Cover Story

CHAMPION GREAT ELMS PRINCE CHARMING II

Extraordinary, one-in-a-million, little dog!!!

1988 BEST IN SHOW WESTMINSTER WINNER - FIRST POMERANIAN IN HISTORY

Sire of multiple group-winning, *Best In Show winning, Speciality-Winning offspring, many, many fine Champions, every one of which has made us (and Prince) extremely proud!

In New York, Ch. "Prince" was honored as:

TOP-PRODUCING STUD DOG POMERANIAN FOR 1989

While we have known that Prince was consistently producing across the nation, this was still an unexpected excitement for us to be so honored for Prince. Top breeders are breeding to "Prince," and LOVING results!

PRINCE CHARMING has done what no other Pomeranian in the world has every done. Also, on a personal level, Prince has done so much for us personally, has given so much to us, has done so much for Pomeranian-lovers, and now he is clearly demonstrating his excellence once again, by being a top producer of excellence as well, thereby NOW giving TO THE BREED!!

We salute CHAMPION GREAT ELMS PRINCE CHARMING II, and we also salute the offspring and those owners who showed them to titles, making it possible for him to become top-producing stud dog.

Thank you, everyone, for appreciating this amazing little dog, as we do.

Skip and Olga

*Now sire of two BIS winners...the lovely Ch. Garton's King of Bavaria and Ch. Jeribeth's Sir Lancelot

Opening Views...

No pretenses are made when I say that I am extremely happy to be the new editor of the POMERANIAN REVIEW. But, at the same time, I can appreciate what Phyllis has been going through on being notified that a new editor had been hired. In fact, I sympathize with her. I was not on the decision making end of this situation but I make no apologies for having been selected.

Word has already reached me that there is some dissatisfaction with this decision and that rumors have been flying faster than humming birds. But that is human nature for you. But getting facts straight at this point and dispelling any rumors is all important.

I did not actively go out and seek to take over this publication. It was only after a board member of APC saw the premier issue of the toy magazine I recently started (TOY PARADE - see ad this issue) and notified other board members, that I was contacted by one of APC's board members in soliciting my interest. I believe the board thought my bid, the look of TOY PARADE and my experience in this field warranted offering me the opportunity to produce this lovely publication for its subscribers.

I have nearly 20 years of experience in the fields of journalism, editorship and marketing that provide the mechanics in giving me the ability to produce a quality product. My dog association nearly matches those years having been, originally, a Yorkie fancier/breeder/handler for 14 years. My family's love and admiration of the Whippet and Greyhound find these breeds our cup of tea and recently we added the rare breed Coton de Tulear, the Royal Dog of Madagascar. I own the champion Greyhound litter sister to Margaret McKee's "Azyr" that she spoke of in her column last month.

I am a very active member of the Virginia Beach Kennel Club and have served as past President (currently nominated again for the position), Vice-President (current and past), Secretary, Education and Publicity Chairperson and Show Chairperson of numerous shows. I am the editor of that club's monthly newsletter and I get called on to do a lot of Toy Breeds/Group Match judging.

Now I realize all of that probably wasn't necessary, but I wanted each of you to know who I am and where I am coming from. I am not some fly-by-night individual who is in this game of dogs and publishing just for the bucks. I truly love what I do and I hope that the future share with the POMERANIAN REVIEW will be a long and happy one for all of us.

This column will probably not be an every issue item from me. But I will write one when I feel the need is there to get some views across. Those views may very well come through letters received from you and talking to those of you I see at shows. They may come from other dog related topics that I come across and feel are very important for the Pom fancy to be aware of. In any case, when this Opening Views column does appear, you will know it is there not to merely spout verbiage across the page just to hear myself talk or boost my ego, but to further enlighten and educate each of you.

Your letters and comments will always be welcome. There are hundreds of ideas out there that I have not thought of that help continue to make this publication one of pride for all who see it. Please keep the lines of communication open.

I plan to reinstitute the use of photos of those writing columns for the Review. Those of you who regular write a column should search through the mounds of photos and choose one that you feel is particularly pleasing to yourself. If you don't have one, have one made. I think this is at least one way that the APC and the Review can show its appreciation to you for taking the time to write these informative columns for all to read. Believe me, I appreciate the efforts each of you put into writing.

As of this issue we basically start from scratch. I cannot honor any commitments that the former editor had made regarding page reservations, etc. If you know that you want specific placement in future issues, you need to contact me immediately so that we can get those reservations made. Phone calls are great and they will be returned in the order taken by my answering machine. But remember, reservations will only be honored if a follow-up letter is received with funds enclosed per our phone agreement(s). I already have the inside front page for the July issue and January '91 front cover reserved. Make your reservations now!

Some subscribers have already queried me on the possibility of color in their ads. Color cannot be used unless there is a total of four pages needed for such. This is because runs by the printer will be made in sets of four pages together. Color would be needed on each of those four pages in order to make the cost affordable for those wanting it. This means any type of color, whether it be borders, lettering, or the photo(s) itself. (Front and back covers are an exception because the price would include the heavier weight of paper utilized on the cover, and thus only those two pages would be run in color.) As always, if you are interested in a color cover (front/back), call me for those prices.

E. Bruce Driggers

President's Message

Approximately 6 weeks ago, the APC held their Annual Specialty with a record entry of 207 poms. This entry was second only to the Centennial show. A great deal of thanks goes to all those who gave of their time to see that everything was prepared for the show, especially to my household members, Edna, who did such a terrific job with the trophies, and to my David, who took care of the Grounds, etc. A very special vote of thanks to Audrey, our Show Secretary, as she did another great job this year.

Janice Luginsland graciously accepted to cover the story of the Specialty for you. Also, highlights of the Annual Meeting are enclosed in this issue.

The attendance for the Annual Meeting was quite pleasing in numbers and I hope all left the meeting with the assurance that your Board of Directors is hard at work trying to resolve the problems that exist in the club. The membership was also introduced to Mr. Chip Galloway from Baltimore, Maryland who was gracious enough to take his time and do a beautiful audit of the club's books for 1989. The Board of Directors also appointed the Audit Committee, consisting of Tim Goddard, Joyce Dembinsky and Jon Marcantonio, all of whom met on Saturday, February 10, and they elected to accept Mr. Galloway's report as theirs and so gave their decision to the Board. There were a few serious discrepancies noted in Mr. Galloway's audit and the membership was made aware of these items at the Annual Meeting. Also, several recommendations were made by Mr. Galloway in reference to the Club's finances and I hope to see several of these items adopted. I have already appointed Dianne Johnson, our First V.P., to Chair a Finance Committee. This committee was formed to guide the club in their financial affairs. Dianne is open to suggestions that members would care to submit to this committee. The Board will be also looking into the status of the Club's books for the year 1988.

The hospitality the night before the show was a huge success with plenty of liquid refreshment for one and all, as well as many fancy dishes brought in by the members from all over different parts of the country. I know the hospitality was a success as it went on into the late hours and people were comfortably scattered in the hospitality room, flowing over into the halls. I only wish we had asked the members to list their dishes and I could have given some special mention at this time. In any event, there was enough participation in this event that the treats lasted for two days plus. My thanks to all of you who got involved in this.

Again this year there were many favorable comments as to how well everyone liked the Marriot as our Show headquarters. As we have not had official notification from the American Kennel Club on our constitutional change, it is reasonably safe to assume that the show will be held at the Marriot next year.

I also feel that the membership was thoroughly pleased with the first presentation of the Awards. There were 14 different awards given in both the fields of conformation and obedience. Mary Vickers, our Awards Chairman, has also planned an article on this for this issue.

Until the next issue,

Sincerely yours in Poms,

Dolores Watts, Pres.

AMERICAN POMERANIAN CLUB
ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING
SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1990

The Annual Membership Meeting was held at the LaGuardia Marriott Hotel following the Speciality show. In attendance were 75 members and 15 guests.

The meeting was called to order by President, Dolores Watts. The minutes of the last meeting were read; Sue Berney made a motion they be accepted, Elizabeth Dupuis seconded, motion carried.

President's Message - Dolores extended thank you's to Nadine Hersil and Sally Baugniot for the super fantastic job of judging; to Mary Vickers for the wonderful job she did on the new awards. The 1989 Audit Committee report will be done by Chip Galloway. Mr. Bruce Driggers is the new POM REVIEW editor. Phyllis Ripley had insisted on, and written a contract and the Board choose not to renew it for several reasons, she was not fired. If Mr. Driggers does not do a good job, we will hire another editor. Dolores then read a letter written by Bruce that will be in the first REVIEW.

Corresponding Secretary (A. Roberts) - there were 67 new members voted in in 1989. Several new standing rules were adopted by the Board. The following clubs will hold the summer speciality - 1990 The Pom Club of Greater Baltimore, 1991 Sooner Pom Club of Oklahoma, 1992 Columbia Pom Club of Portland, Oregon, and 1993 the Dallas-Ft. Worth Pom Club. The By-law to move from New York is to the AKC and we are waiting for an answer.

Treasurer's Report (M. Carson) - the books were thoroughly audited for 1989 and a report is available for any member wishing to see it. Mr. Chip Galloway addressed the membership re. the audit and was available to answer questions. The Board is going to have 1987 and 1988 audited. Morris thanked Chip for his help. Judy Green made a motion the Treasurer's report be accepted, Elizabeth Dupuis seconded, motion carried.

Committees

Finance Committee (Dianne Johnson) - members will consist of the Treasurer Morris Carson, Chip Galloway, and Gary Ward, who is also an accountant. This committee will oversee the financial policies of the Club, set up budgets for various projects during the year, draft expense account forms for the chairmen of committees to use, should oversee the general financial status of the checking, savings and inventory accounts of this Club and take steps to see that this Club becomes financially stable. This committee will work to reconcile the books that are in question. Peter Galindo stated that the By-laws say a written list of expenditures is required - Dianne thanked Peter for his input and will do so. She also asked for any other help.

A check for $1570 from Coast Dog Shows was lost and not posted to our account. Coast is either out of business or has new owners and we might not get this money back. We are trying to trace any former/current owners of Coast. The Treasurer is not bonded and the Board is looking into this matter.

