KHANI

SIRE:

GREAT ELMS TIGER LILY

CH. GREAT ELMS SNOOTY HOOTY

DAM:

CH. LENNIS'S RADIO ACTION
(double Tar Baby granddaughter)

Snooty's first daughter to reach the shows has been an immediate hit — 8 pts. by 10 months of age! Congratulations to owner-breeder Harry Pennington of Atlanta, GA.

KHANI KENNELS is excited!

We have just purchased Ch. Lennis' Radio Action from Harry and she has been bred to Ruth Beam's Ch. Model's Tinstopper Echo before being shipped to California. With some good luck we should have exceptional puppies coming soon.

COVER STORY

When I first saw a BEV-NOR Pom, I knew I had to have one. I contacted Beverly Norris and she promptly responded. Thus began my serious career of showing Poms. We instantly established a trusting friendship that has grown to include the whole family.

Bev entrusted me with "Pookie," Bev-Nor's Fudge Delight, a repeat breeding of the great Ch. Bev-Nor's Toasted Fudge, now retired with 24 Bests in Show. "Pookie" finished her championship in style and has become a proper mother, producing like her dam, the superb Bev-Nor's Sweet and Sassy. Since the purchase of Pookie, Southland has purchased other Poms from Bev-Nor and has exclusively taken all the females back to Maryland to be bred to either Toasty or his sire Ch. Theldun's Almond Fudge. My goal, working together with Bev, is to continue in the Bev-Nor tradition and to stereotype and kind of Pom she has produced.

Bev was unsure of my idea to breed Pookie back to her sire and then to her brother, but it was successful. After researching genetics extensively and knowing than an outcross produced Toasty and Pookie, I believed the risk was worth taking. Because there was no inbreeding to any degree in either pedigree and both were free of any major faults, chances of success were great. It was successful and Southland Poms was off and running.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Marlene Scott Halsey
Rt. 1, Box 261
Blue Ridge, VA 24064

I feel the President's column should be about current events in our club however, since the Pom Review is only quarterly it is difficult to be current. By the time you read this issue, the current events may be history. Therefore I hope you will forgive me if I write about things you already know or are tired of hearing.

The next big event for the American Pomeranian Club will be the Summer Specialty in Philadelphia, Friday November 16th. Your parent club will be host for the Specialty. Derek G. Rayne will be judging the regular classes. Yours truly will be judging the Sweepstakes. I am honored, excited and looking forward to the Specialty and the American Kennel Club's Centennial show. The AKC all-breed show will be November 17th and 18th. The Philadelphia all breed show will be Monday November 19th. All of the shows will be held in the Philadelphia Civic Center. The Pom judge for the AKC show will be Darrell W. Baker, an APC club member and a former president of the American Pomeranian Club. The toy group will be judged by Melbourne T. Downing, a well known all breed judge.

If you do not have reservations for this event, it may already be too late to get a room. We are told there will be ten thousand dogs entered in this show. You may consider getting a room just outside of Philadelphia. Perhaps you have a relative or friend there with whom you could stay. Plan now, as this AKC show is a once in a lifetime event. It will be the "Grand Dog Show" of this century. You may obtain information about the AKC show by writing the American Kennel Club, Show Operations, 51 Madison Ave, New York, NY 10010. You may get information about the American Pomeranian Club Specialty by writing to Fred Bassett, 10759 E Admiral Place #180, Tulsa, OK 74116. There will be one catalog for all the Centennial Specialty Shows. The Pom Club will be responsible for our advertising in this catalog. Get your ads in early. I do not recall a time when we have had two specialty shows only three months apart. The summer specialty will be in November; the annual specialty in February. For each of these shows to be a success, we will need your help. I am looking forward to seeing all of you in Philadelphia and in New York.

It may interest you to know there were 19,691 Pomeranians registered in 1983. Poms are number 18 with the Cocker Spaniel having the most dogs registered in 1983. Poms usually stay around number 18 in popularity.

Let me hear from you. See you at the shows.

A.P.C. Obedience and Conformation Title Winners for 1984

Pending A.P.C. Board approval, please follow this procedure: You must be a member of the A.P.C. Your Pomeranians's title must have been published during 1984 in the A.K.C. Gazette. Write the name of the Pom, owner and date of title publication in the Gazette. Send to: Sally Bagniet, 11224 County Hwy B., Mishicot, WI 54228. Your certificate from the A.P.C. will be read and given out at the annual banquet following the February 1985 Specialty in New York. If you are unable to attend the A.P.C. Specialty and banquet, the Corresponding Secretary will send them out to you following this annual event.

Sun Fox Lennis The Right Stuff

A hearty "Congratulations" to Lennis Raines Davis on her long overdue Kennel Visit. Without her help we would not be producing such nice Poms! We treasure her friendship and assistance. A special thanks for allowing us to acquire Spi, Rev and our beloved Hateful.

We also wish to thank Lennis for our newest addition, Stuffy (above). She is a typey, all-around gorgeous, orange sable female who is the apple of my eye! Strong in Tar Baby and Britton's background, she is a welcome addition to our breeding program.

MANY THANKS LENNIS!

Several of our Spi puppies have departed to excellent show homes. We wish their new owners good luck. We are a small hobby kennel striving for top quality. With only 2 proven broods and several younger girls waiting in the wings our litters are few and eagerly awaited!

Wishing the best of luck to Terri Moebuis with her Spi daughter, Cassi. Congratulations to Terri for her Best Puppy in Match on Fantasy and her recent majors on Sugar.

Congratulations to Charlotte Webster on her repeat of Special's breeding. Also, a big Thanks to Charlotte for our Crickett, who is capturing all the hearts at my handling classes. She is a born showman.

See our Stud pages in this issue.

Best of luck to all at the shows.

From The Editor

In the April issue a mistake occurred that I have been dreading. Ann Welshing requested that two photos be pulled from old ads and reused in her new one. I marked the copy with the issue and page on which to find the negatives but the printer pulled someone else's picture. It was the same size, fit the hole and he used it without question. I had no way of knowing of the error until it was too late and the magazine had been printed.

The problem of pulling negatives is a large one for me. I can't store them at home because they must be kept flat and they are huge. The printer stores them and hence has the responsibility of collecting them for each new issue. So many are reused that it takes several hours to pull them and the printer has to charge the club for the time it takes. He says it would actually be cheaper to shoot new halftones than the spend the money on pulling the old ones. Therefore we will no longer have old negatives available for reuse. Please send each photo that you want used in your ads along with the $7.00 photo reproduction charge.

One comment on ad copy: Please send along the ad copy as you want it to appear in your ad. I will not look up your name and address from a previous ad or track down a pedigree. I just don't have time. It is your responsibility to provide me with correct and complete ad copy. In the future incomplete ad copy will be returned. Also please look at the Behind The New Champions page. There are instructions for sending your information. I would sincerely appreciate it if that format could be followed. Thank you.

Now, read on and enjoy this issue of the Review. I think it is an especially nice Stud issue. Also notice all the nice articles. You too can write articles!

Dallas / Fort Worth Pomeranian Club Silver Anniversary Specialty Show

by Peggy Hendricks and Carla Prewitt

Flash from Dallas, Texas where the spectacular of spectaculars was held in the form of our very own 25th Anniversary Specialty. And what a specialty it was!

All the wonderful people from all over the Pom world converged in Dallas bringing their gorgeous Pomeranians to put on a true "Show of shows."

The event was held in the Holiday Inn Central, Main Ballroom. The room itself reflected the results of 25 years of work and love contributed by the members of the Dallas/Fort Worth Pomeranian Club and all their supporters. The backdrop was draped in black velvet with large glittering silver letters signifying the Dallas/Fort Worth Pomeranian Club. The grandest array of silver trophies was arranged on tiers of three different heights. The top tier exhibited a gorgeous silver coffee service to be awarded to Best of Breed. The club's ring design was especially well planned by into place like the many pieces of a giant jigsaw puzzle — as well it was.

Everyone worked so hard to have a beautiful and memorable specialty (and there were hardly any growls at all). Each member was working toward the end result. And what results they were! Our specialty went off as smooth as glass.

Mac's Gold Dust, owner Estelle McDonald was Best in Sweepstakes and Best Puppy in Classes.

Friday night, forty-eight darling puppies pranced around our lovely sweepstakes judge, Mrs. Olga Baker who did a magnificent job (Hard way to earn an orchid, eh olga?). She was gentle and considerate to every puppy and each had his moment in the spotlight. The winners of the Puppy Sweepstakes were: Puppy Dogs 6-9 — Mac's Gold Dust, owner Mrs. B.G. McDonald. Puppy Dogs 9-12 — Texican Great Killer Chula, owner Norma C. Gad. Puppy Bitches 6-9 — Rosewood's Gold Mite Starlet, owner Carla Prewitt, Puppy Bitches 9-12 — Lil Dazzlin' Gold Cindy Lou, owner C.M. Roberts. Best in Sweepstakes went to our own Estelle McDonald's gorgeous little boy Mac's Gold Dust. Best of Opposite Sex in Sweepstakes

The rope around the ring was covered with black velvet as was the examination table. In fact, all the committee and club members did their work well! The whole view was breathtaking! There were 96 members and guests who attended the after-show dinner. Our President Doug Baynham welcomed everyone, commented on the show, expressed his thanks to members and judges. He asked the judges to make some comments. Olga Baker kept everyone laughing with her wit and Mr. McCoy took up where Olga left off, keeping us all in a festive mood. Doug then presented plaques to our charter members and conducted the drawings for door prizes and our "Basket of Cheer." It was quite an evening and one we all will remember.

Hospitality Dinner/Dance

by Peggy Hendricks

In honor of our 25th Anniversary, the Dallas-Fort Worth Pomeranian Club hosted a "Hospitality Night."

Our guests included 70 friends and Pom breeders from across the nation.

The evening began with a "Hospitality Hour" in the private entrance foyer of the Holiday Central's Back Hall while preparations were proceeding for the Dinner/Dance. As each guest arrived, they were asked to sign our Guest Book and were given name tags. Souvenirs (note pads with the heading of the name of the club and Silver Anniversary Show with the dates 1960-1984) were given to each guest.

