms, puppy selection, obedience training, and the APC information pamphlet.

Our obedience club is often asked to give demonstrations at schools, old folks' homes, and convalescent centers.

Due to circumstances beyond our control, there has been a delay in shipping Back Issues to Mrs. Patricia Brooks. We feel almost certain that she has them now, and will be able to fill your orders. An up-to-date list of available back issues will be printed in the January Issue. Meanwhile, all issues of 1972 through 1977 should be available, with the exception of April, 1977.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Based on the early returns of the Inquiry on receipt or non-receipt of the April Issue we decided we had enough to fill outstanding orders and that we did not need to reprint the issue. Due to large numbers of subscribers paid up through April but allegedly never recorded as either new or renewal subscribers, we now find that we are short nearly 50 April Reviews and NONE ARE AVAILABLE. In other words, WE GOOFED!

If any of our readers is willing to part with an April 1977 issue of the Review in good condition (some people may not keep theirs forever as most do!), the Club will pay $2.00 for the magazine plus First Class Postage to return to us. Here is a chance to show what intelligent, happy workers our tiny ones are. There is a widespread belief that show dogs are beautiful but stupid and temperamental. "They've had the brains bred out of them." It is this sort of misinformation which sends the public to pet shops to pay outrageous prices. Our obedience Pomeranians give the lie to the "beautiful but dumb" idea. Most people seeing a fluffy perky Pom going through an obedience routine are absolutely enchanted.

Last January the obedience club held a "Get to Know Your Puppy Day". Aimed primarily at those who'd gotten pets for Christmas, it was an Open House complete with refreshments. We set up our grooming tables and our grooming paraphernalia, and invited the public (via newspaper ads) to bring any questions about dog care. About ten breeds were represented by members' dogs. Alas, atrocious weather resulted in a small turnout, but those who came said they learned a lot and appreciated the help. An unexpected bonus for club members was we learned more about each others' breeds and a few tricks. For example, I taught several others to scale teeth. Owners of other breeds were surprised at how cooperative and quiet the Poms were when being groomed. I tried not to be too smug: just one more instance of the superiority of our breed.

Our breed really makes a fantastic pet. Small economical to feed, easy to groom, easy to clean up after, a joy to train, affectionate, alert — what more could you ask? Now, I'm not really anxious for the Pomeranian to become popular the way the Cocker Spaniel and the Poodle did. Yech! There are far too many backyard breeders and puppy mills churning out long-backed, flat-coated, shy "Poms" now. I'm the first to admit that the Pom is not for everyone. The fastidious housekeeper, the hunter, small or rough children, those that think toys aren't "real" dogs — none would be happy with a Pomeranian. So I try to be scrupulously honest in describing the Pom. Yes, they do shed. Yes, they are fragile compared to say, a Shepherd. Yes they are prone to whelping problems. On the other hand, we aren't plagued by PRA or dysplasia. No, they are not one-man dogs. They are basically friendly and loving, but are good watch-dogs, too.

One thing we do have to be careful about is generalizing too much from our own experience. As an example, we've owned a total of eight Pomeranians over the last eight years, and all of them have been real chow hounds. They'll eat anything. Yet I'm met other Pom owners who claim theirs are incredibly picky eaters. At the present time, there is considerable variation in our breed in size, temperament, and soundness. What may be true of all Poms in your kennel won't necessarily be true of others.

Hopefully, through "missionary" efforts such as these, there will be fewer people with misconceptions about the Pomeranian.

the ring . . . in our case we prefer plain water with perhaps a little Dromorecide or other cleaning agent or antiseptic-smelling substance. However, it appears that in the future each of us will have to be most cautious and legal about what goes into the bottle!

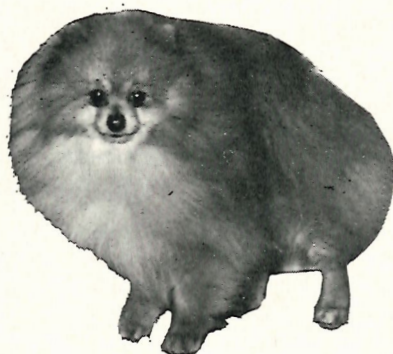

Best personal regards to all of you. In your area take the responsibility to promote your breed in every possible way, even if it is only telling everyone what a pleasure it is to live with a Pomeranian.

SOME THOUGHTS ON PROBLEM WHELPING

By ELMA MANIES

As I said in the April Review, it is not intended that these articles should infringe on the veterinary profession, but should be regarded as an aid in enabling one to cooperate intelligently with a veterinarian if his assistance is needed. Or, should you find that you need to help the dam before a veterinarian's help can be received. Never hesitate in calling a Vet, or begrudge his fee, your little prospective puppies are valuable and your bitch is priceless, sentimentally if not financially. Just one puppy saved or the life of your beloved bitch will pay the fee many times over.

I feel a breeder should be able to take over and assist a whelping dam to prevent her suffering or from losing a whelp, as many times a veterinarian cannot be reached in time to save a puppy. My first experience in pulling a puppy was while in a veterinarian's office. The veterinarian was doing surgery and could not stop, my dam's pelvis was narrow and the puppy was large. The puppy's head had been out for approximately half an hour and the sack was broken, and the dam was making no further progress, with the contractions still strong. The puppy's front feet were not showing and I knew I could not just take hold of the head and pull as I might break the puppy's neck. Finally, after waiting too long to suit me, I got up my nerve and set a towel I had brought along on a table and put the dam on this and placing my fingers on either side of the puppy's head and then up into the vulva I surrounded first one front leg and pulled it out and then the other. Then sliding the fingers back behind the shoulders I pulled the puppy out with the dam's contractions helping. A second puppy arrived about 15-20 minutes later, in the treatment room this time, as the office girl finally conceded an emergency.

Pomeranians have many varied behavioral mannerisms so there is no exact science to whelping. A normal gestation period is 63 days, however whelping may occur in 57 days or run 2-3 days overtime. Early miscarriage is rare, but can happen from some medical problem or injury. In this case puppies may be too weak or immature to survive. If a bitch is more than 3 days overtime something may be wrong so consult your veterinarian.

Just as the dam is about to whelp she will refuse food — she often will vomit if she has recently eaten, she will start panting and usually will not settle down unless you sit down with her, the vulva will soften and a mucous discharge may appear. She will get in her box (if previously introduced to it and has been made to feel it is hers) — she will start hunching, then straining and then relaxing over and over again. She may turn her head about anxiously looking at her rear parts. She will press hard against the sides of her box with her hind feet. When these first strains start mark the time down, you may forget in the excitement if you don't. You can write your observations on the side of the box she is in at the time and copy them down in your permanent records later as you may lose track of a notebook if the delivery is long or gets complicated.

Now the labor has started and may last from as little as 20 minutes to several hours. I usually find approximately 1 to 1½ hours from first labor contractions to the water bag. It may take another hour until the first puppy, Pomeranians dilate very slowly, and still another hour to the next puppy, etc., but this is by no means the rule it may take more or less time. A dam may take naps between contractions and there is no need to worry at this. The time to worry is when the contractions are strong and close together for 2-3 hours and no progress is being made. You may be in for an abnormal whelping if this occurs and you may want to call your veterinarian. (Also, if actual labor stops.)

After long hard laboring you may find that the puppy is presenting backwards, (breech). Usually puppies come into this world head first belly down, with its back in line with its dam's. Puppies vary greatly in size at birth and a large puppy and a small dam with a narrow pelvis is a poor combination. When a breech birth is experienced, given a bit of time your dam may produce the puppy without any help. However, if the dam has been working very hard and finally you can see the puppy's hind feet, and after many hard contractions that is all you can see still, or if the hind feet seem to come out a bit and then recede you may want to help the dam yourself. Hopefully you have assembled emergency equipment a week ahead of time and have it sterile and waiting. This equipment should consist of scissors, thread, clamping forceps, sterile water, alcohol for sterilizing, medical soap, electric heating pad, wash cloths, terry towel, perhaps nursing equipment. Scrub up, if you have sterile rubber gloves use them, remembering that anything you touch can contaminate them. My veterinarian has told me soap is an excellent lubricant and also an antiseptic. You might ask your veterinarian's advice on this before an emergency is at hand.

