PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Mary F. Casey

I have been so busy this past month at I haven't given my column much thought, and now our Editor is breathing down my back because I'm late for the deadline. Woe is me!

I know many of you are wondering what is happening with the new revision of The Standard. It is almost complete, and hopefully, by the time you read this, it will be in the hands of the A.K.C. for their approval.

Most of our meetings this year have been spent discussing the revision. I know we will not be able to please everyone, but I do hope that the new Standard will be one that breeders, judges and exhibitors will be able to understand and work by.

As the membership requested, a complete membership list was sent out to each member. Unfortunately, several names were accidentally omitted. My sincere apologies for this error. It was not intentional. If by chance your name is not on the list, and you are a paid up member, please notify the Secretary and this will be corrected in the next issue of the Review.

By the time you receive this issue of the Review, the Premium List for our 1970 Specialty will be out. Send your entries in right away. I wish each and every member could attend. It's worth the trip just to see all the beautiful dogs from all over this great country and to meet the breeders and exhibitors. Maybe you will bring home the points. Won't you join us in the fun? We all can't win, but we can all have a good time. See you there, I hope — Hotel Penn Garden, New York City, February 8, 1970.

In closing, I would like to thank all of my fellow officers and Board members for the work they put into the Club's activities during 1969. I personally feel that a great deal was accomplished and that we will be reaping the fruits of our labor in the very near future.

A very special Thank You to our Pom Review Editor, Sophie Mayes, for all of her work in getting this little magazine out to us. Sophie feels she can no longer continue in this capacity, and we would all be very grateful if a member would volunteer to take over the editorship of this wonderful little magazine.

Happy New Year to each and every one of you, and may 1970 be filled with Pomeranian Champions for all!

See you at the Specialty!

February 8, 1970
Hotel Penn Garden
New York City.

— NOTICE —

Mr. Bert Bedell is once again in charge of preparing the Club's Certificates given each year, ON REQUEST, to members only for each A.K.C., Canadian or Bermudian Champion finished during the year. Mr. Bedell would like to receive your requests by January 15, if possible. (If your Review is late, send request immediately after reading this notice!) Include the registered name and AKC number of your champion(s), together with the date title was completed.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

by JOY S. BREWSTER
Rt. 3, U.S. Rt. 6
Newtown, Conn.
06470

Approval has been granted to the Io. Calif Pom Club to hold their regional Specialty in conjunction with the Golden Gate show on Jan 31 and Feb 1, 1970. The Western Pom Club was granted permission for their Specialty on April 1st in Chicago.

The most important news recently has been the general meeting held at the Devon Specialty. There were 23 members present and the main topic was the proposed new Pom Standard as drawn up by the Standard Revision Committee and having preliminary approval of the Board of Directors.

After thoroughly discussing each portion as to wording and interpretation, a final composite was presented to the Board at the November meeting. At this meeting, the Board approved the changes made at the General Meeting. However, it was noted that there are no disqualifications listed as it presently stands.

The Board and Committees have worked hard to put together a new standard representing the breeder, owner and judge points of view, in itself, a very difficult task. In general the proposed standard attempts to put into words a well-balanced picture of the ideal Pom — stating what it should be, rather than what it is not. This has not been accomplished overnight as we all know. The Board feels this is a fair composite of the ideal Pom. We all know it is almost impossible to please everyone and we ask your support in being realistic and fair when you vote.

The proposed standard will be presented as a complete package made up of many portions. You will be asked to accept or reject the complete package. The individuals involved have tried to be objective for the benefit of the Pomeranian BREED, not any particular breeder's point of view or individual's point of view. We hope that you also will be looking at it in general as an improvement and a step forward for the Pomeranian BREED.

The proposed standard will be general knowledge very soon, but only members of the APC will be eligible to vote when the mailing is made.

We hope you have enjoyed a good Holiday Season and look forward to a very busy — ACTIVE year for the APC.

New Members accepted by the Board at the November meeting included the following:

Stan & Margo Garwal, Hinsdale, Ill.
Charles K. Westall, Brevard, N.C.
Faye Celentano, Metairie, La.
Elizabeth Dalby, Whittington, Ill.

Pomeranians of Highland

Winning Bloodlines

Champions
at Stud

Ch. May Morning Echo of Highland

Raising Pomeranians exclusively, our breeding stock is a select few. Concentrating on combining some of the best from two of the world's most famous bloodlines, and as always, paying the strictest attention to the ideal in temperament and soundness, we are now establishing our strain, based on truly two of the fancy's best known Pomeranians, namely, Ch. Aristic Wee Pepper Pod and Ch. Thelcolynn's Showstopper. Our carefully linebred pedigrees on all our dogs, go many times to either or both of these great stud dogs! The Poms at this kennel are offspring of champions and are being bred only to champions. Of top priority and most important, we do not own or use for breeding any dog with a major fault, as we want to sell to you only that which we would most desire to buy ourselves! Since bitches are so few and litters so small, many time we have nothing to offer when inquiries come in. Most of our stock is sold on order to those willing to wait for that worth waiting for.

OUR GUARANTEE

COVER STORY

By Sophie H. Mayes

I am very proud to present Champion May Morning Black Magic to Review readers, although I have not been able to get a good picture of her.

Nine or ten years ago, when I was still living in Massachusetts, I became interested in some black Poms being shown by Bob Bellick, and decided then that I would like to own a few good ones. Bob and Ruth Bellick helped me find my first black, a tiny little female bred by Mrs. Norma Creider of Tulsa, Oklahoma. They had fallen in love with a sweet back bitch Mrs. Creider sent to be bred to Eng., Am., Can. & Ber. Ch. Dixietown Serenade of Hadleigh, (Creider's Son Star Seniorita.)

The little female, "Polly", was a typey Pom and undoubtedly could have finished her championship, if campaigned. But she was far too small to breed, so she became a "spoiled darling" house pet.

I asked Mrs. Creider for a black bitch large enough to breed. As she was unable to supply a black, she sent me a red sable daughter of the good black bitch, Son Star Seniorita. When bred to a very nice black dog, Tremblay's Black Simbo, owned by Mrs. Ethelle Turner in Massachusetts, this bitch, Creider's Little May Queen, gave me a black male and a black female, May Morning Black Knight ("Tommy") and May Morning Black Magic, known as "Marge."

May Morning Black Magic did not finish in record time. She will be 4 years old this February, and was carrying her fourth litter when she completed her title. She was not heavily campaigned — in fact, coat losses after each litter kept her out of the ring most of the time.

Her show record, however, was quite distinguished as she finished with four majors, twice going WB, BW and BOS at Specialty Shows for 5 point wins.

- ✦ Devon Dog Show, Oct. 1967, WB under Mrs. Hellerman . . . . . 2 pts.
- ✦ Delaware Co. K. C. June 1968, WB under Mr. Kendrick . . . . . 3 pts.
- ✦ Columbia Pom Club Specialty, Jan. 1969, WB, BW and BOS under Mr. Wolf . . . . . 5 pts.
- ✦ Fayetteville K.C., March 1969, WB, BW under Mrs. Cowie . . . . . 3 pts.
- ✦ Devon Dog Show (APC Specialty) Oct. 1969, WB, BW and BOS under Mrs. Crouse . . . . . 5 pts.

She was owner handled at the first two shows, handled by Mrs. Joy LeCompte at the Columbia Pom Club Specialty, by Ray Wine at Fayetteville, N.C. and by Marlene Scott at the Devon Specialty.

Her pedigree will be found in "Behind the New Champions".

My next goal is to breed a white Pom good enough to show to its championship. According to my records, the last white champion was finished in 1939.

DEVON DOG SHOW ASSOCIATION

★ SPECIALTY SHOW ★

OCTOBER 4, 1969

By STELLA B. DAVIS

Saturday, October 4, 1969 dawned as a beautiful, crisp fall day with a brisk wind sweeping the Devon Dog Show grounds where it was slightly wet under one's feet. This was the day of the Devon, Pa. show and the American Pomeranian Club, Inc. considered the Pomeranian classes as its Specialty Show.