The foyer filled with the sounds of laughter and conversation as members and guests visited with old and new friends, while enjoying the complimentary bar and hor d'oeuvre table.

The dinner was served buffet style which consisted of delicious dishes, a three-tier

A Visit With Lennis Davis

The year was 1971. The location was Morristown, Tennessee. The lady was Lennis Raines Davis, and the breed of dog she wanted was a Pomeranian. Her choice of the Pomeranian came from owning a Pomeranian mix when she was a child. Lennis always had a dog or dogs because her Mother loves dogs too.

Lennis and her husband Dewey and son, Dewey.

Dixieland Kennels was not too far away and Lennis had heard many good things about the owner, Mrs. Margaret Tankesley. Lennis bought her first Pom, a female, from Mrs. Tankesley. "Baby" lived to be thirteen years old. A few months after Baby was purchased, Lennis visited Great Elms Kennels and bought a little male Pom named "Tom Tom." That is when Lennis met Mrs. Ruth Beam. By this time Lennis was definitely planning to become a Pom breeder. In just a few weeks, Lennis made a trip to Florida to Spungold Kennels and purchased six Poms from Mrs. Carolyn Altwater. Some of these Poms were Scotia Poms, a kennel owned by Mrs. Edna Girardot. These eight Poms started Lennis' kennel. Although she was getting some nice pups from these Poms she wasn't entirely satisfied with her colors. After giving this much thought, Lennis decided her bloodline needed a black and tan stud. Again she called Ruth Beam and asked if she had a black and tan male puppy for sale. Ruth said she did not have a black and tan pup, but she did have a year old male she would sell. Ruth called the Pom Tar Baby. This little Pom became Ch. Lennis' Tar Baby of Great Elms. Lennis bought Tar Baby for a stud, but after seeing him, she knew she would put him in the ring and finish him. Tar Baby did finish, and it didn't take him long to do it. He was the first black and tan Pom to finish his championship in many years. Tar Baby sired Lennis' Tarrissia Perfection. Dr. Morris Carson bought Tarrissia when she had a few points. He finished her before she was a year old. Tarrissia was the first of many Lennis champions. To date, twenty three "Lennis bred" Poms have finished their championships, the most famous one being Ch. Lennis' Tar Lacy's Foxfire. Mr. Ed Jenner purchased Lacy and showed him to the top winning toy and top winning Pom in 1979. Another famous Lennis Pom was Ch. Lennis Tequila Sunrise. His first show was

January 7th and he finished the following month on February 17th. He won a Best in Show before he was a year old. Over the years, Lennis has had a part in the lives of many "Little Orange People" and she can talk hours about the Poms in her life.

12' x 20' whelping kennel.

Lennis' Poms have always lived a good life. They are housed in a heated, air conditioned twenty-one run kennel. The broods are housed in a separate kennel, the maternity ward. Like other breeders, Lennis does most of her own vet work. It is rare that she has to visit a vet. This love for Poms is shared by Lennis' husband Dewey, her daughter Lisa, and little son Dewey. Lennis, I hope you grow many more "Drop Dead Gorgeous Poms."

HELPFUL HINTS

by Margaret R. McKee
7660 Idlewyld Road
Richmond, VA 23225

I have just returned from the Tibetan Terrier National Specialty held in Lancaster, PA. The entry was huge — 62 in Sweeps, 146 in Regular Classes, 39 in Parade of Champions. It was the biggest gathering of Tibetans ever held anywhere in the world! Question: What can't we get entries like that for a Pom Specialty? Perhaps because there is only one national TT specialty per year, TT people regard this more as a "must" event. Because the Tibetan Terrier is a fairly rare breed, perhaps the fanciers feel more of a need to get together, to visit and to share. Because, after all, that is what specialties are all about. Seeing friends, meeting the faces that have only been names on letters or magazines; talking; learning; sharing experiences; seeing all those wonderful dogs in a casual setting as well as in the ring — that is what should draw us together. A chance to win a major should be only a small part of the package.

The Lancaster KC did roll out the red carpet for the TT folks. There was a separate ring for them, as well as a separate grooming tent. There should also have been reserved parking for this area. Lancaster KC offers a gorgeous rosette to any dog finishing a championship at their show, and offers a green rosette for every qualifying score in obedience. Now that's classy!

Does it ever seem to you that most of the American Pomeranian Club's energies and activities are directed toward conformation exhibiting only? That's understandable. It is very difficult for the Board to maintain communication with a far-flung membership since our "official voice" comes out only quarterly. If you never attend club meetings, you may feel the club doesn't care about the pet owner or obedience exhibitor. So what do you do? Dropping your membership to APC is not the answer. Speak up! Write to any Board member or to Yips and Yaps and let them know. Make suggestions! Volunteer! If you want, for example, an annual award for outstanding brood bitch each year, volunteer to keep the necessary statistics. And when those rare ballots come, VOTE.

Now, following my own advice, here are some of my own gripes. I'd like to see more support of Pomeranian obedience exhibitors. If Review publishes pedigrees for new champions, why not for new obedience titlists? When specialties are given in conjunction with shows that give trials, trophies and rosettes should be offered for Highest Scoring Poms in each class as well as High Scoring Pom in Trial. (Don't tell me that's too expensive. I personally offer 10 trophies for Poms at each of our two local trials.) And there could be annual awards for high average score in Novice, Open and Utility. I will volunteer to keep the statistics.

The club should be doing far more to support our kids showing Poms in Junior Showmanship. It is not easy to win with a Pom in the Juniors ring. Anybody who knows much about JS will tell you that showing a small dog puts a child at a disadvantage. You can't run with a Pom. It LOOKS harder to show a big dog. Many Juniors abandon a toy in favor of a bigger dog, so our Juniors need all the support they can get. We should begin offering Junior Showmanship classes, with lots of trophies and rosettes and at NO entry fee, at our national specialties. The argument that not many would enter is lousy. That doesn't keep us from offering brace class. If only one young person enters, we've done something positive for our young

Moe-Best Pomeranians

Ch. Moe-Best Constant Attention

"Sugar" has been a breeder's dream to us. After breaking a front leg not once but twice, we thought she'd never see a show ring. She therefore entered obedience work. She has since been so busy with motherhood and shows she hasn't yet competed for her C.D. She finished her championship easily, defeated only once, with 4 majors.

"Sugar" is not only a winner but produces winners. Watch for the following kids:

"Cheater" — Moe-Best Two Time N Man (pictured in Jan. '84 Review).

"Fantasy" — Moe-Best Make My Day (pictured in April '84 Review).

"P.T." — Watt's Peter Tan V Moe-Best (a b/t brother to Fantasy owned by our good friend Dolores Watts).

The breeding on Fantasy and P.T. has been repeated. Due in June.

people and for the future of the breed at very little cost.

I was delighted to see more detailed Board Reports in the April Pom Review. I hope that continues. For example, what has happened to the proposed slide show on the standard? Did it die? Is it progressing? At what stage? Is help needed? I think increased communication between the Board and membership has got to be healthy for the club. I'd like the Board to reconsider ways to be supportive of the regular contributors to the Review. I won't say it is a thankless task, but you should know that while the editor is paid, the columnists are not. We're not even reimbursed for postage. We usually get our Reviews sent first class. My thanks comes from you readers who write or speak to me at shows and tell me you enjoy the column and find it helpful. I am grateful for the support.

Why don't we have a yearbook or annual which gives pictures and pedigrees of all champions and obedience titlists to finish that year? Other clubs, some of them younger and smaller than ours, publish them. Do we have an illustrated standard pamphlet or how to pick a Pom puppy pamphlet?

I know there are lots of talented, experienced, knowledgeable Pom people out there. Let's pitch in and accomplish more.

This story is about a Tibetan Terrier, but we can all learn from it. Ezekiel was 5½ months old when my travelling buddy, Sandra White, bought him. Four days later she delivered him in his shiny new Kennel Aire crate to the handler. About three weeks later, Ezekiel was loaded into the handler's van to go to his first show. But he was not in his crate. The handler chose to use that one for another client's dog. Ezekiel was put into a smaller, inferior-quality crate. The handler was late and sped down the rain-slicked road. Worse, she had bald tires on the van that couldn't have passed inspection. You guessed it, there was a wreck. Ezekiel's crate popped open and he high-tailed it into the woods. No other dogs escaped or were injured, but the handler was hospitalized.

A massive search for the puppy began. Sandra had 1,000 flyers bearing a picture of Ezekiel's grandfather printed. The Amherst County Humane Society members were wonderful, donating many man-hours to distributing flyers, answering phones and literally beating the bushes. Members of the volunteer fire department that had responded to the accident also joined the search in their off-duty hours. A reward was offered; radio announcements made. The local paper ran ads — free! The puppy was sighted occasionally. It was reassuring to know the dog was alive and still in the area, but frustrating to be unable to catch him. Remember, Ezekiel had only known his owner 4 days and the handler was in the hospital. Food was left out for him. Finally, two Tibetan Terriers were brought from another town and staked out in crates in back yards. That lured him out! After 10 long, anxious days, Ezekiel was captured.

He was in wretched condition, physically and mentally. His white and black coat was filthy, matted and full of cockleburrs. Some of it was missing. He had gotten poison ivy, and subsequently lost a lot more coat. He was badly frightened. The tail that had waved gaily over his back now hung listlessly. Sandra had many months of work ahead of her to try to rehabilitate that dog. The story has a happy ending. Ka Ba's Ezekiel's Rolling finished his championship in March and is now shining in obedience class.

Sandra recommends that you read Sherlock Bones by John Keans before your dog is lost. This book gives extensive advice on what to do in what order, when a pet is missing.

On the subject of Junior Showmanship, if you have kids approaching that age — 10 to 17 — you may be wondering if Junior

Ch. Bev-Nor's Fudge Delight

"My Pride and Joy"

"Pookie" is definitely specials material but I decided to breed her instead. What a choice! She free whelped "Happy" and "Dippy" — a super father-daughter breeding. Then, bred to her brother, Ch. Bev-Nor's Toasted Fudge, she free whelped our best yet, a black/tan daughter Southland's Toast To Bev-Nor "Poasty". Watch for her!