If you find the contractions are seemingly useless and you can see two hind feet, (or perhaps can only feel them in an enclosed sac), grasp them with a sterile wash cloth and hold them so they will not slide back into the dam as the contractions lessen. If the puppy still does not come, put her up on a table on a clean rug or blanket to help you work easier. Your bitch will be very nervous and may resist, control can be gained by holding her tail and then get her between your arm and your body. For this procedure you may need a helper to hold the female in a standing position. We wait for the intermittent straining, push apart the lips of the vulva with the left hand from above the dog, with index finger and thumb on one side and the other three fingers on the other side. Using a newly sterilized finger with an encircling motion work up into the vulva and try to move up and around the thighs and rump of the puppy using some lubrication (soap suds, oil, or etc.) you will have brought down the puppy's tail and the hips and the bulk is out, give the dam a few moments and she may expel the puppy now without further help. If not, you must work a couple of fingers around the puppy's rump to the flanks and pull gently as the dam strains. The pull should be outward and slightly downward. The puppy now must come out.

You will not injure the dam if you work gently with sufficient lubricant and the puppy will most likely survive if you get it out quickly enough. A minimum delay is necessary in a breech delivery for if the sac covering the puppy is torn the puppy may drown, or if compressed in the birth canal too long it will die. Regardless, if you have no veteriarian on hand it is better to get a breech puppy out dead or alive, and you may save other whelps to come, or even the bitch. Some puppies are exceptionally strong and will survive an unbelievable length of time and some are lost in a very short delay in delivery.

A complication that is not often encountered is an "upside down" presentation. This can happen with a head or a breech delivery and one should get to a veterinarian if possible. This article is written however, for someone not able to reach a veterinarian and with the encouraging thought that we have seen them completed with live puppies to reward our efforts. This complication is of the feet, belly and head pointing upwards against the roof of the dam's pelvis. I had one female deliver two in this manner without any help whatsoever. However, I have had to deliver two breech and one head presentation this up-side down manner and all survived. The helping of the bitch is much the same as other deliveries except that you must do any tension exerting or "pulling" outward and upward at about a 45° angle instead of outward and downward. If a breech-upside-down presentation occurs the feet will probably be tucked under, or backwards on the belly and only a rump or tail is seen. You must draw the feet to their correct position one after the other — give the dam a moment, she may expel it herself, if not grasp the feet and with an outward and upward tension work the puppy out. The puppy may "hang up" at the rib cage and need a little extra work getting it coming again. At this point you may be able to turn the puppy to its proper downward position, but do not spend too much time at trying this as by now it is nearly here and with a bit of more upward urging it should come.

If you have an "upside-down" head presentation the front feet will most likely be tucked down on the chest instead of out under the chin, this gives it much more girth and you will have to reach in and work first one front leg out and then the other, again this may be enough to let the puppy slide on out. If you still must pull remember to pull upward and outward. After the puppy's chest is out it usually comes quite easily. If it turns to proper position at this point you can pull downward, if it doesn't turn but still has its feet pointing towards the ceiling keep urging it out with upward and outward motion. These are severe manipulations and ones best friend at this time is a veterinarian, but if necessary you can do it if you just get hold of your nerve and do it. Needless to say, you should have your little mother examined after such an experience, and she will most likely need antibiotics. Keep a close watch on her, take her temperature a couple of times a day. Feed her good nutritious food, but do not over do it with a lot of rich food she is not accustomed to as you could add a bad case of indigestion or diarrhea to her already traumatic experience.

DELEGATE (Continued)

It seems like I am always writing to you after the fact, but the AKC Meetings and the Review deadline do not coincide, so by the time that you read this these are already either voted in our out.

For those who receive the Gazette, if you see something of interest to you, or you have a strong feeling one way or the other, I would appreciate your dropping me a line. By having your input, it makes it easier for me to cast a vote, or ask questions.

By the time you read this, the Summer Specialty will be history, but I hope that I get to see some of you there.

CHILDREN AND POMS

By JUNE MOORE

Just like to put a word in about children and Poms. Everything I have read has been against mixing the two.

We are just hobby breeders. But for five years now we have bought and sold to where our females are of the very best bloodlines and looks.

We also have two beautiful children who have helped us with everything from feeding, to helping out at whelping time. In fact I don't know how I would have done it without them.

I of course realize all children are not the same. But I do believe, if you are selling your Poms to people with children all you have to do is lay down some strict rules.

When we got our first Pom our kids were 4 and 7. Our first rule was and still is: "Never pick up a puppy unless you are sitting on the floor with it."

We have only had a puppy dropped and hurt two times, in our five years of raising them. Both times it was a well meaning adult, not a child. They were both prospective buyers, who thought for some reason that a 7 week old puppy would sit on their lap. They didn't know how unpredictable a 7 week old puppy is.

Of course the problem with an adult Pom is the hair. Some kids might understandably be tempted to pull it. But we have found that if you put a brush in their hands, it changes things. They either love it, or want nothing more to do with the hair.

Problem number three is playing with the Pom. True you can't play rough with a Pom. You also shouldn't run with them, it's too easy to trip over one just walking. Our kids play with our dogs by laying on the floor. The dogs jump all over them, and pull on their ears. No one gets hurt and its fun for everyone involved. Great fun for both. Also, they enjoy running after a ball just as much as any dog.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Board of Directors has approved the printing of a Special 20th Anniversary Issue of the Review, slated for publication next July. This will be in addition to the regular July Issue. Pre-publication price will be $5.00. Deadline for ads and articles will be May 1, 1978, at which time advance orders will terminate. All books ordered after May 1, 1978 will cost $7.95. Please make all checks and money orders payable to the American Pomeranian Club, Inc. and remit WITH ORDER to Circulation Manager Mrs. Patricia D. Brooks (address on Page 3) with notation: "For Anniversary Issue".

We plan to have our Review Staff select what is in their opinion the Best Article of each year that the Review has been in existence, with the number of such articles actually printed dependent on 1. the number of supporting ads/and advance sales of issue and 2. the length of the articles themselves, i.e. if an exceptionally long article is selected for one year, possibly a very short article would follow.

We have written to two of our former Review Editors, Lt. Col. James Arima and Mrs. Ruth H. Bellick, asking them for articles. (Mrs. Victoria Sweeney passed away in 1968.) We also hope to contact several long-time Pom breeders for their thoughts on progress of the breed and the American Pomeranian Club over the years. We also plan to ask a number of prominent veteran judges for their comments.

We hope very much that we can find interested Pom fanciers to help support the cost of this project with advertising. Anyone familiar with printing costs will surely understand that the announced pre-publication price will not cover the entire cost of such an ambitious undertaking! We would like, especially, memorial ads with pictures honoring Poms of the Past, whether Best in Show winners or lovely puppies or broods, etc., representative of a breeder's or owner's stock. Of course we also need many ads in honor of LIVING Poms! In summation, we would like to have a complete display of Poms down through the years. We would also like ads In Memory of People no longer living who have had influence on the progress of the breed or the Club.

Advertising rates will be the same as usual Review rates, with this EXCEPTION: We plan to make available to just FOUR advertisers the Cover, Back Cover and Inside Front and Back Covers IN FULL COLOR, at a cost to be announced in the January Issue but probably in the $150 range. The advertiser taking the Cover will have an inside page on which to tell the Cover Story. Here is a rare chance to show those beautiful Poms in all their natural glory! (If more than four people desire color ads, it is possible we could arrange for it. The full color pages must be printed by the Offset Method, and we plan to have our cover printed on heavier paper, so we are only offering 4 color pages at this time.)