There was an entry of 43 Pomeranians for Mrs. David Crouse to pass her opinion on. The Poms were beautiful as they cavorted around the ring in the brisk, chilling wind. I am not going to give the winners as Mrs. Crouse has very kindly promised to send in her critique of the show.

A meeting of the American Pomeranian Club members was called to order after the judging by our president, Mrs. Mary F. Casey. Once again the changes in our standard were discussed at length and two of our fellow members who are licensed judges gave their opinions freely.

After the meeting we all gathered at Sophie Mayes' for a delightful buffet lunch and to admire her beautiful Poms. The blacks were a special delight to me and also to see the several white ones as I have a white girl now too. Last but not least were Sophie's two Doberman Pinschers who would snatch food from the table when no one was looking. At least the Dobermans thought no one was looking!!

All in all, it was a grand weekend and I enjoyed every minute of it, especially having the opportunity of meeting Ruth L. Beam of Great Elms fame. Ruth is a delightful person with a wealth of Pom knowledge.

BEST OF BREED and later GROUP FIRST under Judge William Kendrick — Ch. Leader's Little Buck-A-Roo bred, owned and handled by Ina F. Kniffin.

EDITOR'S NOTE: We are indebted to Show Chairman, ANN COWIE, for the following notes — taken down in telephone conversation with our Specialty Judge, MRS. DAVID CROUSE.

I am extremely proud to have had so many very beautiful Poms in the ring. Several I feel deserving of further comment. My puppy dog was extremely sound of leg and such a good mover. Van's Little Tipper Bit carried such a lovely dense coat for this time of year, and Mrs. Girardot's exhibits were in such nice coat and condition. My Winners Dog was not in fullest of bloom, but had a lot to offer in many ways.

WINNERS DOG (5 pts.) Jeribeth's Dragonfly Deuce owned and handled by Eleanor W. Miller. Judge, Mrs. David Crouse.

Both puppy bitches in their classes are most promising. My 6-9 extremely good in leg and my 9-12 also carrying a heavy coat gives promise of going on to further wins. My Winners Bitch is one of the best put together Poms I've had as a judge, extremely sound and an excellent mover. My Reserve Winners Bitch was also very sound and a good mover.

WINNERS BITCH, BEST OF WINNERS & BEST OF OPPOSITE SEX (5 pts.) May Morning Black Magic, bred and owned by Sophie H. Mayes and handled to this win by Marlene Scott. Judge, Mrs. David Crouse.

My Best of Breed was every inch Mr. Pom and most deserving of his win, but I want to comment on several others also. Ch. Arsenal Imp of Point Loma is one of the heaviest coated and best blacks I've seen; Ch. Scotia Atonya's Commander, shown by Mrs. Girardot, looked his best and seemed to enjoy every minute. The beautiful color of Ch. Matchmaker of Nanjo and the soundness of Ch. Nanjo Interlude deserve comment, as does the beautiful showmanship of Ch. Model's Son of Fun with his handler, lovely Marlene Scott. The quality of the Poms was really outstanding, and it was a pleasure to have the finest to select from — and not an easy job to make a choice. You all deserve much credit for putting these Poms in the ring and should be proud of a job well done.

A letter asking information on the International Pomeranian Society was brought up and none was familiar with this society. It was requested that the Secretary answer Mrs. Ritz to this affect.

It was requested that if possible one floor of the hotel be reserved for Pom people rather than have us all spread on different floors. Marj Bullwinkle was to check this out with the Hotel.

It was voted that the Annual meeting be held in the morning preceding the Specialty.

The rest of the meeting was used to discuss and go over the proposed Pom Standard as developed by the Standard Revision Committee (Marlene Scott and Ruth Beam). The results of which were to be presented to the Board in Nov.

The Treasurer's report was not presented at the meeting due to the absence of the Treasurer. However, the information on the Treasury is as follows at that time:

Dear Mrs. Sivori:

It is with great pleasure that I enclose my check for my 1970 membership due to the greatest club I know — the American Pomeranian Club. I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the Officers and Directors for a job well done, and Sophia Mayes, Editor and Advertising Manager of the Pom Review deserves a commendation for all the wonderful issues that have been put out for us this past year. Thanks to all who have put forth so much effort for our enjoyment.

THE DELEGATES DEPARTMENT

by BERT BEDELL

The regular quarterly meeting of the officers and delegates of the American Kennel Club was held at the Hotel Biltmore on September 9, 1969. There were 29 delegates present, representing the various clubs who have an elected delegate to the American Kennel Club. At present, there are 380 delegates from All breed and also Special Breed clubs.

One of the highlights of this meeting was the discussion which was held in regard to the Apprentice Judging System. The present system which has been used for the past 20 years does have provisions which leave something better desired. The present role of an apprentice judge requires his or her presence in the ring as an observer and student judge. In such capacity, the apprentice judge does not take part in the show, and sitting or standing in the ring becomes a matter quite embarrassing. It is quite difficult, it was felt, for him or her to look knowledgeable and interested. At present, the apprentice judge has been acquainted with a list of "Don'ts" which do not add to the status.

It was decided that the present apprenticeship application forms will be continued and will be considered by the Board as previously. On approval a "provisional license" will be granted. He or she will then be available to the various show holding clubs for service as Judge at three shows. After the third assignment is completed, the apprentice judge's application will again be reviewed and passed upon by the Board for approval as a regular judge for the breed or breeds designated.

It is believed that by this new method of licensing new judges it can be better determined who of the applicants is best qualified. The Board will have had the opportunity of observation of the apprentice in action in the ring and will be in a better position than at present to determine who may be qualified for license. This matter was presented by Senior Vice-President, John W. Cross, Jr.

There was another matter considered by those present at this meeting. At the present time, Junior Showmanship and Obedience Classes are a matter of the decision of the show club to decide whether either shall be a part of the show. In the future the Junior Showmanship part of the program will be an official part of the show with awards and records of results being made official records, to be published with other results of the shows.

The American Kennel Club will keep official records of the names, breeds and owners of the dogs shown. All conditions governing the Junior Showmanship class will appear in the Premium Lists along with the ring number, name of the judge and time of judging.

At present, Junior Showmanship classes as a part of the show may be judged by licensed handlers. It has proven to be a difficult matter for such handlers to determine if they would be free to so judge such Junior Showmanship events at a date very far in advance of the date of the show. The Board decided that this part of the show should be made more dignified and meaningful. It is believed that regularly licensed judges are desirable for judging, but in addition, licensed handlers may still be used but the handler would be prohibited from participating in the same show as a judge. In other words, the provisions of Section 13 of Chapter 16, stating that no judge may handle or exhibit in the show where he or she is to be a judge, would be applicable.

A VISIT TO THE THOLE POMERANIANS

by HAZEL CHAMBERS

I'd like for you to come with me on drive over the level plains of Kansas the small, but bustling town of Marion. Marion is set in a valley, amidst rolling wheat fields and other small grains. About one-half mile from the edge of town, we drive up to the large, comfortable farm home of Sam and Aeline Thole. From the barns to the swine buildings, everything around this farm has a well-cared for look. Beside his extensive farming operation, Sam's prime interest is raising purebred PF Yorkshire swine. It is an education in itself to see the huge mothers and their babies at farrowing time.

Adeline Thole with Ch. Van Hoozer's Lucky Vee Max, Ch. Thole's Little Nipper and Ch. The Count of Pcm-Ador.