Congratulations to Eleanor Clark for finishing Southland Fudge Generation "Smudge", our first homebred champion.

Southland's Toast to Bev-Nor

 Dam: Ch. Bev-Nor's Fudge Delight

"Poasty" was the only puppy from this brother-sister breeding, but what a creation! Best of Breed and Group 3 at 3 months at Rustin Match with tough competition. She is our "best yet" — sound, typey, cocky, perfectly marked and a great mover like her Dad. Southland and Bev-Nor have repeated the breeding that produced "Toasty" and "Pookie" and we have others bred to "Toasty" or "Fudge." Yes, some will be available. Inquiries welcome.

Again, thanks Bev and Bill for giving me a chance.

FLASH — "Poasty" congratulates her b/t half sister Bev-Nor's Toasted Tan Ya on her Group 1 win, first time out at 7 months!

Pictured left is Collin Thomas and right is Phinneas Jon, "Phinny." They are now six months old and although in this picture they look very much alike they are not identical and have very different personalities. Along with other such good advice as "Don't tug on Superman's cape; Don't spit in the wind; don't pull the mask off the Lone Ranger," I might add, "Don't try to type with twins in your lap!" More as they grow!

Thanks for all the messages of congratulations. We do appreciate your interest.

Stud Register 1984

This is Pomeranian Review's 1984 Register of outstanding stud dogs. On this and the following pages — and in some of the display ads — are stud dogs that, for their individual excellence, unique characteristics or special breeding, stand ready to help every breeder in the country. Inevitably, some owners of fine stud dogs failed to send their entries in, for one reason or another. But with so many represented, from every section of the country, and of so many different bloodlines, we feel that our Register this year is very complete. May we request that when breeders send inquiries to stud dog owners they mention: "I saw your stud card in the Review."

Ch. Millamor's Rock Medallion

(Ch. Millamor's Moon Rock x Millamor's Marrilynn)

Medallion is now 7½ years old. Being in Canada is certainly not an advantage for a Top Producing Sire, yet his kids have a certain quality that breeders everywhere are acknowledging.

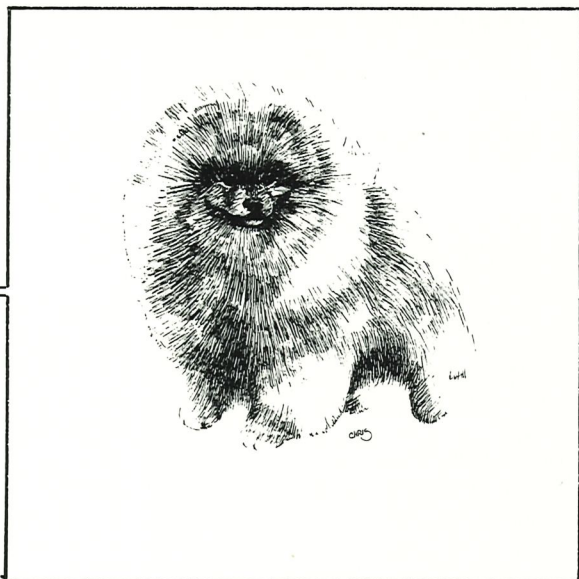

Medallion is a prepotent sire, whether linebred, inbred or outcrossed. He produces qualities hard to find in the breed today; excellent shoulders, side movement and up on leg. Medallion is at stud by private treaty. Please contact us if you feel he has something to offer your breeding program.

Our sincere sympathies to the Millers on the loss of Ch. Millamor's Mark of Dixieland, Medallion's grandsire.

How to Use a Pedigree

by Tom Horner

When a novice breeder receives the pedigree of his first bitch, on which are pinned all his hopes as a breeder, he is probably thrilled to find some champions among her ancestors. These champions, he feels, will help him make a success of his future breeding. Their presence will be taken by him as a guarantee that his bitch is well bred and as like begets like, as he has been told, he must be on the right track with his new acquisition.

If the bitch has been carefully bred and a degree of line breeding has been practiced in the preceding generations he probably is on the right lines. If, as can so easily happen, a number of people have been concerned in her breeding, using the latest champions just because they were the latest champions and mating to them bitches unrelated and unsuited to them on points, then the novice breeder may very well be on quite the wrong lines to base a breeding program on this particular bitch. A pedigree has only limited value without a lot of background information as to the merits and the faults of the individual dogs and bitches named in it.

WEIGHING UP

Before using a pedigree as the basis of a breeding program an experienced breeder will cast his mind back over the individuals named in it. He will weigh up the plus and minus points of each of the dogs and bitches in the pedigree and compare them with those of the ancestors of the prospective sires he is considering as possible mates for his bitch.

It is this background information, absorbed over many years, that gives experienced breeders such a long start over the novice when planning future matings. Before the novice breeder makes up his mind how to mate his new acquisition he should try to find out as much as possible about each individual in his bitch's pedigree, also about the individuals in the pedigrees of her prospective mates, the dogs he thinks he is most likely to use with her.

This will probably be quite easy in respect of the champions as many people will have seen them during their show careers. It may prove quite a problem for the less distinguished entries in the pedigrees. Very often it can be quite a struggle to ferret out any information at all about these, especially if they have something undesirable about them that only the owners know about! But these can often be stumbling blocks in the pedigree. They can thwart the best intentions if they carry some recessive faults that match up with a similar recessive in the other pedigree. The result can be a potential champion with a bad fault. So finding out about them is important and very well worth the effort and time spent on the exercise.

VITAL STILL

This getting to know what lies behind one's breeding stock is a vital part of becoming a successful breeder. But there is also a lot of skill in knowing how to balance a pedigree in such a way that faults are reduced and good points are emphasized without going too far away from the Standard. If a breeder concentrates too much on head points, conformation inevitable declines. If he goes on piling on the substance, he may get coarseness instead; if he tries for too much refinement he is inclined to end up with a wilting lily.

The whole skill in using a pedigree as an aid to breeding lies in knowing where the good points are and where they come from and the same with the faults. If there is line or family breeding and that particular line

Val suddenly got hot this spring. We were thrilled with his wins in very tough competition: Pom Club of Gr. Baltimore Match, judge, Sue Whaley — Best Adult and Best in Match; Langley KC, judge Irene Schlintz — BOW, 3 pts.; National Capital KC, judge Cyril Blumfeld — WD, 5 pts.; Charlottesville-Albemarle KC, judge Robert Graham — WD, 2 pts.; Gr. Fredericksbrug KC (supported entry), judge Sue Woodle — BOW, 4 pts., Shawnee KC, judge Mrs. Wm. Kendrick — BOW, 4 pts.

Thank you to all the above judges. We are proud of the fact that three of Val's majors were from the Bred by Exhibitor class. Val is a full brother to Ch. Idlewyld Chrysoberl. We also have a darling sable girl from a repeat breeding. Thanks to Rachal McKee who did a lot of Val's training. Val joins Ch. Gem CDX and Ch. Pooh Bear CD in our stud force. We hope we have Val puppies on the way.

Also, at the Gr. Fredericksburg KC show, Rachal piloted her Tibetan Terrier bitch all the way from puppy class to BOB over a special for a 3 pt. major.

Our condolences to Thelma Dunn on the tragic loss of her Todd.

Best wishes to Lennis Davis on her Kennel Visit.

has a prevailing fault, say eyes that are lighter than is desirable, it is essential to balance this with a strong dose of the correct point, in this case dark eyes on the other side of the mating.

On the other hand, if there are particularly good points to be had in a breed which are not present in the breeder's own stock, it is worthwhile taking a calculated risk to bring the good points into one's own line. If one has a line which is well made and sound but does not grow as much coat as might be desired it could be worthwhile to use a dog with a profuse coat but not as well constructed as the bitch concerned, offsetting the bitch's lack of furnishing with the dog's good coat the bitch's good make and shape but taking care in the ensuing litter to select only well made, sound puppies to carry on the line and mating these back into the line with good construction and movement to ensure that these vital points are not lost, and then from the next generation selecting those with the best coats.

KEY TO SUCCESS

This balancing of virtues and faults is the key to successful breeding and for success it depends to a great extent on background knowledge of the breed. The great thing to avoid is doubling up on undesirable points or tendencies while chasing after some exaggerated point. The breeder must try to maintain a balance and keep always as close to the Standard as he can.

A pedigree may look marvellous at first sight if it is full of champions but if those champions are all of different lines and are not well matched on points the animal it refers to is likely to be of less value as breeding material than a carefully linebred animal with a pedigree based on one outstanding individual with perhaps fewer champions but no bad or indifferent individuals in it.

The sort of animal that carries this kind of pedigree is not always easy to obtain but is well worth waiting for. It is almost certainly the result of years of constructive and progressive breeding.

A.P.C. Trophy Donation Request February 1985 Show

Please reserve your preference with a check now. This year are are telling you what the trophy for a specific class costs. If you would like to donate that particular class with what we have chosen, the cost will be as follows:

Best of Breed — $50.00. Wine, Chese and Candle set on wooden base.

Best Opposite Sex — $25.00. Wine and candle set on wooden base.

Winners — $25.00. Wine, vinegar, salt/pepper set on wooden base.

Reserve Winners — $15.00. Covered cheese dish.

First Place in a Class — $10.00. Hurricane lamp on wooden base.

Best in Sweepstakes — $10.00. Hurricane lamp on wooden base.

Best Opposite Sex in Sweepstakes — $10.00. Hurricane lamp on wooden base.

You may choose to send money contributing to the trophy fund instead of a specific trophy. Each donor will be listed in the catalog as a contributor. Send checks payable to the A.P.C. to Sally Baugnet, 11224 County Hwy. B., Mishicot, WI 54228. Any amount will help.

KENNEL VISIT ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible for a Kennel Visit, an individual must first be a member of the American Pomeranian Club, Inc., for at least five years and must have bred at least one champion. All Club members meeting these requirements will be considered for a Kennel Visit. Please send your suggestions for future Visits to the Corresponding Secretary, address on page 3.