Oh yes! Hopefully this will come as a surprise to her — we plan to REVISIT Ruth Beam's Great Elms Kennels, visited in our very first Review in June of 1958. We feel sure that everyone who knows Ruth or owns or has owned Great Elms Poms will want to send in a congratulatory ad.

To re-cap: Send your order and $5.00 check any time before May 1 to reserve your copy of the Anniversary Issue. Send your ads and pictures with check ANY TIME before May 1. We will NOT hold your checks but will process them promptly. To reserve a Color Page, or the Cover, send check for $150 NOW, balance if any will be due by May 1. Any overpayment will be refunded. Send all ads to the Advertising Manager, specify "For Anniversary Issue".

The only NEW articles accepted will be the Cover Story, a limited number of letters for Yips & Yaps and of course the Kennel Visit and comments from invited writers.

JOHNNY! PLEASE READ!And All You Other Subscribers, Please Read and Try to Remember!

We feel like a broken record: the SAME THING over and over and over and . . . OVER, in almost every issue! Please read Page 3, any issue, for Ad Rates and Rules, i.e. ALL ADS are to be prepaid. INCLUDE payment for cut, if any. Some have asked, "What is a cut?" Since the Review is printed by the Letter Press method, a half-tone metal engraving has to be made of each picture to be reproduced. We need a GLOSSY PRINT of the picture. We prefer Black & White — it reproduces BEST. But most show photos are now in color. Color pictures CAN be used, but may not reproduce as well. Clear snapshots or Polaroid prints CAN be used. No matter what size for the FINISHED CUT, the rule is "the larger the better" for the picture. If you have an 8 X 10 show picture SEND THAT, not a small copy. The key word is "clear". The reproduction cannot be better than the original! Do not ask us to enlarge a small picture — it will not be nearly as good as it will be a little "fuzzy" in outline.

We CANNOT USE negatives or "Scotchprints" intended for offset printing, or layouts made for offset (to be photographed directly from the copy). This is another type of printing.

Charge for minimum size cut is $6.00. This covers the cost of mailing back your picture. Next usual size is UP TO 2 X 3 inches and costs $7.50. A 3 X 4 inch cut costs $10.00. Larger sizes at additional cost, of course. If you want a LARGE SIZE CUT but don't know the cost, send $6.00, tell us what size you want and we will bill you for the additional amount.

Do NOT cut or mutilate your picture or mark with ink the part of the picture to be used. Make a "mask" or overlay with plain paper, cutting a correct-size opening to show what we are to use. OR, if you don't have time for that, take a crayon or grease pencil and mark

MAY MORNING POMERANIANS

IN LOVING MEMORY

Ch. May Morning Hokus Pokus

April 21, 1969 — July 3, 1977

Am. & Can. Ch. Goldpaz Jonnie Midnight

ex. Ch. May Morning Black Magic

We believe "Hokie" and his litter sister, Ch. May Morning Bewitching Witch to be the ONLY two BLACK champions with BLACK champion sire and dam.

We found "Hokie" curled up and asleep forever in his bed.
He had not been sick and we feel sure he did not suffer.

"Wizard" and "Switch", his brother and sister, are still very much alive.

DavonShire Honey Gold

ZUMBA POMERANIANS

We have sold everything we had advertised. We hope to have some litters by Christmas. From our new boy "Adora Wee Legacy", we also have added his kennel mate, "Adora Dainty Doll". Their son is pictured in this Review. Dolly and Toy are Adora breeding. Which we are proud to add to our breeding program and Thank Marge Gorman for helping us get them. We hope to produce some future show stars, from this line.

Inquiries always welcome

HELPFUL HINTS

By

MARGARET M. GORMAN
31134 East Wind
Fraser, Mi. 48026

The column this quarter is devoted to the care of the newborn. I am presently working in a neo-natal intensive care unit. Many of the principles that apply to human infants, also apply to Pomeranian newborns. I was surprised to find how many "intensive care" practices Pomeranian breeders regularly employ. We cannot save all puppies, because some have defects incompatible with life. We can have a fighting chance with healthy, tiny or premature puppies by using a few simple principles.

Stress is the greatest danger to the newborn. A slowly delivered breech puppy who does not breath right away and who becomes chilled, has suffered three serious stresses, any one of which could trigger changes that endanger him. The changes follow a similar pattern. First there is a drop in blood sugar which leads to breathing problems and eventually death.

Many puppies are chilled, because they come into the world wet and have poor temperature regulation. They should be warmed by placing them in warm water, dried thoroughly and placed on a heating pad. The next need is sugar, which can be fed as sugar water or more quickly by placing honey under the tongue. The blood vessels under the tongue absorb honey through the membrane taking the needed sugar directly to the brain, which has the greatest need for sugar of any organ of the body. By using these simple techniques we can stop the chain reaction so dangerous to tiny and premature Pomeranians.

Poorly regulated heating pads are not only a danger to puppies but can be a fire hazard to your home. Check the thermostats regularly as they do wear out eventually. The heating pad should be well padded with newspaper and never feel hot to the touch, only warm. The overheated newborn will lie on his back, cry and have a beet red tongue. Usually, the mouth is open. The heating pad should be replaced and the new one set on low and padded adequately.

The safest way to tube feed a tiny premature puppy is to follow the usual procedure of marking the tube with tape after measuring the distance between the nose and the umbilical cord and inserting the tube. Instead of injecting the milk with syringe, allow it to drain in by gravity. There is less danger of overloading the stomach this way. The tube should be pinched before removing to avoid getting milk into the lungs.

Margaret McKee of Richmond, Virginia sent us the following hints: "Pot likker" (pot liquor) is the liquid which remains in the pot after cooking vegetables. It is rich in vitamins, minerals and flavor and can be used to moisten dry food. The dogs love it. In the Colonial South it was given to sick children. For measuring very small doses of medicines (such as heartworm preventative) use a TB syringe, which is marked in tenths of a cubic centimeter. It is also plastic and disposable.

We are always pleased to receive hints for the column, since it makes writing much easier, but we are also pleased to hear from breeders who have tried the hints and who take time out to let us know that they worked for them.

KENNEL VISIT

In January, we will visit the Tomanoll Kennel of Miss Opal Mosher in Waco, Texas. We feel sure the many Pom breeders and owners in this huge state will want to support her visit with complimentary ads and also let us know of their own outstanding Poms! Time to BRAG, Texans!!!

MIDAS POMERANIANS INTRODUCES

"Serenity"

MIDAS TOUCH OF SERENITY

Sire:

Ch. Dixieland' Little Bagatelle

Dam:

Bonner's Beautiful Tangerine

Serenity is pictured at age 10 months. She is a 5 lb. light orange doll with super-heavy coat. She is now being shown.

Serenity's half-sister, Mida's Touch Tiffany D'Cheelan, owned by Karen Holder, will be shown soon.

We are pleased to announce a welcome addition to our Pom family
Ch. Parka's Penstyle Robynhood, bred by Leslie Parker.

Robyn's sire is Ch. Bonner's Sunstyle Brilliance, his dam is Bonner's Smoky Penny. Robyn is a 4 lb. dark orange with excellent coat texture, good dark points, a short back and substantial bone. We thank Joann Vestal for Robyn — he complements our girls and their pedigrees nicely.

We have for sale a lovable "throwback", Midas Lovin' Spoonful. She's super sweet, super smart and super sized . . . all 9½ lbs. of her!

DALLAS-FORT WORTH POMERANIAN CLUB

MRS. JEWEL ELLIS, Secretary

At this writing our club is making a final preparations for it's Specialty to be held on September 24, 1977. Our judge is Mrs. Lois Holcomb. The location is in Grand Prairie, Texas which is an ideal location. The building is a nice size with plenty of space for grooming area etc., has nice clean restrooms, kitchen facilities, linoleum tile on the floor with beautiful colored lights overhead. It also has a platform or stage at one end for the veterinarian headquarters and the show secretary. Parking area will accommodate 170 cars. We hope to be able to hold our Fall shows at this location each year.