Unfinished Business

Judges Education Study Group (Janice Luginsland) - this was held this past weekend with the help of the AKC and was very successful. It also made $12.76. Thank you's were extended to Janice and Sally Bagniet, Judges Education Coordinator.

Marian McCoy addressed the membership about a deal American Airlines is interested in offering us. They want to be our airline and will offer us up to 45% off our and our dog's tickets.

Fred Bassett made a motion that the Board give the Judges Education Committee $100 for printed packages to send to judges. Joel Taylor seconded, motion carried.

Sue Berney made a motion to adjourn, David Watts seconded, motion carried.

Respectfully submitted,

3. The Board of Directors monthly agenda will be mailed by the Corresponding Secretary by the 5th of every month. All incoming information and votes by Board members must be received by the Corresponding Secretary by the 20th of every month. Nov. 89

4. Snacks and liquid refreshments for the hospitality room at our annual Specialty shall be provided by the American Pomeranian Club, Inc. Oct. 89

5. The following individuals or a member of their household will not exhibit dogs at any APC Specialty show: Show Chairman; Show Secretary, and further this will be so noted on Premium lists for APC shows. Oct. 89

The Dallas-Ft. Worth Pomeranian Club has been approved to hold the 1993 Summer National Specialty. Tentative plans are to hold the show at the location of the South Fork Ranch from the TV show Dallas fame.

As you know our National Specialty has come and gone. Surprises for some and disappointments for others. All in all it was a wonderful show. The entry was the largest (non special occasion) ever. The hospitality room was a huge success. Thanks Olga for suggesting it and thanks to the many, many members who took up luggage space and car space to bring so many wonderful goodies. We fed everyone for several days.

New York is always exhausting. Being on the Board I get absolutely no sleep from Friday until I leave on Monday. There are meetings after meetings.

I wish to comment on some rumors and misconceptions which were circulated in New York and before New York. The most vicious seemed to circulate concerning our new Review and the past Review.

First of all the Review was shown to be so very profitable by some members. In fact the Review in 1985 lost a total of $5400.

In the years that followed, the loss was not as much but was still substantial, costing this club much money. In 1989 the Review made a profit of $5592.30. However this was made up of a once every ten years income of the sale of Anniversary issues for a total of $11,000. Which means the Review in a normal year would have lost money. Figures from Phyllis were circulated showing consistent profits which were inaccurate.

The other rumor concerning the Review was that all ads must be presented in camera ready form. This is totally false. Ads may be presented in the same condition you have always presented your ads.

The next rumor was that Phyllis would edit the review for $5.00 per page when the actual fact is the Board has Phyllis' written bid for $25.00 per page. The average cost for Phyllis has been $37.00 per page. This is due to extra fees charged on the Anniversary Issue. On top of that charge we have paid an average of $36.00 per page for the printing and mailing costs. Giving us a total cost of $73.00 per page. Mr. Driggers will charge us only $10.00 per page and the cost on printing will be reduced. This will be a considerable savings. Please members, lets support our Review, it is the only Parent Club Publication approved by APC. It's the best and we will from here on out only make it better! With the costs being curtailed the topic of going to 6 issues is being discussed again. We need to be assured the ads will be there to support it. Only you members and non-members who put in ads can let us know that!

Back to the show: The Annual Dinner had a record turnout! The awards were terrific! And Mary Vickers was witty and made the anticipation rise by her secretive tactics. Congratulations to the many award winners. Thanks to Sam Zancoff for a customary well done job on the dinner. The trophies were lovely this year and all credit goes to Edna Girardot who did a terrific job as the Trophy Chairman. Credit also goes to the Watts who were her committee. Thanks to Dave Watts and Rejean Dupuis for doing the work on the Grounds committee. They were up until 1:30 a.m. Saturday night putting the ring together and stayed after the show to take the ring down. I need some volunteers to help with this job next year! Many, many thanks go to my sister who isn't a member or even an owner of a Pom who manned the Hospitality room and must have retrieved 100 buckets of ice. Thanks to the many who helped her. The Judges Education Seminar was a big success. Thanks to Janice Luginsland, Sally Baugniet, Jackie Stacy, Nadine Hersil, Ken Miller and every one who participated and helped in any way. Plans are underway for the seminar next year. Talk is going on about a Membership seminar. No thanks goes to Continental Airlines who lost one of my briefcases with VIP files in it. It has yet to be found! In it were the list of marked catalog recipients, some member files (which I can get copies of) and most importantly, my yearly working files (copies of these are being sent to me by Dolores).

Last but not least thanks to our two judges this year. Nadine Hersil and Sally Baugniet. They did an excellent job and as I heard many times that weekend, they certainly made a statement! I thoroughly enjoyed bunking with Sally as she is quite an educator and many lively and informative conversations were had!

 Judge's Critique: Sally Baugniet, Mishicot, WI

There were a total of 151 entries for me to judge, 55 in Regular Dog classes; 53 in Regular Bitch classes; 2 Veteran Dogs; 1 Veteran Bitch; 3 Stud Dogs; 1 Brood Bitch; 5 in Junior Showmanship Competition; 34 in Best of Breed.

Puppy Dog 6-9 mo.; 17 entered, 1 absent.

1st, Chricendo Contraband; Canadian bred dog, breeder: Christine Heartz; Sire: Ch. Pedron's Dragon the Conqueror x L.R.'s Gorgus S-H-D Rose; owner Patty Chapman from Utah.

This puppy had a foxy expression, had nice high set ears and used them well. His gait was the best of my four placements in this class.

Puppy Dog 9-12 mo.; 4 entered, all present.

1st, Silverwood's May Tomho; Breeder: Bess Roberts; Sire: Ch. Tomho Apricot Strut x Silverwood's Full House Annie; owner Bess Roberts & Tommi Hooban from Massachusetts. This puppy dog was nice overall. He was not as outgoing as I would like, but well put together.

Novice Dog: 1 entered, 1 present.

1st, Pombredens Li'l Choc. Elisha, Breeder-owners. Sire: Pombredens Li'l Blue Elijah x Pombredens Hevnlly Hershy Gal; owner Barbara & Robert Breden. This was the only one in its class and was a chocolate.

Bred by Exhibitor Dog: 5 entered, 1 absent.

1st, Tru-kep's Dandee Attraction, Breeder: Trudy Keplinger; Sire: Ch. Theldun's Dandee Sensation x

Best of Breed

Keplinger's Princess Buffy; owners Irwin & Trudy Keplinger. Very nice dog overall with beautiful movement.

American Bred Dog: 3 entered, all present.

1st Pomaunok Memento bred by Gayle Griffin & Fran Bosmann; Sire: Ch. Silver Meadows Pep'r O'Legacy x Starlite Shantilly; owner Fran Bosmann. This dog was a very nice dog overall and looked good when gaitting.

Open Black, Brown. & Blue Dog: 1 entered, absent.

Open Red, Orange, Cream & Sable Dogs: 16 entered, 8 present.

1st, Great Elm Toby bred by Ruth Beam; Sire: Ch. Cedarwood's Image of Diamond x Great Elm Wood's Dori; owner Dolores Watts. This nicely coated male was very typy. He moved well and was my choice for Winner's Dog.

Winner's Dog.

Open Any Other Allowed Color Dogs: 5 entered, all present.

1st Pombredens Hevny Town Crier, breeder-owners; Sire: Ch. Na-Bob Talk of Town x Pombredens Hevny Son Shine; Owner Barbara & Robert Freden. This dog was entered as a solid-colored white with darker shadings of the same color. He would have been equally as correct as a cream with lighter shadings in the ROCS class. There is absolutely no reason for me to have disqualified this dog for being in the wrong color class when the standard states "... any solid color with lighter or darker shadings of the same color...".

What does bother me is a black and tan whose tan markings in the places specified in the standard are not really tan, but are cream or a shade of that color on the rear and tan in only the front markings. The standard does not really allow for that! The only thing left for a judge to do is penalize to the extent of the deviation, just as we must do in dogs which appear to be trimmed beyond that which is allowed in the standard.

Back to my critique! After a twenty minute break, 13 lovely Puppy Bitches in the 6-9 mo. class came into the ring. 2 were absent. 1st, in this class was Merrymont On Nite Stand; Breeder-owner Patrica Griggin; Sire: Ch. Merrymont Sat'Rday Nite Fever x Ch. Queenaire Signature. All of these placements were very nice in their own right. Size and type varied, but the 1st place pup in this class displayed extremely good movement and showmanship. I'm sure all four of these "Kids" will go on to complete their title.

Puppy Bitches 9-12 mo.: 10 entered, all present.

1st, Janesa's Glen Iris Starstruck, bred by C.A. Jackson, Joel Taylor, H. Stewart and J. Freia; Ch. Jamel's Fugicle of Southland x Ch. Janesa'a Glen Iris Sorceress;

Owners Jerrie Freia and Joel Taylor. What a outstanding Pom! This young lady displayed great front, rear and side carriage. She had the required fox-like expression, used her high-set ears and showed like a charm. This is one who seemed to call out to me and say, "I'm the greatest, take me." She was, too and I did! She not only took her class, but she took Best of Winners and Best of Opposite Sex. I found out later that Nadine had given her Best in Sweeps.

Bred by Exhibitor Bitches: 7 entered, 1 absent.

1st, Watts Little Half Hour; Breeder-owner Dolores Watts; Sire: Ch. Watt's Little Chipper of G. Elms x Ch. Watt's Little I'm a Raisinette. A very nice head, nice size for a bitch, good shoulder lay-back, an alert showy bitch with excellent coat.

American Bred Bitch: 3 entered, 1 absent. 1st, Pine Acres 'Jolly Jill Toro; Breeder-owner Gertrude Brown; Sire: Ch. Cedarwood's Image of Diamond x Mullen's G E Tarbaby Angel. A typey bitch, also entered in Junior Showmanship. (See Best Jr. Handler).

Open Black, Brown & Blue Bitches: 2 entered and shown.