You start with two nicely bred dogs — Jestom's Red Robin and Ch. Tiffany's Star of India. Breed them and you get Jestom's Tim's Image (ptd). Then you combine Jestom's Tim's Image with Ch. Tiffany's Star of India and you get *Ch. Harbin's Black Gold of India. Next, you send *Ch. Harbin's Black Gold of India to Dr. and Mrs. Morris Carson to visit Ch. Emcee's Solid Gold Diamond and you get *Ch. Harbin's Poetry In Motion and Harbin's Touch of Class (soon to start her show career).

The final results — Designer Genes!

We wish to take this opportunity to give our most sincere thanks to Tom and Jessie Stephens for their guidance and the sharing of their knowledge and experience. Also, a great big thank you to Morris and Betty Carson.

Congratulations to Lennis Raines-Davis on her Kennel Visit and the start of it all — Ch. Lennis' Tar Baby of Great Elms.

THREE MAJORS — 8 MONTHS OLD — FROM BRED BY EXHIBITOR

Thank you very much to the following judges: Ruth Davidson, 2 pts.; Dorothy Carson, 3 pts.; Dr. William Fields, 4 pts.; Norman Patton, 4 pts.; and Thomas Baldwin, 2 pts. In Canada, at only 6 months, Mink was BOW in all-breed Puppy Sweeps and WB and Best Toy Puppy at Evergreen KC for 2 pts. under judge Mrs. Olmos-Olliver. Also, at Evergreen KC she was BOW and Best Pom Puppy for 2 pts.

A great big THANK YOU to Tom and Jessie Stephens, Morris and Betty Carson and Mink's traveling companions, Terry Fisher and Tom Skidmore. Thank you too, to our friends and fellow exhibitors for your support and encouragement.

Mink says, "Watch for my litter sister, Harbin's Touch of Class starting her career soon and congratulations to my grandma, Ch. Tiffany's Star of India on her five new puppies sired by Emcee's Chips Ahoy of Coy, owned by Tom and Jessie Stephens."

Poofie has many group placings including four firsts and one Canadian second. He is siring sound, typey puppies that will hopefully follow in his paw prints. He stands along with the dark red sable, Lennis Southern Nights (10 pts., both majors) and Moreno's Kirby by Choice, a super nice cream sable, double "Dude" grandson sired by Ch. Moreno's Critic's Choice. Both boys can be seen in the midwest this summer with their handler Sally Bagniet. Thanks to breeders Sally Bagniet, Lennis Davis and Julie Moreno for these lovely boys.

Ch. Pomirish Chances Crem D'Bloon

Crem finished in jig time with a 5 pt. specialty BOW among her wins. She's pictured here finishing with a 3 pt. major under Mrs. J.E. Clark on the tough OK circuit. At present she is tending to her first litter — 1 cream male, 1 cream female — sired by Poofie. We are planning litters for late summer by the above boys out of our May Morning bred girls. Inquiries invited.

OREGON WEBFOOT REPORT

by Diane Clark-Bryant

This is spring in Oregon. Can't recall but one or two sunny days in April and only one so far in May. The ground is so rain-soaked that in jacking the camper up to be put on our truck in preparation for the trip down for the Eugene KC and Rogue Valley KC shows May 19 and 20, it slipped off its footings and became a casualty with 3 broken legs. The Poms and I may be tenting it on the north forty behind the show grounds.

Earlier this spring Nancy Turner, Dolores Riggan and I paid a visit to Florence Ryals up in Tacoma, WA. Florence is a well-known Pom breeder in the Pacific Northwest. An aging but still beautiful Ch. Skylark Cinnamon Banner, a name many of you will recognize, makes his home with Florence. Florence always has an abundance of puppies to see and she is one of the most gracious "dog" people I've met. She is always willing to share her years of experience in Poms and has been a great help and source of information. There is a lot to learn when starting in a breed and the place to get the best information is from the breeders who have been at it for many years. The only thing better than one knowledgeable breeder is two — talking away, happily engrossed in their favorite subject. Dolores and Florence had a field day.

I always run a risk when I go to Florences, because I always find a pup I can't live without. Usually it's sold or promised, but this time I got my bid in first. My new puppy bitch Fancy Dance of Ryals sired by Florence's Ryals Flying High, has it all as a puppy with the head and sweet expression Florence breeds so well. My new boy, Royal Banner O Ryals is a repeat breeding that produced the little bitch Nancy Turner bought from Florence last year, Bry-Tur Music Box Dancer. She grabbed her first 9 points by 8 months of age. Nancy was captivated by a wolf sable pup she bought and is naming Sparkling Essence. Look for these three in the ring this summer.

Florence is enjoying the "thrill of victory" these days as her Ryals Flying High who she call BJ came home from the Eastern Washington circuit a champion at 15 months. BJ is handled by Gene Handlin who always does an excellent job. BJ is the sire of my new girl Fancy Dancer. Our congratulations to Florence and her new champion.

Next issue I will have news of wins at the Eugene KC and Rogue Valley KC shows, May 19 and 20; Mt. Bachelor at Redmond, OR, June 2; Vancouver KC, June 3; and Puyallup KC show June 9. The entry at Eugene and Rogue Valley is good with 16 Poms entered.

In response to my last article, I received an interesting letter from Mr. Bill Ledbetter of West Germany. He sent some wonderful photos of German black Poms and two snow white Poms taken at Germany's largest "canine exposition." Mr. Ledbetter expressed an interest in breeding good quality white Poms and is requesting U.S. breeders to correspond with him. The photos indicated that German breeders may be ahead in producing beautiful sparkling whites. I've not come in contact with any in Oregon that can match the ones pictured for pure white color.

Mr. Ledbetter's address is Kronthaler Weg14, 6236 Eschborn 2, West Germany. I hope some of you will be able to give him some information on what is available in white breeding in the U.S.

Mr. Ledbetter wrote that the German Pom Club — Verein Fur Deutsche Spitz has rigid rules enforcing a strict registry. The original German Pom (Kleinspitz) weighs from 5 to 10 pounds and only the following color-breeding is permitted for registry: pure white x pure white; orange or red x orange or red; wolf sable or blue x wolf

"Petey" is proud to announce that his son and daughter — A-Reynolds Tidy Skeeter and A-Reynolds Tidy Suerika won their classes at the Dallas-Ft. Worth Pomeranian Club Silver Anniversary Show under judge Forrest M. McCoy. Congratulations to their breeder-owner Mrs. Armetha Reynolds of Benton, AR. This specialty was the most beautiful and beautifully run that I've ever attended.

Special congratulations to Eleanor Clark (owner) and Charlotte Creed (breeder) on finishing Southland's Fudge Generation. This flashy orange-sable is a pleasure to show and a joy to watch in the ring. "Smudge" finished quickly with 4 majors and 2 singles. Charlotte, you should be very proud of what you have accomplished in such a short time. Mother, congratulations on your new champion plus the exciting kids you are getting ready to follow in his paw prints!

FLASH! A-Reynolds Tidy Skeeter goes WD and BW from the puppy class for 2 pts. at Canadian Valley K.C. Thank you judge Mildred Bryant!

THE STARS'S NIGHT OUT

At the dramatic Show of Shows (in Chicago), at invitational for Best in Show dogs, our breed made it to the finals (top 15, all 7 groups). The honors went to CH. BEV-NOR'S TOASTED FUDGE. Toasty came out of retirement for this special event, and is now back home earning his keep. Toasty retired April 15, 1983 and finished 1983 at #2 Pom. He was #1 Pom in 1981 and 1982.

Ch. Bev-Nor's Toasted Fudge

Toasty's daughter Bev-Nor's Toasty's Tan-Ya (black/tan) made her debut March 5 at Bucks County taking a 5 pt. major, Best of Breed and Group First from the puppy class. Shown by Susan Fisher, owned by Beverly Norris and Ed Jenner.

Ch. Theldun's Almond Fudge congratulates his 16th champion and others on their way.

New Champion — Ch. Bev-Nor's New Creation, Petey is owned by Ed Jenner and myself. He finished at 8 months with several breeds and was RWD at the APC Specialty.

Southland's Fudge Double Dip, owned by Charlotte Creed, BOS in Sweepstakes at the APC Specialty, is major pointed and a breed winner from puppy class.

Desiree's Rippling Fudge — owned by Desaree Sandifer took a 4 pt. major his first time out and another 4 pt. major the following week.

Canine Eye Registration Foundation, Inc.

Report Nos. 9 & 10

We present this, our first report in 4 years, with gratitude to all who expressed a personal sense of loss at CERF's suspension of its Register on June 1, 1979, and of valuable services regained with CERF's revival in April, 1982.

The accompanying tabulations include: (1) a summary of CERF's data from its start, the October 1975, to the June 1979, suspension; (2) totals of registrations, by breed, prior to suspension and totals of newly registered, or up-dated registrations since CERF's resumption; (3) tabulations of data received since resumption, with breakdown of portion of eye found "suspicious" or affected in those individuals ineligible for CERF registration. In a few instances, a percentage figure has been given which we feel may substantiate our original claim that "breeding only certified clear-eyed dogs to certified clear-eyed dogs can significantly reduce the incidence of inherited eye diseases in the breed populations." Results in Toy and Miniature Poodles are disappointing, due largely, we believe, to the great difficulty in detecting PRA early enough to insure elimination of affected individuals as breeders.

We are also pleased to announce that the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit filed its decision on May 3, 1983, AFFIRMING the Judge's rulings in the trial of the antitrust charged brought against CERF, Dr. and Mrs. Trauner and 5 California ACVO members. Some excerpts from the OPINION handed down by the Court of Appeals follow:

(page 8) CERF provided examination forms only to ACVO members and would accept no other type of form for inclusion in its registry. The reason justifying this CERF-ACVO relationship is valid. ACVO members are the only veterinarians who had objectively demonstrated that they are qualified to perform the hereditary eye examinations. Obviously, examination reliability is of utmost concern to CERF.

(page 16) Further, it is our conclusion that appellees' motive in creating the canine eye registry was proper . . . Finally, appellants failed to present competent evidence to prove damages.

Those of you who have asked for listings of dogs registered in particular breeds will have to be patient. We are entering this information in computer storage so that it can be alphabetized, periodically updated, and can be printed out at any time. As always, inquiries about individual CERF-registered dogs will be answered promptly.

