COVER STORY

Ch. Sungold's Max of Harbin is a dream that materialized. Max has been very special to me since the first day I saw him. I just knew in my heart that he was something extraordinary. Sired by Ch. Great Elms Prince Charming II x Ch. Harbin's Touch of Class, Max was bred by Irene and Sylvia Harbin. Thank you both for breeding such a quality Pom.

Max is a brilliant clear orange with perfect legs and tremendous movement. He loves to show and has personality plus. He loves the world!

Star Dust Pomeranians wants to thank Anna and Ray LaFortune for finishing this great little guy. I will be forever grateful for the excellent handling and TLC my Poms receive when they are away from home.

Max has sired some gorgeous puppies that will be in the show ring in the near future.

Star Dust has acquired the best bloodlines for our breeding program and is striving to produce the perfect stars of tomorrow. Puppies are expected this spring sired by Ch. Sungold's Max of Harbin and Ch. Sungold's Solo, who is a Pom Specialty winner and pictured on the back cover.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dolores Watts
4800 Floral Park Rd.
Brandywine, MD 20613
(301) 372-8782

My very first thought as your new President is to let you know how deeply honored I am. I wish to thank all those members who cast their vote my way. I also wish to express a great deal of thanks to those outgoing members of the Board and Officers who served you so well for the past two years.

As I stated at the Annual Meeting in New York, this Board is here to serve the members and together, working as a team, we will surely resolve the many problems that will come up along the way. We will always be working to uphold the traditions of the APC.

A special thanks is certainly in order to our Corresponding Secretary, Audrey, who along with all her many jobs, handled the Show Chairman position with such success.

As a special note for those members who did not make it this year, the show was a huge success and the Marriott took care of our needs very well. The rooms were lovely, the service was excellent. The main ballroom afforded us a huge ring with lots of seating for spectators. There were a few minor items that could have been a little better, but the comments made to me about the Marriott were all favorable.

The Ohio Valley Pom Club is also to be commended. Under Ron Feyh as Trophy Chairman for the APC Specialty, they did a magnificent job on the trophies. As this was the first time a regional club was involved with this aspect of the show, it sets a very favorable precedent for future APC Specialties. If there are any Regional clubs who would like to participate in the future as the Ohio Valley Pom Club did, I'm sure that Audrey would be delighted to hear from you.

CORRECTIONS

In the January issue, I made two mistakes that I would like to correct. On page 37, I suggested that a dog named BK's Speedy had just achieved a Tracking Dog title. As I well know, and does most of the Pomeranian world by now, this marvelous performer is named BK's Sir Spunky (plus all his various and sundry titles.) My sincerest apologies to Spunky, however speedy he might be, and Brenda Hutton, his patient and understanding owner / handler.

Then, on page 37, I forgot to add the Ch. in front of new champion Dia's Apricot Brandy Bear. Even though the first line of the ad states that she had finished her championship, it would have been nicer to have her name printed correctly in her finishing ad.

So please look for these ads printed correctly in this issue. My apologies to these kind and loyal advertisers.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

by Audrey Roberts

1410 S. 10th St.

Leesville, LA 71446

First, I'm back in Louisiana and we're thrilled to be here! The dogs are ecstatic! We have to row our pirreax through the swamp to get to the house and I tie the dogs to the back and they swim. Just as long as we're faster than the gators, they don't mind! HA! California was great, but we're glad to be home.

Our February Specialty was a gem. The Marriott loved us and wants us back and everyone seemed to truly love the Marriott, too. I must thank Maureen Quinlan for locating this hotel for us. BRAVO! Also, my two extremely competent and efficient stewards, Fred Bassett and Jon Marcanonio. They agreed to repeat their performance next year and I'm publishing this so they can't back out!!! My little hospitality lady who feeds all the judges and committee folks and the AKC Rep, you did a fabulous job. Elizabeth Dupuis has done this job for me now for two years and she's the best. Also, congratulations on your Best in Sweeps win with your gorgeous, super, typey homebred girl. I want to thank my trophy chairman, Ron Feyh. He sweated nails over those trophies and they were superb! The Ohio Pom Club was the trophy committee and they went above and beyond the call of duty in donating time and money on the trophies! Thanks to Jim and Judy Shearer for manning the trophy table all day, also to Larry Rookstool for being at the trophy table all day. This was a long, tiring job.

Thanks to my two old faithfuls, Marlin Presser and Dave Watts. Every year they volunteer for anything I need and always get stuck with setting up rings and taping down plastic. Guys, I couldn't do it without you! Talk about efficient, I told them to meet me in the show room at 8 a.m. I got there at 7:30 and they had already arrived and taped down the plastic and were waiting on me! Good job!

Thanks also to Judy Green for being the Catalog Ads Chairman. Her job isn't over yet as she'll be returning your photos.

And last but not least, thank you Mr. Sam Zaneoff. Sam does several jobs for me every year. First, he always gets the floral centerpiece and the corsages and boutonnieres. This year they were particularly lovely. Sam also tends to the gate. He sells our pins and decals, the catalogs and charges visitors for getting in. This year he got some help from Mary Vickers. But best of all, Sam manages our Annual Banquet! This year we had a record 93 dinners sold! Sam always sees that this runs smoothly. This year the cherries jubilee was delicious! Excellent job, Sam! Sam has also agreed to continue this job and I'm very pleased he's so willing.

I get a lot of credit on the day of the show but as you can see, this is a combined effort and all parts must work in unison to perform the job properly.

In 1988, APC voted in 54 new members. APC supported entries and provided trophies for the Naugatuck KC in Conn. to benefit AIDS research, as well as for the Progressive Dog Club in New York in October.

The following APC Summer Specialties were approved.

Northern California Pom Club - June 9, 1989

Greater Baltimore Pom Club - July 5, 1990

Sooner Pom Club of Oklahoma City - 1991

Columbia Pom Club (Washington) - 1992

Sub-Committee of Jackie Liddle Stacy, Sue Goddard, and Nadine Hersil. This committee is rolling along and doing an excellent job.

Three new standing rules were voted in:

1) A judge is restricted from judging the Annual Specialty more than once in three years. Once accepted, that judge cannot do an APC Regional Specialty one year prior and/or one year after the Annual Specialty that they are judging.

2) All Canadians will be allowed membership at regular rates instead of foreign rates.

3) The APC President, Show Chairman and Show Secretary or any member of their household, may not exhibit dogs at an APC Specialty (National or Regional) and this will be noted on the Premium List.

Your APC Board voted to have ring standards made. Dianne Johnson designed and painted them. We were able to use them this year and they are truly magnificent.

The Sooner Pom Club of Oklahoma City has been sanctioned to hold B-OB matches on June 28, 1988. Way to go! Keep up the good and fast work! If you haven't had a chance to go to one of their matches make a point to do so during the OK circuit! They're a real fun bunch!

Our initial request to AKC for Obedience approval was denied. A compilation of information on obedience interested members was gathered and sent to AKC. We are waiting on their decision.

On September 13, 1988 Sam Zaneoff was officially elected by AKC as delegate to APC. In another election, our new officers of the APC were chosen.

APC Board Meeting

Saturday, February 11, 1989

In Attendance: Olga Baker, Sam Zaneoff, Sue Goddard, Mary Vickers, Audrey Roberts, Morris Carson, Dolores Watts, Peter Galindo, Dianne Johnson, Marlene Presser, Fred Bassett. Absent: John Cribbs. APC Members: Jim and Judy Shearer, Margaret McKee, Dudley Roach, Dave Watts, Edna Girardot, Jean Schroll.

The meeting was called to order at 12:15 p.m. by the president, Olga Baker. Minutes from the last telephone conference (8/3/88) and the last Board meeting (Feb 1988) were read by the Recording Secretary.

Corresponding Secretary's Report:

Audrey reported that throughout the year, 54 new members were voted upon.

The APC Summer Specialties will be as follows: Northern California Pom Club June 9, 1989, Pom Club of Greater Baltimore, July 5, 1990, and the Sooner OK Pom Club in 1991.

The Judges Education committee (chair, Sally Baugniet), had done much work and would be brought up under unfinished business. The APC "stickers" were going over well and a supply was here for sale at the Specialty.

A Board hearing was held on March 23, 1988 to hear charges against member Alexandra Gonos. The outcome of this hearing was to suspend Mrs. Gonos and to recommend expulsion by the membership at the Annual Meeting.

Three new standing rules were adopted. They involve Specialty judging restrictions, Canadian membership dues and that the APC president, show chairman and show secretary cannot exhibit at APC shows.

Treasurer's Report:

Morris furnished his end of year reports as well as a January ending balance of $14,684.65. A copy of his financial statement was given to each officer.

Committee Reports:

Obedience:

Mary Vickers reported that to have obedience trials the AKC requested 'obedience biographies' on all APC members. This was compiled and submitted. We are awaiting further instructions from the AKC. It might mean having "A" or "B" matches, or direct trials.

Placement standards:

Dianne Johnson has already carried the new markers downstairs.

Gonos:

Olga reported that Mrs. Gonos has been charged and convicted (of civil matters), is in prison and in all probability will not be present at the Annual Meeting.

Audit:

Ballots having been passed out during the meeting, Sam and Sue, who acted as tellers, report that this committee will be composed of Judy Green, Tim Goddard and Edna Girardot.

Elections:

In like manner, Tony Tellez, Dudley Roach and Margaret McKee, as well as Audrey Roberts, will convene to count ballots.

Unfinished Business:

Revision of Standard:

Sally Baugniet is ill and cannot attend. After much discussion revolving around the proposed formatting and changes to the standard, and the input received from the Board, local clubs and members, Olga made the following statement: "The Board has never voted to comply with AKC standardization, nor asked this committee to change the Standard." Peter made the motion that "we do not conform to the AKC request to standardize the Standard." Audrey seconded. This passed with 10 pro and 1 opposed. Fred motioned and Marlene seconded that "we recommend no changes to the Standard at this time." This passed unanimously. Dianne motioned that "we

APC Annual Meeting

February 12, 1989

Roll Call: Sign-in sheets were passed around. 54 members were present and 14 guests. A quorum was present.

Recording Secretary: Mary Vickers read the minutes from the 1988 Annual meeting President's Report: Olga Baker reviewed 1988, commenting on the Summer Specialty held at Des Moines and the Anniversary Review issue. She commended Dianne Johnson on the ring placement standards she had done and the membership applauded the same.

Corresponding Secretary's Report: Audrey Roberts stated we had gained 54 new members in 1988. The APC supported both the Naugatuck KC and Progressive KC shows. The APC approved the following local clubs to host Summer Specialties:

- 1989 - Northern California Pom Club (6-9-89)
- 1990 - Pom Club of Greater Baltimore (7-5-90)
- 1991 - Sooner Pom Club (Oklahoma)
- 1992 - Columbia Pom Club

The Judges Education Committee was very busy under the leadership of Sally Baugniat. Three new standing rules have been adopted. We obtained ring placement standards for use at our Specialties. The Obedience Committee, under Mary Vickers, was continuing in their attempts to pursue holding obedience trials. Sam Zaneoff has been accepted as our AKC delegate and is representing our Club.

Treasurer's Report: Morris Carson presented his report giving our closing balance for 1988 at $10,398.09 and a January ending balance of $14,684.65.

Mrs. Baker then spoke. "This past year our Board faced an unpleasant task where charges were made against an APC member - Alexandra Gonos. Abiding by our by-laws, a Board committee composed of Fred Bassett, Audrey Roberts, myself and our attorney, met. The charges were sustained. Mrs. Gonos is suspended and at this time we are recommending to the membership that Mrs. Gonos be expelled as a member of this Club." The president then called for the defendant. Mrs. Gonos did not appear. The charges submitted were that Mrs. Gonos used a Pom at stud without the knowledge of the Pom's owner; signed and sent to the AKC, litter registration papers on the subsequent litter. Your Board has recommended expulsion and it is your duty to vote on this matter. Skip Piazza and Tony Tellez passed out ballots. The results of this secret ballot were 49-for; 4 against and 1 abstention; therefore Mrs. Gonos was expelled.

Mrs. Baker then spoke regarding the long-standing request to change the location of this Specialty. After locating and researching our charter, the only thing necessary is for us to change our by-laws. Therefore, the Board is recommending this and it will be mailed to the membership for their vote. The president then commended Audrey Roberts, the Show Chairman, for her magnificent job this year. She also stated that Audrey had begun a new idea - having local clubs, such as the Ohio Valley Pom Club, be responsible for trophies. The black marble trophies this year were gorgeous and the Ohio Valley members were also to be commended for their useful and beautiful trophies.