The club's June picnic was enjoyed by all. The barbecued beef which everyone commented on was tender and delicious, and there was everything you could think of to go with it. We were pleased to have some of our out of town members attend. We had a very good turn-out, the house was full to overflowing.

The club held a "B Match" in support of the SPCA on August 6, 1977. Best Puppy in Match and Best in Match went to Carla Prewitt's GOLDEN WINDS LIL TRINKET, and Best Adult in Match went to Mildred G. Patrick's PATRICK'S MISS BIT O'SUGAR. Our judge was Mr. Charles Smith of Dallas, Texas.

Other show wins were: Jean Sylvester & Chris McClung's CH. RUSSELL'S FOX FLAME TYNEE won the Toy Group at Lawton, Oklahoma and their POM CHRIS'S FIREBALL, AUFO went WB, BW, BOS at El Reno, Oklahoma and their TIM SUE'S FANDANGO went WD at the same show.

Geraldine Sealy's PRINCESS OF GOLDEN ACRES won the Breed and Group II at a Plan A Match in Irving, Texas, and also won WB, BOS at Cleburne, Texas and WB at Denton, Texas and WB at Fort Smith, Arkansas.

Opal Mosher's CH. MAC'S LITTLE BIT OF PERFECTION won Group II at Cleburne, Texas, BOS at Baton Rouge and Group II at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Frances Freeman and Lee Grunewald's THIS TIME FOR SURE OF POM GROVE went WD and BW at Baton Rouge, Louisiana and WD, BW at Pinebluff, Arkansas and BB, Group II at Memphis, Tennessee.

Norma C. Gad's CH. ROBINHOOD CHULA DARK FLAME went BB at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Group I at Denton, Texas and BOS at Fort Smith, Arkansas.

Susan Y. Ferguson and Mrs. B. G. McDonald's SUSAN HIKARUGENJI-NO-KIMI went WD, BW at Apaloosa, Louisiana.

New Champions are: CH. WOOD-ROSE'S TUFF STUFF, owned by Clarice M. Oganeku; and CH. TOMANOLL'S JULIET and CH. MAC'S LITTLE BIT OF PERFECTION both of which are owned by Opal Mosher.

THE POMERANIAN CLUB OF MICHIGAN (Detroit Area)

By MARGARET M. GORMAN
31134 East Wind
Fraser, Mi. 48026

On behalf of Patrick H. DeLoughary, The Pomeranian Club of Michigan would like to thank The American Pomeranian Club and the members who sent expressions of sympathy on the death of Pat's wife, Helen M. DeLoughary.

We wish Lyda Garner a speedy recovery from her recent surgery.

Josephine F. Fleishman, one of our founding members, has moved to Apache Junction, Arizona. We know she'll be thinking warm thoughts when she hears the Michigan weather reports next winter. The Gormans have acquired the Fleishman Pomeranians.

Our Club has lost breeders over the summer who have had a variety of reasons for getting out of Poms. A common theme echoed by them and others who have considered quitting Poms is the difficulty in raising puppies. We would be interested in hearing from other clubs who might have faced this problem and what steps they took to correct it.

KENOSHA COUNTY POMERANIAN CLUB, INC.

By ODETTE NOLAN
41 Wisconsin Avenue
Waukegan, Ill. 60085

We are planning a Sanctioned "B" Match — hopefully September 10, 1977 — with the permission of AKC. This will be one day before the Kenosha K.C. first licensed show — so anyone planning to attend that show at Carthage College in Kenosha could come one day early and attend our Match at the home of members Elinor & Lucius Luccas at Burlington, Wisconsin. We will have puppies from two months up and puppies and adults will not compete. There will be a Parade of Champions later. With the cooperation of the weather this should be a very pleasant day — on the banks of the Fox River west of Silver Lake Road. Luell's Kennels has spacious grounds, lots of shade trees and plenty of parking space. We plan to eat after the Match at Howard Johnson's on nearby I-94.

Chris and I managed to get to Arkansas and enjoyed meeting the people from there and also Pom people from Texas and Oklahoma. We attended the Pine Bluff Show where we met Tonia O'Neill and her family although we had written and talked to them on phone for several years. At the show site we had arranged to meet Jean Sylvester and Chris McClung from Oklahoma City.

From there we went on to the Memphis Show where we had a lovely dinner and met Sally Sajonce, Dorothy White, Marjorie Lewis. Also met again from Texas Lee Grunewald and her gorgeous This Time For Sure of Pom Grove and capable handler John Metz.

Thoroughly enjoyed meeting all these lovely Pom people — even though going from our climate to theirs at the end of May is a real BLAST. It was the first we had needed our air conditioner this season and since we were in a strange area — of course it didn't work! It took four days to get it to work — but it took three and a half days just finding someone to work on an air conditioner. Its hard enough to find capable help in an area where you are acquainted — almost impossible in a strange one.

The Stud Book is finally completed and will be in the mail very soon — thanks to some of the members who really took over — as I got sick in Arkansas and ended up in hospital as soon as we got home. Without those already overworked gals it would not be done yet and they have my sincere gratitude. If you did not have a pedigree entered in the book and would like one anyway they may be purchased by sending $6.00 to Mrs. Elinor Luccas, Rte. 5, Box 395, Burlington, WI 53105. Please make checks payable to The Kenosha County Pomeranian Club, Inc.

REQUEST

In response to the request of a Board Member that we print "some poetry" in place of the Editorial, we share with you an untitled stanza written by Robert Louis Stevenson which we consider very appropriate:

*"Bright is the ring of words
When the right man rings them,
Fair the fall of songs
When the singer sings them.
Still they are carolled and said —
On wings they are carried —
After the singer is dead
And the maker buried."*

THE PUGET SOUND POMERANIAN CLUB

JESSIE M. STEPHENS

Thanks to Erin Hundley your last reporter for this column, for the chance to write for the Pomeranian Review. I think she filled you in on our activities in dogs which have spanned more than 20 years both exhibiting and taking part in many Clubs throughout our travels in many countries. I can only say that my list of people who have so kindly written through the years grows steadily bigger. We have enjoyed our stay in the Pacific Northwest and will be returning to the East where our real interest in the Pom was fostered by seeing Jessie Young of Jabil Poms and her lovely little Dandy Lion, a very dedicated breeder and sincere person who really cares about her dogs. It will be good to meet with her again. Many people in the Northwest are upgrading the Pom. So good to see Mrs. Elva McGilbry of the Golden Glow Poms back in the ring and winning again. Good Luck in the future and many more Champions to your deserved credit. My husband and I have both enjoyed the hospitality of these fine people. In the South Seattle area we have Helen Krafcik with her Tiffany Poms. This is a really well run hobby kennel, with a mine of information on pedigree and the history of the breed. Some nice puppies will be coming out soon, so good luck Helen. Nora Higbee, also now has new kennels and is coming up with some good ones too. This is one busy lady, who has many interests, but still finds time to show. Mary Rosenbaum also is planning her future to the best. Mary is a talented painter and they also have horses which they show with success. All the kennels have Champions to boast on. So pitch in there and lets see you all in the ring.

OHIO POMERANIAN CLUB

by MARY STRASLICKA
4109 Grafton Road
Brunswick, Ohio 44212

In May, the Ohio Pom Club held its election of officers and the results are as follows: President, Donna Megenhardt; Vice President, Jean Morgan; Recording Secretary, Eileen Myers; Corresponding Secretary, Donna Mohn; Treasurer, Loren Straslicka. The new Board Members are Rick Megenhardt and Mary Straslicka. Yours truly was also appointed to write this article.

Also in May, several of the OPC Members and their Poms made the trip to Michigan to support that club's Speciality. From what I could tell the overall quality of the dogs was excellent. I did not, however, get a chance to watch the entire judging, as I spent half the day with my daughter in the hospital. We found out later that she had allergies. My thanks to Marge Gorman who went to the hospital with us and kept me from "losing my cool."