You will be greeted and made feel most welcome at the door by Adeline and her two special pets. Sugar Babe is the tiny, orange, huge coated doll of a Pomeranian, the other is the apple of my eye, a tiny, huge coated, short backed stud name Snoopie. He has that appealing baby look about him that calls for a quick hug. My own little Ch. Creider's Betsy Be Beautiful has recently been bred to him and if she would give me just one little "Snoopie" I'd be so happy. He is a dominant type stud, siring lovely puppies. Unfortunately Snoopie has decided that the show ring is no place for him, much to Adeline's disappointment.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thole

Adeline is a dedicated breeder who really knows Poms. I have always obtained much help and good advice, which she graciously gives when consulted. A siege of ill-health forced her into semi-retirement, numbers were cut drastically, but not quality. Her Poms are huge coated, cobby, sweet faced individuals. Adeline takes care of all the Poms thru breeding, whelping, down to tube feeding the tiniest ones when necessary. She has able assistance in the person of her college age daughter, Beth. Beth spends her summers at home on the farm, as well as many week-ends, helping care for the little Poms. Beth has learned at mother's knee, having never known home without a bevy of the little charmers underfoot.

Thole's Little Snoopie

The love for Poms started back in 1946. A friend acquired a pet Pom for her children, the first Pom ever seen by the Tholes. Nothing would do but that the three Thole children must too have one. They only got to enjoy their pet for about a year when he met with an untimely end. By this time, the whole family had fallen in love with the breed, so they replaced the lost pet with a little red Pom girl. As a natural sequence, the desire to "raise just one litter" followed, which was all it took to start the ball rolling. After several litters, and attendance at a few shows, the quest for better Poms started. A lovely red male from Mrs. Tankesley's kennel and a finished male, Ch. Van-Hoozer's Lucky Wee Max took over the stud chores. Among the broods added were Ch. Greener's Klina Ruby and her two tiny babies, and a lovely little red-orange girl purchased from Mrs. McKamey. Ch. Ruby's tiny daughter was destined to become the mother of Adeline's first home-bred champion, Ch. Thole's Little Nipper. I don't think there is a greater thrill than to finish your first homebred champion, there is just no turning back now. Time went on and many promising youngsters left the kennel, many to be shown and others just to be enjoyed by their new owners.

I think the crowning point in Adeline's breeding program came a number of years ago when she made a trip to Sacramento, Calif. to visit her daughter Karen and family, who were stationed at Mather A.F.B. As every Pom breeder knows, no trip is complete without visiting the Pom kennels in the area. While visiting with the late Phyllis Pickesley, a tiny, cobby, Bombardier linebred, sable male caught her eye. Adeline promptly fell in love with him and after much negotiating Jingles came home to Kansas with her. Shortly after his arrival in Kansas, Adeline launched him on his show career. After acquainting Jingles with the excitement of the show ring, he was put into the capable hands of Clara Alford. In just a matter of a few shows, he finished his title, undefeated. I am sure many of you will remember seeing Ch. The Count (Pom-Ador pictured in Pom Review). Jingles was an excellent stud, passing his superior type and qualities on to his offspring, he was truly a dominant stud.

Ch. Thole's Copper Christina

Out of one of his first matings, came Ch. Thole's Copper Christina, a lovely sable female and the mother of little

Ch. Thole's DanDee Boy

Snoopie. I think we all have one special dog that is close to ones heart, and Jingles was Adeline's. Besides having such a loving out-going personality, he had so much toward the improvement of quality in her kennel. Many of her remaining dogs today trace their lineage back to Jingles. After enjoying Jingles but a short two years, he passed on very unexpectedly due to heart failure, leaving a void that has never quite been filled.

Several years ago, when her health very suddenly failed her, Adeline turned to her old and very dear friend, Velva vanHoozer. Velva took over many of the "little Tholes" and is continuing the breeding and showing program along with her own excellent Poms. Under her guiding hand several have finished their titles. Among these are Ch. Thole's Copper Christina, Ch. Thole's DanDee Boy, Ch. Thole's Lucky Little Me, and Ch. Thole's Little Tinker Bell.

I am happy to say that as of the present time, Adeline is once again able to take a bit more active part in breeding and raising a few Poms. She has a few old favorites with her. I'm sure if you ever take a swing through central Kansas, you will find a hearty, noisy welcome awaiting you at the home of Adeline Thole and her lovely Poms.

Beth Thole and Snoopie's babies

JUDGING

(CONCLUSION)

by SHIRLEY HOFFMAN

Walk to the side of the dog, allowing the handler to adjust himself to your own position. Step around the handler so the handler may move to the front of his dog. Do not walk between the handler and his dog thus, through the lead. This can cause confusion and might result in a serious or perhaps fatal accident should a toy attempt to jump from the table.

You are now observing the dog from the side. Is the dog well up on his pasterns, straight from elbow to feet? Is he standing nicely on his toes? Are his front legs well under him? Where does the bow come in relation to the chest (depth of chest)? The standard states, . . . being well ribbed up and rounded. The chest must be fairly deep . . . Feel the rib cage to determine if the chest is rounded or slab sided. Does the dog have a nice tuck up in the abdominal area back of the rib cage, unless it is a bitch in whelp, of course. Is the top line level or is the dog down at the shoulder? Are the shoulder blades well laid back, the points close together at the withers. A dog with shoulder blades far apart is loose in the shoulders. Toys are seldom so muscle bound as to suffer from loaded shoulders. Check tail set, is the tail bone straight, kinked? Many Poms have a curve at the end of the tail, which is caused by poor circulation at the termination of this extremity, this is not to be confused with a kink. Poms with extremely long, heavy brush sometimes carry the tail hanging to one side although the tail set on is correct. This can be caused by the weight of the hair, which generally is not evenly distributed, as the dog moves about, thus causing the tail to carry left or right permanently from constant pull by the weight of the hair. Is the stifle well angulated? Straight stifles generally suggest there may be patella luxation. Do the hind feet point straight ahead, turn in or out? The feet should be round and compact and the dog should stand well up on its toes.

Moving to the rear of the dog, check placement of legs — whether legs are cow hocked, wide behind or bowed. If the dog is wide behind or bow legged, chances are he has bad stifles, has a knee cap out of place or one or both which are easily displaced. This will show up when he gaits away from you. Make a special note to check it if you are suspicious. Check coat texture, density, undercoat, length, color, shadings, shades allowed for sable. Is it a good Pom color, pleasing on the dog. Check testicle number placement and size. Take one more over all look at the dog before you direct the handler to put the dog on the floor.

At this time, signal the exhibitor next in line to place his dog on the table, he will have time to arrange coat and stack the dog while you are judging the gait on the dog which has just been examined on the table.

The animal you have finished examining on the table is now gaited away from you and back toward you, on a loose lead if you wish. Take a good look at the rear legs! Does the dog gait with the legs too wide apart, close together, cow hocked, bow legged? Does he move smoothly or does he limp, is he waddling? Does he move gaily with his tail up? Is his rear end in alignment with his front or does the rear move to the left or right of the front end?

Coming back, does he move with the front legs too wide apart or too close together? Does he pick his feet up and put them down without moving them out to the side or too close to the inside, the latter causing him to cross over in front? Does he weave? Does he waste motion? Does he pick his feet up too high in front? Does he move without a limp, smoothly? If you are not absolutely sure on all points, have the handler gait the dog again for you.

As the handler returns to you, signal him to stop when the dog is 3 or 4 feet in front of you. Check expression (making a noise to alert the dogs if you wish), foot placement, ears, tail set and legs, in other words, do a quick once over of the dog.

Dismiss the dog and handler by signaling to his place in line and turn to the task of examining the dog which is waiting for you on the table. Each dog is examined in turn until all dogs in the class have been judged on the table and gaited individually.

You have by this time made an estimate of the outstanding good points of each dog in the class, compared the dog with the standard and ascertained the faults of each.

Take one last look at each dog as it stands before you on the floor. You may wish to make a few last minute comparisons of fine points. Have the handlers bring such dogs together before you so that you can compare them side by side. Note expression, animation, style, type, quality. Have the exhibitors gait these animals away from you and back toward you if you wish to compare action simultaneously. You may wish to move the whole class around the ring once more.