1st, Shadra's Rave On; Bred and owned by Leslie & Gerald Clark, Jr. Open Red, Orange, Cream & Sable Bitches: 14 entered, 4 absent.

1st, Garton's Gold Dust; Breeder-owner; Lavina Garton. This was a very nice sized bitch. She was very typey with good coat.

Open Any Other Allowed Color: 2 entered and shown.

1st, Homesteads Night-Spice bred by Jean Hurley; Sire: Ch. Homestead's Spit

N'Polish x Homestead's Second-Hand Rose; Owner: Jean Hurley & Roberta Shields-Armetta. This Black & Tan had a nice coat and good size for a bitch.

Veteran Dogs: 2 entered and shown.

1st Ch. Watt's Little Chipper of G. Elms; Breeder, Ruth Beam; Sire: Ch. Great Elms Timstopper Too x Great Elms Honeybun; Owner: Dolores Watts.

Both Veterans were nice in their own right; two different types, completely. The winner of this class was a little larger dog, had a high tail set and beautiful coat.

Veteran Bitch: 1 entered and shown.

Ch. Emcees Golden Jaymy, bred and owned by Morris & Betty Carson; Sire: Ch. Emcees Golden Chip x Emcees Tartan Tam. She was a very nice sized bitch with a huge coat and pleasant head; showed like an old pro. Best of Breed Competition: 36 entered, 7 absent.

An overwhelming entry of gorgeous Poms and not an easy task to sort out.

Best of Breed, Ch. Jan-Shar's An American Tail, bred by Jane Fleshman; Sire: Ch. Bev Nor N'Southland Rambo x Jan Shar's Magon's Top Notch, owned by Ellen Roberts. This red-sable beauty had a very nice head, high set ears, which he used to his advantage, high set tail, beautiful correct coat, four good legs, etc. You get the idea, a terrific little dog!

We had other beautiful examples of our breed in the show. I was unable to give them all awards, but those who were given an award of merit were:

Ch. Homestead Spit N'Polish, Breeder-owner Jean Hurley

Ch. Starfire's Cristina, Breeder-owner Jose Cabrena

Ch. Starlite Legacy Choco Bear,

I cannot let this critique end without mentioning the fact that too many Poms had to be "heavily penalized", as the standard states, for over trimming. We had a seminar the day before our specialty for people that had applied or sent their intent to apply to judge Pomeranians to A.K.C. These people were sitting ringside with resource people to discuss and learn from the Poms at the specialty. It would send a mixed message to these people and be hypocritical to teach such when judging.

One other fad that I hope will cease immediately, is the use of lacquer hair spray on Pom coats. I have never felt so many sticky coats on so many Poms. This is a foreign substance in the coat and is not allowed by A.K.C. I did not excuse those Poms immediately, but I could not consider them or bring them back for the final cut. One of these times you are going to find a judge that will excuse you on the spot and mark the book as such. We are making Poms more like Poodles every day with scissors and hair spray. Please, study your standard! This is what the judges are being taught because you complain about the judges and judging. It is time for you to educate yourself in your breed and quit herbellyaching.

I'm sorry, I am scolding again. Thanks for the privilege of judging this specialty. You will never know how much it means to me. It is an honor.

Sincerely,

Sally Baugniet

A.P.C. Education Coordinator and Standardization Report, Sally Baugniet, Chairman

The A.P.C. board approved the "Interpretation and Elaboration of the Pomeranian Standard" and also approved the "Official Standard for the Pomeranian" in the A.K.C. format. A.K.C. requires us to adhere to their format.

The Standard was put into A.K.C.'s format. No words or content was changed from the standard which now exists. The only change was the order in which it was arranged.

The "Interpretation and Elaboration of the Pomeranian Standard" is the result of the new format and an explanation of the various parts of the standard. Those explanations were taken from the Standard and/or Elaboration changes which were recommended by the members of the Standardization and Education Committees. The explanations are separated from the Standard itself under the headings "Elaboration". We are using this document in our education seminars and as material requested by judges who have applied to A.K.C. to judge Pomeranians.

Once the Standard format is approved by the membership and A.K.C., we have five years to make any changes. Please contact me if you have any comments or suggestions on the "Elaboration" for future Standard changes or inclusions. The "Standard" and the "Elaboration" are as follows:

The Required New Format of the Pomeranian Standard

I. General:

Appearance: The Pomeranian in build and appearance is a cobby, balanced, short-coupled dog. He exhibits great intelligence in his expression and is alert in character and deportment.

Elaboration: The total balanced dog should have good shoulder layback and enough neck so as to carry the head proudly and high. It should have enough leg for ground to be seen beneath it. The Pom has the look of fitting into a circle.

Any deviation from the ideal described in the standard should be penalized to the extent of the deviation. Structural faults common to many other breeds are as undesirable to the Pomeranian as in any other breed even though such faults may not be specifically mentioned in the standard.

II. Size, proportion and Substance:

Size: The weight of the Pomeranian for exhibition is from 3 to 7 pounds. The ideal size for show specimens are 4 to 5 pounds.

Elaboration: Contrary to some breeds of dogs, many Pom breeders prefer a male to fit into the lower end of the standard weight. The reason given most often is to lessen problems during whelping. Poms do have more than their share of whelping problems even though there may be some free whelping 3 pounders. Don't forget, if it is acceptable to put up a 3 pound Pom, it should be just as acceptable to put up a 7 pound Pom even though 4 to 5 is preferred. Just because the Pom is a Toy, 3 pounds is not better than 7 pounds. Keep in mind that 5 pounds is mid-way between 3 and 7.

Proportion: The Pomeranian in build and appearance is a cobby, balanced, short-coupled dog. The legs are of medium length in proportion to a well balanced frame.

Elaboration: The distance from point of shoulder to root of tail is no greater than distance from withers to ground. The proportion of height to length is important in having the total look of the Pom fitting into a circle. We do not want a "dumpy" Pom, that is, a long-backed, low-legged Pom, or a Pom that is too leggy.

Substance: The body is well-ribbed and rounded. The brisket is fairly deep and not too wide.

Elaboration: The depth of the chest should reach the elbow. The standard says nothing about bone. Many people would agree that, proportionately, bone as fine as that of the Italian Greyhound would be too fine and yet we do not want bone so heavy as to appear out of proportion to the total dog. Poms should have medium bone and always in proportion to the overall size of the dog.

III. Head: Well proportioned to the body, wedged-shaped, with a Fox-like expression.

Elaboration: The fox-like expression refers to the alert character of the Pom. However, in comparing the head and expression to two other "looks" which are sometimes seen in Poms, the bear or mouse look is not proper or consistent with the proper head type.

Eyes: Bright, dark in color, and medium in size, almond-shaped and not set two wide apart nor close together. Pigmentation around eye rims must be black, except self-colored in brown and blue.

Elaboration: Often we see a Pom with the incorrect round eye shape. This and any deviation in pigmentation will be penalized to the extent of the deviation.

Ears: Small, carried erect and mounted high on the head and place not too far apart.

Elaboration: Some Poms with a wide skull have very wide set ears, somewhat similar to the a Westie's ear set. The Pom ears should be set close together. It is impossible to see them set too high. This contributes to the alert fox-like expression.

Skull: Not domed in outline. A round, domey skull is a major fault.

Elaboration: The coat on the Pom's skull is shorter and more tightly packed than the body coat. This may give the appearance of a domey skull. Feel the skull from stop to occiput, gently, with your thumb. Do not confuse profuse head hair with proper shape and stop.

The width of the skull is approximately equal to the distance from the stop to the occiput. The skull is always in proportion to the muzzle. The whole head is in proportion to the total dog.

Muzzle: There is a pronounced stop with a rather fine but not snipey muzzle. Pigment around the lips must be black, except self-colored in brown and blue.

Elaboration: The muzzle length from the tip of the nose to the stop is approximately one-third the distance from stop to occiput. A very long, heavy muzzle is a course muzzle. A short, wide, Chow-type muzzle does not fit into the "rather fine" category.

Bite: The teeth meet in a scissors bite in which part of the inner surface of the upper teeth meet and engages part of the outer surface of the lower teeth. One tooth out of line does not mean an undershot or overshot mouth. An undershot mouth is a major fault.

Elaboration: Many Poms, having been bred down from a larger sized Arctic breed, have a problem fitting all 42 teeth in their tiny mouth. The standard heavily penalizes an undershot mouth, but does not penalize an overshot or level bite to the same extent.

Some Poms might have missing teeth. This could be from teeth that are pulled to make room for proper alignment, or pulled because of infected teeth. If the teeth are not cared for, it could affect the health of the whole dog. Poms are noted for tooth loss as early as 3 years of age.

Nose: pigmentation on the nose must be black, except self-colored in brown and blue.

IV. Neck, Topline and Body:

Neck: The neck is rather short, its base set well back on the shoulder.

Elaboration: The length of neck should be proportionate to well-laid back shoulders. As an extension of the spinal column, the neck shall be long enough to carry the head proudly and high.

Topline: is level.

Body: The body is cobby being well ribbed and rounded.

Chest: The brisket is fairly deep and not too wide.

Tail: The tail is characteristic of the breed. It turns over the back and is carried flat, set high.

Elaboration: A low set tail gives the appearance of a long backed Pom. Some Poms may have a curl at the tip of the tail bone. A fault is not specified for this, but a straight bone would allow the hair at the tip of the tail to extend forward. A straight, high, flat tail set contributes greatly to the total balance of the Pom.

V. Forequarters:

Shoulders: The Pom is not Straight-in-shoulder, but has sufficient layback of shoulders to carry the neck proudly and high.

Forelegs: The forelegs are straight and parallel, of medium length in proportion to a well balanced frame.

Pasterns: The Pomeranian stands well-up on toes. Down in pasterns is a major fault.

Elaboration: Pasterns are strong and parallel to each other.

Dew Claws: Dew claws on the forelegs may be removed.

Feet: The Pomeranian stands well-up on toes.

Elaboration: The Pomeranian has small compact cat-like feet which turn neither in nor out.