I would like to welcome our newest member, Karen Holder, formerly of College Station, Texas. It certainly is fun to have a Pom breeder for a neighbor.

At our July meeting we made plans for our annual puppy match which will be held on October 2, 1977, at the Toledo Kennel Club Building. Judge will be Gerry Brewer. Match Photographer will be David Puterbaugh. Looking forward to seeing everyone at the match.

OBEDIENCE FANS

January is YOUR issue. If you have a Pom working in obedience, or know of someone else who does, send stories, scores and ads to Emma Heyde or to the Editor. Let's hear about it!

A Pom is fragile, no doubt about it. But if you explain that, and set a few strict rules, Poms and children together are a beautiful sight.

Congratulations to all of the new C.D. and C.D.X. Poms, and the best of luck to all of you trainers who are working so hard on your obedience Poms. Hard work? Yes, but how gratifying it is to get an obedience degree on your Pomeranian, and the best part is that the little dog seems to enjoy it so much — once he understands what it is you want him to do.

Bunny Noble of St. Cloud, Minnesota is one of those truly joyful people — the owner of a C.D.X. Pom. She writes: "Like so many people, I began obedience training my little Pom "Sheba" as a way of controlling her, and in the process was talked into entering the obedience ring. She fit her name of 'BUNNY'S PRIDE SHEBA' by earning her C.D. in three shows with scores of 192½ (tie for fourth place), 189½, and 191½. The day she earned her C.D. she also won the trophy for high scoring Toy in the trial. When we began Open training it looked like a waste of time as she hated the dumbbell, but with lots of patience and praise we plunged on. The first three shows in Open she refused to return over the high jump and I wondered if we would ever make it.

On her third birthday she earned the first leg toward C.D.X. with a score of 192½ and the next day came through with a score of 196 and a tie for fourth place. A month later, July 16, 1977, at Duluth, Minn. she completed her C.D.X. again scoring 196 and placing third in a class of 43 dogs. The next day Sheba iced the cake with a 195½. I guess she decided it was fun after all, and when we complete the exercises she looks around for applause now. I'm looking forward to utility training and hope to have Sheba ready by next spring. I have also started working with a black Pom puppy and intend to show the pair in brace work. Poms are really fun to train and surely draw attention at shows."

Angie Ruiz of Pureto Rico is delighted with her new little black Pomeranian, SEL-SAL'S PEPPER OF P.R., which she immediately started training for obedience, and was rewarded by the little girl making her first leg and taking first place in Novice B with a score of 180. This took place at the Puerto Rico Dog Obedience Club trials on June 18, 1977, and Angie says "Pepper" was the only small dog in competition and gained the admiration of all by the way she did the exercises.

There is no doubt about it but that Pat Fife of North Branch, Minnesota has a brave little Pom with a marvelously stable disposition. As Pat writes, he has a heart as big as all outdoors although he weighs only two and a half pounds. Read on: "HILLROAD TINY TYKE, C.D." was whelped May 8, 1975. At approximately one year of age Tyke was enrolled in an obedience class as a replacement for a Doberman I had been training which had injured a leg. He got his share of chuckles at his first classes as he sat between dogs such as German Shepherds and Golden Retrievers whose tails alone could knock him over. He held his own, however, and was a serious worker, obviously enjoying himself the entire time, and a pleasure indeed to work with. After 12 weeks of training Tyke was entered in a pre-novice class at local match. He worked well, but before final scores were given Tyke was snatched from me by a large Alaskan Malamute. To my horror, the Malamute kept a tight grip on my poor Pom and refused to give him up. Only with two people prying the dog's mouth open could the helpless Pom be released. The show vet was at our side within minutes and Tyke was taken to his clinic with a suspected shoulder fracture. X-rays showed, however, that the shoulder was not damaged although the dog was severely bruised and remained at the veterinarian's for one week under medication for relief from pain. After the incident I was informed that Tyke had scored 194 and won a fourth place trophy out of a class of 30 dogs! When he was well again the decision was made to try Tyke back at classes. To say the least, there was one nervous handler and dog. Many weeks went by with much sweet talking and encouragement, aimed at erasing the trauma he had experienced. It was a slow process, requiring much patience and understanding, but little by little the small dog responded. As a result, on April 8, 1977, Tyke scored 196 at the Key City Kennel Club obedience trial. Next, April 24, 1977 at the Granite City Obedience Club Trial he scored a 195½, winning a run-off with a Labrador Retriever to earn a sixth place trophy (and trophies for high scoring Pomeranian and high scoring Toy). May 7, 1977 Tyke scored 193½ at the St. Paul Dog Training Club obedience trial and received trophies again for high scoring Pomeranian and high scoring Toy. (Thank you Yvonne Graftsky for donating the Pom trophy.) He has gone high scoring dog, high scoring Pom and Toy Dog at two Wisconsin matches. Also, of course, Tyke earned his C.D. title. He then went to Winnipeg, Canada, July 30 - August 1, 1977, and scored 192, 192 and 192½ under extremely windy outdoor conditions which even blew down the outdoor tents. Here, Tyke was unfortunate enough to have a Collie scratching an urgent itch fall over on him while on a long down. Tyke stayed, but I'm told his eyes nearly popped out of his head. All in all, he managed to complete his requirements for the Canadian C.D. How's that for "HEART?" They are not through yet and hope to be in Open soon. Pat also is starting another Pom in obedience and hopes someday to have a brace. She says, though that little Tyke is one in a million that could never be replaced, "Love is—a fluff named Tyke."

SEABRIGHT ATILA THE HUN-EY (Murdoch) got his first Novice leg with a score of 192 at Simi Valley KC this summer. Then at Pasadena KC June 5 Tillie (FERHOFF'S TILLIE TOYLER, C.D.X.) got her first point. This day should be written in red letters says Debbie. She was first in Open Bitches, winners bitch and then best of opposite sex. She showed in Open obedience in the morning and then into breed and took all the goodies. Then it was back to obedience ring for long sits and downs, just as nice as you please. Her Open B score was 194½! Incidentally, the dog which took the breed went on to take first in the Toy Group that day. Incidentally, too, "Tillie" was in a parade on Memorial Day this year. She showed off her manners by riding nicely through La Canada in a dog cart pulled by her Rottweiler friend, Lotta, owned by Chuck and Peggy Wood. (A little switch, as Debbie says, "I'm always telling people how her ancestors were sled dogs.")

Now, all of you obedience people — do please come forward and help us to make the January 1978 Pomeranian Review Obedience Issue a good one. Contact me — the Editor — or one another. Let's make it big.

Further, no judge under any circumstances, should allow an exhibitor to apply a spray or other substance to a dog's coat while in the ring. If the judge sees an exhibitor in his ring apply such a substance to a dog he is handling, the judge should excuse both the dog and exhibitor from the ring forthwith.

Having just attended some summer shows and having heard from many others who have also, I would like to mention a few heat related problems that are of particular concern with our double coated breed. Heat is not only a summer problem or a Southern problem. In fact a good friend of mine recently traveled North to some shows. In the cooler climate she did not take the usual precautions against heat and ended the day with a very sick Pom. Fortunately it was a temporary problem.

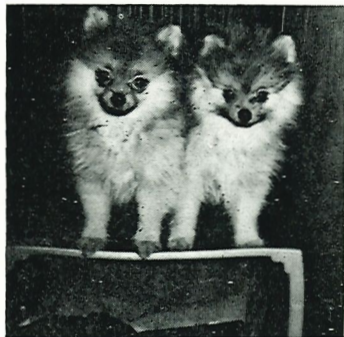

I doubt that anyone reading the Review would be so foolish as to leave any dog in a closed unattended car so I will skip that number one death trap and move on to some less obvious ones.