Some judges like to call out the placements while the dogs are moving around the ring, thus giving a little extra flare to the decision, playing to the spectators with a climax of color and movement. I prefer this particular method as it gives those handlers whose dogs have not been placed a chance to make a graceful and expeditious exit from the ring. In order to avoid confusion, the judge using this method of clearing the ring must make his decisions clear and understood by pointing to the dog and calling the award in a clear firm voice. Otherwise, he may be misunderstood and incredible as it may seem, unscrupulous handlers will rush to a placard marker, thus denying a dog selected for an award, his rightful win. For this reason, a judge must have a picture of the dog, along with its placement, firmly in mind.

Another method used is that of placing the dogs in order according to merit from first place to the dog of least regard. Although this is advantageous in that it leaves no doubt in the minds of the spectators as to the quality of each dog in the opinion of the judge, it is an awkward and degrading situation for exhibitors who do not place in the award. For this reason, this type of grading standing should be avoided by judges.

Most judges point to and call out awards while dogs and handler are standing in line in the order in which they were judged.

THE POMERANIAN CLUB OF GREATER HOUSTON

By Marie K. Hynes, Secretary

Our Pomeranian Club of Greater Houston is still very active and we are so proud of the support and activities of our members.

Our second Fun Match was held on August 23 with an entry of thirty-four lovely Poms. We were most fortunate having Ken and Eleanor Miller to serve as judges.

Our Casino Party was an overwhelming success and a good time was had by all.

Some of our members have had some very nice wins lately:

Darrell and Olga Baker's Ch. Corn's Like Dragonfly just won four more Toy Groups in Lubbock, Midland and Beaumont, Texas, and in Lawton, Oklahoma, bringing his total number of Group wins to thirty-nine.

Ralph and Joyce Graves' Ch. Duke's 'N' Red Baron of O'Kala completed his championship in San Antonio on October 1 under Judge Maurice L. Baker. Since then, he has won Toy Groups in Baton Rouge, New Orleans, and Oklahoma City.

Leo and Barbara Holder's Ch. Holder's Fancy Firefairy completed her championship on November 2 in Norman, Oklahoma, with Shorty Harwood handling. This nine-month old puppy finished in twenty-nine days.

Molly Miller writes that her Myway Misty Dawn went first in the Novice B Class at the Mobile and Biloxi shows with a score of 195½ each time. Her sister showed Myway Napper Tandee in Mobile in Novice B and took fourth place with a score of 192½ and in New Orleans was highest scoring Toy with 189½. Molly's Lin Dee Lou, C.D., was shown in New Orleans and won WB and BOS.

Tom and Norma O'Rourke's Ch. Tono's Just Call Me Mister placed second in the Group in the Carolinas.

Dan and Betty Smith's Ch. So-Ristic Blazing Li'l Tad completed his championship on August 21, under Judge Stanley Dangerfield with a placement of third in the Group. "Tad's" first son, Ch. So-Ristic Sir Tareyton, completed his championship with a Group first win in Albuquerque, New Mexico on November 9, under Judge Joseph Faigel. Anne Goodwin handled both dogs to their championships.

The club members supported the area Fun Matches during the summer and I was quite proud of my three-months old Hynes' Ray of Sunshine, who went BB and placed third in the Group at the Sanctioned Match in Beaumont, Texas, on August 24.

★ ANNUAL MEETING ★

Plan to attend the Specialty Show on February 8 at the Hotel Penn-Garden in New York. The Annual Meeting will again be scheduled in the morning, before the Specialty, so plan to come early. WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT. WE VALUE YOUR OPINION. YOUR VOTE DOES COUNT!!!

● CLARIFICATION ●

First paragraph of the Secretary's Report in the October Review stating that in the future there will be no more than two American Pomeranian Club Specialty Shows during the year should have explained that ONE will be the February Specialty in New York and the SECOND will be a rotating Specialty — held in a different location each year, with various regional clubs as host.

Ch. So-Ristic Blazing Li'l Tad

Tad is shown receiving his first points under Judge Louis Murr with his owner handling. Anne Goodwin handled Tad to the completion of his title. He finished "in style" at Sturgis, Michigan, August 21, 1969 under Judge Stanley Dangerfield who also placed him 3rd in the Toy Group. Anne then took Tad's son, So-Ristic Sir Tareyton, and completed his championship in less than 2½ months. Tarey is shown below finishing with a Toy Group 1st under Judge Joseph Faigel in Albuquerque, New Mexico, November 9, 1969. We are so grateful to Anne for the beautiful care and handling of Tad and Tarey. To Gladys Schoenberg who gave us our foundation stock and whose love and faith we value so highly, we at last get to say a very humble "Thank you" in print. We hope to continue to produce and show dogs of which we can be proud and which others will find pleasing and desirable.

Above is a sample of an entry in the Annual Stud Dog Register, which will appear in the April issue. By setting costs at an absolute minimum, we hope to secure a very complete list of the outstanding stud dogs in the country. Stud dog owners will find this an effective and economical way of reaching the largest possible number of interested breeders. As our former Editor, Jim Arima, said in the March 1959 Review: "It is an irrefutable adage that, in the long run, the surest, quickest, and most economical way for success in breeding is to get the best bitch possible and send it to the most appropriate stud dog available . . . Fortunately, Poms are small and shipping costs are negligible when compared to the larger breeds. Stud fees in Poms are also unbelievably low considering the quality of dogs offered at stud."

Cost of entering your dog in the Stud Dog Register is $7.50 for the first entry, plus the cost of the cut if you do not have one the proper size, and $3.50 plus cost of cut for second and each subsequent entry of the same owner. Also, dogs may be entered without photos, if none are available, and a description of the dog may be inserted in the space intended for the photograph. Cuts to be used must be no larger than 2" square, and new ones from your glossy print will cost $5. Description beneath cut is limited to twenty words. An advertiser sending three stud card entries will also have the opportunity of ordering 100 copies of the page on which his entries appear for an additional $7.00.

Because of the work involved in looking up old cuts, typing pedigrees, etc., we ask your cooperation in sending your copy as early as possible. Please mention the back issue in which your cut was used, if we have one on file. Glossies and pedigrees will be returned.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA POMERANIAN CLUB HAPPENINGS

By: CHUCK REYNOLDS, President

It was a very busy and fun filled Autumn for N.C.P.C. Activities. Of utmost importance were the discussions and decisions of what our members wanted for a recommendation to the California Dog Fanciers Association to be introduced to the California State Legislature as a fair law governing Hobby Dog Breeders. If passed, the new State Law would govern, eliminating the various sometimes unfair local restrictions throughout the State areas.

N.C.P.C. holds two All Age Matches each year. The Fall Match was held in October at San Leandro, Calif. One of our Southern California Members, Mr. John Thyssen, did a very thorough job of going over his 33 entries. His selections were as follows:

3-6 mo. Dogs — Golden Glow Lonesome George owned by Vern and Joan Sanders

9-12 mo. Dogs — Wylie's Highstep of L.P.K. owned by Mary Wylie

Over 12 mo. Dogs — Show Stopper of Trails End owned by Eleanor Morin

3-6 mo. Bitches — Skylark Pride and Joy owned by Irma Sather

6-9 mo. Bitches — Queenaires Gin Fizz owned by Dudley and Wanda Roach

9-12 mo. Bitches — Blossom View's Little Sheba owned by Irene Weltz

Over 12 mo. Bitches -- Wylies Pitty Pat of L.P.K. owned by Vern and Joan Sanders

Mr. Thyssen selected for his Best Opposite Sex In Match the very lovely three months old Puppy Bitch, Skylark Pride and Joy. The Judges final selection for Best Pomeranian In Match was the very stylish 3-6 Dog Class Winner, Golden Glow Lonesome George. The Match was climaxed by an outstanding presentation of seven beautiful Champions in Parade, all owned by our members.

Highlight of the Match was the presence of the very distinguished Guests of Honour, Gladys Duke and her husband, Albert, of the famed Hadleigh Pomeranian Kennels in England. They are such charming people and everyone enjoyed meeting and chatting with them. They highly praised our N.C.P.C. good fellowship and complimented many of the Poms being presented at the Match. It gave them the opportunity to see the "Cream of the Crop" from the many Breeders Kennels they visited during their North California stay. They joined our Club and we are very proud to include their names with our Membership List.