VI. Hindquarters:

Angulation: Elaboration: Hindquarters and forequarters should be of equal angulation.

Legs: The hocks are perpendicular to the ground, parallel to each other from hock to heel, and turning neither in nor out. Cowhocks or lack of soundness in hind legs or stifles is a major fault. Dew claws, if any, on the hind legs are generally removed.

Elaboration: The legs are of medium bone with moderately bent stifles. Unsound stifles are a problem in Poms. A very unsound stifle will be obvious if the patellas can be seen slipping in and out when the dog is gaiting. If this causes the dog to limp, of course, it must be excused.

Elaboration: Its cat-like feet turn neither in nor out.

VII. Coat: Coat type on head, legs and tail differ from body coat.

Head Coat: Elaboration: Head coat is tightly packed and shorter in length than that of the body.

Body Coat: Double-coated: A short, soft, thick coat consisting of guard hairs which must be harsh to the touch in order to give the proper texture for the coat to form a frill of profuse, standing-off straight hair. A soft, flat or open coat is a major fault.

Elaboration: A ruff around the neck is created by a correct coat. A coat that droops probably is either lacking in enough undercoat to hold the guard hair up to a stand-off coat, or has improper soft guard hair. A long drooping Pekingese-type coat is incorrect on a Pom.

Tail Coat: It is profusely covered with hair.

Elaboration: Long tail hair, combed toward the head and over the body coat, adds greatly to the over-all beauty and balance of the Pomeranian. Some Poms have such a long plume that the hair parts and falls to the side. This should not be faulted.

Leg Coat: The front legs are well feathered and the hindquarters are clad with long hair or feathering from the top of the rump to the hocks.

Elaboration: The leg coat is tightly packed and much shorter in length than the body coat. Front leg feathering extends from the point of the elbow to the bottom of the pastern. Leg coat on some Poms is more compact, giving a heavy bone look. Run your hands down the legs to feel the leg, pastern and foot.

Trimming: Trimming for neatness is permissible around the feet and up the back of the legs to the first joint; trimming of unruly hairs on the edges of the ears and around the anus is also permitted. Over-trimming (beyond the location and amount described in the breed standard) should be HEAVILY PENALIZED.

Elaboration: Trimming the foot for neatness can show off the tight cat-like and strong pasterns for the well-up-on toes look. Knowledgeable trimming is many times done to disguise weak pasterns and slightly toe-out feet. Trimming, along with brushing the hair up on the feet and pasterns, can also be done to give the look of more bone and balance to the dog.

Abundant ruff around the neck may make larger ears look small. Improperly trimmed ears may make the ear appear larger than it really is. Feel the ear from the base, to ascertain ear size.

Often hair on the ruff around the ears is evened off to eliminate the scraggly look. This is somewhat beyond what the standard calls for but not really sculpturing. Some people brush the bib up and shape it. Trimming around the anus is allowed. How far around is not spelled out. The hair and feathering on the hindquarters is often thinned discreetly so the dog does not look longer than it is. Some of the hair near the base of the tail that might fall over the anus is sometimes discreetly trimmed away.

Other areas that are trimmed and sculptured on the Pom have not been mentioned - but are very obvious that sculpturing has been done. It is up to the judge to determine how much trimming is beyond that which is allowed in the standard and penalize accordingly. Keeping in mind - THIS BREED IS NOT TO BE SCULPTURED!

VIII. Color:

ACCEPTABLE COLORS TO BE JUDGED ON AN EQUAL BASIS; Any solid color, any solid color with lighter or darker shadings of the same color, any solid color with sable or black shadings parti-color, sable and black & tan. Black & tan is black with tan or rust, sharply defined, appearing above each eye and on the muzzle, throat and forechest, on all legs and feet and below the tail. Parti-color is white with any other color distributed in even patches on the body and a white blaze on head. A white chest, foot, or leg on a whole colored dog (except white) is a major fault.

Elaboration: Our standard allows any solid color with sable or black shadings. A black mask is allowed. Some judges remember an earlier standard that penalized a black mask. This is not to be penalized.

The reason for the major fault listed under "Color" is to remind you that a Pom having a white chest, foot or leg on a whole-colored dog (except white) is a mis-marked parti-colored Pom. Do not confuse this with the acceptable "lighter shadings". In addition to these colors listed as acceptable, some additional colors such as brindle, other colors with tan markings and beaver do on occasion appear in the ring. Since there are no disqualifications appearing in the Standard, they must be faulted as a deviation of color.

IX Gait: the Pomeranian moves with a smooth, free, but not loose action. He does not elbow out in front nor move excessively wide nor cowhocked behind. He is sound in action.

Elaboration: The Pom also should move excessively close in the rear. It should reach with its front legs and drive from the rear. Front movement should in no way resemble a hackney gait. In side movement, the front foot should reach at least as far as the nose. The proper gait for the Pom should be a forward motion.

X. Temperament: He exhibits great intelligence in its expression, and is alert in character and deportment.

Elaboration: A Pomeranian is very active, brave and friendly. It was bred down from a big dog and still acts big. The Pom would challenge another dog, no matter what size. But, a Pomeranian owner will tell you there is not a sweeter, more friendly, dedicated dog than theirs.

APC Judges Study Group Report

The first American Pomeranian Club Judges Study Group at a National Specialty was held at the LaGuardia Marriott Hotel in New York on Feb. 10 and 11, 1990.

The following committees were involved:

Judges Education Committee: Sally Baugniet, Chairman

Mary McCoy

Ken Miller

Sub Committee:

Jackie Liddle Stacy

Sue Goddard

Nadine Hersil

Judges Study Group Committee:

Janice Luginsland, Chairman

Fred Bassett

Ken Miller

The agenda on Saturday was as follows: Welcome and Introductions; Viewing of the AKC Pom Video; Elaboration of the Standard; History of the Breed; Question and Answer period. The group reconvened Sunday morning in a reserved section of the ring with breed resource people to answer their questions during the judging. Seven incoming judges participated either on Saturday and/or Sunday. Those judges who participated were: Anthony J. DeMaula, Jr., R. Wayne Gurin, Marcia K.

Hostetler, Margaret Mill Materna, Dorothy C. Poole, Joe C. Walton and Ruth Winston.

These committee members participating felt the comments by the incoming judges were as beneficial to us as our input hopefully was them.

I owe special thanks to Mary Vickers for furnishing us with a TV with VCR complete with Pom video. Jackie Liddle Stacy and Nadine Hersil for allowing Ch. Duffie to come out of retirement for use as one of our demonstration dogs. Also to Audrey Roberts for furnishing three puppies for the hands on. All of the committee members assisted with the exception of one who was unable to attend. Elizabeth Augspaugh from the AKC Judges Education Dept. is to be commended for her assistance with the planning, fliers, mailing labels, etc. The APC Hospitality room was available to those judges for refreshments during the break between judging which was appreciated since the line was so long to the restaurant. Last, but certainly not least, I thank the APC Board of Directors for allowing us to set up and hold this first Judges Study Group. I personally believe it is one of the best tools currently available to produce more knowledgeable judges.

City of Angels Pomeranian Club

By Doreen Vander Tuin

At our November 1989 meeting, we viewed a video tape of our October match. Interesting enough, the dogs were not the topic that took over the discussion, but handling techniques thoroughly picked apart. Examples of poor handling technique in some ways were more illustrative than those handlers who were doing everything right and made presenting a dog for judging look effortless. Actually, SEEING mishandling and how it can effect the overall impression the ringsiders and judge get of a dog being shown sure brings the message home to those of us watching.

One thing for sure, all handlers (both male and female) should take care to bend the knees when reaching down to scoop up your Poms to put them on the table. Besides being better for your back then bending at the waist, you don't realize how BAD it looks from ringside with human rear ends sticking up, waving in the breeze! Give the spectators a break and add some grace to the presentation of yourself and your dog in the ring by being aware how you move in the ring, as well as how your dog looks.

Table etiquette seems to give most handlers the worst problems, just what to you with your hands when the judge is going over your dog? Take some advice from the junior handlers: When the judge goes to one end of the dog, you move to the other end. A hand on the rear of the inexperienced dog when the judge is going over the head is okay, as well as a reassuring hand on the chest when the judge is messing around with the rear. What looks most impressive is the handler that just stands quietly, hanging on to the lead, and lets the judges do their job with the minimum amount of interference. If your dog moves a foot as the judge is looking at the end in question, it seems alright to move an unobtrusive hand in and straighten things out if you can stay out of the judge's way. Quite a few judges in that situation will replace the foot themselves, which is probably the best thing to happen in that instance. A handler that is constantly messing around with the dog's feet and legs, or has a comb whipping in and out of the judge's field of vision, just seems to slow down the process and annoy the judge in some instances. Bottom line is it is better to table train the dog before you get in the ring and cut down on the wrestling matches in public.

In December, we had our Holiday get-together with plenty of Pom talk and food, and then we got back down to business in January to plan out the new year. Plans are going forward for our next match on April 22, 1990. The site has been reserved, a judge contacted and confirmed with the required paperwork sent to the AKC. Our capable newsletter editor, Connie Brown (who is doing a bang-up job of keeping the membership informed of club doings) has been handling some preliminary details that promise to make this match one worth attending for Pom exhibitors.

For information regarding Pom activities in this area, please contact the City of Angels Corresponding Secretary: Doreen Vander Tuin - 1230 Plum Avenue - Simi Valley, VA 93065 - (805) 522-7094.

By the time you are reading this, we've already had our first match of the year. I am certain it was a great success as usual.

Bay Colony (Cont. from page 35)

We are now excitingly looking forward to our annual Specialty show on May 12, 1990 in West Springfield, MA. It will be held in conjunction with The Springfield Kennel Club at the Expo grounds. The judge for the regular classes will be Mrs. Etta Orenstein.

This year for the first time ever, we are having a puppy sweepstakes. We are doubly excited about this! Our judges will be for dogs, Mr. Donald Gill. Mrs. Garrett O'Dell will judge bitches and Best in Sweepstakes.