Mrs. Baker then called for the results of the Election Committee. The following are our new officers:

- President - Dolores Watts
- 1st Vice President - Dianne Johnson
- 2nd Vice President - Nadine Hersil
- Treasurer - Morris Carson
- Corresponding Secretary - Audrey Roberts
- Recording Secretary - Judith Green

Dudley Roach invited all to attend the Summer Specialty to be held in San Francisco in June 1989.

Darrell Baker motioned that since there was a shortage of catalogs, the marked catalog be printed in the Review. Seconded by Skip Piazza, this passed.

Audrey Roberts gave a report on the show. She also asked Maureen Quinlan to stand and be acknowledged, as she was the one who found this terrific new site. The 1990 judges are to be Nadine Hersil for Sweeps and Sally Baugnet for Regular classes. Unless there are complications, the Specialty will be held here at the Marriott again. Mrs. Roberts then announced in order to maintain this site, room checks could be conducted after check-out. Those with problem rooms would not be allowed to show again at a Specialty.

Sam Zaneoff announced that 93 people would be feasting tonight at the Awards Banquet.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Synopsis of Board Meeting

Janice Luginsland explained the Judges Study Group.

Phyllis Ripley's contract will be renewed.

Olga Baker was re-appointed at Gazette columnist. It was suggested by Mary that since this was the first time obedience awards were attained by an all champion group, this be mentioned in the column.

Dianne Johnson will assume chair of the Local Clubs committee.

5) Mary Vickers will revise the Guidelines for Hosting an APC Specialty.

6) Mary also stated that conformation award requirements are nearly ready. They will be given at the next Annual Specialty. More statisticians are needed.

7) Names of judges for 1990 were submitted and will be presented to the membership for their vote.

NOTICE

CONFORMATION AWARDS

To be awarded at the Annual Specialty, these awards will be based on the "AKC Awards" book from January through December of the previous year; not the shows from January 1st.

THE 1989 APC POMERANIAN SPECIALTY

NEW YORK

by Dorothy Bonner

With the thrill and anticipation of a wonderful Pomeranian Specialty close at hand, I left my plane at the LaGuardia Airport. I walked to the hotel area of the terminal and there was a contact button to call for a courtesy car to take me to the LaGuardia Marriott. It was waiting for me by the time I reached the curb. The ease was so unbelievable that I had doubts that the short ride had taken me to the correct place. Staying for awhile in the lobby, I watched breeders arriving with stacked kennels full of Poms. Seeing happy, familiar faces was fun.

For Saturday evening, our good friend Sam Zaneoff had arranged for snacks in a hospitality room that seemed so large that it almost isolated the groups of folks. We put the tables together for a more chummy environment. Everybody retired rather early looking forward to the event of the near the next day.

Arriving at the catalog desk rather early on Sunday, I was shocked to find all catalogs sold out. NO MORE CATALOGS! I was disappointed beyond description. I was ready to leave and go back home, as not being able to place the dogs would eliminate most of the fun for me. About this time Olga Baker rushed up to me requesting that I write a commentary for the Review. A borrowed catalog made this possible, with a "used" one promised for later. As this was the only way one could be obtained, I readily consented.

There was a total entry of 178.

KENNEL VISITS

We would again like to publish Kennel Visits. If you can think of someone who deserves this honor, please contact Dolores Watts, President of the APC for the qualifications.

One of the things that made the Anniversary Issue so much fun was reading about so many different breeders. Let's have more articles such as those on a regular basis and really get to know the people who have the future of the breed in their hands.

Love Me Tender Pomeranians

proudly presents

Ch. Mullens Bee Bopper Baby Bop

(Ch. Annon's Sir Kennor x Golden Oaks Truly Amber Gold)

"Bee Bop" finished his championship Oct. 28, 1988 under Judge Frank E. Oberstar. I want to thank all the judges who thought him worthy, especially Mr. Oberstar and Mr. Robert J. Moore for his major points.

"Bee Bop" is the 4th champion sired by Ch. Annon's Sir Kennor, and several others are pointed. A special thank you to John K. Bishop for breeding Kenny. He's a great little man. "Bee Bop" is solid, sound, 3 1/2 years old and a proven sire. Watch for "Bee Bop" and "Kenny" get in the ring this summer.

Ch. Autumn's Riveria Enchantress

(Ch. Autumn's Cairo of Bi-Mar x Ch. Autumn's Precious Zhen Zhan)

While I wasn't looking (that was a little hard to do considering she was only in the Bred-By Class), she became a champion at 9 months of age during the shows in Boise, Idaho in October. She is the type, as her sire was, who needs a household of her very own. With a lot of searching and soul searching, we found the perfect mistress for her. Even out of coat, she is "in coat" and will return to Canada in early March to seek her final three points there. Pedigree Behind The New Champions.

This puppy boy has been busy lately going BOB from the puppy class over a special for a nice 5 point major. At the Columbia Pomeranian Club Winter Specialty he went BOS in the Sweepstakes. He is a brilliant orange with cream bib and britches with one of those rare, true baby faces. He is at home with his new owner.

This tiny little pro can steal many a heart. Her first time out at just 6 months, she went WB, BOW and BOS over a special, with BOB going to grandpa, Ch. Bi-Mar Bit of Tassajara. At one of the next shows, they again repeated the wins, giving her a nice 5 point major. At the Columbia Pomeranian Club Winter Specialty she went Best in Sweepstakes. She will remain here until she competes her championship and will then go to her new owner.

CLUB NEWS

BAY COLONY POMERANIAN CLUB by Claire Flesner

Here at the Bay Colony Club we are mourning the death of Francis "Case" Casey. Case had a recurrence of his cancer, in addition to the many health problems he suffered in recent years. Case and his late wife Mary founded Topaze Kennels, which even now provides the background for many of our Poms. Case and Mary were among the very early members of our club and were very active in it. Both at separate times served as President. It was Mary who was usually in the ring, while Case was always there doing all the grooming. He taught most of us in this area how to groom our Poms. After Mary died, Case did continue to breed and show Poms until his ill health forced him to sell the kennel. He will be missed.

Our April B-OB Match will be history by the time you read this. We are looking forward to a grand turnout of entries and people.

Our Annual Specialty Show is March 13, 1989, at West Springfield, MA in conjunction with the Springfield Kennel Club. The judge will be A. Schwartz. Our annual dinner and meeting will be held following the judging. All Pom people who will be at the show, whether showing or just watching, are most welcome to join us for lunch and fun-talk. Our eating time is usually around noon. Just look for the Pom poster located in the far corner. We will be there. Come and join us.

Have you hugged your Pom today?

COLUMBIA POMERANIAN CLUB by Kay M. Zirkel

As I write this we are experiencing the coldest winter weather the Northwest has known in many years. While I wait for the pipes to thaw and my chill banes to send more shivers, I can acknowledge my Poms as being truly Spitz type dogs. Can you believe that with the temperatures reaching -37 degrees (with a chill factor) they still want to go outside at 6:00 a.m. Oh well, I just throw another log on the fire and get cozy.

On Thursday January 19, 1989 the Columbia Pomeranian Club inc. held our Winter Specialty Show at Multnomah Expo Center in Portland, OR. Judges for the show were Mr. David Krough for Sweet stakes and Mrs. Jean Schroll as Steward. Mr. Fred C. Basset did the Breed class with Kay M. Zirkel as Steward.

Our club wishes to thank the entrants from out of state and the excellent representatives of the breed they brought with them. In our Sweepstakes, Princess Baby Sweet Sweet, owned by Susan Stauacher.

of the Town, bred and owned by Nan Shar-tel of Rialto, CA. He was beautifully handled by Anna LaFortune. This little fellow was really struttin' his stuff. Super job by both Pom and Anna. How fitting that this lovely cream was crowned cream of the crop! Congratulations to you, Nan!

We sincerely regret that there were problems with this year's premium lists. We have taken steps to correct this in the future. Due to illness of our beloved and most respected treasurer and trophy chairperson, we were not able to award the prizes as stated in the catalog. We wish Averil Asbeck a speedy recovery and hope to see her at our meetings real soon. We hope that the cash prizes awarded to the winners was not offensive to anyone.

We all enjoyed the casual dinner and relaxing conversation at the judges dinner following the show. Our next specialty will be in July held in conjunction with the Greater Clark County KC at Hockinson Field, Hockinson, WA at their beautiful grounds. We invite you to join us for what has always been a very special show. Here's how the judging went during the next three days.

STANDARD FOR POMERANIANS

1980 revisions to the Standard appear in italics

APPEARANCE: The Pomeranian in build and appearance is a cobby, balanced, short-coupled dog. He exhibits great intelligence in his expression, and is alert in character and deportment.

HEAD: Well-proportioned to the body, wedge-shaped but not domed in outline, with fox-like expression. There is a pronounced stop with a rather fine but not snipey muzzle, with no lippiness. The pigmentation around the eyes, lips, and on the nose must be black, except self-colored in brown and blue. A round, domey skull is a major fault. Light pigmentation on nose or eye rims is a major fault.

TEETH: The teeth meet in a scissors bite, in which part of the inner surface of the upper teeth meets and engages part of the outer surface of the lower teeth. One tooth out of line does not mean an undershot or overshot mouth. An undershot mouth is a major fault.

EYES: Bright, dark in color, and medium in size, almond shaped and not set too wide apart nor too close together.

EARS: Small, carried erect and mounted high on the head, and placed not too far apart.

NECK AND SHOULDERS: The neck is rather short, its base set well back on the shoulders. The Pom is not straight-in-shoulder, but has sufficient lay-back of shoulders to carry the neck proudly and high. Out at elbows or shoulders is a major fault.

BODY: The back must be short and topline level. The body is cobby, being well rounded and rounded. The Brisket is fairly deep and not too wide.

LEGS: The forelegs are straight and parallel, of medium length in proportion to a well balanced frame. The hocks are perpendicular to the ground, parallel to each other from hock to heel, and turning neither in nor out. The Pomeranian stands well up on toes. Down pasterns is a major fault. Cow hocks or lack of soundness in hindlegs or stifles is a major fault.

TAIL: The tail is characteristic of the breed. It turns over the back and is carried high. It is profusely covered with hair.

COAT: Double-coated; a short, soft, thick undercoat, with longer, coarse glistening outercoat consisting of guard hairs which must be harsh to the touch in order to give the proper texture for the coat to form a frill of profuse, standing-off straight hair. The front legs are well feathered and the hindquarters are clad with long hair or feathering from the top of the rump to the hocks. A soft, flat, or open coat is a major fault.

COLOR: Acceptable colors to be judged on an equal basis; any solid color, any solid color with lighter or darker shadings of the same color, any solid color with sable or black shadings, parti-color, sable, and black and tan. Black and tan is black with tan or rust, sharply defined, appearing above each eye and on muzzle, throat and forechest, on all legs and feet and below the tail. Parti-color is white with any other color distributed in even patches on the body and a white blaze on head. A white chest, foot, or leg on a whole-colored dog (except white) is a major fault.

MOVEMENT: The Pomeranian moves with a smooth, free, but not loose action. He does not elbow out in front nor move excessively wide nor cow-hocked behind. He is sound in action.

SIZE: The weight of a Pomeranian for exhibition is 3 to 7 pounds. The ideal size for show specimens is from 4 to 5 pounds.

TRIMMING AND DEWCLAWS: Trimming for neatness is permissible around the feet and up the back of the legs to the first joint; trimming of unruly hairs on the edges of the ears and around the anus is also permitted. Ch. Stolanne's Sweet Ginger Brown

(Ch. Dixieland Rock of Millamor x O My Starmist Minuette)

Ginger is shown taking second in the Toy Group under Judge Charles Deer after going Best of Breed for a 3 point major. She is our second champion from the Stolanne Kennel, joining ranks with her littermate Starlet (Jan. issue), and our little Prancing Prince (Jan. issue). We wish to thank the following judges for recognizing Ginger's qualities: Miss Martha Jane Ablett, Mr. Charles Deer, Mrs. Toddie Clark, Mrs. Keke Blumberg-Kahn, Mr. Joseph Gregory, Mrs. Victor Olmos-Ollivier and Mrs. Edna Voyles.

Thanks again to special friends Gail Wagner, Nancy Fry and Jenny Carlton for all your guidance and encouragement.