The date for the N.C.P.C. Christmas Party is December 7, 1969. At this party the ANNUAL NORTHERN CALIFORNIA POMERANIAN CLUB AWARDS are presented to the Top Winning Pomeranians, Breeders of Champions, Exhibitors in Confirmation and Obedience. Awards are also presented to a Member having contributed the most toward the betterment in the promotion and operation in the activities and objectives of the Northern California Pomeranian Club and to a Member having contributed the most to the betterment of the Breeding, Health, Welfare and Sport of Pure Bred Dogs, regardless of Breed or Breeds, during 1969. Because of the Review Deadline, we will have to list the Award Winners in the April Issue.

Now that we have settled down from our Summer Specialty and Fall Match, everyone is looking forward to our Winter Specialty at Golden Gate Kennel Club on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 in the famed San Francisco Cow Palace. This is one of California's leading All-Breed Dog

News of recent accomplishments by obedience Poms comes only from Northern California this time, but there must be something interesting elsewhere too — if we could only hear from you fans about it!

At Del Monte Kennel Club all-breed show and obedience trial May 25, "Pomshell Kleine Liebchen, U.D." took second place in the Open B Class with a score of 196½, so became high scoring Pomeranian and won the beautiful trophy offered by Caroline J. Hand in fond memory of her "Countess Migo Kiki". This elegant trophy (much larger than the recipient) was a lovely 21 inch, footed Chippendale tray, and "Liebchen's" owners, John and Rose Derham, were duly proud and delighted. John does the training and handling here and he really does a good job.

Richmond Dog Fanciers all-breed show and obedience trial in Richmond, California, had three Poms in obedience. Here "Pomshell Kleine Liebchen, U.D." was first place in Open B with a score of 194½. We were so glad to see Ken Matheson (former president of Northern California Pomeranian Club) showing there in obedience again. Ken had little one year old "Kem's Gold Flash" and this was the pup's first show. He came through it all just fine with a good 191½ score to make his first leg towards the C.D. degree. At Deep Peninsula Dog Training Club's Obedience Trial August 24 in Palo Alto, California, "Flash" made his second leg, taking 6th place in Novice B (a class of 50), with a score of 196½+. What is the plus-sign for . . . Well, he was tied for sixth place with no less than one of those sharp working Australian Cattle Dogs, and won the run-off! Ken and Elizabeth Metheson have put several Poms through obedience degrees, and in 1967 Ken demonstrated his training ability by winning Best Toy Brace in Golden Gate Kennel Club show at San Francisco with a pair of adorable black Poms: "Rave of Point Loma" and "Kem's Peek-A-Boo". Good to see him back in obedience — lots of luck. Incidentally, Ken will be judging at San Francisco Dog Training Club's AKC Sanctioned Obedience Match October 12th.

Mrs. Alfred Picone of Huntington, New York, writes in a most interesting letter that she now has two Poms in obedience: "Elmorina's Cavvy's Pumpkin, C.D." and "Elmorina's Cavvy's Dandylion, C.D." Both of these have a remarkable record of high scores made towards their C.D. degrees, "Daniel" having taken second place in a class of 87 dogs, and beat a German Shepherd in a run-off to do it. She finds that training Poms is a little different from working with the larger breeds, her former experience having been with Keeshonden, with which she did very, very well both in obedience and conformation shows. Mrs. Picone is now training her Poms for the C.D.X. degree, and asked for suggestions, especially in the training of retrieving. The best one I can offer (and this goes for all obedience training) is Milo Pearsall's book. I firmly believe that anyone going by Mr. Pearsall's instructions to the letter cannot fail in properly training a dog. His system of retrieving training takes lots of patience, but in the long run it really is worthwhile. He says to sit down by the dog and gently pu

...dumbbell in its mouth, saying "Take
 , or whatever word you chose to use ever change the word or the way u say it). When the dog finally opens own mouth and takes the dumbbell, adually lower the place where you ve it to him until he is reaching out get it. When you can give it to him om practically down on the floor, put on the floor and give him the com-and to pick it up. Then — and then ily — may you toss it. If you are using is method, do not combine play re-ieving until the formal retrieving is perfected. In play a dog does it because e feels like playing at the moment and hen he tires of it he stops. A properly trained retriever does it when told to, nd this is work — not play. However, fter he knows it well, play retrieving
 s fine.

I feel that a word of admiration is ue here for a Pomeranian fancier who ertainly deserves all the success which s hers. This lady, Valerie Wagoner of an Francisco, has just this year finshed one Champion and two C.D.
 Obedience Degrees on Poms — all dogs
 f her own breeding, and she has done ll of the training and showing herself.
 This in spite of the fact that (although he dismisses it as a minor obstacle, saying, "I only worry about the things CAN do something about", Valerie has quite a bit of discomfort with her back and legs and (out of the ring) walks with a cane. She has had spine surgery, and less than two years ago was completely bedridden for a long while. Now she attends training classes regularly and takes her Poms to most of the dog shows and obedience trials. At Contra Costa Kennel Club show in Pleasant Hill, California June 8th her "Wagoner's Shawna of Missi" finished her Champonship, and at the same show (Valerie rushing from one ring to the other) "Wagoner's Dinky Gold Buttons" earned his second leg on his C.D. Incidentally, this all happened on Valerie's birthday

 — what a way to celebrate! "Wagoner's Golden Glori" finished her C.D. at Mt.
 Diablo Dog Training Club's obedience trial in Walnut Creek, California on April 27, and "Buttons" finished his C.D. at Marin Dog Training Club's trial at Ignacio, California June 22, taking home
 the trophy for highest scoring Pomer-

With deep regret, The Review announces to Mrs. Elsie Sivori and Miss Virginia Sivori.

DELEGATE (Continued)

It is also believed that the new provisions will prove most interesting to those who are the future judges at the Junior Showmanship events. Judges, at present, know that much more emphasis should be given to the skill or lack of skill of persons who are showing. In junior showmanship, the main emphasis will be in this one direction and should prove very interesting to the participating judge. The present day junior showman can well be considered the showman of the years that are ahead. It is, in brief, a wonderful stepping stone in dog show business.

The information that has been given on Junior Showmanship changes are under consideration. Your Delegate would appreciate hearing from those interested and who might have ideas and suggestions of constructive value. Your Delegate shall be most willing to present such ideas to the American Kennel Club Board.

Your Delegate in closing, again reminds you that he is your American Kennel Club representative for the most wonderful of all breeds, our Pomeranian. May I hear from you should you have suggestions or comment. May I also state that the records of the American Kennel Club, applicable to Toys and Non-Sporting breeds, and as printed in the July and August Gazettes are not complete. The figures show a drop or decline in the same only because the computerizing system did not have the complete and available figures included in the results. This will be corrected in the coming months and will, of course we hope, show a gain for Toys and Non-Sporting groups.

REYNOLDS (Continued)

Shows with some of the nations Top Winning Dogs on display during the two days of elaborately decorated benching. Our committees are very active with the Club's Bench Decorations and Trophy Funds. Every Pom placing in each class will be awarded one of the N.C.P.C. exclusive Ceramic Pomeranian Trophies. We are hoping to see some of our friends from YOUR PART OF THE COUNTRY spending two days visiting with us of the very active NORTHERN CALIF. POMERANIAN CLUB.

RINGSIDE

by K. Birk

861 N. W. 38th Ave.
Fort Lauderdale
FLORIDA

The "Natives" are restless this month . . . My mail tells me the Pom folks from the north are coming south and the folks down here are going north. Some are making, or have made permanent moves others are vacationing.