After the judging ALL POMERANIAN EXHIBITORS are invited to our annual FREE buffet. We will be located in a corner room near exit #7. Just look for the pom posters.

Congratulations to Eileen Stopa on her second pom C.D. Miss Bear got her final two legs over the Thanksgiving weekend in Springfield.

Also, congratulations to Ina Kniffen for her first place win in the Brood Bitch class at the A.P.C. Spec. in N.Y. in Feb. with Ch Jeremy's MI Mandy of Tiny Tykes, Smokey's Elvis Parsley and Smokey's Precious of Tiny Tykes. Congratulations, also to Paula Payson with her 3rd placement with Karadarn Bits-N-Bits in the BBE class.

Columbia Pom Specialty January 1990 Results

By Jean Schroll

Well, we got off to a rousing start for 1990 with an entry of 52. Our biggest yet! It was wonderful! As usual, there were a few glitches but nothing too disastrous. It is not the fun the summer show is because of it being winter time, it must be held indoors. The Expo Center in Portland does not allow us to have food so there is not our usual pot luck that is so much fun. It does not make for a thrill when one must have Poms ready by 8 a.m.

Overall, I felt the quality of dogs and bitches were pretty nice. Winners Dog was Apollette Gone-A-Lot, bred and owned by Marlin and Marlene Presser. Winners Bitch was Ginleaks Angel at Warlord's, owned by Ray Mooney and Jack Hookie and bred by Charles Hunsaker. Best of Breed was Ch. Harbin's Carrying on for Mom, bred by Irene & Sylvia Harbin and owned by Sylvia. Best of Opposite for the second speciality in a row was Ch. Autumn's Cara Mia Monique, owned and bred by Emily Untalan.

Our judge was Roland Adameck who is always a pleasant person to be around and Mary Dee Lindemaier did our sweepstakes. Not only is she a nice person, she is a pretty lady. She is the wife of one of the local photographers. Her choice for Best In Sweepstakes was Snuggle Pals ASutumn Mink, owned by Emily Untalan & Joanne Blank, bred by Emily and Donna Pickles, by Ch.

Wharton's Seppl Von Honig out of Autumn's Li'l Black Gem. Best of Opposite Sex was Pickles Special Autumn Lady also bred/owned by Emily and Donna.

Judges Critique

Thank you all so very much for the lovely entry of Pomeranian puppies. I sincerely enjoyed my first assignment in the Toy ring. I must say I was delighted at the overall quality of the Pom puppies that were shown to me. Many, many people had commented to me on how poor the quality and movement was in this particular breed. I found them to be overall very sound on the down and back and side movement was equally impressive.

I had correct coats for the most part. Only one did not accommodate the Standard. Overall type and size was within the standard. I did see more poor bites that I had anticipated. Their sweet faces and small, at attention ears allowed me a smile and enjoyment with each individual I examined. I was disappointed to have one puppy that would not allow me the privilege of an examination.

My best mover in the Sweeps was a light colored male. He was very sound and I gave him his class but in the end found him to be a bit larger than I liked.

My Best in Sweeps was a very lovely, typey male that was also a good mover. He presented himself to his fullest potential. I think this boy will go places when he matures. My Best of Opposite bitch was also of lovely type and I must tell you, I was delighted to find after all the judging was completed that I was consistent.

We always seem to have so much news and so many club activities to tell about, that it's hard to know where to begin.

Our NORDIC DOGS MATCH was held on January 28. The weather was something else. There were warnings from the highway patrol being aired on the radio telling people to stay home. I suppose it had something to do with the 35 miles per hour wind gusts with rain.

Nevertheless, we had 49 entires including Chows, Malamutes, Huskys, Schipperkes, Norwegian Elkhounds and of course Pomeranians. Conformation judging was done by Joan Zielinski and Alicia Heggerston. Obedience and "Grand Turkey" by Linda Gallacher. Junior Showmanship by Blake Jones, and Sweepstakes by Tom Stephens.

Let me stop for a minute and explain

"Turkey Awards". The idea was given to us by club member, George Reed. We give a black ribbon to those exhibitors who goof-up, or the puppies won't walk or spin around or have an "accident" in the ring. This gives each of the puppies or exhibitors another chance in the ring when they come back in for "Grand Turkey". It's really a lot of fun for both exhibitors and spectators.

Anyway, Best of Breed Pom and Group 2 went to an adorable, very showy red-orange boy "Jestom's Lovely Toy Solder," owned and handled by Jessie Stephens. Best of Breed Pom Adult and Group 3 went to "Feisty's Rebels Razzel Dazzel," an attractive little black & tan owned and handled by Rosemarie Schroeder. Two outstanding Schipperkes won Best Puppy and Best Adult in Match.

There are a great deal of people who don't realize that Poms are "Nordic" or "Spitz" dogs. The nice display of dogs at our match with double coats, prick ears and tails curled over the back was a real eye-opener for many. I was interested to hear from a breeder that some Schipperkes are born with tails and some are not. She went on to say that if they are allowed to keep them, Schip tails do curl over their back.

Our Annual Election and Christmas Dinner was held in December. New officers are: President - Victoria Lovely; Vice President & Committee Chairperson - Blake Jones; Treasurer - Cathie Rovetta-Brown; and Recording/Corresponding Secretary - Wendy Feist, 6325 SE 73rd, Portland, OR 98206.

I am very proud and pleased to say that as of our February meeting, the Mr. Rainier Pom Fanciers has 33 members! We started with 4 members back in January '89) Thank you members! Your support is priceless!

Club sweatshirts and t-shirts are available. Our mountain & Pom logo is printed in 3 different colors on the front. White sweatshirts are $20; pink or yellow t-shirts are $12. Please include $1 per shirt for postage. MRPF monthly newsletters are available at $8 per year. Send orders to MRPF, 12022 30th St. E, Puyallup, WA 98372.

The MRPF is proud to introduce and independent "Stud Dog/Brood Bitch Directory". This directory will feature photos & pedigrees of Poms and of course will specialize in the exotics. Please send all inquiries to Wendy Feist.

Congratulations to the Puget Sound Pom Club, "Washington's only licensed Pom Club," on their new point show status.

Well, that's all for now. Have a great summer!

Northwest News and Views

By Jane Reed

Well, 1989 is behind us and for me it has been a great year! I hope it has been as generous to all of you. I won't bore you with all the wins but I would like to share with you my views of the year's experiences. There are a lot of conflicts on the many levels of the dog show world. I'm sure exhibitors from other areas have their consternations as well.

I would like to focus on the positive. We get enough of the negative - it has its purpose and I like to think of it as helpful to grow, but we need the kudo's also.

Many times this last year, my Prince Charming son "Tex" took group placements. On these great occasions, we were cheered on and heartily supported by our other Pom exhibitors. I want to tell you how grateful I am for this support! I would personally like to thank Tom &

Carol Gillespie, Tom & Jessie Stephens, Black Jones, Victoria Lovely, Jiggs & Alicia Heggerston, Victor & Wendy Feist, Ray Mooney and Jack Hookie. No one realizes achievements without the help of those about them and our year has been special due in part to the support of these people. Pom people do support each other!

There is another experience I would like to tell you all about. For the first time in my life, I traveled to Alaska (to show dogs of course). What a great time! Not only does Alaska have beautiful scenery, beautiful and well bred Poms, but really nice Pom people! I have never been treated better! I was all alone and unfamiliar with the area but was soon put to ease by Alaskan hospitality. A special thanks goes out to Carolyn Turnage and Dixieanne Bennette for receiving me so cordially!

One last note - I would like to congratulate the Mt. Rainier Pomeranian Fanciers on a very successful first year. The club puts out a very informative newsletter and has held 4 very successful matches in 1989. The tremendous growth in membership of this club speaks for the work and efforts of its members.

The Ohio Valley Pom Club

By Judy Shearer, Secretary

What a WEEKEND! What a MATCH! What a JUDGE! What a group of super people and gorgeous puppies!

The OVPC Specialty Match held November 26, 1989 at the Holiday Inn Akron, Ohio will no doubt be the talk of the fancy for some time to come.

On Nov. 25 while match chairperson Bonnie Stetson was off to the airport to pick up Judge Lawrence Standbridge, co-chairperson Dona Megenhardt along with hubby and Ring Steward Rick Megenhardt met with Jim and I and daughter-in-law Kris at the Holiday Inn around 4 p.m. to set up. Others wandering in to help were members Bob and Fran Johns and Jim and Doris Wheeler.

No sooner was the ring set up than tiny little balls of fluff of all colors began appearing from all over for practice. Some of our exhibitors were delighted to learn they had no ring mats to get those babies used to as we showed on carpet.

After much toting, sign hanging and room finding, we all adjourned to the Ballet Room to enjoy meeting Pom People and visiting with the old. Snacks, drinks and a good time were enjoyed by all. I have yet to decide who took the most pictures - Jim and I or Joe McGinnis.

Sunday dawned a snow free day as Bonnie had promised everyone. On arriving at the match around 9 a.m., we found puppies till practicing. (We assume they did leave the night before.) Jim, along with grandson and junior member, Ron Shearer, unloaded all our dogs and gear and was off to help Donna with more toting. I did a lot of visiting, directing exhibitors to grooming rooms, and cuddling puppies (my favorite job).

At promptly 12 noon, our announcer Joe McGinnis, along with ring steward Rich Megenhardt, called the first class into the ring. At 4:30, Judge Standbridge announced his final winner.

With 192 entries, 151 of those actually exhibited. We had exhibitors representing 19 sates, as well as 4 cities in Ontario, Canada.

The results were as follows:

Puppy Dogs 2-4 months/Entry 20
POM ACRES JESSE JAMES - Juanita Fiddick

Puppy Dogs 4-6 months/Entry 21

FLUFFALOVE's ANGEL IN DISGUISE - Barbara McCrimmon

Best Junior Puppy - POM ACRES JESSE JAMES - Juanita Fiddick

Puppy Dogs 6-9/Entry 17
WL BAD LANDS TERRITORY - Mark & Carol Baldwin

Puppy Dogs 9-12/Entry 8

Best Adult in Match - LYNNWRIGHT'S WALT DISNEY - Donna Lynn Wright (25 entries)

Best of Opposite Sex to Best Adult in Match - WATT'S LITTLE HALF HOUR - Dolores Watts (28 entries)

Our judge, Lawrence Standbridge, surely deserves a medal for his never ending patience and understanding. Not all of our babies were leash broken and some a little scared, but he was always patient, gentle and kind - to both

Ohio Valley (Cont. from page 40) puppies and exhibitors. His good natured sense of humor put even the most novice of novices at ease. Dozens of letters received since the match confirmed this.