Our sincere gratitude to you, Fran Stoll, for letting us have this gorgeous little girl. Your enthusiasm and dedication to the breed has plunged us head first into a new world of showing and breeding these precious little Poms. It must be very rewarding to see four new champions in 1988 from your kennel.

Chalk up another one for Stolanne, and we'll see you in the Winners Circle!

Business Turns Into Pleasure

by D. Barnes

We planned our first kennel visit out of Michigan to be a 1754 mile round trip to the Lenette Pomeranian Kennels of K.G. Griffith in North Carolina. My mother, two traveling companions and myself enjoyed such beautiful country, hand painted by God and caressed by Mother Nature. We arrived after dark and were greeted warmly by Ken, as only a southern gentleman could. He escorted us to his kennel, a nice clean building with well-kept runs for the adults, and a nursery for the newborns and expectant mothers. The ready-to go pups were in large play pens. Such a variety of colors and sizes, it was hard to choose just one. Besides raising adorable Poms, Ken's other hobby is raising orchids. He has three greenhouses full of the most beautiful, huge, colorful flowers I have ever have the pleasure of viewing. Before we left he gave us each one. I had never had an orchid before so needless to say, I had a lot of firsts on this trip.

As I really had come to buy a puppy, I came back to the kennel a chose a lovely little red female. Of course, the one I really wanted wasn't for sale. All breeders, I have learned, must keep replacing their own stock. A buyer comes second. As two others were spoken for, we decided to sleep on it. Ken offered us coffee and cake but we hadn't had supper yet so we declined his offer. We told him we would be back in the morning and returned to the motel. Mom and I talked most of the night. You'd have thought we were having a pajama party! The dog we came to buy was my birthday present from her.

Morning finally came and I could hardly wait. We had our complimentary breakfast and got right back on the road to Ken's. Wouldn't you know, the lady who had spoken for the two we had seen the night before decided to take them. Our final choice was the little red show quality Great Elms female. My mom's middle name is Jewel, so we named her Dan-D's Wee Jewel of Lenette. We also bought two 8 week old males and named them Dan-D's Mister T, "Teddy," and Dan-D's Traveling Buddy.

We reluctantly said our good byes and headed to Charlotte and the dog show there. Skip Piazza was showing Prince Charming and I got to meet them both. On Friday Skip took Group 2 and Saturday won the Group. And whom should we sit down next to but the queen of Poms herself, Ruth Beam and Desaree Sandifer. What an honor to meet these fine ladies. Ruth has 51 years of raising and showing Poms to her credit. They say you are never too old to learn and Ruth gave me some advice I'd like to share, "Don't ever give up," she said, "because a quitter is always a loser." She quit 15 years ago and if she hadn't come back there would be no Prince Charming today. I'm very proud of this lady and I'm grateful that I had the opportunity to meet and chat with her.

In Memory of Bunny

A brave and endearing little Pom (February 1984 - June 1986)

by Barbara Stoffer

(Back in 1986 when I first wrote a small tribute to Bunny, one of our dearest little ones, the hurt and pain of losing her were just too great to talk about it openly - especially for Shari. The years have helped ease the pain somewhat and time has given us shining memories of this most exceptional little Pom. We feel we are now ready to share her story.)

Right from the start I think we knew little Bunny was only on short term loan to us. Such a tiny bundle of cream colored fur, she had a very hard time getting into this world at all. Her mother had a difficult time with the delivery and had to have help from the vet. He said no Caesarean was needed but as we stood by and watched, he did have quite a time getting hold of the puppy to help it come. He finally managed to get the mother to push just a little more and with his help, little Bunny finally entered this world. Her mother Jennifer had been in labor for quite awhile and was obviously getting too tired to do it all herself. At home we had tried to help but just couldn't get a firm hold on the puppy. It would come a little way - just enough to touch - and then would recede. The vet said there was no physical reason that the puppy shouldn't be born naturally. It was not breech, nor was it too big. It was just one of those things.

To all appearances little Bunny looked fine at birth. Certainly as normal as her brother who followed soon after her birth without nearly the difficulty she had experienced. Although it wasn't apparent then, we discovered later that somehow, something inside her tiny head had been bruised and permanently damaged during the birth process.

Up until she was about 6 months old, Bunny was a normal, happy, playful and loving little Pom. Then the seizures started. From that time on, although Bunny was normal and happy in every other way, the ruthless seizures would make regular appearances. Her brother was fine and quite normal. (The vet assured us that Bunny's condition was not a hereditary fault, but an unexpected happening during the birth. He advised putting her on medication to control the seizures and indicated that we probably wouldn't have her even a year.

Bunny was Shari's constant and devoted companion, perhaps even more so because she was different than the other Poms. She seemed to need more love and tenderness and wasn't always able to cope with the rough and tumble play of the others, although she definitely tried. I don't think Bunny ever had any idea that she might be limited in her abilities and capabilities. She always gave her very best, even in play with the other Poms. But Shari would stop her and pick her up to get her slowed down, because if she got too tired or played too hard it would bring on a seizure.

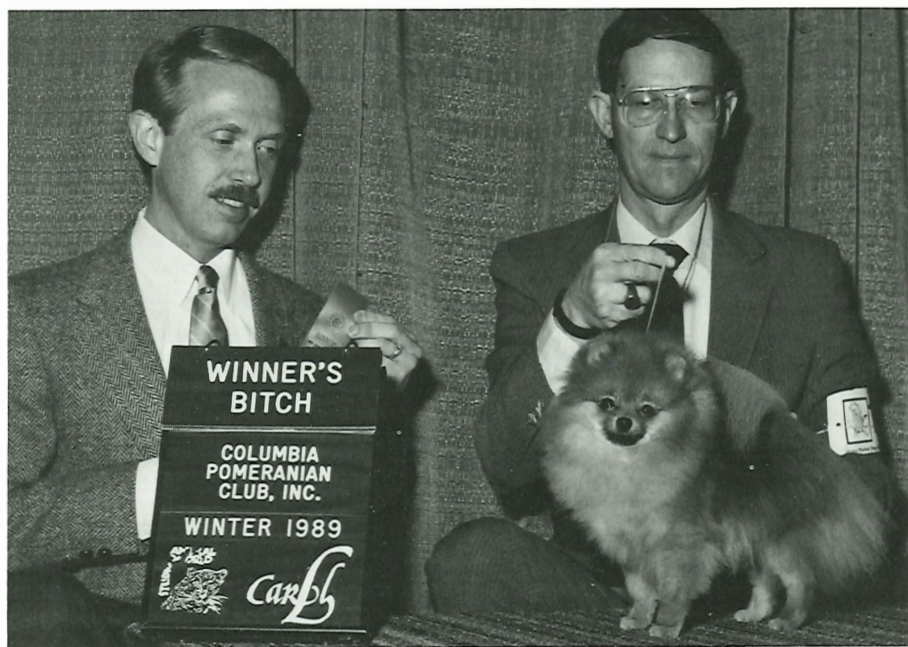

Bunny had something very special that made her almost human, nearly childlike. She would cuddle up in Shari's arms, sitting upright with her little head tucked in against Shari's neck. She would close her eyes and rest that way as long as Shari would hold her, content to be close to the one she loved and trusted the most. When it was time to do some book work at the table and Shari would put her down on the floor, Bunny would come right back and stand up against Shari's legs, wedge her little head between Shari's knees and just stare up at Shari, not making a sound. She had the most direct gaze and even if you weren't looking at her, you knew she was looking at you. Of course she was irresistible and almost always got picked up and held again.

As I mentioned, we are quite sure that Bunny had absolutely no idea that she was any different than our other Poms. When the seizures would grab her, she would twist and bend with them uncontrollably, but if Shari spoke to her and held her it seemed to soothe her and she would come out of them much quicker. When Shari called her name, Bunny would come from anywhere she was, even in the grip of a seizure. Amazed, I watched that happen many times. The only time Bunny couldn't respond when Shari called her was during their last night together.

Such a funny little Pom, Bunny never growled or got irritated with anyone. She didn't have a grumpy word for anyone and her whole world was trusting, carefree and happy. She would often sleep upside down, with all four feet folded above her. When Bunny slept, she was really sound asleep, too. It must have had something to do with the medication, because she wouldn't hear a thing unless you were right next to her. Sometimes she would lie down and instantly be fast asleep. Again, it must have been the medication.

When Bunny was playing she would trot around with that funny little crooked gait of hers, with her umbrella tail curled over her back (as you may have guessed by now, she was not a show type Pom). In the evenings when it was time for the canned food treat for all the Poms, Bunny knew as soon as Shari put the can in the electric open. She would be the first Pom to the crate, where each was put to enjoy their share. She would stand in the doorway with just her head peeking out making very unique little yelping sounds of her very own. We've never had any other Pom make those kinds of noises - almost like a raccoon's chatter and yodel all rolled up into one. Bunny would stay there doing that until Shari fed her first. She never missed her cue and occasionally she would spin quite rapidly in her excitement.

During her second year, Bunny's medications had to be changed and regulated to try and out-guess the seizures and we were able to keep them in check. Only once in a while would they flip her over in their power. Throughout all of this, Bunny never let it affect her attitude toward us. She loved everybody and was always one of the first Poms to greet people as they came in - sometimes a little wobbly but still in there trying for the attention. She may not have been one of the most typey and beautiful of our Poms but she surely was one of the dearest and most loved.

Sometimes after a seizure she would have to walk around following the walls, as her judgement wasn't too good and she walked into things. They she would snap out of it and be quite normal again.

Bunny's seizures never lasted more than a minute or two and were never so severe that we felt she was in constant pain. They would sometimes not appear for days and she never had more than one or two in a day, so we never considered putting her down. She was Shari's dear friend who just needed a little more love and understanding than the others. I know that if Bunny had been suffering, Shari would have felt differently about treating her. Shari had her checked regularly by the vet, kept her up on her vaccinations and Bunny was never sick or run down. She was healthy in all other ways.

Bunny and Shari were totally devoted to each other. Bunny always knew when Shari was coming home. She would be there waiting, one of the first at the door, to be picked up and hugged. Then she was content just to be near her, often laying across her lap while Shari worked at the able. Other times Bunny would come to the side of Shari's bed and ask to be put up. There she would fall fast asleep in her wonderful, relaxed, upside-down way, on Shari's pillow, content to be near her favorite friend all through the night.

During her second year, the seizures came more frequently and became more severe and the medication had to be steadily increased to help compensate. Twice a day she got two kinds of pills as well as a quid, all tranquilizers.

Bunny seemed to be more tired than usual even though she would still play and be her usual self, but we did feel she was slowing down. The medications had to be taking a tremendous toll on her whole system, even though they were vital to her existence.

Throughout all of this, Bunny never complained or gave any indication that she was not happy about being here with us. In fact, she became closer still to Shari wanting to be picked up and held in her favorite way.

We felt that we were lucky to have her because, we remembered what the vet had said about not even having her a year and here she was nearly two and a half.

So it was in June and Bunny was into her third year with us. Suddenly we noticed a marked change in her. She slept most of the time and was not as playful or alert as usual. By the middle of the week she developed diarrhea and some spitting up. We rushed her to the vet right way. He seemed to think she had picked up a virus of some kind and put her on an antibiotic and something else to control the vomiting. But Bunny got steadily weaker. We called the vet at home and told him, but he didn't seem to think it necessary to see her again until the next morning. He advised no food and only tiny sips of water to help stop the vomiting. By the next morning, whatever was wrong had literally knocked little Bunny right off her feet. She was too weak to even get up to potty. She had wet in her little bed which is something she would never do. Very alarmed and getting slightly upset and the vet's attitude, I called him early and took Bunny right over. He gave her IVs to help the loss of fluids and two injections, one for vomiting and another antibiotic. Then he told us to take her home and watch her, again advising no food and only sips of water. At this point, Bunny was far too weak to want food and was now refusing water as well.

All of this happened within a 36 hour period, from the first time we took her to the vet. When we got her home we did just that - watched her. We were just watching her fade right before our eyes. At 8 p.m. that evening I called the vet at home, told him she was very weak and not responding to much of anything. We suggested that perhaps she could use some more IV for fluids, or . . . something. Quite curtly he said she did not need any more fluid, that what he had given her would be enough to tide her over until the next morning. We asked if there wasn't something he could do if we took her over to his hospital, just five minutes away from us and from him. His comment at that point was, "Oh you can take her over there, but I'm not going to sit up all night with her." Needless to say we did not intend to do that, but we really were disturbed by his tone and attitude.