I guess most everyone knows that Shirley Jones is a Broadway and/or movie star. Also that she is married to Jack Cassidy, singer etc. In my state of confusion, as is usual most of the time, I was really confused at a letter from a Mrs. Jack Jones. Luckily the first paragraph told me she is the former Shirley Woodall (Memphis, Tenn.) otherwise I may have always thought I was receiving mail from the famous S. Jones. However this Shirley has a claim to fame, she owned CH. Toppers Little Corkie. I welcome them to Florida but I do wish they hadn't settled so far away from me (Ft. Walton Beach) it must be 500 miles from Lauderdale.

Her letter mentioned a desire to belong to the Pomeranian Club down here, which brings up an interesting point that has been talked about many times by a lot of us in Florida. The Pomeranian Club of Florida (Miami Area) is open to residents of Miami only. I think the (Miami Area) is often overlooked. The state of Florida is really divided into three parts several different ways, including climate and politics. A few of us think we should and could, manage to have at least one other Pomeranian Club to which we could all belong. As it is we are dotted all over and no communication possible between any of us.

How about it you folks in Central and Northern Florida. Think we need another club?????

Other restless natives are the Kabels. (Geri & Chuck) They have left Miami and you will find them up near Winter Haven, Fla. and close by you'll find The Pitts (Jack and Jo) from Hollywood, Fla. They have acreage in the same area and will be there permanently as soon as they can get "the loose ends tied up" as the saying goes.

Vicky Sweeney's good friend from Prospect, Conn., (Bea Morrell) is on the way down for a stay of 3 or 4 months. She and her hubby are bringing 11 Poms with them. If you don't know Bea you can learn a little about her Paragon Poms by checking the Review . . . Jan. 1964 issue has a visit to her kennel.

Bertha and Ralph Disher made a surprise visit last week. They had the Pom Pals Kennels in Indianapolis and Morristown, Indiana. They must have some gypsy blood in their veins. They are wandering around the state seeing all their friends for a week or so. We tried to get in 4 years of conversation in 4 hours and darned if we didn't almost make it.

I don't know if my male will have his coat by our Jan. shows but in the meantime, before I spent a lot of money on him I wanted to prove him. One day I had two calls for stud service. The first call was from a man from Chattanooga, Tenn. He had purchased his Pom from Mrs. Tankesly (Dixieland Knls.). She was a doll, the Pom, that is. (But for that matter so is Mrs. Tankesly). The other call was from a lady who had Phyllis Sealy's color bred black stock. What a project for a boy who had never been married, two girls in one day. He knew he had to make a choice and chose the little southern gal from Tenn. He was so pleased with himself, and her, but tonight there is sad news. His pregnant wife is missing . . . kid-napped, we fear. Her babies are due Dec. 6th and we are all beside ourselves with grief.

Again the mail brings a request for a Pom. Usually they ask for puppies which is no problem. I just refer them to the breeder nearest to them. This time it is for breeding stock and how to find a breeder who will let go of a quality bitch. Good question isn't it? She has a point. She says she realizes the breeders need to keep their good stock BUT . . . NEW BREEDERS need GOOD FOUNDATION stock too. This particular lady says she is willing to pay for quality (many times this is not the case). A membership list would be of help to us all I think, so that we could do a better job of referral.

Some folks have all the luck — or maybe luck didn't have anything to do with Mary Casey going to Bermuda and doing all that winning. I won't list her wins as I'm sure she will have them elsewhere in this issue. If she doesn't, she should.

This is a little out of my territory but since no one in Fla. has sent me any news of their wins I'm happy to tell you that Ruth Doctor, Ft. Wayne, Indiana, has finally had some good luck and has 3 majors on her "Imp" and just needs 3 points to finish. Imp is a beautiful orange and heavily coated and out of the male she bought from Bertha Disher when she had to give up her Poms because of illness. I suspect I used the wrong word when I said "luck". Hard work and perseverance more nearly describes the reason for any good specimen doesn't it. Ruth really has had a lot of personal bad luck as well as her

"DOWN IN TEXAS"

SHORTY HARWOOD

POMACRE KENNELS

Mereta Route

San Angelo, Tex.

It seems I have been drafted by my husband to write a few lines as this finds him gone to shows every weekend and the three days that he is home he is in a stew getting ready to leave again.

So far this fall, he has had a ball, good shows, nice wins, and nice dogs to work with — being owned by nice people. He finished a lovely little Pom bitch for Barbara Holder of Houston this past weekend in Norman, Oklahoma.

Really, a show-widow needs a medal. Or, a paid vacation after shows if she has dogs, kennels, boarders and people to deal with every minute (besides that horrible telephone in every room!).

I worked for the public seventeen years, twelve years as a buyer for a department store and five years for a public utility company. All of those years I swore I would start a diary of funny things, sayings, and doings of customers, but after many attempts — ' just gave up. I guess what really stopped me was the little lady who came to my desk while I was in the utility office and asked me to please watch for her name in the obituaries, and in case it were there — and they were going to bury her in an old, cowboy grave yard, to stop them! It seems she had just attended such a funeral and it was out on a ranch, far removed from town, with nothing but rock, sage, wind and attle, and it was just too much for her! So, you see, that was really a "diary topper". But with the boarding kennel, pets and people, you do see and hear some funny things.

Let's all agree with one thing — a person's dog or cat come first; nothing is too good, nothing is too fancy, and nothing but the best must be available. Now they may not have it like that at home, but they want it all — first class — when they board them out. For example, the lady I met in the beauty shop wanted to bring her two little babies (dogs) out to board; okay, she came and wanted an air conditioned room, steak with creamy gravy cooked three times a day, wanted it to sleep in bed with us at night, and wanted it to sit in our living room on the carpet during the day. Well, after much looking and thinking, we just didn't know what she would do. You can imagine what we wanted to suggest, but being kind-folks, we suggested a baby sitter in her own home that could cook steak and gravy, sleep with the "babies" and talk to them for two weeks. So help me! I found out, at the beauty shop, that is just what she did.

Then we had one couple with a 16 year old, who came often and each time they returned they were really disappointed that the "old man" was still living. They wanted him to pass on while he was with us, so they wouldn't have to see it!

You know people are so vain they can't stand to think of little "Poo" not crying, barking, grieving, not eating or passing out while they were gone — like the lady that came into the office to get her little one and couldn't hear a sound coming from our kennel. So she grabbed her's up and stated, "The poor thing has just barked herself hoarse!"

MID-WEST REPORT

by Stella B. Davis

WEEGOLD POMS
7477 Old Troy Pike
St. Paris, Ohio 43072

The end of another year is close at hand as I write this article. The new year will be well started as you all read this so let me take a moment to wish you all a very Happy and Prosperous New Year. I hope 1970 brings each of you out there in Pom-land the best in show Pom perhaps? So take a fulfillment of your fondest dreams — a second look at those new babies in the nest! May we each give thanks for our many blessings.

There is nothing like starting out this column with the report of a new champion for a Pom breeder who has tried very hard. Patricia Larrissee reports that her Tomahawk's Red Face finished at the Anderson, Indiana show under Judge Anthony J. Bruneman Jr. Congratulations Pat and keep up the good work.

I had a short note from Mary McCoy and I am glad to report she is doing marvelously after surgery and has attended a show or two. Just keep in there swinging Mary.

At the Decatur, Illinois show there were no males present. Winners bitch to Shirley Hoffman's Skylark Radiant Tana. Reserve winners bitch to James Coy's Thrasher's K Nina Souvenir. Best opp. sex to Charles Richard's Ch. Bonners Sunwag Sensation. Best of breed and toy group first to Ch. "Muffie" handled by little Vicki McCoy. I know I am repeating myself but Vicki always does such a nice job handling and is a joy to watch.

Mrs. Randall French's Mac's Fancyduke's Look I'm A Dandy was winners dog and best of winners at Nashville, Tenn. He was also best opp. sex. Her Mac's Fancyduke's Wee Wendy was winners bitch and her McDougall's Gay Samantha was reserve winners bitch. Vicki McCoy again took best of breed and toy group fourth with Ch. "Muffie".