Judge Standbridge's comments after the match: "Overall, I found the quality of the entry to be quite satisfactory. From my point of view, the day was educational, rewarding and very enjoyable."

Veterinarian in attendance, Dr. James Radcliffe, told some very amusing stories from his practice in West Virginia. Dr. Radcliffe is a very nice man with a terrific sense of humor. He also has that special knowledge that it takes to administer to our special loves, the Pom. He was constantly bombarded with questions and very patiently tried to answer them all. We have all been teasing Carol Galavich about her "special vet." But she just will not agree to let him move further north!

Chairperson Bonnie Stetson then presented thank you gifts to her staff. Co-chairperson Donna Megenhardt was presented with a beautiful life-like painting of Bonnie's P.J. (Ch. GREAT ELMS PRIDE AND JOY) in appreciation of he help with the match.

Bonnie then drew the pre-entry prizes - early entry prizes (by non OVPC members) and early entry prizes by OVPC members. No one went away empty handed.

This was followed by a delicious dinner for all exhibitors catered by Maxwell's restaurant, there in the Inn. No one went away hungry either!

To top off a fabulous dinner and weekend, a group of young people called ETC (a performing show choir from Akron), performed beautifully for the attendees. It was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

From our match chairperson, Bonnie Stetson, this message:

"We believe this match was a great success. It could not have been done without the help of all our members. Donna and I are very grateful for the support we have received, not only from our own club, but from Pom Clubs all over the United States.

I am particularly pleased with the good sportsmanship and support I saw displayed at this match. It has reaffirmed my belief that Pom people are some of the nicest people around the show ring."

We of the OVPC would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you for all your cards and letters regarding the match and to all those 151 exhibitors - THANKS! - for making it happen!

Corrections...

In Jean Schroll's Northeast News Jan. 1990 article, she reported on the upcoming Columbia Pom Club's winter show. That particular paragraph should have read:

"The Columbia Pomeranian Club is preparing for their winter show to be held in Portland at the Pacific International Livestock Center, better known as Expo on Thursday, January 18, 1990. Judge will be Mr. Roland Adameck from Hawaii for the regular classes and Mary Dee Lindemaier for the Sweepstakes.

Show secretary will be Averil Asbeck, 3746 S.E. Carruthers, Portland, Or. 97214. Entries will close on Jan. 5, 1990. Hope to see you all there."

That's right! We will be holding our summer specialty "Point" show this summer. (Date to still be announced.) The show committee has been formed and plans are underway. Obedience and Junior Showmanship will be offered. For more information please contact Alan Koeller, 1508 NE Brockman Place, Seattle, WA 98125. He will be Show Chairman and Show Secretary.

All calendars have been sold and I thank those who generously supported this project. I had a lot of fun doing this project and it couldn't have happened without all of the support I received.

The handling class we put on each week is going strong! Not only is it educational, but it is a needed source of revenue.

Congratulations to all members who have some recent wins! Randy Gemmil and Dana Plonkey have been doing well as have Mary Rosenbaum who has finished two new champions, "Ch. Bi-Mar Sunny Supreme and Ch. Bi-Mar Foxfire." Jane Reed and her "Ch. Jane's Wee Prince O' Jeribeth" are continuing to do well in the ring with another group one and group two!

Sylvia Harbin with her "Ch. Harbin's Carrying On For Mom," better known as "Mikie," has won a couple of breeds and a Group Three! "Ch. Feisty's My-T-Fine" has also won a Best of Breed owned by Victor and Wendy Feist. Their "Feisty's Bom Shell" has also won another point. Kay Magee went reserve winners with her little boy, handled by Janell Reich.

A big welcome to new members Billy and Bonnie Simpson.

Our monthly news letter publication, Poms and People, has lost one heck of an editor - Jane Reed! Thank you Jane for all your hard work and dedication you always give. I will greatly miss all of your editorials! The new editor will be Alan Koeller at the address mentioned above.

This will be my last club report! I'm passing the writing on to the show committee who are much more informed on the latest happenings so that no news is missed.

San Diego Pomeranian Club, Inc.

By Margaret Ontiveros

Our Fall Match, October 7, was a resounding success with 23 entries. Our capable judge was Mr. Ed Dickinson. The weather was sunny and pleasantly warm; typical of Fall in San Diego. Warm fellowship and good food (potluck style) was enjoyed by all in attendance.

The Fall Speciality was held in conjunction with the Del Dur Kennel Club on November 12. Mrs. Kim (Dickinson) Krug was the Sweepstakes Judge. The trophies were of crystal. We had a very early showing time so the club provided coffee and donuts to the Pom exhibitors.

We are busy planning our 1990 Specialties:

The first will be held Saturday, June 23 at the Los Angeles Sports Arena, along with other Toy breeds, who are members of the Golden West Dog Club, Inc. Our sweepstakes judge is Mr. Bobby Shultz and the regular classes will be judged by Dr. Houpt. The superintendent is Jack Bradshaw and the closing date is June 5. The next day will be the Kennel Club of Beverly Hills show at the same location.

The second will be held Friday, November 9 at the Berry Street Park in Lemon Grove (a city in San Diego County). The superintendent is Barbara Lowe.

Please, put these two dates on your calendar and plan on joining us for exciting days of good food and warm friendship. There will be a variety of classes offered including Sweepstakes, Brace and Team, and a Champion Parade.

Several of our members have moved to the Pacific Northwest area. Although we are sorry to see them go, we have acquired new members so our numbers remain about the same. It is hoped that everyone and their Poms will have a great 1990.

Webfoot Report 1990

By Jean Schroll

Well, 1990 has started in our area with a few new arrivals. Emily Untalan has a new baby bred by Emily and Donna Pickles out of Ch. Wharton's Seppl Von Honig that went Winners Dog at our first show of the New Year and Richard Lackey has a dog up here with our new California transplant, Anna LaFortune and he won the breed and Gr. I at the same show. Winners Bitch at this show as BiMar Foxfire owned & bred by Mary Rosenbaum. The next day, Winners Dog was Jambo's Royal Rascal owned by Nora Higbee and bred by Shirley Bradley. Both got nice 5 pointers out of these shows. Winners Bitch was owned and bred by E.C. and Emily Untalan.

Our January 1990 Specialty will be history before you read this and I will include the judges comments elsewhere.

Big majors in our next four local shows. Three majors won by Jack Hookie and Ray Mooney's bitch Angel. Two majors on a homebred by Rom & Carol Gillespie. Emily and Louie Untalan finished a bitch with her 4th major, as well as a BOS. Mary Rosenbaum got a couple of BOS' with a new champion bred by her. Janet Hovey went home with a major on a nice black she owns. Best of Breed was shared by Sylvia Harbin, Richard Lackey, and all the owners of Tim Sue's Distant Lights. Also a few group placements but no group I's.

There is an error in the ad for the Columbia Pomeranian Club's page ad, advertising the beginning of our first Futurity. The date is July 13, 1990 instead of July 20. Be sure and put this in your memory banks. The Futurity should be fun and certainly different than anything offered before in Poms. Also there was an error in my last Webfoot Report and I sure would appreciate it being fixed even though our January Specialty is over. Some words were left out of it making it appear that our show secretary, Averil Asbeck, was judge. Such is not the case. Mr. Roland Adameck was our judge. And the original article states that.

Across Canada

By Chris Heartz

Freshly back today from the American Pomeranian Club Specialty. Two sleepless nights and a day and a half of Pom Talk! Living in a place like Nova Scotia, you learn to "live" for events like this. It's a wonderful chance to renew old acquaintances, meet new friends, learn and watch the greatest array of Poms in North America. I would highly recommend everyone attend National Specialties when ever possible. They are our breeds' showcase. Not only is it a wonderful experience, but it's a great way to get a fresh focus on your own breeding program. I find myself going home to plan litters, for better puppies, for next year's Specialty. Canadians attending this year's American Specialty were the "regulars": Natalie Dunfee, Frankie and Mickie McDonald, Reg and Elizabeth Dupuis, and myself. While none of us did anything spectacular this year, we did come home with a few class placements. The "highlight" for me came at the Awards banquet when Can. Am. Ch. Chriscendo City Lights was named Top Producing Pom Sire in the U.S. for 1989, (tied with Ch. Great Elms Prince Charming). It makes me very proud as a Canadian that we are making a valuable contribution to the breed. So much depends on where each and every puppy is placed. The best show dog in the world is wasted unless he is shown, and the best producer in the world is wasted if he is never used. Congratulations to all the owners who finished dogs last year, to make this very special award possible, and my personal thanks to Sue Goddard, Breeder of the Year, who I co-own City Lights with for her hard work and dedication.

And speaking of awards, the Top Five Poms in Canada for the first half of 89 are as follows:

Ch. Chriscendo Cause For Applause (owner J. Obuck)

Ch. Emcee's Solid Gold Amigo (F. and M. Penney)

Ch. Bavanew's Time After Time (R. and S. Lariviere)

Ch. Chriscendo Calvin Klein (C. Heartz and E. Miller)

Ch. Forever Teddy Ruxstable (L. Rogers)

As you read this, our 4th annual Canadian Specialty will be underway. Held in conjunction with the Edmonton Kennel Club's 80th Anniversary Show, it promises to be the largest entry ever. I'll have a full report for you in the next issue. The interesting array of judges, from Germany and the U.S. will hold some surprises in store for everyone I'm sure. We hope that some of our U.S. friends will be joining us. See you there!!