Bunny was content to just watch Shari, who stayed as close as possible and gave her little bits of water with an eye dropper to keep her mouth and tongue moist. Each time Shari lifted Bunny's head to offer her water, Bunny would gratefully lick Shari's hand and look up at her with those big, sad eyes.

I watched Shari, knowing her anxiety and fear, as she and Bunny shared those long, fearful hours comforting each other. Shari often held up Bunny's little head, gently stroking her, reassuring her that she was there.

At midnight Bunny suddenly took a turn for the worse. Her breathing was more rapid and shallow. She wasn't responding to Shari's voice as well as before. Shari picked up her head to offer her more water and we suddenly knew that she was going. Shari was crying, "Bunny, oh little Bunny, please don't leave me. Come back little friend." But this time Bunny just couldn't come when Shari called her. All I could think of or see through my own tears was little Bunny going down that long tunnel with the bright light at the end, trotting that funny little crooked gait with her umbrella tail held high, Shari calling to her. I swear Bunny paused and looked back, but this time she just couldn't come. And without a whimper and no knowledge of what was happening to her, our dear sweet little Bunny left us at 12:20 a.m. with our tears, our memories and her lifeless body that had always been so warm and loving.

Shari and I could not (nor did we try) hold back the tears. It was so heart breaking to have helplessly watched his happen in such a short time. I can't say we were unprepared, but is always unexpected, no matter how you try to plan. The hurt is overwhelming and cuts deeply into your heart.

Shari gently wrapped little Bunny in a small blanket and softly laid her in a box with one of her favorite toys. We closed the box and Shari finally fell asleep on the couch with the little box near by. But the tears just wouldn't stop. Early the next morning we sadly laid Bunny to rest forever among the roses at the side of our house. As we stood there we somehow knew that Bunny was back at home in the arms of the Good Shepherd. He had lovingly loaned her to us for a short while, but now she was back with Him. No more seizures, not more medicines; safe, at peace and perhaps waiting to be held in Shari's arms again sometime in the future.

How the heart aches for a little one that is gone so suddenly. We can still see her everywhere, doing all the little things that only she did, leaving a void in the heart that not even all the other Poms can fill. There will always be a special place in our hearts for a little umbrella tailed lady with a crooked trot who gave her love and her life unselfishly to her family and her best friend, Shari.

Her grave is covered with small pine boughs and a freshly cut rose. When it looks like rain we cover it to help keep her warm and dry. That may sound a little odd, but it makes us feel better - like we're doing something for her now because we couldn't help her before.

Time will soften the sharp edge of pain. In time the memories will become warm and happy ones and in time, Shari will again hold little Bunny next to her heart.

Looking back, we now think that Bunny had slowed down a great deal more than we were aware at the time in the preceding weeks. She had never really been sick before the vet said she had a virus, but she had been sleeping a lot. When she did get sick, she must not have had the strength to fight it off. Surely her immune system was compromised by the years on so much medication.

As for our vet's attitude, I can't say if he was right or wrong. I just know that our trust and confidence in him has diminished greatly. Both Shari and I feel that when a person accepts the responsibility of caring for the sick and needy (human or animal) he also accepts the fact that he may be called on when it is inconvenient to him. Further, his responsibility is also to the family of the sick individual, not just the patient. He may have felt that Bunny's prognosis was hopeless medically. He didn't say that, but he may have known. On the other hand, we needed his concern and compassion at that time not his insensitivity.

When this vet first started his practice, we were one of his first, and certainly one of

ANNUAL STUD DOG REGISTER

It is a well-known adage that in seeking a stud for one's broods the surest road to success comes from selecting a stud which is from an excellent family of winning and producing dogs, which is an outstanding example of the breed himself and which has sired a number of winning progeny. There are many such Poms in this country and it should always be remembered that a study of the pedigree is of highest value in picking the most suitable stud for each particular female. It is foolish to select a stud dog ONLY on the basis of his show wins or because he is conveniently located next door.

The cost of entering your dog in the Stud Dog Register is $10.00 for each entry, plus the cost of the photo (also $10.00). Dogs may be entered without photos, if none is available, and a description of the dog may be inserted in the space intended for the photograph. Color will reproduce very well; Polaroids are acceptable but not preferred. The best photo for reproduction is a black and white glossy. Description beneath cut is limited to twenty words. Please send copies of pedigrees that do not need to be returned. It would be nice to have the dog's color included among the details about him.

The Stud Dog Register will of course, be presented just as it always has, but don't hesitate to submit full and half page ads featuring your studs. I will group all the stud ads together in one section, with the Register following all the full and half page ads. This issue will be a valuable resource for the whole country, the whole year.

As in years past, we again honor the Top Stud for the preceding year with a complimentary Stud Card in this issue. The Top Stud for 1988 was Ch. Southland's Toasted Fudge. He sired an amazing 11 champions in 1988 (I wonder if that is a Pomeranian producing record for one year? Experts, let us know!) He is bred and owned by Charlotte Creed and Beverly Norris. Our sincerest congratulations to both of you.

Harbin's Pomeranians Says farewell to a truly great lady

Frank Oberstar, Irene and Ch. Tiffany's Star of India
One of our favorite judges, "Mom," and our foundation bitch.

Mom passed away on January 16, 1989. The Poms and I miss her more than words could possibly express. She was one of the kindest, most generous, helpful and honest ladies one could ever know. Mom took a great deal of pride in our Poms and invested a lot of time and love in them, and my dog education. We take comfort in knowing that she is now with Pappa Ralph and no longer in pain, watching and guiding us from above. She has built a solid foundation and strong guidelines, which I intend to follow and build upon.

She often said that some of the best people were in dogs, and she loved and cherished the friendships she made. With rare exception, her doggy friends were the ones she held most dear and never disappointed her. I know that these friends are also suffering a great sense of loss.

To all of you who have called or sent cards or spoken to me at the shows, I would like to say thank you. I will do my best to carry on for Mom.

Harbin's Pomeranians

“Jeremy”

(Ch. Great Elms Prince Charming II x Ch. Harbin's Touch of Class)

I have been hearing rumors and receiving inquiries about Jeremy. I would like to respond. Jeremy is alive and well here at Harbin's Poms. He is producing beautiful puppies - mostly girls. If you want a second opinion, ask Dana Plonkey and Randy Gemmill of Valcopy-Wakhan. They have had two litters sired by Jeremy - the latest had four girls. If you want another opinion, ask Dr. Morris Carson what he thinks of his new brood out of Emcee's Solid Gold Felicia and Jeremy. Of course I'm prejudiced, but I can hardly wait to start my new Jeremy son, Harbin's Carry on for Irene.

I do have two males I'd consider selling. I would like them to go together but that's not absolutely necessary. Can. Ch. Harbin's Editorial Comment (Ch. Emcee's A Chip of Diamond x Harbin's Constant Comment), needs a four point major, and Harbin's Champagne Celebration (A/C Ch. Harbin's Time To Pop The Cork x Harbin's Constant Comment). Their dam is a litter sister to A/C Ch. Harbin's You Sweet Talker. All inquiries are welcome. Pedigrees on request.

In Memory of Irene Harbin

Irene passed away January 16, 1989 of cancer. She took over writing this column for Erin Hundley when Erin moved to California in 1987 and has shared her knowledge and experiences through it for the benefit of us all.

When the Harbin's American Husky died they bought their first Pomeranian from a pet shop in Downey, California. They soon bought another from a breeder as they couldn't have just one Pom. George and Irene moved to Seattle and joined the Puget Sound Pomeranian Club in 1974. Their daughter Sylvia joined them later. Irene held all the different offices of the Puget Sound Club at least once. She was Match Chairman, a member of the Board and editor of the Club newsletter as well as always being available to help the club and its members.

The Harbin's bought their foundation bitch from Helen Krafcik of Tacoma in 1978. They worked with the Cavalier, Scotia and then Golden Glow lines at first. Later they incorporated the Great Elms and Emcee lines. Their foundation bitch was their first his most regular, clients. With 15 or more Poms in our family we kept him quite busy and felt we were building a very good relationship with him. He would tell us to call if we had problems or questions and offered to help in any way that he could. He knew that we knew our dogs and would only call if we really needed him. We didn't disturb him on his days off with frivolous requests or silly questions. We only called if we really needed his help. But his attitude began to change. We have become increasingly uncomfortable making that after-hours call. Friends who have also used him for years have also found him increasingly distant when they have had special needs. It's as though the caring has gone out of him. We continue to go to him for regular shots and routine things because he is so close, but have turned to another vet for the complete care of our dogs.

Still confused and hurt by his attitude during a most distressing time, we feel a great sense of disappointment. We can't figure what we did wrong. We spent plenty of money there; we only called when we had a real emergency. It doesn't make sense. From the time that Bunny was first taken in and he diagnosed the "virus," through the time of her death, our vet was only available to us during regular office hours. Never once did he indicate that she could die at any time. Perhaps he didn't know, but with a little more attention to the situation he surely should have known. His behavior left much to be desired in helping us through a very difficult time. His rudeness and sarcasm did more than just brush us off for the moment. It helped destroy a trust and confidence that can never be replaced.

STANDARDIZATION

Dear Dorothy,

This is in response to your recent inquiry about changing breed standards. AKC by long standing policy requires certain very specific conditions to be met before a breed standard can be changed. First, a club's membership must vote on the proposed changes. When a club's membership has approved the changes the club submits them to AKC. At AKC the changes are first published in the Gazette as proposed. Following a suitable review period, usually two months, the standard is submitted to AKC's Board of Directors for approval.

No standard can be changed until it has been approved by a club's membership and then submitted to AKC and approved by AKC's Board of Directors. I hope this satisfactorily explains the official requirements for changing a breed standard.

Practically speaking breed clubs work in many different ways when working on their standards. This almost always involves appointing a committee, and hence, a committee chairman to be responsible for doing the work in order to prepare the standard for submission to the membership for approval.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if I may be of any further assistance. My best for the holidays.

Sincerely,

W. Terry Stacy
Vice-President

The purpose of the Educational Coordinator will be to align the order of the paragraphs of the Standard to meet the AKC specifications. But this office has absolutely no authority to re-write or change one word of the Pom standard.

Standardizing the Standard by Sally Baugniet

AKC is asking all of the breed clubs to arrange their standards in a common format. All standards are to include certain categories and these categories are to be in a designated order. This is what the committee had to follow in rearranging our standard to AKC format:

Parent Club Delegates
Briefing Session
September 15, 1987

Standard Format

The standard must be arranged in the order presented below. There must be descriptions for all major headings and the underscored subheadings. Some commonly used subheadings have been listed. These have been included for illustrative purposes only and do not have to be used. Other subheadings appropriate for a specific breed may be used in all sections.

I. General Appearance.

This is the most important paragraph of the standard, in the sense that it should spell out what the breed's most important qualities are. The General Appearance section should describe the breed's purpose and emphasize those qualities that are critical to fulfilling its function. In this sense, everything in a standard should relate form to function.

Remember, the General Appearance section is not the standard. It is the place to cite the breed's most important qualities. These features would then be fully described under their appropriate heading in the body of the standard.

POMERANIAN REVIEW

Size, Proportion, Substance.

Height is described in inches measured from the ground to the highest point of the shoulder blades. In those breeds where height is important it is given in pounds. Proportion is the ratio of height to length. Length is usually expressed as the distance from the point of the shoulder to the rear-most projection of the upper thigh (or point of the buttocks). Practically speaking, breeds are either square or rectangular. Some breeds are just "off" square, while others are extremely rectangular. Some indication of what is appropriate for the breed should be included, even if the indication is that a wide range is acceptable. Substance includes the amount of bone.

VII. Coat

Include under this heading the description of the hair on all parts of the dog, and describe any trimming of the coat.

VIII. Color

Include under this heading the color and markings of the coat (and the skin under the coat if skin color description is to be included). In breeds where multiple colors or color combinations are acceptable, but not all colors are permitted, the complete list of all acceptable colors and color combinations must be included in the standard. In such cases, any color or color combination not mentioned is unacceptable, and judges are to pass judgement on this basis. Color of eyes, eye rims, mouth, lips, nose, nails, etc., are to be given under their respective headings.

IX. Gait

A complete, positive description of the breed's gait should be given. Care should be taken to adequately express the importance of the breed's overall ability to move, which is usually best evaluated from the side.