Supporting Memberships are open to individuals and groups for $25.00 annual dues. This entitles a Supporting Member to be on our mailing list for all regular and special reports. There is no charge to members of the Veterinary profession who wish to be put on our mailing list, and ACVO members will automatically receive copies of all general reports and such special reports as they may request, at no cost.

WE ARE GLAD TO BE BACK!

A report of current (April 1982 — April 1983) ophthalmological findings for Poms was included with this letter. During this period 21 Pomeranians were examined; 15 were found to be clear of eye defects; 6 were suspicious/affected. While 6 may not

THE POMERANIAN CLUB OF GREATER HOUSTON INC., SPECIALTY SHOW

March 16, 1984

by Dorothy Bonner

Sponsored by the Houston Combined Specialty Association, the Pomeranian Club of Greater Houston presented their Spring Specialty. The covered, open air pavilion was quite adequate for the eleven specialties with roomy rings and sufficient grooming spaces. I was honored to be selected as the Pom judge, and enjoyed seeing the lovely entries.

Mac's Gold Dust was the winner of the Puppy Dog 6-9 class. Bred and owned by Mrs. B.G. McDonald, he was one of the most charming and standard-correct puppies that has been shown recently, and he won my heart completely.

Sungold's Kazar Quarter Back won the Puppy Dog, 9-12 class. Bred by Mrs. J. L. Weitz and Lillian M. Muller, owned by Anna LaFortuna and Richard Lackey, he was a mature and correct type. Bred by Exhibitor Dogs, Sungold's Dyn O Moe Rider was the winner. Bred and owned by Anna LaFortune, he was an example of knowledgeable breeding. We were glad to see Anna and talk to her later. In American Breed, McKamey's Star of Gold, bred and owned by Mrs. Norris McKamey, demonstrated his true-Pom structure and excellent conformation. First in Open Dogs was Mac's High Pockets, bred by Mrs. B.G. McDonald, owned by Molly Miller. He was small, of brilliant color and a credit to the breed. He was my choice for Winners Dog.

Puppy Bitches 6-9 months was a class of adorable but tiny girls. Patrick's Miss Amaretta, breeder-owner Mildred Patrick, was first place. The 9-12 class was taken by Bar-Da's Whirlwind, a darling little Pom owned and bred by Bobbie Gibson. Bred by Exhibitor class winner was Janesa's Roulette, bred and owned by John Lewis, Adam Verrett, and Jerrie Freia. Roulette was a very beautiful, brood-sized specimen who should be valuable to the breed. She was my choice for Winners Bitch and Best of Winners.

The Open class was won by Jolly Wee Ms. Georgia Sunshine, a stylish and gorgeous girl. She was bred by Randy Frech and owned by Roxie Campbell and Carolyn Crockett. Sunshine had a special charm and was a close contender for Winners.

Best of Breed went to breeder-owners Peter Galindo and Ron Welch's Ch. Pedron's Dragonmark, a most exquisite huge-coated Pom that posed and moved to the utmost perfection. Within little more than a week, this fellow later went BOB at the Galveston and Houston All-Breed shows, and at the Dallas-Fort Worth Pom Specialty.

Best of Opposite Sex went to that fabulous little girl, Ch. West's Sugar Bear, breeder-owner, Jean West.

After the show, everybody, and I mean EVERYBODY — breeders, owners and entrants, were entertained by Tim and Sue Goddard in their very nice home, where crowded wall-to-wall people conversed and ate excellent food.

seem to be a large number it represents 29% of the total. With so few dogs examined it is hard to tell if 29% is representative of the eye situation in the breed or not. The only way to know is to examine more dogs.

REBEL REPORT

by Jane Johnston
3429 Oak View Dr.
Lakeland, FL 33803

I had a nice visit with Chris and John Hartz of Truro, Nova Scotia when they visited Ken and Elenor Miller following the Specialty and All-Breed shows in February. Always nice to see them.

A stunning little newcomer to the show ring is McGuire's Little Nike, bred by Goldie McGuire of Lakeland, FL and owned by Arlene and John Benko of West Palm Beach. The latter part of April, owner-handled, "Gidget" went Best of Breed at Stuart, FL. The following day at Jupiter, she was Reserve. Bet we'll be seeing lots more of this little gal.

Some good and bad news from Millamor Kennels of Ken and Eleanor Miller in Lakeland. Millamor's Mood Music was chosen Winner Dog for a 4 point major, completing his championship in Galveston, Texas on March 17. The bad news is that Ch. Millamor's Mark of Dixieland passed away on April 9 at nearly 13 years of age. Mark was the sire of Ch. Millamor's Marketta, top winning Pom in the mid seventies, and has sired a number of champions who are, in turn producing champions. Two of Mark's youngest sons are Ch. Millamor's Mark Medallion, bred and owned by Millamor, and Ch. Coy's Top of the Mark, bred by James M. Coy and owned by Mrs. Ashlyn L. Cannon of Raleigh, NC.

POMERANIAN CLUB OF GREATER BALTIMORE

by Mary Vickers

You might be reading this in the hot summer, but is being written in spring. Spring in the Baltimore area is an exceptional time of year . . . for folks who like spring and folks who like dog shows.

This season was kicked off by the efforts of the Richmond KC and National Capital KC. Then came the actual budding Cherry Blossoms. And then the notorious Cherry Blossom circuit. Spring is now over, but like its flowers the memory will linger. It wasn't the pink Cherry Blossoms that made it so delightful, but the varying colors of POMS.

Besides the usually seen colors of orange and orange sable, there were a few reds, 2 cream sables, shaded sables, many blacks, a chocolate and tan (which covers the Brown category) and interestingly enough a black and tan special. The only colors that were missing were blue and the parti-colors. But there are more than enough good quality breeders who are interested in color breeding to remedy this situation in the future.

Mention should be made of those who pointed this spring: Silva Lade Midnight Caper (Fred), a cream sable male owned by Dianne Johnson received a major and points. Silva Lade Almond Joy (Kitten), the chocolate/tan bitch owned by Dianne with a 3 pt. major. Dolores Watt's Chipper of G. Elms with a 4 pt. major. Donna Wright's Damiens Dream, another cream sable who majored. Ann Cannon's Scampy Dancer who gained points. Mary Ellen Snyder's Morroco's Chantilly who also majored. Several of these Poms and their owners are only points away from finishing.

As you can tell from all those majors the competition was fierce. So very sincere

MIDWEST REPORT

11224 County Hwy B.
Mishicot, WI 54228

The Pomeranian Standard — Part IV

“TAIL: The tail is characteristic of the breed. It turns over the back and is carried flat, set high. It is profusely covered with hair.”

Many times we see Poms with low tail sets — a breeder's nightmare. Thus grew the practice of over trimming the rear and up the root of the tail. A Pom with a low set tail looks longer in back than if it had a high set tail — and indeed it would. The tail is simply an extension of the rest of the vertebrae in the back. The coat then adds inches to the longer look. Over trimming the rear tends to disguise the fault of the low tail set. Over trimming will be discussed in another article.

The tail is definitely characteristic of the breed. Only one other breed has close to the Pom-type tail. Some breeds call for a tail over the back in an arch or carried to one side, etc. The closest tail description to the Pomeranian tail is that of the Chow Chow which states “Tail — set well up and carried closely to the back, following line of spine at start.”

We find Pom tails that have a side curve to them which would cause the tail to drop to one side. A short tail with profuse hair on it, might also cause the hair to fall to one side. Some Poms have tail hair that combs up to the ears; others have Chow-like tail cover. Is that profuse enough? Some have a kink at the end of the tail. Since there are no major faults listed at the end of this paragraph as there are in some other sections, we can assume any deviation from what is mentioned would be a minor fault.

“COAT — Double-coated; a short, soft thick undercoat, with longer, coarse glistening outer coat consisting of guard hairs which must be harsh to the touch in order to give the proper texture for the coat to form a frill of profuse, stand-off straight hair. The front legs are well feathered and the hindquarters are clad with long hair or feathering from the top of the rump to the hocks. A soft, flat, or open coat is a major fault.”

I have listened to people tell me that judges have told them their Pom had too much coat. Breeders have replied, “A Pom cannot have too much coat.” The more I thought about it, the more I started to understand what these “too-much-coat” judges meant. In order to have a frill of profuse, stand-off coat, you must have two things, the proper texture and a thick undercoat to hold up the longer guard hair. If the guard hair is too long for the amount of undercoat, the total coat will not form a frill of stand-off coat. In other words, what those judges are saying is, since the guard hair is drooping instead of standing-out, there is too much of it. Another way of saying it is, there is not enough undercoat for the amount of guard hair present, so as to make the coat stand-off as called for in the standard. The Pom Standard asks for “longer” guard hair than undercoat, but not “long” coat as does the Pekingese Standard. Again, keep in mind, we are raising Poms not Pekes. The face, legs and coat must conform to the Pomeranian Standard as much as possible and are not to be confused with the Pekingese “long coat” with thick undercoat. Do we want our Pom to look like a poor quality Peke or for that matter, a poor Papillion or a poor long-coat Chihuahua? A flat open coat is a lack of undercoat.

By the way, who thought we in the mid-west were low on the Totem Pole with our dog quality? I hope you have dispelled those thoughts. The top winning Pomeranian for 1983 was bred, owned and handled by mid-westerners. Congratulations to Nadine Hersil, "Duffie's" breeder-owner from Wisconsin and Jackie Liddle, his handler from Minnesota. Way to go, gals!

I hope this article hits a few people. I have not seen any comments in "Yips and Yaps" on my articles on the Pomeranian Standard. I received one favorable letter from Claudia Lis (thanks, Claudia!) after my first article. What's your opinion?

As I understand the minutes of the annual meeting, A.P.C. members are not willing to give any special compensation or privileges to those of us who write articles for the Pomeranian Review as requested by our editor. But, then you don't seem to contribute anything to the magazine yourself. Oh, what do I hear? You advertise! Great — so do I. You served on the Board of Directors of the A.P.C. Great — so did I for seven years, before mail and club-paid telephone conference meetings — when it cost $200.00 plus to fly to New York City for each of four meetings a year. This was done willingly. Come on all of you! Do your share too. Contribute!