Most of us travel to shows in cars, station wagons, or vans. Please, note that the floor or bed of any vehicle gets extremely hot when travelling on the road. If a crate is sitting on the floor, it can become dangerously hot even in an air-conditioned vehicle (even in the winter). Drive your car for a couple of hours and place your hand where you place your crates. If you feel heat, insulate against it. Rubber mats are readily available. One or two thicknesses of these may be all that is needed. Test and discover what you need. A pretty and permanent arrangement can be made by using a thick carpet pad and one of the washable kitchen carpets. These can be attached to the vehicle in a variety of ways. The simplest is to glue the pad to the vehicle and the carpet to the pad. (If the area is large enough, it also makes a lovely place for the non-driver to nap.)

YOUNG'S CHEROKEE POMERANIANS

Rocky and Muffin must have decided they could get a better view from atop the wastebasket.

Sired by Ch. Robinhood's Replica Rerun out of Tono's Dragonflower of Young, they look promising and I expect to be showing them in '78.

One of the most practical additions to dog show vehicles that I have seen is the platform arrangement that many are now using. A heavy wooden frame is used on three sides leaving the back open. Plywood forms the top. Under the platform all sorts of things may be stored — grooming table, exercise pen, folding chairs, suitcases, etc. Eyes or various types of fasteners can be attached to the top of the platform making it easy to safely secure the crates. The air space under the platform makes perfect insulation and the raised position places the dogs in an area of good air exchange. The platform doubles the usable space in the vehicle, muffles equipment noise and adds to the beauty of the vehicle if the carpet and pad from the floor are extended up and over it.

Once the vehicle is prepared, do not assume all is well. On the first few trips place a thermometer in several locations, and check the temperature several times during the trip. Temperature may vary greatly in various areas of the vehicle. If there is a problem, changes in air regulation or cargo arrangement can probably solve it.

Remember when the weather is warm — temperatures soar in parked cars! When loading during the day, do not risk overheated dogs. Place an ice pack wrapped in a towel in each crate. The dog can sit on this while the car is being loaded and until it has a chance to cool during travel.

I was amazed recently, when checking temperatures, at how much more slowly the back of the van cooled than the front; although, they maintained the same temperature during the majority of the trip. The dogs will get on and off of the ice packs as they need them. Ice packs in crates are often helpful in un-airconditioned buildings.

The many favorable responses to my July column convinced me that you enjoyed the many varied opinions as much as I did, and I want to invite each of you to take part in future columns. I am now considering columns on the following subjects. (1) Unusual whelping situations, (2) Raising puppies — formulas for bottle feeding and/or weaning, (3) Rare colors — production and/or showing. These columns can only be successful in many of you contribute to them; please, do. I am looking forward to hearing from you.

MIDWEST REPORT

By

MRS. JOYCE OHRTMAN

Route 1

Bouton, Iowa 50039

By the time this comes out I hope this awful summer is over. Our part of the mid-west is in its fourth year of way below average rainfall. As I write this the temperature is 103° and has been like that all but two days of the last three or four weeks. Its been so hot the mother dogs refused to even let babies nurse until I moved them into the basement. Our big basement stays quite cool.

Had some really good news from Clara Wiese the other day. Her little boy "Wiese's Precious Gem of Flash" went Best in Show at the Metro Mile Hi Toy Show giving him a five point major. He also took BOB and Group 4 at Terry-All K.C. Show and BOB and Group 2 at Colorado Springs K.C. leaving him only one point to finish.

We had visited Clara this spring and saw this beautiful young man. When I remarked about him Clara said she had shown him and had points but she had to quit showing him. He had had a slight injury to a paw and although it had completely healed and veterinarians could find nothing wrong he continued to hop occasionally. I suggested she try re-training him. She wrote that she tried tugging on the lead and scolding him every time he hopped and finally he got the message. Now he walks perfectly and these wins show it was well worth the time and effort she spent.

I have attended only a few shows this summer but according to the Club Newsletter other members have been going regularly. Gwen Hodson has been doing some winning, including major wins at Scott County K.C. for her Pom Puf Fay Gold Dancer and at Key City K.C. for Pom Puf Fashion Heather. She also had some bad luck this summer. A short in the air conditioner of their motor home caused a fire resulting in the loss of two Poms, her recently finished Ch. Pom Puf Darlin Honey Love and Sister Pom Puf Darlin Sunshine.

Betty and Tony Short won a four point major at Mason City K.C. with Dancing Memento of Oakridge and have since finished her, I believe.

Received a letter from Sally Baugniet and she had a successful summer. Her new Ch. Pomirish Bubbles Lil Squirt went Group 2 at Illinois Valley K.C. and Group 3 at Coulee K.C. On a trip to Thunder Bay, Ontario, Sally was in the BIS ring all three days. The first day with Lil Squirt and the second and third day with Ch. Pomirish Winnie the Pooh. Ch. Winnie is also now a Canadian Champion. Imagine — three Group I in three days with two Poms! I'll bet she was thrilled!

To finish the month with a bang she finished Pomirish Candy Cane the next weekend with her fourth major.

Newsletters received from the Pomeranian Club of Greater Des Moines and the Denver Metro Club show both Clubs are working hard. They have each completed a successful spring match and are planning one for fall.

I have received nothing concerning Jr. Handlers in the midwest. I did talk my son, Jeff, into taking a Pom instead of his Standard Poodle to one show. Although they didn't place, Betty Short and I thoroughly enjoyed watching. Jeff has quite long legs and the little Pom really had to move out. She showed her very best for him but being used to a larger dog Jeff was a bit clumsy. With some practice I think he could get that third Novice win he needs with a Pom. Betty's young son, Terry, shows a Pom in Jr. Handling and just needs a bit more polish before he'll be winning.

RINGSIDE

by K. BIRK
1634 S.W. 9th Ave.
Fort Lauderdale
FLORIDA

I had been asked a number of times, by novices, what was expected of them in the ring the something extra they could do to keep them from looking so "green".

I felt that the subject had been mentioned often enough to warrant asking a judge to give a few pointers to the newcomer. I thought it would be helpful to the many new exhibitors that start out every year. It was . . . and it interested the old-timers too.

Several interesting ideas came in, one of which I will pass on to you. We will call it FOOD FOR THOUGHT, you may take it seriously or ? ? ? with a HA! HA!

I think the ideas are not necessarily original, but from different articles they have read with a few of their own added. The idea is that Pure Bred dog judging is one of the few places in our life where the "consumer" of the product or service (in this case, our dogs being judged) does not have a chance to complete a formal written evaluation of the product or service we use.

Postal cards sent to us from the automobile industry are now standard practice. The questions routinely asked are: Was your car ready when we said it would be? Was your car clean when you received it? Do you have any comments for ways in which we can improve? Many changes have been made as the result of such "input" from users of products and services, as has there been in business also, changes of operation have been introduced as results of evaluation of replies.

I don't know if you are ready for this but the thinking in some areas is that the time is long overdue for the American Kennel Club to institute a regular formal evaluation system of all judges BY THE EXHIBITOR. Although the evaluation plan suggested here is not thought to be the best plan that could be designed, (the designer feels) it would be a good start. Plan suggested: 1. On a random, computer selected basis, 5% of all shows . . . including Specialty Shows . . . will have an attempt made to survey 100% of the exhibitors on their evaluation of the judging they have received. 2. The evaluation form to be a one page form which can easily be computer scored. 3. Form to have room for extra subjective comments. 4. As a minimum, the following questions to be covered.

- Do you believe you were fairly judged?
- Do you believe the judge competent?
- Did he (she) judge according to the standard?
- Were you treated courteously?
- Were the winners dog and winners bitch worthy of the points and a good representative of the breed?
- Would you show under this judge again?
- What can this judge do to become a better judge?