X. Temperament

Such temperament description as is appropriate for the breed would not, in any way, bear on the following examination requirements of any dog brought into a show ring. (All dogs in all breeds are expected to stand for examination by a judge, such examination to be as thorough as deemed necessary by the judge, including close inspection of the bite and thorough feeling for muscle tone, testicles, and any other factors the judge desires to check. Breeds normally judged on the table are expected to stand for examination on the table. In addition, all dogs must gait for the judge's examination.)

The APC board thought we should look at the whole standard and add, eliminate or correct anything that needed to be done to it. Some of the things that AKC wanted in each standard were missing in ours. For instance, we all know the Pom has cat-like feet. It is not mentioned in our standard. Our standard states, "the hocks are perpendicular to the ground, parallel to each other from hock to heel, and neither turning in nor out."

Check a skeletal diagram of a dog. The hock is the heel. We really should say, "The rear pasterns are perpendicular to the ground and parallel to each other." I think you get the idea.

Our committee and I have been working on the standard for a little more than a year. We have gotten in-put from each other, some of you, and the APC Board. When you vote for the final draft, please vote with understanding and intelligence. Thanks to the committee, Ken Miller, Marjorie McCoy, Sue Goddard, Nadine Hersil and Jackie Liddle Stacy.

Sincerely,
Sally Baugriet

champion, Tiffany's Star of India, "Indi." Her daughter, Ch. Harbin's Black Gold of Indi was the first black and tan champion in the Northwest. Indi is the dam of American Canadian Champion Harbin's Time To Pop The Cork, "Corky." Corky was ranked number 7 Pomeranian in the U.S. in 1987. He went BOB at the Canadian National Specialty. In the U.S. and Canada he has had multiple group firsts and placings. He was invited to the Purina Invitational. Recently, Sylvia finished a son of Ch. Great Elms Prince Charming II, A/C Ch. Harbin's Charming Touch. The photo here is of Irene with Indi. Sylvia says Indi would only show for Irene.

I only had the opportunity of knowing Irene for about three or four years. I'm sure there are probably some important things I've left out and perhaps more will be written about her by those who knew her longer. I know that I will cherish her memory because I always knew I could count on Irene for help, even with the most basic questions. For those of you who were familiar with this special lady, I know you will miss her.

OBEDIENCE NEWS

by Brenda Hutton

Just when you thought you'd heard the last about tracking, here I come again. Just after mailing the last column to Phyllis, Spunky and I were entered in another Tracking Test with my home club, Obedience Training Club of Greater Lansing, November 6. Normally if you pass a test and are entered elsewhere, you withdraw allowing an alternate who's still trying for a title into the test. It's an accepted rule of courtesy in tracking because there are so many dogs vying for a limited number of tracks. Provided an alternate is available, your entry will be refunded (anywhere from $20 to $50), but if there is no alternate, there's no refund. In our case all alternates were in so we ran the track. (That's what I wanted to do anyway!)

The day was cold and very windy. The temperature was in the 20's with a 30 mph wind blowing and it was snowing like crazy. It eventually totalled 3 inches that day.

Spunky once again got track #7. When we got to his field I was somewhat dismayed to look out and see something like cattails up to my waist which looked impenetrable. That's what we drew? My only thought was "Oh, my!" Spunky has refused to walk through vegetation that was thick or dense in the past. When the judges signaled, I headed toward the starting flag but took a circular route through some of the cover to acquaint Spunky with it and show him that he could manage to get through it. (Can he really, I thought?) As I put the harness on him a few feet from the first flag he took off, almost before I finished buckling it. I actually stopped him at the flag to legally point out the track.

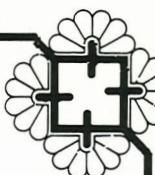

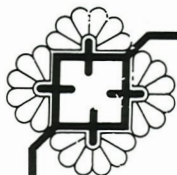

It didn't matter. To him the track seemed like a paved highway. Since four people had followed the track in the rain the day before during the plotting process, the vegetation on the track itself was trampled. The long stuff on both sides rose into the air and leaned over the track in the center creating a tunnel effect. Spunky just trucked right on through the tunnel at a fast trot leaving me behind to catch up while trying to keep the line untangled! I could see most of

proudly presents
Our Newest Obedience Title
TRACKING DOG

BK's Sir Spunky CDX TD Can. UD UKC CDX TT

Here's Spunky at the conclusion of a successful track in his first attempt. He is the only living Pomeranian with a TD; the only male Pom ever to hold the title and just the 7th Pom in AKC history to earn a TD. The judges were Walter B. Steward, Jr. and Joyce Klamet.

Many Pomeranian people have expressed interest in different kinds of activities with their dogs. When you are told your dog is too little, too wimpy or too weak to participate, don't listen. If you want to do anything, learn to listen to your dog. Learn how the other dogs are trained, then adapt, improvise and create suitable ways to teach your dog. Use common sense in judging your dog's ability in strenuous or dangerous activities. Don't be left out just because there may not be others with small dogs doing a given event in your area.

Whether it's tracking, obedience, agility, flyball, scent hurdles, herding, or any other event, LISTEN TO YOUR DOG. He'll tell you when he's mental and physically ready to attempt what you ask. He'll tell you if your training methods are correct or too harsh. Don't give up! If one method doesn't work, be creative in designing another method. Ask anyone with toy breeds how they train. Write letters, read books, attend seminars, then go for your dreams!

Thank you for letting us share our joy.

the track, but that doesn't help if the dog won't move through the cover. He finished this track in 7 minutes doing an absolutely marvelous job. Once he retrieved the article, I turned to one of the judges who'd first passed us in Ann Arbor and said, "See, it wasn't a fluke!" I found out later that he'd said to the other judge, "The Pom won't pass; he won't go through heavy cover." I also was told several people in the gallery said much the same thing, as well as, "Doesn't she know Toys can only sit on laps and be cute?" I must say, it sure was a kick to help them eat their words!

And that isn't all. November 13 we were entered in the TD test given by the St. Clair K-9 Associates in Ontario, Canada. This is the home club for Glen Johnson who wrote the book, literally, on how to teach a dog to track. The judge was James Eadie. For the third time in as many attempts, we drew track #7. It was very cold out, only in the 20's, but this time there was a 40 mph wind blowing off Lake Erie which was about five miles away. In spite of the wind we started strong, made the first turn and went a very short distance when Spunky started searching; he'd lost the track going straight into the wind. As I watched over the next couple of minutes, he indicated a turn to the left which I reluctantly followed. I was sure there couldn't be a turn so soon because we'd just started on this leg. He indicated a 90 degree angle and just kept drifting forward and left. As this was now downwind, I thought he must be downwind of the track; it turned out the second leg had only been 30 yards long with a very acute angle (about 45 degrees) cross and downwind, a perfect setup to disbelieve my dog and try to direct him elsewhere. But knowing how he tracks (albeit reluctantly) followed Spunky, and he was right! The track made a large Z and cut back upwind. Once we were on the fourth leg and the whistle hadn't blown yet to fail us, I finally believed my dog was right, and the rest of the track was a breeze. Note:

I just received Spunky's Canadian title. It reads OTCH BK's Sir Spunky TD. In Canada a Utility Dog title is then considered to be an OTCH. I agree entirely! I'm so proud of this title I could just burst!

Spunky may be the only Pomeranian ever to earn both American and Canadian Tracking Dog titles. Now we're off to TDX work. So far, no Pomeranian has ever earned an American TDX. In fact, statistics just released in Front and Finish show that only 17% of all dogs entered in a TDX during 1988 actually passed. Wish us luck.

One of the most exciting parts of all this is the interest being generated among other Pom people. After the last issue of the Pom Review came out I received a phone call from Cindy Craig of Lenore, NC. In the last issue I reported on the Craigs Precious Jewel CD who had earned his CD with four 1st Places in Novice A, including a tie for 2nd HIT. Cindy says she and her husband drive a truck and take Gizzmo with them all over the country. Cindy also (when she's home) is training tracking with someone in the area who does Shutshund. She had no idea anyone else with a Pom did tracking too. I am looking for Cindy and Gizzmo to earn the next TD on a Pom (if I don't get one first on Sunshine). Thank you, Cindy, for sharing your story. Lois Campbell in California is also getting ready to start training Ch. Moonshadows Eye of the Tiger in tracking. As I finish this article I've received another note from Lois Morkassel and crew that they have also teamed up with someone in their area and are going to give it a try. I wish you all much luck and success. It's very gratifying to be told that our success is encouraging others.

And on to regular Obedience . . .

Several APC members have been showing their Poms in Open B and doing very nicely. Rosalind Goltz in New York showed Ch. Penru's Sugar Plum Fairy CDX twice in Open B. They earned a 197.5 under G. H. Davis and a 195.5 the next day under

L. Harris. Margaret McKee had 9 scores posted on Ch. Idlewyld Lavalier CDX (breeder, Margaret McKee, of course) including a 3rd place and a 4th place.

Another APC member, Lilae Shope continued showing Rosewood's Moongold of Lilae CDX (breeders, Mary and Everette Hammond, out of Ch. LLL Fancy Gold Moon Walker) in Open A before receiving their title. They finished April 24 and during May went on to earn a 184, 188 and 4th place, a 188.5, a 187 and a 191.5 and 4th place again. I'll bet they're working hard on utility now, because I haven't seen anything since May. Good luck, Lilae.

Also APC member Keith Neuway was busy in Open B with Puff Ball's Mister Terfic CDX (breeders, Keith and Ruth Ann Neuway). They earned their CDX in the Fall of 1987 and this Fall posted a 186, 188.5 and 185.5. Another familiar name is Janet Winkler and Trivial Pursuit CDX, "Webster." After their 199 in Open B last June to win high in Trial, they've earned another 199 and 2nd place at Rogue Valley KC under C. Wyrock; a 195.5 and 4th place at Klamath Dog Fanciers under Mrs. M.E. Rothrock; and a 195.5 and 3rd place at Mount Bachelor KC under Mrs. J.F. Urbina.

Utility

The AKC Awards shows there is one new Utility title to report. Mary Morse and Miss Chief Suzy Morse CDX finished their CD in November. The results for the shows on that date haven't been published yet, so I'll let you know later where they were. Good job, Mary!

Open A

There are multitudes of CDX titles to report. One of the most exciting was Judy Bach and Niks Lil Crash of Angel Dust CD (breeder, Randy Nelson). Last issue this column featured a beautiful picture of this talented 12 year old and Crash. This two-legs, 6 placements including two firsts and an average score of 194.5. Just wait til you hear about Open! In September they had scores of 197.0 and 195.0; in October they had 196.5 and 2nd place, 188.5, 197.0 and 2nd place and 196.5 and 3rd place. Six shows and three placements plus an even higher average of 195.08. Judy, when do you start giving lessons? Wonderful job. And to think she got Crash when he was 3 years old! Kinda shoots the old "only take a 49 day old puppy for an obedience prospect" myth in the pants, doesn't it! Judy, we're very proud of you, and thank you Marian Lazzara for sharing Judy's story with us.

Do you remember Charlotte Bell and Bell's Trixie-Toy of Scotia CD (breeder, Edna Girardot from Ch. Scotia Quizmaster Billy Joe x Ch. Scotia Where Charity Ends)? They were the #8 Pom in the 1987 Delaney rankings. Last issue I reported they had two legs toward their CDX. Charlotte and Trixie finished their CDX with a 191 in Indian River DTC. Congratulations.

Rita Benvilos and Peppy Vom Immenhof CD already had two legs and now have finished the CDX with a 192 at San Mateo DTC.

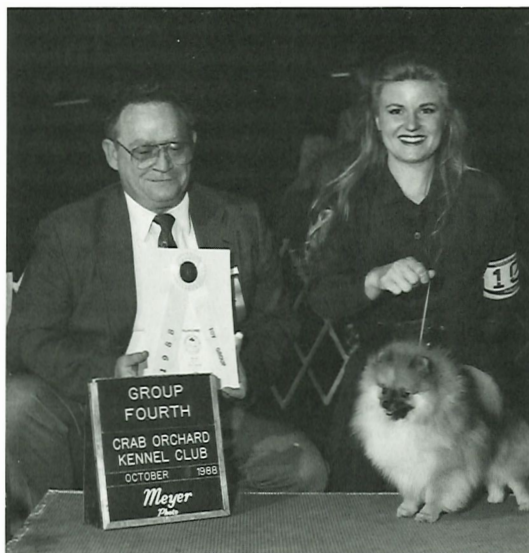

In September 1987 BB Red Vixen CD (breeder, Rita Crone) owned by Mr. and Mrs. Burton Franklin earned her CD. Just about one year later they've finished their CDX with all placings: 191.5 and 4th place, 190.5, and 192.0 and 4th place.