Maybe you don't want our articles. What if none of us wrote any? Good riddance, huh? If the Pomeranian Review would be better off without our articles, just say the word. I really am a very busy lady, as are all of us who write articles, I'm sure. I really get tired of just a few active members doing all of the work and the rest sitting back and enjoying the fruits of our labors. Do we thank our show chairmen, superintendents committees, delegates, board members, etc.?

That is my opinion. What is yours?

PUGET SOUND POMERANIAN CLUB by Jessie Stephens

We are pleased to report that our last match in March was a very successful one with over 20 entries. Our judge was James Moran and his expertise with Poms was appreciated by all. Best Puppy was Harbins Poetry in Motion, bred by Irene Harbin. Best in Match, another homebred, was Jacklin's A Lil Bit O' Hadleigh, owned by Linda Jackson. We would like to thank the exhibitors from the Columbia Pomeranian Club, Averil Asbeck, Muriel Gunther and John Nye for their support. A very happy get together in a local restaurant afterward gave all a chance to get to know each other and talk with the judge. Thanks to everyone who participated and especially to our judge for his time and patience.

Our meeting held at the Stephens home had a good attendance. Lots of plans were made under the guidance of our President, Erin Hundley. A very pleasant evening.

The last meeting has held at the home of Erin Hundley in Puyallup and a pot luck dinner gave everyone a chance to talk dogs before the meeting. We accomplished several plans and welcomed new members. New ideas are always welcome. Irene Harbin will be having a well earned rest from the news letter and we all thank her for her time and effort on this project. Our new editor will be Julie Lingren. I am sure she will have everything in order and our newsletter will continue to be produced, so good luck Julie.

Show news has been good with the Harbins' Poetry in Motion taking a trip to Canada and taking the points both days and winning the Junior Sweeps. Her first weekend in the States she went reserve and then took the points the next day. At Walla Walla, Richland and Yakima she took the majors each day giving her a total of 13 points in 4 shows — and she's not quite 9 months old. This gal is sired by Morris Knowing my fellow club members, you can find pictures of many of the Poms in the next few pages.

It might be summer but there is much activity in the club as we gear up for our annual party. September is our birthday and new officers taking over and we celebrate another year with our picnic, awards and that fantastic auction. Tell you about it later.

Carson's lovely Ch. Emcee's Solid Gold Diamond. At Walla Walla under Dorothy Carson, the breed went to Alicia Kvamme and Nora Higbee's Ch. Jambo's Community Property, a lovely little bitch who also finished quickly. Richland and Yakima Best of Breed awards went to Jim Moran's Ch. Tomho George Heatwave. At Bremerton, this lovely Pom went 2nd in the group under Mrs. Nishimura. Poms in this area are drawing good entries with majors.

With the excitement of the New York Specialty and the Garden behind us, we had the first Specialty of the year to look forward to — the Dallas-Fort Worth 25th Anniversary. Shirley Bradley of Bradley Poms was an exhibitor with some of Opal Moshers lovely Poms. They have been doing well, and siring well, in this area. The Specialty catalog finished in silver is a real credit to those in charge. Those Texans really did make it a real silver specialty. Congratulations to all who made this such a memorable event. I am sure the judges were more than pleased with the wonderful entry.

It was interesting to note that in 1962 Sally McGilbry of the famous Golden Glow Pomeranians was their judge. Many beautiful Poms have come from Golden Glow and Sally and Vance and both still active and love to hear about all the shows.

A bit more show news . . . Whitbey Island and Olympia shows May 5 and 6 saw Irene Harbin finish two champions, a mother and daughter. More of them elsewhere in this issue. This makes three generations of champion females. Best of Breed went again to Ch. Tomho's Georgia Heatwave going on to group 3 and 4. There were four specials the first day and three the next under judges Mary Rosenbaum and Tom Baldwin respectively. Congratulations to all the winners. Anyone else who finished a Pom that I don't know of, congratulations. A nice turn out both days.

Glad we have some news coming out of Oregon and the breeders down there. Gives us a chance to read what is going on in the shows and obedience. Remember, if news is not passed on for the column, it cannot be included. See you 'round the shows.

Congratulations to Phyllis Andrews on finishing Andrews Wee Red Laddie under Mary Rosenbaum at Whitbey Island Kennel Club. Good to see Phyllis back in the ring and winning. Another homebred and owner handled Pomeranian. Keep them coming.

Breeding For Improvement

by Phyllis Andrews

I find the title of this article quite intriguing. Breeding for improvement. What does that mean to the beginner (who holds the future of our breed in his hands), to the older breeder and yes, even to those who stand ringside?

I was a beginner in 1967. When I became serious about breeding and showing Pomeranians I found there were no older breeders in my area to turn to for help or advice. Fortunately I knew a well-known breeder in California and even though she was retired she helped me through letters.

No matter what you have as a beginner, that is what you have to work with and it many times is all you can afford. I now understand why many older breeders are so reluctant to let the beginner have that excellent show quality brood. In our small litters, they need them for their own breeding programs. Quality is so hard to come by they want the outstanding females placed in knowledgeable hands. I worked with the best I could get for five years and finally was offered a top quality bitch with top bloodlines. So you may have to work with the best you can get for a while, but know that better will be offered to you once you prove yourself, both in sticking with it and in knowledge.

If you are lucky enough to have an older breeder near you, listen and learn. If you feel that the breeder is really just offering a "For Sale" sign, beware. They may only be interested in selling to you rather than teaching you. I have spent hours with newcomers in this area encouraging them, answering questions and seeking answers to things I didn't know. I also encourage newcomers to look not only at my dogs but to compare with other breeders whose names I happily supply. They must make up their own minds and only by attending shows and visiting kennels can they make a knowledgeable decision.

The first step then in breeding for improvement is to learn, learn, learn — knowing there is always much more to learn. Breeding for improvement is done in YOUR kennel. If you can see improvement over the years (yes, it takes years) then you have accomplished this goal. Don't worry about what others say or do, if you truly believe that you have improved then you are just what the breed needs. Regardless of whether your kennel is two, twenty or sixty, but on the whole has improved, you are doing it right. There will always be "ringside judges" with their unsolicited comments. Don't pay any attention. If after carefully evaluating your dogs you can say, "yes, these heads are better than the ones I produced a few years ago; this coat texture is better; these fronts; those rears are all better," then you can be satisfied.

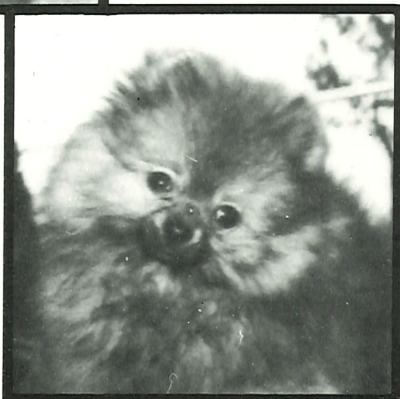

We need — that is, the BREED needs you — as you work quietly in your own kennel. Keep looking for places to improve your dogs — whether it's bites, movement, coat, whatever. Know what you have accomplished; know where you want to go. That shows you are not kennel blind but truly a breeder.

Show what you have. You won't always win but you need to take your Pom to the shows so that YOU can compare your dogs with others. Your dogs may be worse than you thought or you may be surprised and find they are better than you thought. Only at the ring can you get this kind of information. Don't bother asking or listening to those "ringside unpaid judges" who have never bred or shown dogs themselves. If they knew so much, they'd

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS AND VIEWS

by Erin Hundley
19101 67th Ave. S.E.
Snohomish, WA 98290

A Grand Slam! Four new champions among Northwest Pomeranians, all completing their championships at two shows on one weekend. On Saturday May 5 at the Whidbey Island show, judge Mary Rosenbaum awarded Winners Dog to a very showy orange named Andrews Wee Red Laddie. Laddie was shown by his breeder-owner Phyllis Andrews. Winners Bitch and Best of Winners went to Harbins Black Gold of India, well-coated, sound moving black and tan girl. "Toby" was bred by Irene Harbin and shown by Sylvia Harbin. Best of Breed went to Ch. Tomho's Georgia Heatwave, shown by his owner Jim Moran. Best of Opposite Sex was Ch. CJ's Crystal's Isadora, another lovely black and tan, bred and owned by Pete Casteneda and Bob Johnson shown by Pete.

On Sunday, May 6, judge Tom Baldwin awarded Winners Dog to Ryals Flying High, breeder Earline Titus, owner Florence Ryals, BJ started his show career last December by winning Best Puppy at the Columbia Pomeranian Club Specialty in Portland. He is just 14 months old. Winners Bitch and Best of Winners went to appropriately named, Harbin's Poetry in Motion, a beautiful young lady and daughter of Saturday's Winners Bitch, Harbin's Black Gold of India. Mink will not be a year old until August. She was bred by Irene Harbin and shown by Sylvia. Mink started her show career April 21, 1984, shown six times she has been Winners Bitch five. A short but successful career. Best of Breed was Ch. Tomho's Georgia

Heatwave; Best of Opposite Sex, Ch. CJ's Crystal's Isadora.

These four champions did not earn their awards by accident or by their owners' determination ("I'll make a champion out of this one or else"). These Poms earned their championships by their quality. This special quality in each case was the intended result of many years of careful study of pedigrees and the contribution of the quality dogs in those pedigrees.

Andrews Wee Red Laddie is the result of breeding a daughter of Ch. Sungold's Gay Cavilier to a grandson of Cavilier, who was one of the all-time greats. Bred by Anna LaFortune and owned by Edna Girardot, Cav sired 66 American Champions and 6 Foreign Champions. (See page 95, April Review).

Ryals Flying High is called BJ, short for Banner Junior. He is a double grandson of another beautiful Pomeranian, Ch. Skylark Cinnamon Banner. Banner's record includes many Best of Breed and Group wins and a Best in Show. Banner was bred by Shirley Hoffman and is owned by Florence Ryals.

Harbin's Black Gold of India was the result of a mother/son breeding. Ch. Tiffany's Star of India, bred to Jestom's Red Robin, "Timmy." That breeding produced Jestom's Tim's Image, "Charlie" (see page 77, April Review). Bred back to Indy, was produced Harbin's Black Gold of India, "Toby." So where are the great old champions? Look back in these pedigrees and you will see them. Many of the Ch. Great Elms Timstopper sons and grandsons predominate.