Among the opinions voiced it was felt that judges would welcome evaluations from exhibitors on forms with questions such as these and that they would be objective and fair if handled by A.K.C. One point made and agreed upon is that as it stands, all the judge has now for guide lines on the job he is doing is a certain amount of non-objective comments from flatterers, who think it will help with their next win . . . OR . . . LOSERS who wish to vent their anger (sometimes in the form of hate mail to A.K.C.)

Early in this article I said I'd call it "FOOD FOR THOUGHT" — Maybe you think it has merit — Maybe you think these folks are dreamers. All that I hope for is that you DO think. I've heard for twenty years that dog judging is ????? Well, you've all heard that too . . . If the situation is going to change, the exhibitor "CONSUMER" will have to present a better method. Knocking the present method hasn't helped. THERE !!!! I've thought, have you?

We have been having a heat wave. 90-95 degrees to us Puget Sounders, is like 115 anywhere else. The humidity is so high. Last Tuesday we had the highest temperature in the whole world. It can't go on much longer, it never does. I'm not complaining, though, there are some nice places to be when it is hot, such as the new City park named after Senator Magnuson. Located on the shore of Lake Washington, where the Sandpoint Navy base used to be, this park was the scene of the Puget Sound Pomeranian Clubs Summer picnic. They had a sanctioned B match in conjunction with the picnic. The spectators sat in a building open on three sides, which faced the lake, and while cool breezes blew, watched their Pom friends show off. I'm sure the club reporter will give all the details in her report.

I haven't heard from anyone in the Pierce County Pomeranian Club for a while, so I can only give you some hearsay. Jean Schroll took Ch. Skylark Cinnamon Banner to Canada with her and picked up some nice wins. 2 Toy Group 1sts at the Northern Interiors Kennel Club shows. He also got a Toy Group 1 and a 2nd at Williams Lake, at Victoria City, he won 2 more Group seconds, one under Judge Tom Stephenson and one under Judge E. W. Pitkin. Jean also showed Am. Ch. Golden Glow Pepper at Victoria City. He took the points, and finished his Canadian title. His owners Vance and Elva "Sally" McGilbry have every right to be proud of this beautiful dog.

visit the McGilbry's Kennel last month, we saw many lovely Poms including Pepper. Sally is another breeder who set the goal of raising Pomeranians that constantly fit the standard while reflecting her own personal preferences in color and general appearance. She has maintained the same look since she began years ago with the well known Int. Ch. Dromore Bombardier. You can walk through the kennel now and say, "Doesn't this one or that look like Bombardier?" We were sorry to hear of the loss of Pepper's father Tigre. He has been siring many other nice Poms for them and I'm sure they miss him very much.

I'm proud of our new Champion too. Scotia Dolly's Dandy Sibyl, finished at Portland Kennel Club Inc. Show, June 4, 1977 under Mrs. Winifred Nishimura, Jean Schroll handling. Dolly went reserve at the Columbia Pomeranian Club Specialty, under judge Darrel Baker. I was unable to attend these shows, so I asked Irene Harbin to tell you about the specialty. Her story will follow at the end of mine.

Am. & Can. Ch. Skylark Cinnamon Banner has been doing some nice State-side winning also. Among these wins was a Group 2nd at Pocatello Id. Judge Haydyn Martin gave him this award. His owner Florence Ryals and his breeder Shirley Hoffman should be proud of this lovely red orange Pom. Hearsay again tells about the nice Banner puppies that are showing up around the Northwest.

Nora Higbee reported that she and the Higbee bunch will be busy again at the local fairs, Nora is actively demonstrating her love of dogs and kids, when she puts it all together in 4-H work. We are all proud to know her.

So long for now, Here is Irene.

Friday evening June 3, 1977 was a great evening for Pomeranian lovers of the Portland Oregon area.

The Columbia Pomeranian Club Specialty was supported by 30 Pomeranian owners and handlers. The show was combined with the Boston Terrier Club and so were the banquet facilities.

The Pomeranians were judged by Darrel W. Baker and David M. Krogh was ring Steward. The weather was nice, it was raining, the facilities adequate and the Banquet a pleasure and the food was good also. The Specialty Trophy Fund was well supported and the trophies beautiful. It was a very nice win for "Ch. Bi-Mar's Happy Hooker of J.J.", owner-handled by Mary Rosenbaum going "Best of Breed". Then there was "Golden Glow Tammie", owner-handled by Elva U. McGilbry, going "Winners Bitch". This nice win gave this beautiful bitch the needed points for her title of "Champion". "Best of Opposite Sex" went to the veteran dog, "Ch. Holders A Lil Red Flash", owner-handled by Jean Schroll. "Best of Winners" went to "Riggin's Star joy Lus'us Kris", owner-handled by Dolores Riggin. "Best in Puppy Class" went to "Andrew's I'm Jimbo's Me Too, also owner-handled by Phyllis Andrews.

The banquet was held at a restaurant nearby and the food was extremely tasty and the conversation very informative and worthwhile. It was a pleasure to be there, even though I could not be included as one of the winners.

CANADIAN SCENE

By JOAN GRANT
Box 1423
Golden, B.C.
VOA IHO, Canada

I sometimes wonder if what I write is really representative of 'The Canadian Scene', or just 'Joan's Scene': then I have visited in person (my place or theirs) or by letter with Pomeranian fanciers from Nova Scotia, Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta, and my home province of B.C. as well, then I must be getting a bit of the whole picture, and hope it isn't a distorted view. This past three months has certainly given me opportunities to discuss Poms to my heart's content.

I get the impression that the Canadian show ring is in for a change in the near future as far as the numbers of colors other than the oranges and reds being shown. Sunnyvale's Johnny Midnight has been seen regularly in the Alberta rings since April, and is making the judges take note of him. His breeder, Joan Zavaglia, has had a black for as long as I have known her, and has occasionally bred blacks that she was quite proud of, but now I know of an Alberta breeder interested in this color, as well as a Manitoba breeder who would like to work with them. Our recent 'discussion' in our Canadian Pom Prints magazine about black and tans might have encouraged more interest too, and who knows what other colors will be seen. I, too, would like to try my hand at convincing the judges and the spectators alike that a good Pom is a good Pom no matter what color he is. I rather wonder if the Ontario exhibitors are a bit leary of showing any but the accepted oranges, sables and creams, but perhaps I have not talked with the right breeder-exhibitors there yet.

I talked with the owner-handler of a tiny obedience Pom in Calgary last month. Her girl, Penny, has earned two legs on her C.D. but seems to find new ways to avoid earning the third one. Watching the actions and eagerness of this Pom, I have no doubt she will eventually settle down, and should be able to continue on with her C.D.X. as long as her handler keeps working her. I had intended to be her competition, but my best laid plans got lost in all my other plans. Now that I have told so many that I have an obedience Pom, I feel ashamed it is taking me so long to prove how delightful he is to work with. Please remember to blame his non-appearance on me, not him.

I was a bit let down after two long visits for I learned that two breeders of Poms for over 20 years each had yet to learn how to recognize patellar luxation, nor did they know of it's prevalence in so many breeds. (Just ask anyone who grooms and clips dogs). I urge you all, whether you breed, or never intend to, to learn what you can about the problems that besige us, if only to be able to give solid advice if a novice ever asks you about them. I have recently come across the problem of achalasia in one of my larger puppies and am so very thankful that there are other more knowledgeable people to learn from.

A special note here about a problem that can arise with the pups with a lazy dam, or perhaps orphaned. It must be remembered that a good brood continually cleans her whelps from tip to tail. A novice breeder had the heartbreak of a blind puppy as this happened and although she faithfully cleaned him, and saw to it that his eliminations were proceeding regularly, did not apply the correct massage to the head, the eyes in particular, and they therefore opened too late, with the puppy being blind as a result. She has asked me to pass this along in case it prevents someone else making the same error.