Also finishing a CDX was Nancy Menard and Novell's Texas Pistol CD (breeder, Mary Cochran). They did it with a 193, 182.5 and 194 under D. Young.

Suzanne Harvey in California has been showing Skylark Kiwi CD (breeder, Shirley Ann Hoffman, sired by Ch. Skylark War Banner) in Open A with good results. The Awards show them with a published CDX but only two legs having been published. They are a 192 and 189.5.

the entrance into the Open ring as well. Ch. Moonshadows Eye of the Tiger CD (breeder, Paul and Sandra Logan, sired by Ch. Queenaire Coup D'Etat) gave it a try in Early September without success. But, being a normal (stubborn?) Pom person like the rest of us, she tried again in last September and received a 186.5, won High Scoring Toy and a 12" silver bowl. Way to go, Lois! Besides practicing jumping Bogie is a Therapy Dog, the only toy breed of six dogs in their group. I guess you know who all the patients love most. She also sent me the cutest card celebrating Spunky's TD. Thanks again, Lois. Good luck with the next two legs and on your tracking endeavors.

Last but certainly not least, Bernie Brown and Pomirish Twinkle Break CD (breeder Sally Baugnet, sired by Ch. Desiree's GE Scooted) have already started in Open too. After a very nice outing in the Gaines events in Novice, they earned a 196.5 at Sportsmens of Detroit under C.D. Maurer followed the next day with a 197.0 at Southern Michigan OTC under Roy Kaiser. They've probably finished by now, but no more legs have been published.

Novice B

There is also an abundance of new CD's to report. Wisconsin area APC member Marian Lazzara and Driftwood Love that Bob (breeder, Marian Lazzara, by Ch. Pomirish Hi Ball Dream Alex'dr x Pomirish Movin' On CDX) were reported last issue earning their Canadian CD with 2 first places and a High in Trial with scores of 198.0 and 197.0 along the way. They've done nearly as well with their American CD. After blowing a 198.0 by barking throughout the entire heel free and losing 10 points, they rebounded with 196.5 and 2nd place at Peoria OTC under Mrs. D.S. Forman, 198.5 and 1st place under Mrs. S.M. Mayborne at Lyons Township DTC (losing a three-way run off for HIT to Bernie Brown's Goldie) and a 196.0 and 4th place under Diane Propst at

KC. Way to go, Ruth. (I'll bet they were tired after four continuous days of dog shows.)

Another APC member, Nancy Burnette and Ch. Nanshadows Hurricane Juan (breeder, Nancy Burnette, by Ch. Mac's Maybe I Will and Ch. LLL Charming Gold Kandee) also post a new CD title. They earned 185.5 at Southeast Arkansas, 182.5 at Mississippi State KC and 177.5 at Bayou KC. I had no idea that Nancy had ever shown in obedience. I've written her and with a little luck she'll tell us her obedience story for the next issue.

A new APC name to me is Gertrude Adair and Tykies Jacki Bb of Tinytykes (breeder, Ina Kniffin) who earned their CD from Novice B. This past Fall they earned 173.0 at Patroon DTC, 180.5 at Northwestern Connecticut Dog Club and 171.5 at Port Chester. Barbara Carper and D'Amzis Turbo Charged (breeder, Margaret Samples) show a 191 and 3rd place at James River KC followed by a 193 at Richmond DOC and 195 and another 3rd place at Charlottesville-Albermarle KC under K.M. Nagler.

Martha J. Chastain and M.C.'s Chocolate Kesia Bar (breeder, Juanita Fiddick) have done very well, too. They earned 195 and 3rd place at Louisville KC under Chuck Bush, 196.5 and 3rd place at Indianapolis OTC under Miss J. Fox and finished with a 195 at Queen City DTC under W.C. Burger. Later they got a 194.5 at Dayton DTC under Sharon Redmer and 180 at Greater Louisville Training Club.

Also with a new CD is Judith Raine C. Barrowclough and Sir Andre Beau Ju-Dith (breeder, William Jones). They turned in a 193.5 and 3rd place at Raleigh KC under D.A. Levinson, 193 at Hanover, 191.5 at Durham KC, just losing a run off for 4th place and 194.5 and 2nd place at Alamance KC under E.F. Gillespie.

APC member Victoria Leitner is also very proud of her new CD on Wee Heart's Sunrise at Courbette (breeder, Cassandra Ready). After the shaky start of a 170 at Illinois Valley KC of Peoria, they went on to a 193 and 2nd place at Corn Belt KC under Mrs. B.A. Rumsower and another 193 and 3rd place at Kennel Club of Columbus, IN under Mrs. Velma Janek. Her ad in the last Review states that Tootsie also has a Best of Breed, one finished Ch. progeny and one pointed, soon-to-be-finished progeny. Way to go, Victoria. I've also written Vicky, so maybe we'll have more news on her accomplishment next issue.

Busy, busy APC member Jerrie Freia, with help from Mary Vickers and others by letter, phone and video tape, is entering the world of obedience - and we'll be glad to have you, Jerrie. She and Ch. Janesa's Hi-Struttin' Daisey have posted their first CD leg from Novice A at Louisiana Capital City Obedience Club. Daisey took time out to whelp a litter of two puppies, so it might be awhile, but we should be seeing her in the ring in the coming months. Good luck, Jerrie!

Karen Sumner Reardon and Frodo Lord of the Rings (breeder, Bertha Atkins) earned a CD this fall. They got a 196.5 and 2nd place at Pensacola Dog Fanciers Assoc. under Dr. J.C. Jordan, Jr., a 193.5 at Mobile KC, and a 196 and 2nd place at Okaloosa KC under D. Young.

Stacey Stautz and M and M's Prince Wolf (breeder, Gloria A. Klimeck, sired by High in Trial winner and the 1987 #3 Pom in the Delaney System, Pettisfree's Puregold CD) have started in daddy's pawprints. They eared a 195.5 and 2nd place at Pikes Peak Obedience Club under Mrs. M.E. Rothrock, followed the next day with a 192.5

at Mountain States DTC where they lost a run off for 4th place.

Please write me with your brags, failures, training questions or anything else to do with obedience or tracking. I love hearing from everyone. A big thank you again to those who have sent cards and letters about Spunky's TD. You'll never know how much I appreciate them all. One person has expressed an interest in acquiring a video tape of our tracking experience. I'd be glad to have one made for anyone who'd like one, just let me know.

Keep in mind that the answering machine is always on, and I just love to talk Poms. Call any time at 517-485-5183. Til the next time. may your dog always be a happy heeler and a terrific tracker.

DOG NEWS

by Jorge and Shirley Landa

(from an article sent by Vilma Louie from Washington State, and then published in the Pom Pow Wow, Bay Colony PC Newsletter.)

When Elizabeth Kubler Ross wrote "Death and Dying" she changed the way many people dealt with feelings of loss related to human death.

"But for people who lose their pets, there is no one to talk to. There is no ritual," said Karen Anjoorian, a counselor who works with AIDS and cancer patients at a hospice in Fall River, Mass., and who has made a specialty of counseling people who suffer deeply as the result of losing a pet.

Anjoorian is affiliated with Tufts New England Veterinary Medical Center and provides support to clients whose pets die.

The concept of dealing with feelings of the loss of a pet with the help of a therapist is not new. Veterinary colleges, in studying the human-animal bond, are increasing their efforts to help pet owners cope with lingering grief. Six of the nation's top veterinary schools have social workers who are specially trained to counsel bereaved pet owners. The American Veterinary Medical Association, pet-food companies, and others have published pamphlets, brochures, and books on the grieving process.

"I am trained to help people deal with painful grief situations as they are happening. I don't think of it as therapy. Rather, I see it as intervention," Anjoorian said.

"I don't focus on the death aspect but try to help people work through the residual feelings that occur as a result of death."

According to Anjoorian, the most common problems "have to do with feelings of alienation because people feel uneasy about expressing their grief and being misunderstood, and parents who need support while easing children through the loss of a pet."

NEW YEAR WISHES

by Barbara Stoffer
January 1989

Another year has come and gone and it is now the time
For all of us and all our Poms to say
Happy 1989.
We wish you all the very best that this
New Year can bring.
Peace and love, good health to all and Poms to share these things.

Clear and cold, starry, moonlight nights with "diamonds on the snow;"
Warm Spring sun, soft silvery rain and gentle winds that blow.
Poms to run and bounce and play in the shade of Summer's trees.
Little ones to share our times, as they try so hard to please.

Burgundy, amber, russett and orange, scarlet, gold and brown.
Autumn leaves, the colors of Poms, like jewels in a crown.
Falling leaves and flying Poms, scattering Autumn in the yards space,
Each season, like each Pom, has its own special place.

Little ones that are the stars in Heaven's velvet sky,
Still twinkle and look down at us even tho we've said goodbye.
My Poms are perhaps the dearest friends that I will ever know.
They will always be with me, no matter where I go.

And so as I start another year and wonder what lies ahead,
I will not dwell on things that are past but what lies in the future instead.
My family, my Poms, my faith in God, will help to see me through,
No matter what 1989 can bring, I know they will all be true.

Wishing you and yours the very best that the new year can bring,
And hoping you have the privilege of Poms to share in everything.

POMS ARE PEOPLE TOO

by Wendy Feist

Have you ever noticed that your Poms are very much like your children? Here in our home we have a 19 month old son and a 2 month old daughter and, of course, the Poms. When you throw the ball for "Maddy" the Pom, she'll fetch it back with glee, barking for more. Son Luke will also fetch the ball for Daddy, saying "Daddy, do! do!" In both cases, neither child nor Pom seems to tire of the game. Just Dad.

When our house Pom wants to go for a walk, she brings us a leash and waits patiently, but will remind you with a bark or two of her presence. When Luke wants to go for a walk, he brings his shoes, his coat (if he can get the closet door open), and then the stroller to you and climb in with a loud, "Do! Do." The Pom is generally a bit more patient.

When the Tippy cup is empty, Luke brings it to you and says "Here." If you don't get the message, he'll introduce you to the refrigerator by banging it with his little fist. When the dogs' dishes are empty, they pick them up and toss them around, sending their message clearly. We switched to plastic dishes as the noise level with metal ones was unbearable.

Of course, babies and puppies put anything and everything of interest into their mouths. After a day of tasting dirt, grass and other "goodies," the large bottle a Pepto Bismol is located for both child and pup.

Potty training is potty training, regardless of human or canine. Changing diapers isn't much different from changing dirty newspapers. When we progress to training pants with children, the doggy door for puppies is a close parallel. There is always the trial and error and its inevitable embarrassing moments. You know, the puddle (or worse) in the ring; the accident on grandma's lap.

Both puppies and kids know the sound of the nail clippers and nail trimming time. And those first haircuts - it's a toss up who wiggles most.

As our house is one of "dog show-aholics," true die hards, ring side training is a must. As we train the puppies for the inside of the ring, we must also train our kids for ringside. While puppies learn to walk on lead and on the mats, the kids learn to sit quietly outside the ring, even though the big doggie is so neat and really needs a hug. The puppies are coaxed with bait; the kids with cookies and toys. It reminds me of the cartoon Scooby Doo, "Will you do it for three Scooby treats?"

There isn't a lot of difference at eating time either. Convincing little ones, Poms or kids, that food is for eating is about the same in both worlds. It seems they would rather put it in their hair, on Mommy, on the floor; sit in it, walk in it, bark at it. In both cases, a great deal of face and hand/paw washing is required - on me too.

And when the day is over and our children give us those beautiful smiles and the days antics melt away, our hearts fill with love and pride and we know it is all worth while. Later, as we experience all the wonderful firsts with our children, the long, late nights of worry and the pain of childbirth fade into dim memory. When our puppies grow up to be show prospects, win their first points, or become someone's prized companion, we say, "Work? What work?" The pictures in the mailbox and the happy phone calls make all the early tough times with baby puppies forgettable.

So don't you think, as we do, that Poms are like people too?

In Memorium

It is with deep regret that we announce the death of

Francis J. Casey of Topaze Kennels
January 1989

He was a true lover of the breed and a friend.
We at Bay Colony Pomeranian Club shall miss him.