Harbin's Poetry in Motion, Ch. Emcee's Solid Gold Diamond x Harbin's Black Gold of India. The sire's grandmother and the dam's grandfather are brother and sister — a full circle of well planned breeding.

Some champions are the result of luck but most are the result of years of study and planning. All of the above prove this and

by Dr. Stephen C. Ayres DVM

Parvo disease has been a major concern to you breeders and exhibitors for the last three years. This is certainly evident in the press by the great number of articles on the subject. In dealing with breeders, exhibitors and just plain pet owners doing their own vaccinating, I have seen a fair amount of Parvo disease after the vaccines were given. For this reason I want to share some of my observations and suggestions concerning Parvo with you to help in your vaccination program, if you are having problems.

First, I feel one of the major reasons for any vaccine break is poor vaccine. For example I've noticed one type of Parvo vaccine that I guess the quality control on is so poor that the manufacturer had to add antibiotics to it to insure sterility. Choose a well-known company for your source. Examples of such biological companies are Fromm, Pitman-Moore, Norden, Fort Dodge, etc. It doesn't matter if you like to give the combination DHLPP-Parvo or the Parvo individually. And it also doesn't matter if it's killed or modified live. Just make sure the company is reputable. How do you find out if you're not sure? Ask your veterinarian or a breeder that has been in the business a long time and has a successful vaccination program.

A second cause for vaccination programs failing is using vaccine that has expired. I see this problem occasionally. Usually what you initially obtain vaccine, the expiration date is good for 2-3 years. However, if you buy it in any sort of bulk, that expiration date can slip by quickly. One thing about vaccine, if it says it expires on a certain date, it means it! Don't think that there's a fudge factor. If it's expired by even a month, throw it away. Don't take a chance!

Even if you have a good quality vaccine and use it within the expiration date, you can undo all your precautions by not handling it properly. Any type of vaccine is very temperature sensitive and with warming will lose its potency. This goes for killed as well as modified live vaccine. For example, one client's dog recently came down with Parvo disease. On inquiring I found that she gave her own shots and on the day she received the vaccine, she went shopping and ran some errands with the vaccine sitting in a warm car with no ice packs to keep it cold. I felt this was the probable cause of this vaccine break. Also, after you reconstitute it with liquid, you must use it immediately! Its potency dramatically decreases and is ineffective the next day even with refrigeration.

Finally, there is one last important point concerning when to vaccinate. Your vaccination series should start at 6-7 weeks of age. The final shot should be no earlier than 16 weeks so as to avoid any maternal immunity interference. Now between these two dates, whether you want to give the Parvos every 2 weeks, 3 weeks, or 4 weeks is a matter of preference to the individual owner, but those first and last shots are of extreme importance. Further, if you are showing actively and are around a lot of outside dogs, I would recommend boosting every 6 months just as an added precaution.

As I said before, Parvo disease is an ever constant worry to us all and protecting your dogs against it is of prime importance. I hope these suggestions and observations on my part will increase your understanding and help you with any problems you have with your vaccination program.

“I Remember When . . .”

by Dorothy Bonner

As a child in a small Texas town, my pal was a small Fox Terrier who doubled as a family dog. My mother was not pet oriented and Spotty lived out doors. A love for pets seemed to be mostly inherited from my father who secured the dog, but was much too busy for involvement. However, he insisted that Spotty be confined during winter seasons so puppies were not mine to enjoy. A prolific reader, I was charmed with Albert Payson Terhune's dog stories that made Collies glamorous and desirable, but my teen years at Texas University prohibited any incumbrance. After marriage in New York, I was able to visit Mr. Terhune in Sunny Brook, New Jersey to see his famous collies and meet his lovely wife. However, my early training enabled me to advance in the big theatre productions in New York City, and my life was filled with adventure. One day, a Ziegfeld Follies girl brought a Pom to rehearsal and I was "hooked" at the first sight of a breed that seemed to me the most beautiful in all the world.

In the middle twenties, we decided that New York was too confined for permanence, so returned to the wide open spaces, picking San Antonio as our home. Although my husband was an electrical engineer, dancing was my life and a Ballet school was an instant success. This led to rather professional "Kiddie Reviews" that ran in the top theatre occasionally, along with the regular vaudeville acts. After one particularly successful show, the manager offered me a bonus of anything my heart desired. My answer was "a Pomeranian." Not knowing anything about such a rare breed, he promised, "You find one and we will pay for it."

A classified ad took me to the Schoenberg's house, my introduction to a long friendship. Gladys had about 8 Poms, mostly males, but there was one mama with two adorable puppies. I took the girl, a small black and tan, who became our adored "child" for 14 years. She was not beautiful, except to us, and looked more like a Long Coated Chihuahua. (The fabulous Aristic Poms came later.) "Baby" was my constant companion, even attending dancing classes, secure on her pillow near me. During our travels, she was smuggled in a "Boston bag," sitting in it demurely under the table in restaurants. In our estimation, and in hers, she was a tiny person; a well behaved little lady with a brilliant mind, much too intelligent to be canine related. After her death, all of my later Poms were accumulated in her sweet memory.

The deadlines never change . . .

They are February 15, May 15, August 15 and November 15.

Please make a note of them and plan your ads so that they will arrive on time.

The 1984 show season has started in Canada and following close behind it the excitement of Top Pom awards for 1983. I think that it is important to note that there are so many more Canadian Poms doing top winning today. No longer is it just the imported dogs but home bred breeders for their hard work and dedicated efforts. Breeders in Canada are studying Poms who are winning and producing and working toward our common goal — that perfect Pom. Presentation too, is greatly improved. I think a lot of credit should go to these breeders who have given us the puppies that have gone on to become the Top Poms in Canada.

The number one Pom in Canada is Ch. Bavanew's Master Skylark for his breeder-owner Matt Heindl. Matt has done so much for the Canadian Pom Club and for the breed it is good to see him rewarded in a way that means so much. "Andy" is sired by Ch. Millamor's Rock Medallion ex Matt's home bred girl Ch. Bavanew's Zenobia Cassiopia.

The number two Pom is Ch. Chricendo Carlotta, also a Medallion daughter owned by myself and Eleanore W. Miller.

Can. Am. Ch. Hillsboro's Golden Chip, who was Best of Breed at last years APC Specialty, owner-handled by Natalie Dunfee, is number three.

We go out to the west coast for the number four Pom, Ch. Luxton's Forever Misty Mickey, owned by Leslie Rogers. He is a son of Golden Glow Dr. Pepper ex Forever Happy Misty Morn.

The number five Pom, Can. Am. Bda. Ch. Chricendo Causin A Commotion, also a Medallion son, is owned by Kay and Fred Baxstrome.

Number six Pom is an American bred and owned dog, Can. Am. Ch. L. R. Rock Concert Av Stran, bred by Ron Fe and owned by Janet Heffington and Barbara Stranahan. Rocky is also one of the top Poms in the U.S.

The second girl in the Top Ten is Joan Grant's Ch. Jayenn's Fireside Class. Joan's homebred girl holds the number seven spot.

Ch. Mike Mar's Mint Patty is the number eight Pom owned by Old Darbyshire, bred by Michael Wolfe.

Gloria Setmayer's Can. Am. Ch. T. Pines Hells A Poppin' was the number nine Pom in only one trip to Canada.

Finally, Ch. Schimel's Pixie is Sweet owned by Grace Varga is the number ten Pom.

In recent shows, Natalie Dunfee has been doing some exciting winning. She has 5 of consecutive Group First wins in the last month on her C.J.

Michele MacDonald has been showing her C.J. son, Hobbit's Hallmark. By the time this goes to print I'm sure he will be finished.

From recent reports, Canadians have been doing well in the U.S. too. Natalie Dunfee won the Group in Maine recently on Can. Am. Ch. Hillsboro's Golden Chip. Our Ch. Millamor's Rock Medallion at 7 months made his American debut with several Best of Breed from the classes and a Group 2 win in Syracuse, NY.

Sorry I don't have more news from the rest of Canada. The only other news I have heard is that Ch. L.R.'s Rock Concert Av Stran has won a Best in Show and a couple of Groups in Ontario.

I am really pleased that so many of our U.S. friends are planning trips up to Canada in the future. Why not you?

Showmanship will be a good experience. At first I had reservations about it. I didn't like the silly maneuvers that were required but unlikely to ever be used in the Pom ring. I resented what I perceived as prejudice against small dogs and I was leery of the very competitive atmosphere. My daughter has been showing in JS for about 4 years and it has been a positive experience for her. She has developed into a competent and polished handler. In the conformation ring, she appears to be quite poised. Hours and hours of practice have paid off. She has made friends among the juniors who've helped her and given her pointers. She has learned how to lose. She isn't fiercely competitive, maybe because she has been unable to go every weekend to shows. Getting the crucial eight wins for Westminster isn't vital to her. She is required to pay her own entry fees and arrange her own transportation if I'm not going. She must also keep up her grades. Showing is a privilege; it's also a good incentive.

If your child is interested, by all means let him or her try it. Support him, encourage him, praise him, hug him whether he wins or loses. Don't push; don't be a stage mother.

The current Standard for Pomeranians was published in the April issue of Pom Review, as usual. Did you reread it thoughtfully, considering what you've seen and learned in the past year? Or did you, as I suspect, turn the page without a glance? Do you really know our standard as well as you think you do, as well as you should? Several incidents in the ring this spring have indicated to me that some judges either don't know the standard or don't care what it says. Either explanation is reprehensible. Conversations with exhibitors have also revealed a disappointing ignorance of our standard.

Let's take a very brief quiz. No peeking now. Answers will be found on page 92.

1. Which faults are disqualifications?
2. What exactly does the standard say about ideal size?
3. Are there any colors not allowed?
4. Is over-trimming a fault?
5. What exactly does it say about foxes and heads?
6. When is it okay for the nose NOT to be black?
7. Is temperament mentioned?