It has been a really busy summer with full training classes, many visitors, and extra boarders because of school holidays, and berries everywhere you look. I have a nice supply of jams and jellies made with wild strawberries, raspberries, currents, dew berries, wild grapes, saskatoons, blueberries, and even the most delicious huckleberries. I managed to get a milk pail full of them, but am not sure yet if I was mountain climbing that day and happened to get some berries or if it could really be called berry picking and the mountain happened to get in the way. Actually it was the trees, alive and dead that mostly got in the way and occasionally the huge boulders in the spring water paths. One time, after nearly four hours there, I found a good patch, with a handy mossy log to sit on. Only I missed the log, landed behind it, and after carefully picking every berry no matter how small, or unripe, could not delay any longer, and tried to rise. I did manage to do so, but very nearly hollared for assistance. I would never hear the end of it if I had to resort to help for that type of problem!

Please drop in sometime.

MIDWEST (Continued)

I had a rather enjoyable morning a few weeks ago. I was asked to judge the Green Co. 4-H Show — both obedience and Jr. Show. These kids had only been working with their dogs since May and did remarkably well. There was even a young lady with a Pom.

We are busy getting ready to move September 1. We have sold our acreage and plan to live in Perry until we can find or build something closer to Dale's work. I'm cutting down on the number of Poms but plan to keep a few. I hope to get to the fall shows. Maybe I'll see you there.

I cannot help but wonder if others have had the experiences I have had recently. A female Pom of mine was excused at the Dallas Show and this appeared in the Gazette. Curiosity surely does get the best of some folks for I was flooded with letters asking the reason. In fact, so many letters that I did not feel up to answering them personally so am taking this way of making a short explanation. Morning of the Dallas Show, I got up and put my feet in at least a couple inches of water. That was a surprise to be sure. Dogs, luggage, everything was soaked. This was at the Holiday Inn about 8 miles north of the Show site. We were moved as all the first floor was flooded. I only wish I had not tried to go to that show but it cleared enough to load and I took off but another flash flood hit me enroute. Four lane highway, bumper to bumper traffic, dark as pitch, inches of water on the highway, stranger to the area, so could do nothing but follow traffic and pray. Someone ran into the back of my car and carrier with "Wendy" was tossed into the front seat, hitting my shoulder first. I did make the Show but very late so double parked, grabbed two carriers and went to ring side, hurriedly put on leads and showed. "Wendy" limped and to my embarrassment was excused. I was already badly shook up and this incident did not help. Anyway, I hurried right on my way to Chicago for the Specialty and International and then some shows in Kansas. Had to leave "Wendy" in care of a vet as all the ligaments in one hind leg were pulled. She was shipped back to me a month and a half later. So kind people who wrote and were so concerned, this is the story and will answer your question. There is a funny side to this story. Was asked by many if I got the license number of the car that hit me.

We may think we are not liked by everyone and perhaps not, but just get into some difficulty at a show and you will change your mind. This happened to me at the Carolina Shows last four days of July. Help needed and without asking, help I got in abundance. I do wish to thank all those kind Pom folks and friends who came to my assistance, showing, loading, unloading and even offered to drive my car. Wow! What a good feeling this gives one.

The month of July happened to be a hectic one for me but in spite of this, I had so much happen to give me a moral boost, all the help at the shows mentioned above and then came a big and unexpected surprise. Certificates in recognition for top producers came, one for Ch. Sungold's Gay Cavillier giving him credit for 65 Ch. get and one for Ch. Sunset's Personal Conquest giving her credit for 15

This is "Little Frosty"

Kathryn's Frost Tee

also known as "Speedy Gonzales"

to distinguish him

from our other "Frosty"

Sire of Two White Males Whelped June 12 ex. Lewis Snowflake

These pups are very small. Color-bred white pedigree on dam's side.

Two of Our Black Bitches Came Through For Us, the "Baby" Missed.

1 Black Male, 1 Black Female, 1 Sable Female whelped June 7

May Morning Social Lion X May Morning Fun 'N' Frolic

1 Black Female whelped August 2 By Dunn's Little Tomstopper (Showstopper)

ex. May Morning Midnight Flirt (Ch. Hokus Pokus daughter)

1 Dark Sable Male, 2 Red or Sable Females whelped August 4

May Morning Social Lion X May Morning Naughty But Nice

(Showstopper/Great Elms both sides)

1 Red or Sable Male sired by May Morning Benjamin (Double Showstopper)

ex. May Morning Moonlight 'N' Roses ("Phoebe's" litter sister)

WE ARE NOW SUPPORTING 16 "PENSIONERS" — Mostly 8-12 years old.

Several good broods are approaching retirement, 3 studs now 8.

DECISION TIME IS HERE. If we are to go on, we need to keep a few puppies.

BUT WE MUST CUT DOWN SOMEWHERE—Cannot do the work, cannot get help.

We are still interested in trying to improve the White Poms, but we are overstocked with whites and white bred creams and offer at reasonable prices 3-4 young females and 1 male with Great Elms/Showstopper sire-line.

Also one large proven dark cream bitch 3 yr. old, open or bred.

WE HAVE NOTHING ELSE DUE TO WHELP AS WE SKIPPED ALMOST ALL THIS SUMMER.

Ch. get. No mention was made of 6 foreign Chs. for Cavilier. These certificates were sent out by the publishers of "Showdogs" and signed by the Editor, Matthew Stander, and Statistical Research Editor, the well-known Irene K. Schlintz. These will be framed and hung under the gorgeous painting of Cavilier. Of course, I am elated with this recognition and proud of the record I have made since getting into the Breed, Pomeranians, 19 years ago. I believe I am correct in stating that one dog has reached 34 Ch. get. I believe I owned the next two highest producing females also.

Please do not misunderstand me, I am not intentionally bragging and boasting, but offer this information in hopes I can encourage all of you Pom breeders and exhibitors to keep in there trying. Set goals and make them high and then try to reach those goals. It is so easy to get discouraged, heartbreaks, time and money cannot be estimated but the glory and fun of this game, offsets all the other things. I know only too well but wish all of you would make a real honest to goodness try and you will be rewarded.

Before this goes to press, I will be seeing many of you at the Summer Specialty, God willing.

MRS. JUNE MOORE Independence, Mo.

A WORD OF WARNING

Something terrible just happened. I'd like to warn everyone to be more careful than we were. We keep all new puppies in a box beside our bed, until we sell them. Three weeks ago two mothers whelped 24 hours apart. So we kept one litter beside our bed, the other beside our little girl's bed, in a different room.

Yesterday, the one mother which we have owned since she was born here 5 years ago, and had 4 litters since, sneaked into our bedroom. She viciously and brutally killed one puppy and was starting on another before we realized what was going on. Never in a million years would we have believed she would do such a thing.

You just can't always trust the dog you think you can. Guard those puppies. They are so tiny and helpless.

MAY MORNING POMERANIANS

This Is New Champion May Morning Pie In The Sky (Subj. AKC)

"Phoebe" is pictured going Winners Bitch and Best of Opposite Sex at The Kennel Club of Philadelphia Show under Judge Robert Braithwaite. THANK YOU to all the judges who liked her soundness and correct sable coloring. THANKS to her handlers, Gloria Setmayer who tamed her wild exuberant spirit and showed her to 8 points including her first major, and Marlene Scott who took her to Best of Winners and Best of Opposite Sex to finish under Judge E. W. Tipton, Jr. at Mispillion K.C., August 19, 1977.

"Phoebe" is a product of that "Miracle Breeding" — See Along Myway in July 1977 Review — and her pedigree in "Behind the New Champions":

THE SIRE OF THE SIRE IS THE GRANDSIRE OF THE DAM ON HER DAM'S SIDE.

We do not plan to "Special" Phoebe. She will be bred and trained to as many obedience degrees as we can manage! Not necessarily in that order.

WATCH FOR PHOEBE'S FULL BROTHER FROM REPEAT BREEDING

May Morning Space Pilot ("Ace"), owned by Kenneth and Catherine Lefferts. Now being shown, 8 points to date, and siring some beautiful puppies.