Great Elms Kennels, Reg'd.

At 3:00 a.m. December 20th, while bottle-feeding puppies, it popped into my mind that I failed to send in my January issue ad. I was disgusted!

I was not ready to end my streak, but I guess after 30 years and 3 months of not missing a single issue, that's not a bad record.

Congratulations to the winners at our Specialty and Westminster.

ACROSS CANADA

by Chris Hertz
 P.O. Box 189
 Brookfield, N.S. Canada
 BON 1C0

Most of the talk in Pom circles in Canada lately has centered around plans for our third annual specialty. If you have ever thought about visiting Canada, this is an excellent opportunity. You can see the country at a perfect time of year, and to top it off, maybe even add a Canadian title to one of the "gang." The details: September 2 in Cornwall, Ontario. There are also 3 all breed shows the same weekend, so there are 4 sets of points. Our Specialty judge is the well-known all-rounder Catherine Debruynne. Sweeps will be judge by Mrs. Nancy Hooper. The all breed judges are Freeman Perry, Abe Zvonkin and George Payton.

Transportation arrangements are easy. Fly your favorite airline into Montreal (Quebec. Don't worry about speaking French). The show is one hour from Montreal and we will even pick you up! Any further info can be obtained from Elizabeth Dupuis. He address is P.O. Box 328, Alexandria, Ontario KOC 1A0, phone 613-347-2275. You will find her only too willing to help. Of course, trophy donations are more than gratefully accepted! Last year several American exhibitors made it to the specialty. Gloria and Steve Carlin from California, Nina Epps and Diane Rinehart from Oklahoma attended and they promised to come back again. Please come join us (and them) this year!

1988 was truly the year of the Pom. We watched the year begin with Prince Charming winning the Garden, and we felt so proud. Here in Canada our last show of '88 is Credit Valley and they choose the Sur Gain Puppy of the Year. Not only was the winner a Pom, but she was Ch. Chriscendo Cover Girl, owned and bred by myself and co- owned by Ed Jenner.

There were several other Best in Show winning Poms in Canada in 1988. The most notable is Can. Am. Ch. Emcee's Solid Gold Amigo, owned by Marlene Penny, the winner of last year's Canadian Specialty and the current top winning Pom in Canada. Can. Am. Ch. Great Elms Shining Star, owned by Natalie Dunfee, though not extensively campaigned last year, garnered several Bests. David and Carolyn Berry are very proud of their first BIS on homebred Ch. Sharian's Ruben James. Dwayne Ward's Ch. Debonne's Rock a Fella also won his first Best in Show. Our own Ch. Chriscendo Cause For Applause and Ch. Chriscendo Coco Chanel were our second and third Best in Show winners in 1988. Congratulations to all the breeders, owners and handlers for making 1988 The Year of the Pom!

This past issue of our Canadian Pom Newsletter was the Puppy Hopeful issue. I was reminded of an excellent article I read in another breed magazine on developing attitude in Toys. As a handler this is also one of my husband's pet peeves. There is nothing more adorable than a Pom puppy, but pick 'em up, carry them around and you stand a really good chance of never having that confident air of independence that makes a show dog. Confidence comes from conquering difficulties; learning new things. Being carried around is the exact opposite. It teaches dependence and rewards insecurity. Next time you pick up that puppy hopeful, make it count; trim his feet, cut his nails. Don't pick him up when he asks. Instead, try teaching him to bait. He will never thank you but you may thank yourself!

I REMEMBER WHEN

by Dorothy Bonner

Advice to new breeders is to buy the best bitch affordable, breed her to the best male possible and hope for the best puppies. What if one cannot afford the best bitch, but the desire is to have a lovable pet and still breed her to the best male to obtain breed improvement with more lovable pets? If the best female in that litter is retained and bred to another excellent male, results might be surprising. Back in my pedigrees, there is an example of just this sort of thing. It happened this way. Some Army folks named Thomson bought a Pom in Germany named Chee Si of Thomson, a female, sound but coarse, who had nothing in conformation to brag about. When they retired in San Antonio, Chee Si was brought to me to breed. The resulting litter was an improvement. The family gave a couple of puppies to relatives and kept a little girl whom they called Fuzzy. Depending upon me to handle the paper work and name the puppies, they were registered under the name Tompom. I bred Fuzzy for them and a couple of females were given to an elderly aunt. Some six years later, the aunt died and the Poms were returned to the Tomsons. The smaller one was very nice, but I bought the larger with the slightly longer body. They had called her Tessie. She was registered as Bonner's Wee Girl. Because of her former pet status, she was allowed to be a bedroom dog. Much to my distress, it was discovered that she was excessively dominant, desiring to murder everybody's puppies, with success in a couple of cases. However, bred to Ch. Aristic Wee Pepper Pod, Tessie produced Bonner's Peppertess, as beautiful a sable girl as any show-inclined breeder would be proud to own. Peppertess was never shown, but bred to Ch. Bonner's Stylepepper Preshus (a half-brother) she produced Bonner's Styleless Model. Model, bred back to her sire, produced Ch. Bonner's Stylewodel Wee Wag who started my Wag line of lovely champions.

This entire breeding procedure took about a year for each generation, all of which proved that it can be done if one has plenty of time instead of a big bank account. Peppertess was secured in the fourth generation. She was one of the most beautiful girls obtained from any combination.

Several years later, Mrs. Thomson came to be consoled. She had lost not only her husband, but her aging Poms as well. Tessie was given to her so that they both could enjoy a better life.

This history is a clear lesson in line and inbreeding. Even without the best bitch, improvement can be made with quite satisfying results if someone loves the breed enough and is willing to put in the time.

HELPFUL HINTS

by Margaret McKee
2426 Sandy Hook Road
Goochland, VA 23063

Yeek! I've been writing this column for over 10 years. Poor naive me. When I volunteered to write it, I thought you readers sent in hints; hints would pour in and I would edit them. I guess I get about one hint mailed to me per year. But I'm not complaining. I still get hints from you whether you know it or not. I talk to you on the phone or at shows. I watch you grooming or in the ring. I visit your kennels and I always learn something. Thank you.

The phone calls this winter have been terrific. Last year a lady in New York called with a problem. Her pretty bitch wasn't winning because she was so naughty in the ring. She barked, bit the lead or her owner's pant legs, etc. I asked a few questions, then suggested that the problem was the owner's relationship with the dog. The owner was not alpha; the dog did not respect her. I suggested she forget conformation training and work on being the boss. I described several dominance exercises, especially the "30 minute down."

I didn't hear from her for many months and often wondered what had happened. Training advice given over the phone is not as satisfactory as in a class where demonstration and feedback are possible, and progress can be monitored. I was afraid I hadn't really helped her.

Just after Christmas, she called again. Oh joy! The bitch had finished her championship and the owner felt the dominance exercises had been extremely helpful. She had the good sense to ask for help when she needed it and to apply what she learned. Once again, obedience had helped a conformation performance. For more information on establishing to proper relationship with your puppy, contact your local obedience club and/or see "Super Puppy: How to Raise the Best Dog You'll Ever Have." by Peter J. Volmer.

Cindy called to tell me about her bitch's first litter. She said the bitch had easily spit out the two puppies in less than half an hour. Wow, I marveled, that's fast. Later I put two and two together. When Cindy had first bred the bitch she had called to ask if she could continue to jog with her dog. I said it was okay, up until the 7th week and to let the bitch tell her how much she wanted to do. So the little bitch continued to jog 2 miles a day as well as working on tracking! Her superb muscle tone made whelping easy.

But after whelping, problems developed. The bitch refused to eat and didn't produce enough milk. She continued to refuse to eat and to lose weight until the puppies were taken away from her at 3 weeks of age. I suspect the explanation lies in the fact that following her vet's advice, Cindy had not given the dam any extra vitamins or food during the pregnancy. Her body was not given the extra nutrition it needed not only to carry the puppies to term but to give her the strength and stamina for the trauma of whelping and the strain of nursing.

More on thyroid: a teacher at the local high school told me one of her Doberman show bitches was dying of congestive heart failure when, in desperation, the veterinarian prescribed thyroid pills. One year later the bitch is fine, her heart sound!

Once again, this is the issue that is sent to judges of our breed. Dear judges, will you please help me learn? What do you find out about a dog's structure when you (1) lift the rear and drop it back on the table, and (2) put your hand on the dog's back and press or bounce the dog?

The prize winner this month for dumb behavior by a judge is the fellow who, standing behind my dog, stomped his foot on the floor to try to get the dog behind us to put his ears up. (!) It's not the best method I know to get ears to erect but, more to the point, my dog certainly did not appreciate it!

One judge last fall stopped in the middle of judging Best of Breed to part a dog's coat and peer at the roots. He explained later he was determining whether the dog was a true sable or a sable-shaded orange. Very interesting. But since both colors are allowed by our standard, what difference did it make? This same judge informed one exhibitor that her sable dog would be faulted for having a black mask. Huh? Old standards did fault black masks, but our present standard doesn't mention it. Even if you're an expert on our breed, have bred and exhibited Poms for 40 years, or helped write the standard, it wouldn't hurt to reread it occasionally.

These days almost everyone uses bait in training their dogs whether for conformation, obedience, or tracking. Bait makes training easier and more fun. It is both inducement and reward. Conformation people have always made good use of bait, but at one time some obedience instructors preached that use of bait was sinful and immoral; it ruined the dog; the dog would only work if it were hungry; bait was bribery, etc. (It continues to amuse me that many of the people who strongly oppose food in obedience don't hesitate to use it in conformation.) Many enlightened trainers now know this isn't true at all. You can't train a killer whale or a chicken with a choke collar and a rolled up magazine (Ed. Note: not the Pom Review, I hope!) So we've learned to use methods that are gentler, kinder and more fun. For more inductive methods of training, read "Don't Shoot the Dog" by Karen Pryor.

So what kind of bait do you use? Almost anything the dog likes and that is convenient to carry in a pocket. It's fine if your dog adores clam dip, but that's awkward to put in a pocket! For every day, I use cat treats, either Pounce or Bonkers. The pieces are small, although I generally bite them in 2 or 3 smaller bits, which teaches the dog to focus on my face. You want something the dog will chew and swallow quickly, so I avoid anything hard or crunchy. Some dogs prefer jerky and that works well, too. A standard recommendation in our obedience classes: take a chicken hot dog, partially freeze, cut into 16 slices, cut each slice into 4 parts. These should be stored in refrigerator or freezer.

For shows, I use liver (with a capital L). Use either beef, veal or pork liver. Check livers are too soft and crumbly. Put in a pan and cover with water. Add a generous sprinkling of garlic powder. Simmer gently until the pink color is gone, about 20 minutes. Pour off the liquid onto the dogs' supper. They'll clean their plates! Rinse the liver thoroughly. Cut up into small pieces, about 1 inch square. Place pieces on a baking sheet and bake (the toaster oven is handy) at 250 degrees until the pieces look dry. Put 3 or 4 pieces each in plastic sandwich bags, seal and store in the freezer. Almost any dog (except one scared out of his mind) will bait for this stuff. Warning: your house will stink of liver and garlic for hours.

Cheese and chicken are also popular baits. Most cheeses are greasy and hard to manage but tiny chunks of Cheddar or Swiss can be used. If your dog is prone to diarrhea from liver, simmer chicken breasts briefly. Cooking too long makes it stringy and messy in the ring. Of course, remove and discard the skin and cut up into chunks.

If you have a bitch who is not enthusiastic about being bred and may snap at the stud, protect your male and yourself by pulling a nylon stocking all the way over her head, so that the toe of the stocking is over her muzzle. She can see and breathe, but not bite. This is a lot easier than trying to wrap something around her little muzzle.

ONIONS, NATURE'S GREAT DRAWING SALVE

by Sissy McGill

"Then, why is he still limping?" I demanded to know.

Ever been in that situation? The dog limps and limps, but nothing seems to cure it.

I had been in San Francisco for a speaking engagement and had left my dogs in a boarding kennel. My big male had walked in, and then had limped out. After two weeks of this, we went to the vet. The visual and feeling examination revealed no swelling or heat. Cost: $53. Perhaps he had gotten his paw caught in the chain link fence at the kennel and sprained something. So I waited another week. Of course, I had entered him in a show that weekend. There went the entry fee. Then we went back to the vet. The x-rays showed no breaks. The vet wrapped the foot up with salve. Naturally the Specialty was Saturday. Missed that. Also, the biggest show of the year was on Sunday. Missed that one too! Then I removed the pack. No improvement. Also, the pills that the prescription called for only made him throw up for 3 days running. Into the garbage they went. With no improvement at all, I was absolutely desperate.