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA POMERANIAN CLUB by Marlene Presser

On April 14, with the sun shining warmly — feeling like summer time was here, we went off to San Leandro for our Spring Match with our puppy hopefuls and a few adults who needed a little more experience. Arriving at the Dog Training Club facility, we found it more than we had hoped it would be. The ring was large; there were tables, chairs and a lot of room to set up exercise pens and crates — all thanks to the kind efforts of our member, Ruth Bugbee.

One by one, exhibitors began to arrive with their puppies and food for our potluck lunch to follow the judging. Our ring steward, Mary Walsh and her husband, Dale, arrived ready to assume their respective duties. Dale taped all of the match for us and ran a film on the NCPC Fall Specialty and the APC Specialty held in New York. To them both, our sincere thanks for giving up their Saturday for our Pom Club.

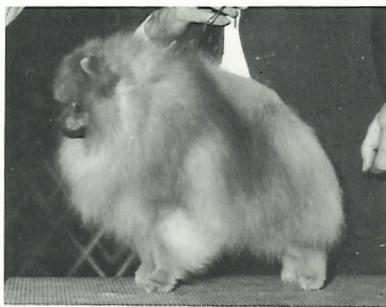

Carol Smith, our judge, soon arrived and we got on with the match. She had her work cut out for her, too. There were many tough decisions to make as the quality of the little furry ones was very high and in some cases she liked the entire class. It was interesting to note that many of the puppies and adults were of varied colors — blacks, a brown and a chocolate sable. It's nice to see that our club is not color oriented and our standard does say that these colors should be judged equally.

Another example of consistency occurred at the Peninsula Dog Fanciers Show March 25th. Judge Mary Rosenbaum picked a father/daughter combination as Winners Dog and Winners Bitch. He is Scotia's Jackpot Dandy bred by Edna Girardot and owned by Virginia Niehouse; Winners bitch and Best of Winners went to his daughter So-Hi's Special Firefly, bred by Virginia Niehouse. Both winners are linebred to Ch. Sungold's Gay Cavalier and both were shown by Bernard Niehouse. Best of Breed went to Ch. Tomho's Georgia Heatwave and Best Opposite to Ch. CJ's Crystal's Isadora.

Carol chose Doris' Romeo of Doyal as Best Puppy in Match. He is a lovely boy who showed like a dream, bred and owned by Doris Weaver. Best Opposite Sex was Jubilee's Ebony Wine, a lovely, compact, black bitch, bred by Lorene Bradbury, owned by Janet Porter. Best Adult went to a black bitch, Jubilee Nightsong, bred and owned by Lorene Bradbury. Best Opposite Sex Adult went to Maranatha's Lil Jeremiah, owned by Anne and Bob Hayden. Carol did a great job and everyone went home with a good feeling, even those who did not hit the top winning spot.

We then had our pot luck lunch and Carol, Mary and Dale stayed to join us. We all talked about how kind Carol was to the little ones and of the superb overall quality she found. Following lunch we held a raffle, had a short meeting and then watched the films. It was a warm and pleasant time for all of us and with the many guests and newcomers to the breed, a wonderful time was had by all.

Club members have been doing well in the ring. Marlin and Marlene Presser finished their bitch, Apolloette Touch of Class at the Beverly Hills Show. Excitement was felt by everyone when Ch. Phyner Black Sombrero, owned by Dolly B. Trauner and Julie Moreno, took a Group I at Sacramento Kennel Club Show on April 15, handled by Marlin Presser. He is a magnificent black Pom with excellent movement. Congratulations to all.

NCPC will have a supported entry this November at the Golden Valley Kennel Club Show.

OPTIC NEURITIS

by Patty Jensen

I want to share an experience with you that I hope you will never have to encounter. One day last month I noticed that my Ch. Camelot's Bashfull Dude would go the wrong way when I let him out of his pen to go outside. I didn't think much of it. When I called him he'd come running and go out the sliding glass door where he was supposed to. The next week one day he couldn't seem to find the door to come back in. When it happened again the next day, I definitely noticed that he could not see the doorway and was hesitant to come in. I took him to another area of the house and I realized that he was totally blind. We went to the vet, but he really couldn't find anything wrong with Dude's eyes. After a one month wait to take him to the University of Minnesota, we finally saw our state's one and only ophthalmologist. Dr. Bistner couldn't find anything wrong with the eyeballs and said that Dude appeared to have optic neuritis, inflammation of the optic nerve. It is a condition that cannot be reversed once it has healed that way. It comes on suddenly and can possibly be reversed with cortisone if it is detected early enough. Dude had gone completely blind before I noticed it and than I had to wait one month to see the ophthalmologist. Dr. Bistner couldn't find a reason why my 5 year old Pom has optic neuritis. It is usually caused by an overdose of anesthesia (he has never been under anesthesia), seizures (he's never had one), or a brain tumor (which has been ruled out because of his age and the fact that there has been no personality change). Optic neuritis is not hereditary so I will be keeping my little champion and he will continue to produce nice babies for me. He is still very happy and has adjusted to his life with no sight. He can still pick out girls in heat and can find my other stud dog, who he still picks fights with even though he can't see him. (Dr. Bistner said that the blindness couldn't have been caused by the fights.)

I just wanted to share my experience with all of you and warn you to expect the unexpected. If you notice your dog questioning where something is, get it to your vet and to an eye specialist immediately. Optic Neuritis happens fast so you have to act fast. Good luck with your Poms!

Answers to "Standard Quiz."

1. None, zero, zip.
2. "The ideal size for show specimens is from 4 to 5 pounds."
3. This is one you can get a good argument going on, but a strict reading of the standard appears to rule out blue and tan, chocolate and tan, and brindle. Beaver was listed in our former standards but not in the current standard.
4. "Overtrimming — should be heavily penalized." Dear judge, "heavily penalized" does not mean you simply ignore all this outrageous, crude trimming.
5. The head has "a fox-like expression." A somewhat vague phrase. Can a dog have an extreme baby face and still have a fox-like expression? How about round eyes? Non-existent ears?
6. "The pigmentation — on the nose must be black, except self-colored in brown and blue." Does this mean a blue may have a blue nose or must have a blue nose?
7. "He exhibits great intelligence in his expression, and is alert in character and deportment." All the standard asks for is intelligence (or the appearance of it) and alertness. A Pom should be much, much more and I wish the standard would say so. Is it okay for a Pom to be aloof? Shy? Aggressive to other dogs?

Novice exhibitors can have many problems showing their first dog and hopefully a seasoned exhibitor will help them. Despite the help they receive sometimes they need more and turn to a handler. Anyone thinking of committing their dog to a handler should re-read Margaret's Helpful Hints column in the last issue.

They as well as the handler should have a continuing interest in the Pom that was sent away . . . as well as a nodding acquaintance with the rules about dog shows. After all, aren't you excited when the handler calls and says Pom-Pom won a point today and two yesterday? Don't you as well as the handler keep a mental or written account of the points?

At the Specialty show, a handler was showing a Pom in both the sweepstakes and the classes who was already a champion by points. The same handler was also showing an adult in the classes, that was also a champion by points. And the owner had been bragging that the Pom was finished. Both Poms had their championships before the entry closing date. An announcement that the Pom was a champion was in the Review and the deadline for our magazine was a few days after the Specialty. Neither Pom won the points at the Specialty or Garden.

What infuriates me more is that the puppy was shown in sweepstakes. To me, sweepstakes is a show case of young hopefuls for championships. It is the breeders or owners saying "Look what I have!" Although winning is an accomplishment and exhilarating, there are no points involved.

Exhibiting a champion in sweepstakes is against APC and AKC rules — if the championship was received before the entry closing date.

JANICE YOUNG St. Clair, MO

Due to several factors, among them the increasing age of my few breeding females and the fact they produced only two females that matured to breedable size in three years time, (and one of which I sold), I found myself on the brink of going out of business as a breeder/exhibitor.

In the past year I have contacted in excess of twenty breeders in an attempt to buy nice quality breeding females with very discouraging results. Only one eventually wrote to offer me a female and when I responded she had been sold to someone who came to her door to buy.

I find it difficult to understand the mentality of such a large group of people who would merrily go their way and watch an established breeder go down the tube. One lady, a friend in Tennessee, has now supplied me with two females and I'm grateful to her. But I wonder about an organization that cares so little about its fellow members. What can be the future of the American Pomeranian Club if its members aren't willing to help each other?

Pampered Pets

Collars of gold and silver studded with jewels, mink coats, a Stetson hat and silk kimonos, ornate dog beds; these are only a few of the many unique and unusual objects that will be presented in Pampered Pets, the summer exhibition at The Dog Museum of America, June 12 — August 31 1984.

The pampered pet, brushed, clipped and attired is not a recent phenomena. Throughout history, certain breeds, especially toy dogs, have been valued as the playthings and the companions of nobility, aristocracy and society women. Along the trade routes of the ancient world, dogs, accompanied by sumptuous accessories, were presented as gifts to emperors and kings. Graves from ancient Egypt contain the vestiges of tiny dogs wearing ornate collars, and, in ancient Rome, dainty lapdogs wore collars of gold and coral. In cold weather, they were covered with golden cloth and carried by slaves for walks with their mistresses. Often, these small dogs acted as "Postillions d'amour," carrying messages in their collars to their mistresses' secret lovers. From the 17th century on London and Paris were centers for canine apparel. Jewelers produced costly trifles to please the owners of expensive dogs. Parisian Poodles wore bracelets of gold and silver studded with jewels. Raincoats and furs were designed to protect dogs from colds and rheumatism. Fashion magazines for dogs were available at the exclusive canine couturiers where the pampered pets were offered tidbits on silver plates while their owners contemplated the latest styles.

The modern dog, sporting a sweater or collar decorated with simulated gems, is a part of this continuing fascination for pampering pets. The exhibition with over sixty objects from the 17th through 20th centuries will extensively illustrate the care and attention lavished on the dog throughout history. An illustrated catalogue with an essay by Guest Curator, Shirlee Kalstone will accompany the exhibition.

The Dog Museum of America, located at 51 Madison Avenue (New York Life Insurance Building) is open Monday — Friday, 10:00 — 4:00. Group tours, please call Laney Dunn at 212-696-8350.