Helpful Hints

By Margaret R. McKee

As I write this, the national specialty is a few days away. Specialties are so exciting, so much fun. Even if you don't have a dog ready to show, do make an effort to attend the next specialty near you. You can learn so much, meet lots of wonderful people (and a few weirdos!) and have a great time. Here in the mid-Atlantic states, we're very excited that the Pomeranian Club of Greater Baltimore has been granted a license by AKC to hold our first Specialty. It will be the day before the APC summer specialty. What makes Baltimore's show unique is that it will be the first time an independent specialty has offered obedience classes! You don't want to miss that. Mary Vickers has been working diligently for years to get AKC approval for obedience classes for APC, but we're still waiting.

Pretty soon, you'll be gearing up for flea season. You know you must treat house and yard as well as dogs. But don't forget to spray or bomb your car, van, or motor home. Those critters can be lurking anywhere the dog has been.

I got a letter from a fellow trainer. Her dog is doing well in novice training, but she lags. The following is my answer to her. Now wait, you conformation people, before you turn the page, you might find some hints here for dogs that don't like to walk on lead.

"Ahh lagging! A very common problem with Poms. My newest CD, Charm, is a terrific heeler, fast and attentive—and I can take no credit for it except I've tried not to screw her up. Okay, so what do you do? As with any training situation, you need to be able to read your dog. What is her general temperament? Why is she lagging?

(1) She could be thumbing her nose at you. In that case, I would try the pinch collar. But from what you said in your letter, I would guess that this is not true of your dog.'

(2) More likely, she is a little timid and/or confused. She may be hanging back to see what's going to happen next. Are you going to halt or turn? She wants to be prepared. She wants to please, and this is her way of trying to do what you want. So punishment is really counter-productive. I'm convinced that the best way to teach a dog not to lag is the Koehler method—jerk, jerk, jerk.

Let's start over. Use your buckle collar and a loose leash." (There were specific problems in my correspondent's letter that made me suggest a loose lead. Normally in this situation, I would suggest no slack, a solid lead, or a binding technique in order to insure that the dog worked in heel position.) "If you can, you might want to tie the leash to your waist to free up both hands. Put your food in your right hand. Use your left to point out the focal point on your left leg. I do not require that they look into my face while heeling; looking at my left leg is good enough for me. Now, let's make it fun! I'll bet your dog didn't lag in the conformation ring. Think back; in the breed ring, you did few turns, no fast or slow, no sits.

Start off fairly slow, go only three steps, release and praise exuberantly. No halt or sit. Gradually increase speed and number of steps, always ending with release and praise. As she gets the idea, and is happy about it (we're trying to rebuild her confidence) begin heeling in large left circles (dog on inside). Once you're sure she understands what "heel" means, you may want to add Diane's (Bauman) correction for lagging—gently reach out, take hold of collar or fur and bring her up to heel position, point to your leg, praise! I've used this correction on Val, a very soft dog, but rarely. Knowing I'm capable of such a correction, he responds quickly to voice and the pointing finger.

Before you consider adding turns or halts to your heeling, work by yourself (i.e. without the dog) on footwork and body cues. It is your job to warn your partner what you are going to do. If possible, get an experienced trainer to watch you, or better yet videotape you, to see if you are giving clear, consistent cues to your dog."

After I mailed that letter, I attended an obedience seminar conducted by Brian McGovern. Brian is a Briton who lives in the Netherlands. He puts a lot of emphasis on style—the dog must work with both attention and enthusiasm. A few brief pointers gleaned from this seminar:

1. Don't try to work on style and precision at the same time. When you work on precision (perfect heel position, perfect fronts) work slowly.

2. When working on style, add lots of enthusiasm and game-playing. Don't worry about precision. "Games" while heeling include a quick pat on the nose, ear scratching, shoving the dog's head down.

3. He uses lots of tiny toys on the leash while saying "Good boy, clever boy!" Because the tugs are associated with happy talk, the dog doesn't resent the leash when it is used for correction.

4. A trap a lot of people fall into is practicing or working doing an exercise as it is done in the ring—too much instead of continuing to train.

5. His description of competition in Europe was fascinating. Heeling can last for 8 minutes and include 20 or 30 turns in advanced classes. There is no jumping. Almost all the dogs which compete are Border Collies and shepherds. I don't want to trade! However, the idea of having the steward call commands makes wonderful sense.

There is a difference between a breeder and a Breeder. The former is the owner of a bitch who has puppies. Rationalizations about "sex education for the kids" or "fulfillment for the bitch" notwithstanding, he is motivated mainly by money. He doesn't know much about genetics nor does he study pedigrees. Choice of a stud is probably dictated by proximity. He may give the puppies shots and have them wormed. They are sold as soon as they are weaned. And once they are gone, he doesn't worry about what's happening to them.

A Breeder is a more conscientious and responsible individual. He breeds only if he plans to keep a pup, and is sure he can sell the others. He is hoping to improve the breed or at least improve on what he has. He wants to produce gorgeous, healthy pups that will make superior pets. He thoughtfully plans the mating, and selects a stud based on his pedigree, his phenotype, and his progeny. The puppies are supervised, inoculated, and wormed. Prospective owners are carefully screened—are there young children, is the yard fenced, are there other animals? His sales contract includes a health guarantee.

A story I heard in January may illustrate the difference. A woman contacted a breeder several states away about purchasing a pet puppy. An agreement was reached. The seller either failed to find out or didn't care that the buyer has a 4 year old child. The buyer mailed a check.

Before the puppy could be shipped, the buyer went to visit a local woman who operates a pet-sitting service and took her young daughter with her. The pet-sitter is also a Pom Breeder. It quickly became apparent to her that, because of the child, this was not an appropriate home for a Pomeranian puppy. She convinced the buyer that the Pom would not be safe with the child. The buyer called the seller and tried to cancel the sale. The seller adamantly refused, and put the puppy on a plane! The pup is now with the pet sitter while a better home is sought. The buyer will probably take a financial loss on any sale. And the breeder cashes the check and doesn't give the puppy another thought.

How much thought do you give to naming your puppies? There are two names to be selected: the registered name and the call name. AKC has some regulations governing the naming of dogs. Unfortunately, these are not well publicized. They are included in a booklet titled "AKC Policies and Guidelines for Registration Matters", available from AKC, 51 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10010. I assume it is free.

1. The right to choose the name of the puppy belongs to the person registering the dog. Breeders who fill in the name on the blue slip are violating AKC policy, but I don't think there's much anyone can do about it. If you want to name the pup before you sell it, you pay the $6 and register the puppy.

2. Names are limited to 25 letters. Spaces, hyphens, and apostrophes are not counted.

3. You must use the standard English alphabet. While you may use hyphens and apostrophes, you may not use symbols like $, #, or &; periods or commas; or diacritical marks such as accent grave or unlaut.

4. Kennel names are protected by AKC only if they are registered and are used as a prefix. Idlewyld is not registered; there is nothing I can do if someone chooses to use it. Great Elms is a registered kennel name. You may use it as a prefix for your dog's name only if Ruth Beam gives you permission in writing. However, there is nothing to stop you from putting it in the middle or at the end of your dog's name, even if your dog isn't even remotely related to the Great Elms dogs. Nothing except ethics, that is. This sort of abuse goes on all the time.

5. Do not use arabic numerals anywhere in the name. If you want to have a number, you'll either have to spell it out or use roman numerals. Roman numerals may not be used at the end of the name. "AKC reserves the right to assign roman numerals for identification purposes. AKC permits thirty-seven (37) dogs of each breed to be assigned the same name." Thus we can have Poms named Fluffy XXI, Fluffy XXII and so on.

Incidentally, if you've seen a blue slip lately, you may have noticed 2 changes. You no longer put down a second choice of name. If the first meets all other guidelines, they'll just tack a number on. The second change is the elimination of "other" as a color choice. This is to keep people from getting creative and putting down colors that aren't in the standard, such as "oatmeal", "sandy", or "alabaster".

All of the following are forbidden:

6. Use of any unearned AKC titles or words like champ, champion, or sieger.

7. Obscenities or terms that are derogatory to any race, creed, or nationality. Several naughty names have gone through, thanks to creative spelling.

8. The words kennel, dog, male, stud, sire, bitch, dam, or female.

9. Breed names alone.

10. "Names of prominent people living or recently deceased." Now that's a surprise! So how did Liz Taylor, Goldie Hawn, and Calvin Klein get through?

11. You may have been told that you can't use the name of a commercial product such as Pepsi or Chrysler. This "rule" is not in AKC's booklet.

When choosing a registered name, try to pick something memorable and pronounceable. Foreign phrases make that more difficult. Try to avoid trite and cutesy. Pom people have overdone "little", "tiny", and "wee". It seems to me to "little" in a Pom's name is redundant. Creativity and originality are welcome. One of my favorite Pom names is "Spinach Fitz", a delightful play on the breed name Finnish Spitz.

Call names should be brief, one or two syllables. It should not be similar to any household or obedience command. To test out a call name, I imagine myself using it for the recall in the obedience ring.

By Pat Anderson

PEDRONS is derived from Pedro (Galindo) and Ronald (Welch). For that matter, it could easily have been Mex-Tex, as Peter was born in Mexico and Ron was born in the Texas Panhandle! In any case, this family of Pomeranians, which now boasts quite a few impressive credentials, had a very humble beginning in 1966 for the two young men - Ron was 24 and Peter a mere 18.

While visiting a long time friend in Lubbock, Texas at the Kennels of Edirene, they learned that Ed and Irene Vaughn were in the process of retiring. They could keep only a limited number of dogs in the city and were faced with reducing their stock. Peter fell in love with a bright-eyed, ten-year-old bitch named Miss Fancy Pants of Edirene who was sleeping under a chair. This was Peter's first time to see a Pom and twenty all at once, no less! The Vaughn's were happy to place her with the boys as this also relieved them of having to euthanize a loving pet who had shown at Westminster. "Was this in England?" Peter asked, much to Ed and Irene's chuckles.