The Hoosier Kennel Club show held at Indianapolis, Indiana was a special thrill for the Coy family from Louisville, Ky. Their Coy's Petticoate Princess was winners bitch. While they have had numerous other wins I believe this was the first with a Pom of their breeding. They watched this little one grow from a baby up. I predict Ch. will be added before her name before too long! I am rooting for you and so is daddy Weegold Jo Jo.

I had a card from Lyda Garner and she is so proud of Tiny Toy's Marianne's Legacy and well she might as she just finished her Canadian title with wins at the Sault Ste Marie Kennel Club. She was winners, best of winners and 3rd in toy group first day and winners on the second day. Congratulations Lyda and Marianne. Now let's go for the title here now. Count me in your corner!

At New Castle, winners dog and best of winners to Sosinski's Lucky Warrior owned by George Sosinski. Winners bitch to Thelma Minnick's Fancy Pants finishing her. Congratulations Thelma on this nice little gal! Fancy was handled by Evelyn Schaffer and at Wheeling, West Virginia next day she was best of breed.

Eve Ron's I'm A Dandee Too was winners dog and best of winners at Sewickley and repeated these wins at Trumbull and also went on to best of breed. Proud owner Evelyn Schaffer. A white Pom, Jewell's White Pearl owned by Mary Sykora from Cleveland was winners bitch at both of the above shows too. Mary is equally proud of her white girl and a lot of credit goes to her for consistingly showing this white one.

Eve Ron's I'm A Dandee Too was also winners dog and best of winners at Progressive while Davis' Wee Gold Smarty Doll took the bitch points. Smarty Doll is owned by Donna Megenhardt. Thelma Minnick's Ch. Fancy Pants went best opp. sex and best of breed to C. Richard's Ch. Bonners Sunwag Sensation.

Mr. Joseph Faigel judged a nice entry of Poms at Kokomo Kennel Club in Kokomo, Indiana. I don't have all the winners but it was a 3 point major for Mr. and Mrs. James Coy's Thrasher's K Nine Souvenir.

Ruth Doctor sent in the following report on her club's show, Northeastern Indiana K.C. It was held in the Glenbrook Shopping Center Mall where the temperature is 72 degrees at all times. There is ample paved parking and a real nice place. Mr. Edward Klein drew an entry of 12 Poms with winners dog and best opp. sex going to Gold Blackacre's Andersley Astir. Winners bitch and best of winners to Coy's Petticoat Princess, owners Mr. & Mrs. James Coy. This was a 3 point major. Bet the buttons popped Jim!!! Forrest & Mary McCoy's Ch. "Muffie" took best of breed.

Dr. William E. Field, Jr. judged an entry of 9 Poms at Licking River Show held at the Y.M.C.A. Ball Park in Newark, Ohio. Dr. Field found his winners dog and best of winners in Jeribeth's Dragonfly Deuce owned by E. Miller. Winners bitch and best opp. sex to Donna Megenhardt's Davis' Wee Gold Smarty

Then the poor thing that can't stand little cages, and wants "Jr." to have the complete run of acres, day and night. (By the way, he is a real good "boy"; just digs under, or climbs fences, and eats shrubs).

Oh yes! And one that comes to the kennel and has to talk to all of the dogs — getting every one of them barking and yelling at the same time, then through all of the bedlam says it would make her little "baby" nervous (not to say what it does to me. 'Guess that is why I look so haggard!).

Then there are really lovely people with lovely dogs, cats, and assorted pets, and they make up for all of the nuts. If there weren't a sense of humor in us we would just fold up! But as the old saying goes, "People are funny" — and I am sure I have given people a few things to cause them chuckles, and gray hairs! Especially, when I have to carry a spoiled Afghan — who stands above my waist (I never know what to do with his back-end, so ' just drag it!), or when I lock myself inside an outdoor kennelrun all morning and can't get out, or get backed into a corner by a midget monster with big teeth, or fall down on wet concrete to the delight of a dozen Poms with long, wet tongues!

Just a million things a day — because of being drafted by a busy husband! But in spite of it all, I still think dogs are the "nicest people".

QUESTION & ANSWER DEPT.

Since none of the prominent breeders mentioned in the letter of last issue's Questioner sent an answer to the Review, the Editor will suggest a couple of possible avenues to try, for the attempt to find out the attributes and defects of each leading strain of Pomeranians.

First, and most obvious — try writing to each breeder whose stock appeals to you. Some may not find time to answer your letter, but many will do so.

Second, purchase The Complete Pomeranian by Viva Leone Ricketts (Howell Book House). Study the many pictures as well as the text.

Third, buy the available back issues of the Review — an invaluable collection of pedigrees and pictures.

Fourth, visit the breeders within driving distance of your home — you may find just what you want, close by.

BETTY W. SMITH

At last I have something I can advertise in the Review! I have wanted to support it with an ad for so long, but felt I must wait for a Champion and all of a sudden I have TWO. I am not sure of what to do, but have tried to prepare an ad which would not be too much trouble to set up . . . Needless to say, I'm not quite ready for all this, but I'm willing to try to live with it. I'm so proud! It's been a long time coming.

JOANNE ANDERSON

Downer's Grove, Illinois

Always look forward to the Review, and would like to comment (for the benefit of some columnists) that I look forward to some of the "newsy" or "social" comments in columns, think it helps make us feel we can know a little more about people in the Club we might never get to meet.

EMMA HEYDE

San Francisco, Cal.

So sorry to have missed the August 20 deadline — I really thought I had lots of time. Hope you will forgive me, and I will be very careful hereafter. What I wrote still goes, I guess, except that Ken Matheson didn't judge at San Francisco Dog Training Club sanctioned match after all — the poor man wrenched his knee and was in a cast from here to there for about six weeks. That really put him back in his obedience showing, too — one more leg to go in Novice and the dog making very good scores.

MRS. JULIE MORENO

San Bruno, Calif.

Pom Review still excels. Keep up the wonderful work. I feel it is the "Bible" of the breed — and such a reward to our beloved Pom Breed. If anyone can give grooming tips, I do feel this is much needed in an article.

YIPS and YAPS (Continued)*MRS. C. D. ANDREWS*Woodinville, Wash.

My husband and I are members of the APC and enjoy the Review very much. Since we are novice breeders we are just beginning to build our foundation stock, at present with only two dogs but in the market for more of our chosen strain. We read and have read for years all the information we can get concerning our breed. We have always tried whenever writing for information about buying pups or locating a particular strain or product to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope. We do this as we realize the many possible inquiries the older breeders might get and feel this would aid them and save them both time and money.

I regret to say that MOST such requests about stock have been ignored by the "reputable fellow member breeders" of the APC. I feel strongly that this is not only poor manners but also very poor representation of our breed. I have found that I am not alone in this lack of response from these various breeders either. Perhaps their "image" can stand this tarnishment but it upsets me greatly to feel that the Pomeranian dog should be so represented. It does little to foster good will or to give encouragement to new breeders to enter the field. If this be their intent then I for one feel they must be doing a lot of "ballyho" about their stock and have indeed poor quality Poms in their kennels if they are so afraid of newcomers.

MR. & MRS. F. P. CHRISTLE*Felton, Calif.

Have enjoyed the Pomeranian Review so much we wish to place our order early for next year. Since third class mail is so slow, have added the extra dollar for First Class Postage.

MRS. RAMONA J. SMITH*Bowman, North Dakota

Enclosed find check for $5.00. Please renew my subscription to Pom Review for another year. Keep up the good work! I dearly love this little magazine and I wish it came oftener, was bigger and had more pictures. Thank you.

CHUCK REYNOLDS*Newcastle, Cal.

Say Gal, your "Johnny Can't Read" and "Help Wanted" bits were really something. I know how thankless your job is but I sure hope you don't get any takers on the Help Wanted. (Not that I think you will have many who could qualify.) You are really putting out a terrific Review each month and I for one would hate to see it change hands. If there is anything more that Bud or I could do to help from out here, please feel free to sound off to us. We do not get anything from our Adv'ts. but we want to help as much as we can with support. Is there any other way we can help from this distance?