Providence must have been working for me. I opened my Herbalist Magazine, and there was an article about the lowly onion. Now this odoriferous herb is nothing to be sniffed at. (That was two-thirds of a pun, folks!)

Herbal poultices are one of the most important methods of applying herbs to the body. Poultices have been used since ancient times and are still an unsurpassed method of drawing toxins from the skin and other organs of the body, reducing inflammation, curing sores and dissolving small cysts and tumors. A good poultice can be made from finely grated onions mixed with whole wheat bread crumbs, and then soaked with milk. In Egypt, they mix the onions with honey and then apply them. For insect stings, mash raw onions and apply immediately.

OK dog, hold your nose and give me your paw. I had bought a Bermuda onion and a white one. I didn't know if there was any difference. The Bermuda smelled the worse, so I took about half a handful of chopped onions, grabbed a paw and put the pieces between the pads. I put gauze around the foot, and then tape. The next day, the redness between the pads seemed to be less. So I repeated this the next night. A small piece of onion had fallen out as I was taping, but I didn't bother to undo the tape I should have. Twenty-four hours later, I removed the onions. The redness was completely gone, except for the spot where the onion had fallen out. It was still pink. That night I applied the third application, being sure that ALL the spots were covered. The next day, I removed the pack. ALL the redness had vanished. My dog proceeded to run through the house, chase birds in the yard, jump up on my couch, (he is forbidden to act like a clown), and generally enjoy life. Cost of the treatment. About 1/20th of a cent.

Thinking that I had better do some research about onions, I found the folk medicine reference that said to wear a string of onions and garlic around your neck to keep your body free of colds. (didn't I see this in an old Dracula or Wolfman movie?) Come to find out, maybe Dracula knew that the oil and thus the scent of onions have an effect on carbohydrate metabolism resembling that of insulin. Russian scientist, B.M. Kozo-Poliansky made tests and found that many plants contain volatile oils with atmospheric protection. For your own simple proof, crush an onion or garlic and put it under a glass. Next to this place a culture of fungus, and in a few minutes all bacteria or fungus (micro-organism) will perish. In Moscow in 1963, scientist Vishaya Scholla received an award for the treatment of wounds and ulcers with onions. This great little bulb had high antiseptic value.

So the next time your dog gets a wound, sore or cut, and nothing seems to work, try some onions on your dog and use the rest on your hamburger.

Onions are just one of Nature's great cures. As I always say, try working with Nature. It pays off.

SPICES AND HERBS FOR YOUR DOG

by Sissy McGill

La Mesa, CA 92041

European doctors have said for years that spices and herbs can keep you healthy. They can work for your dog as well. Think about these "old-fashioned" remedies.

Spices and herbs, they say, contain even more curative powers for minor ailments than the store-bought drugs in your medicine cabinet. There seems to be a spice or herb for so many things.

If your dog passes a lot of gas, try mixing raw chives with his food. Chives contain silica which fights intestinal fermentation.

For your young pup who is teething and chewing on everything but his chewbone, rub a clove on his swollen gum for relief. Also, if he catches a little cold, cloves with their powerful antiseptic properties are the answer again.

Got an overactive dog that won't calm down, or who bounces from seat to seat in the car? Try mixing thyme in with his food. Thyme is an excellent natural tranquilizer because it contains cineol which has a tonic effect on the nerve centers. Thyme has also been used to improve coat. It helps to retard hair loss by improving superficial blood vessels of the skin, whose job it is to feed the roots to the hair.

Apple cider vinegar has many uses which help in food digestion. Because it is an acid, it eats up excess gastric juices which cause indigestion and stops the production of acid in the stomach.

Your young pup suffering from "teen-age acne" under the chin? Try mustard. How you get him to eat this is up to you. Mustard contains sulphur, one of the best known treatments for skin diseases. Sulphur rids the blood of excess impurities and slows down the activities of the sebaceous glands of acid in the stomach.

There is nothing better to eliminate water retention bloat than parsley. Parsley contains an abundance of potassium which combats this.

Don't laugh at home remedies. Many of our modern veterinary drugs are synthetics based on these spices and herbs. Wish I could open up a Health and Herbal Store for Dogs!

YIPS AND YAPS

KUDOS

Remember the old Greyhound bus advertisement, "Take the bus and leave the driving to us"? That's sort of the feeling you got if you attended the Annual Specialty. Finally we were at a hotel where we were treated like (paying) guests. The staff was courteous, solicitous, even respectful. And the place was clean. You didn't have to examine the floor in your room for pieces of glass or plaster. The show chairman didn't have to break his back picking up debris from the ring before or during the show. You could sleep at night and not worry about wallpaper or plaster falling on you. Even the bathroom worked - correctly!

The room where the judging was held was B-I-G. You could view the ring from three sides. You could also stand in the grooming area and see what was happening in the ring. Even the carpet, done in muted neutral tones, didn't detract from our colorful Poms.

You could wake up in the morning, go to the first floor and have coffee, even breakfast. Everyone is still taking about the food - it was good!

If you wanted, you could take your dog outside. You could even run out to your car in the parking lot if you forgot something. It was right there. You could even see it from your window.

Many thanks, Audrey, for all the organization. Many thanks, Maureen Quinlan, for finding the impossible!

Sincerely,
Mary Vickers

MAYBE I WILL

Ch. Mac's Maybe I Will was a consistent top producer for several years. His name became well known and associated with my kennel. I have continued to use combinations and variations of his name in naming my dogs. And I of course will continue to do so, however I have recently encountered two Poms named Maybe I Will and Maybe She Will with another kennel prefix attached. In researching, I found these Poms had absolutely no lineage to my Ch. Mac's Maybe I Will. I have been saving the name Shy Acres Maybe I Will for a very special dog. I feel the traditional privilege of using this name is being taken from me! I would never take a name used regularly by another breeder and use it on my Poms.

I realize there are other Maybe I Will's in some other lineages. I would never object to their use of these names.

I wonder if the users of this name are somehow trying to intimate a relationship to Ch. Mac's Maybe I Will that doesn't exist?

Please, let's keep to tradition and be more creative naming our dogs!

Sincerely,
Audrey Roberts

MORE INFORMATION ON NOMINEES

A very competent and workaholic member of our Board of Directors was not re-elected. I, for one, am very upset! I know this is a democratic procedure, but I think those voting were ill-informed. Marlene Presser has never missed a Board Meeting, no matter what area of the country it was in. She also has consistently volunteered for committees and is always there to help in any way she can. She has been a quiet member, never seeking special recognition and perhaps because of this, the members aren't aware of her value on our Board. As a fellow Board member I am aware of this. Perhaps it's partly my fault for not letting the membership on important matters and on the performance of your Board. Perhaps attendance at meetings and on telephone conferences and whether or not a Board member voted in the monthly agenda should be published in the Review. Let me know how you feel. Let's not let the good ones slip between the cracks because we're ill-informed.

Sincerely,
Audrey Roberts

100 YEARS OF PURE-BRED DOGS AND STILL COUNTING

"One Hundred Years of Pure-Bred Dogs" is a celebration of a century of continuous publishing for Pure-Bred Dogs/American Kennel Gazette. "Not many magazines live to be a hundred years old," notes Kenneth A. Marden, AKC president. "We thought about various ways to celebrate and decided that a collector's issue was the most appropriate."

The 100th anniversary edition traces the development of the magazine from its beginning as a 20 page journal devoted mainly to listings of dog registrations and dog show results to its current 200-page issues with their broad coverage of the dog world. Advances in veterinary medicine, breed histories, and in-depth coverage of dog shows as well as tips on breeding, handling and caring for dogs are all part of today's GAZETTE.

The special issue of the GAZETTE will also reflect the changes in the design of the magazine over the past 100 years, up to the award-winning design used today.

Advertisers have shown excellent support for the collector's edition, which boasts the largest number of advertising pages in the history of the magazine - 87.

Single copies of "One Hundred Years of Pure-Bred Dogs" are available for $5.95 from the American Kennel Club, GAZETTE Centennial, 51 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10010.

I have just returned from the Specialty in New York and what a good time we had! I have been a critic of the winter specialty because of the expense and discomfort of the Manhattan hotels. Last year I chose to spend that weekend at Myrtle Beach where there were three chances at majors, three chances for obedience legs and a beach front room for $25 a night! The new New York show site is a tremendous improvement over our former sites. For approximately the same price, the rooms are larger, clean and comfortable. We did not have to go up and down stairs to reach to show room. No giant columns in the middle of the show room. Grooming space was a little tight. Perhaps limiting each exhibitor to one exercise pen would help solve that problem. Food was good and the staff cheerful and courteous. A big plus for me: parking was $4/day instead of $40/day! Congratulations to Audrey Roberts and her committee! The Ohio Pom Club did an outstanding job on the trophies. They were lovely.

Sunday, as always, was very busy and tiring for the people with Sweeps, Regular classes, Annual Meeting, Awards dinner and then another Board meeting. No wonder many folks choose not to come to the annual meeting. And as usual there wasn't enough time for visiting and talking. We hope to add obedience competition to the National Specialties soon, and that should force us to go to a two day format, which will give us more time to enjoy all the activities.

APC Board Meeting, from p. 10.

send a letter to Sally commending her efforts, her previous work as well as the work she has done with the Judges Education committee and that our stand is not a reflection of her work, but our feelings about the AKC standardization. This was seconded by Sam and met with much support.

Duties of Delegate:

Fred moved that the Board affirm that the Delegate be included in Board meetings and telephone conference calls. Audrey gave the second and this passed.

Information booklets:

Audrey stated she was running low on these and they need to be reprinted.

New Business:

1) Carolyn Herbel from Oklahoma will be an observer judge attending tomorrow.

2) AKC Judges Seminar Study Group to educate future judges was discussed at length. Sue questioned whether or not a dog co-owned by the observer could be shown. This is a question that should go to the AKC. Discussion on this was tabled.

3) Tomorrow's specialty will be video taped by the photographer.

4) Ripley's contract regarding the "Review" will be handled by the new Board.

5) Jean Schroll has requested that the 1992 Summer Specialty be hosted by the Columbia Pom Club. This passed.

6) Audrey requested votes for new members presented on the December agenda. All members were voted in.

7) Fred resigned from his task of revising the Specialty Guidelines.

8) Marlene Presser was appointed chair of the Membership Guidelines committee.

9) It was recommended that Audrey send a letter to all local clubs stating our newest standing rules regarding the judges' restrictions and those officers unable to show.

10) After discussion and consultation, it was recommended that tomorrow we explain to the membership our finding that a by-law change is the only thing necessary to move the Specialty out of New York City. Ballots will be mailed to the membership for their vote.

11) Dianne motioned that we donate $250.00 to the University of Pennsylvania Vet School. Seconded by Dolores and passed. There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Mary Vickers,
Recording Secretary

Sooner Club, from p. 51

In Obedience, Sherry Cook and Shan Tel's High Stakes Alex won High Score with 194.

The Parade of Champions featured Ch. Slemsp High Stakes Binky, owned by Mrs. J.B. Slempe, Ch. Carousel's Glass Tiger, owned by Mrs. Linda Gustafson and Ch. Puf-Pride Tandilizing Tawni, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dimick.

Following the judging was a Parade of Clowns in the Dress-up Parade, which was fun for all.

As 1988 closes, we look back on a fantastic year for the Sooner Club. A number of our members have been successful in the show ring, our membership grew to 47 and there are more members to come in 1989. We look forward to holding an A match in April.

Be sure to look for the Sooners in the show ring.

Business to Pleasure, continued p. 66.

I was paid another honor while at the show. Harold Collings from Fripp Island, SC asked me if his bitch won her class, would I like to take her back in the ring while he showed his champion? You bet I would! There were five men and myself going in for the final placings. I was so relaxed and happy, the little bitch showed as if she were mine. We were a team - and I took BOW and put 2 points on her. That made my day. I congratulated Skip, we stayed for the Group and then it was time to head for home. Again, we said goodbye to all our new Pom friends. I tucked my camera away with all the priceless pictures of my memorable visit to God's country.

Each time my little Lenette Pom looks at me I remember my wonderful trip, the words of wisdom from Ruth Beam and I look forward to going again.