Sophie, how is this color thing going? One thing we feel out here is that we do not know what is going on until we read it in the review three months later. Our Club is in favor of "All Colors" and have printed this in our Bark and Bounce which is sent to the Parent Club. Rumor has it the choices will not include "All Colors." Is it only rumor? It is too bad that condensed minutes of the APC meetings can't be printed so when we do find out what has been done back there that effects all of us we can at least see how it all came about. Our Club must get permission from the "Parent" Club to hold a Match or Specialty and they are now calling us "Regional" Clubs but does the "Regional" Clubs' votes for things effecting the Breed nationally have any bearing on the decisions? If the "All Color" Choice is not included it would appear we have no say at all. I know you are not the one to "Gripe" to — but I feel we have a friend in you way back there where the action is.

MRS. BETTY MARDEN*Independence, Kansas

Dear Mrs. Husted:

Dear Mrs. Husted:

Enclosed is check for $10 for two years subscription to the Pom Review. I enjoy it so much and read it from cover to cover. Although I'm not breeding Poms now, I think they are still the Number One Dog. I just have one now for a pet. I am looking forward to the next Kennel Visit, to the Sam Thoies at Marion. I have visited her kennel and she has very nice Poms. Thanks again for a very good magazine.

PAT HOPKINS

Well, here goes Pat Hopkins, as usual, sticking out her neck again! The only way to get the breeders to realize what is needed in this breed, is for someone to bring up the subject, make them think about it and get them to evaluate what is being done to the breed through personal selection, and then hope that these breeders will come to the realization of what is necessary and good for the breed as a whole, not just what they want or desire in a dog for themselves alone.

This was most forcefully brought home to me when at a recent show I viewed from ringside, six female Poms in the ring. Of the six, there was only one who was even large enough for a brood and who also seemingly could gait properly in the rear! After hearing the remarks running around the ringside from more than one spectator about the poor gaits, bad legs and the entries looking for all the world like a bunch of poor coated pets (all in the ring belonging to breeders); one came away with a slightly sick feeling perhaps ashamed of even being a Pom breeder, because there they were — poor coated, tiny little thing, most with poor gaits, not the gorgeous coated, prancing females we should be placing in the ring as the correct representatives of our breed for all to see!

If then, this is what the newcomer views in the ring, as I did on that particular day, there is nothing there to attract him to the breed but tiny size and a pretty head, and if this is all he is looking for in a breed, long coated Chihuahuas will be just as attractive! And if this is what the judges think we breeders want, how then, will they ever recognize a good properly sized brood bitch? Where are the champion bitches on our pedigrees? Far too few, you can be sure! If you doubt my word, study your own pedigrees!

When one of our topmost breeders was asked why she was showing and finishing a tiny female, too small to be used as a brood, her reply was, and quote, "If you can't beat them, join them!" So, if this is what most are doing, and when one spends enough time thinking about it, one must honestly admit, it does not sound good for the breed as a whole.

Until the time comes when we breeders can place in the ring with hopes of finishing, females who can gait right because they are sound in rear stifles have enough coat to be proud of, and are large enough to reproduce their beautiful selves easily, then we will have come a long way, to this, a Pom breeder's Utopia! Then, and only then, will our winning females have lots more to offer our breed than just a pretty head, a tiny size and a dead end street!

Just so there is no misunderstanding there are some who have finished to the championship, lovely breedable sized

Dear Sophie:

I cannot begin to tell you how glad I am to be here but it is going to take some adjusting to get used to it and to get settled. Unable to bring down any help and find I have time for nothing but the dogs and then not doing justice to them, could use two groomers for 2 weeks to get caught up. Due to confusion and not much help home and the hurry bustle of getting out, the dogs came down in bad shape. Trip was fast and not too tiresome and exciting. So much activity before we pulled out and all day with newsmen, etc. Surely created a lot of excitement and friends and customers were milling in and out all day until we left and even the day before, to say good bye and well wishing. I don't know how I lived through it. We left 3:15 Nov. 4 and pulled in here just the same hour Nov. 5. Drivers stopped once 3 AM for 40 minutes for me to water and feed the pups. Had exercise pen on but no time to use it. Then we stopped one hr. near here and treated the drivers and ourselves to a good meal. Two more drivers brought my Pontiac down with the Volks Camper in tow. They left 10 AM the 4th and pulled in about 5 min. before we did. Charles could not drive down with recent eye operation and such. It was one fast quick way to get here and door to door service.

Drivers were full of fun. On the 40 min. stop they went into the rest area restaurant and told the 2 girls on duty they had 70 passengers to bring in and how were they fixed on food. They said the girls nearly panicked and said "please don't do this to us." They came back to the bus just bursting with laughter. Once we had a 15 minute wait at a R.R. crossing and drivers of other buses came in to see our strange cargo for they wouldn't believe our drivers. Dogs were amusing too — for many, about 50 chps., and accustomed to riding just settled down, others stood up and looked out the windows, and some watched the drivers as tho overseeing. We all drank coffee, laughed and passed the time quickly.

Once I pulled out of that yard I never looked back. Such a strange feeling to be leaving 35 years behind. As we get along in years these sudden changes are more difficult to accept. It was years of strife, struggle, defeat and success and a slowing down and final realization that it could not go on and that a change had to be made. So here I am in a strange world but I have my dogs thank God, for without them I would be completely lost. They give me hope and courage when I need it most. This is a large home and this in itself is such a change for me for I have never really had a home as I lived in the kennel apartment most of the time. Never had time to keep house and unless I get help here am going to be in a sad state. Mr. G. is not good and has had a bad cold and unable to adjust to his glasses and make the change that is necessary following cataract operations.

I have missed so getting on the road and off to shows. I think of them as they come up like Wash. and Baltimore. Certainly not like it is North, get into car and travel every weekend to a show within driving distance. Outside of the Fla. shows the distance will be 500 to 600 miles one way to a show. Guess it means I stay home and this is going to be hard to take for it was that diversion that kept me going. All work and no play makes me a dull girl.

It was very cold when we arrived but it is beautiful here now and I am thankful I will not have to face the thought of snow and shoveling. It is truly beautiful here, good roads and much scenery. Whatever happens I will always have fond memories to turn to and will live over and over those years of show going and the sacrifice necessary to consistently go to shows as I did. It kept me going and gave me an interest in life and to suddenly change all this is almost too much for me to adjust to. I miss all my friends and will be thinking of them and I hope the holidays will be good for all. I find I cannot keep up with so many dogs and just hope I can reduce some, but of course must do some breeding so I can have some cute little ones around to enjoy. Not sure about a Vet here and it will be trial and error for awhile.

It will soon be four years since I entered "Pomdom" — and what a four years! There have been moments of extreme frustration, bitter tears and wonderful happiness — all over my beloved little orange powder puffs. However, I'm very grateful to a few people who stood by me, especially during those times of tears and frustration. One usually has plenty of friends during a time of happiness.

My sincere thanks go to Elsie McDermott of Kingston, Ontario who sent us our first Pom. Then, I began to correspond with Ann Cowie. How can I adequately thank this nice lady whom I have yet to meet in person? Thanks, Ann, for all the telephone and letter writing time you have given to support and help me. Also "Thanks" for my beautiful Can. and American Champion, "Stylemaster of Nanjo" and the sweet bitch to breed with him.

Then a "thank you" to a dear lady who no longer breeds Poms but loves to visit them — Daisy Davies, London, Ontario. Daisy and her husband came to visit us "out of the blue" one Sunday when I didn't know a Pom person within miles. Daisy and I chatted and chatted and she has since introduced me to other Pom people. I hope they will also be friends.

These are my friends made entirely through our mutual love of Poms. I only hope that when the day arrives that a Novice comes to me for help, that I will give as generously of my time, experience and encouragement as these ladies.