Back home in El Paso, Fancy Pants became the darling of the neighborhood and rejuvenated with loving care and attention, especially that of Louie Woo, the mail carrier, who to this day delivers the mail at Pedrons. Fancy Pants lived seven years with the boys and died peacefully one sunny spring day on the front porch waiting for Louie's affections.

Although Fancy Pants was ample fulfillment, Peter and Ron also yearned for a bouncy fur-ball of a puppy and not finding one for sale locally, they were faced with breeding their own. Recognizing that the boys were hooked on Poms, the Vaughns shared their years of experience, along with their champions and breeding stock. With this came two broods, Samantha and Spicette, as well as a show male with both majors, was to have a dim future because of what was developing in Texas — the Duke and The Duke-Look. The delightful fur-ball puppies started to arrive, but, they seemed like last year's fashions. The boys knew immediately that changes had to be instituted — but how?

Front view of Pedons "dog house" in mid-winter.

Ron felt that even a plain-Jane wearing last year's frock should have a go-at-it, so he joined the local kennel club to attend the training classes. This led to their very first dog shows in Midland, Texas to exhibit under a very austere Bill Field and an even more austere Dorothy Nickles! The boys never imagined that their first dog show judges would eventually become dear friends to this day. Their dog was certainly out-classed by Jeribeth's Doodle Bug and Williams Lucious Teddy, the latter to be theirs in the future. The good from this first experience was that they realized and acknowledged the fact. This was the seed that made them so determined to have a winning show dog. This was the time when Duke's get were hard to beat, this was the time the look was changing, for the better, the boys add.

(Cont. on page 59)

PEDRONS Poms

At this time the only Pomeranian champion in El Paso was Col. Brandenburg's Ch. Williams Stonewall Pepper, who had come from the Williams Kennel in Phoenix, Az. Tom and Hattie Williams, a retired couple then in their seventies, bred extensively for the show ring. They, too, welcomed these novices and shared their years of experience, their quality breeding stock, and their imprint on the boys runs deep. When the Williamses retired from active breeding, Peter and Ron acquired all their champions and broods. The addiction was complete. The Pomeranians had become an avocation.

Ron with an arm-full of Tank sons who will start their show careers in 1990.

Although they had the champions and the breeding stock, the end results were not producing the Texas-type dogs that were winning groups. Peter and Ron started a revitalization program to enhance the good stock on hand that was wearing tired and thin. By shipping only a few broods to certain key studs, home-bred champions began to be realized. There were three key studs: Ch. Millamor's Mark of Dixieland, Ch. Jeribeth's Dragon Killer, and Major Dink of Sunray. Joy and Art Davison were quite instrumental in helping the boys channel the best of the genes to achieve the type of Pom they wanted.

Joy and Art generously loaned Ch. Jeribeth's Dragon Killer to Pedrons for nine months during which time he bred every conceivable bitch on the place. In fact, they still have two very, very old Killer offspring — Ch. Pedrons Dragon Charmer and Pedrons Dragon Deuce, sire of their multiple group winner Ch. Pedrons Mark of the Dragon and their multiple Best in Show winner, Ch. Pedrons Dragon the Conqueror, aka TANK. Peter and Ron came to know virtually every dog in their pedigrees and learned what to capitalize upon and what combinations to avoid.

By 1978, the Pedrons line was firmly established, and to honor the legendary DUKE, from where the potent genes flowed, they began using the DRAGON motif in their dogs' names. Needless to say, meeting Duke and his owners Darrell and Olga Baker in 1970 in their home in Deer Park, made a lasting impression on the newcomers.

Over the years the canine residents of Pedrons, champions or not, have left their prints in one form or another: little quirks here, unique mannerisms there, pleasing and/or annoying habits everywhere, great expectations but unworthy results or vise-versa; but in its entirety, the endeavor of breeding quality at Pedrons has been more than a mere fulfillment of a pleasurable hobby — it has become an integral, inseparable part of two individuals' past, present and future lives.

Both fond and sad memories come to mind as Peter and Ron called out the names of so many kids gone-by and some of their current VIP's: Ch. Artistic Lady Pepperette, Ch. McKamey's Sundawn Gold, Ch. Williams Little Sandy Boy (a group winner), Ch. Williams Lucio Teddy, Ch. Pedrons Stylish CoCo Wag, Ch. Pedrons Luv-Bug's Top Tune, Ch. Pedrons Dragon Charmer (Top producing bitch of 1984), Ch. Pedrons Mark of the Dragon (multiple group winner, number 2 top sire for two years, and number 6 Pom in 1980), Ch. Jo-Art's Treasure of Pedrons, Ch. Pedrons Treasure O' the Dragon, Ch. Pedrons Chynna Dragon, Ch. Pedrons Dragonmark (multiple BISS winner, multiple group placements, and the number 1 Pom in breed for most of 1984), and Ch. Pedrons Chula Dragon mark (owned by Norma Gad at Chula's).

And of course, the culmination of any breeder's dream: their first homebred champion: Best in Show Winner! CH. PEDRONS DRAGON THE CONQUEROR, better known as Tank, was born a beautiful puppy on September 6, 1986. Peter and Ron still "adrenalize" when re-telling the whelping. He was either going to be beautiful as they sensed or he was going to very undesirable as they had not whelped anything like him before and they were not disappointed with Tank's development, as the former turned out to be the case. The puppy was "cantankerous," thus the name Tank. Peter has shown Tank on a limited basis in 32 all-breed shows and in 7 specialities. As such, his record to date is 2 Best in Show All-Breeds, 1 Best in Show Speciality, 12 Group First, 7 Group Seconds, 4 Group Thirds, 2 Group Fourths, 1 Best Puppy in Sweepstakes, and 2 Awards of Merit at the APC Speciality in New York. His first time out at six months, he won his first major at the Houston Pom Specialty and the following month at the ripe age of seven months, he was a multiple group winning puppy!

At Pedrons, only Tank has the run of the house. The puppies are born in elevated porta-pens in the TV room and are housed indoors until fully immunized at which time they are allowed to cavort in exercise pens on the front porch. This is especially effective as they grow accustomed to car noises, people walking by, and of course, Louie, the venerable, dog-loving mail carrier. In fact, when there are no dogs on the porch, Louie will knock at the door as to ask why not! The puppies' tenure on the porch is also when they begin their lead training. Ron, a school teacher, starts training classes in front of the house and gives each puppy a daily grade: how they do on the pavement, how they do on the sidewalks with obstacles to cross, and how they do on grass. At about six months, young pups join the adult dogs in an adjacent run off the back porch, but they do not actually co-mingle until they are mature. The adults have individual feeding and sleeping pens in the dry basement, which is cool in the summer and warm in the winter.

The doggies chores at Pedrons are a joint effort. One thing, however, Peter does not do "bottoms." Dirty bottoms fall to Ron each afternoon when he gets home from work. If there is a need to tidy-up; dirty rears, Peter will have already affixed a list on the refrigerator of those needing that service — this is the only time Peter doesn't own any dogs!

As to their views on dogs, dog show judges, dog shows, dog people, and what is on the horizon for their dogs, they have change because of many variables. The basics, of course, are there in the written standard; however, semantics and the way in which each individual interprets beauty or perfection don't necessarily go hand in hand. They feel that this is the binding force toward individuality as breeders, and that only the breeders can be the architects of the breed standard and the choreographers of its implementation.

Variety! It is what they perceive is good about dog show judges. The human factor is wonderful. Ron, the literature teacher, likens the judging of dogs to the interpreting of a literary work of art properly presented by its creator. Literary criticism also has its written guidelines, and he adds that it is also human nature that some of us do not have that latitude to judge and can work only in a "right-wrong" format. Fortunately, they feel that these self-appointed guardians of the breed are, mercifully, in the minority who will neither make nor affect a lasting impression on the breed — mediocrity under the guise of arrogance cannot be improved.

As for dog shows, they are emphatic that each exhibitor is responsible for what dog shows will come to that individual — attitude dictates the degrees of enjoyment or displeasure. One should not go to a show expecting instant gratification. The rewards, as Peter and Ron always advice new-comers, come after one makes a sincere and pursuant effort to learn as much as possible about the breed; they tell novices to pick a type that pleases them, study those pertinent pedigrees, to set their sights on a definite breeding program, strictly adhering to it with modifications only when the need arises.

PEDRONS Poms

Peter and Ron enjoy dog people. They see dog people as being like anyone else, but with a different hobby. If you nurture friendship, that will be the result. Dog people are competitive as they should be, dog people take pride as they should. For Pedrons, some of the best, most memorable and fun times have been spent with those "gone to the dawgs!"

Sadly, in a way, some of the sweet, smiling faces at Pedrons are getting quite old and may seem old-fashioned to some, but Peter and Ron are becoming "oldies-but-goodies" too. Pedrons has a good start on the horizon for the 90's with several fine pups that will continue and enhance its lines of "sweet faces that smile."

FEISTY'S POMERANIANS OFFERS FOR SALE

CH. FEISTY'S MY-T-FINE: I'm a single, orange happy go lucky proven stud who is looking to broaden his horizons! At just a year and a half, I really know how to please the ladies! I have produced a true blue son and an orange and sable son and daughter. As studly as I am, my dad feels I need more action than I'm getting at home. I began my show career at eight months with a five point major and finished my championship with a five point major at the July '89 Northern California Pom Specialty. In my limited time as a special, I have one BOB under my collar. I really enjoy showing and when I'm properly dressed, I'll be ready to try my paw as a special again. As with all children, Mom and Dad find it hard to let go, but it's time to leave the nest so that I can truly fly! You can see me in the Oct. '89 Review as a puppy along with my pedigree. My sire is a black and tan, so there is every possibility that I may produce black and tan.

FEISTY'S REBELS OUTLAW: Well, I'm a black and rust boy. I was born this past July and I'm a half brother to My-T-Fine. Mom says I should mature a solid four pounds. I have been to a few matches, have done well and by the time this is published, I'll have started my show career. I have nice bones and lots of coat and a very pleasing head. I too, am ready to leave the nest to a serious show home as showing is a great pleasure to me. My dam's side is mostly Great Elms.

Pedigrees and pictures available upon request. All phone calls and written requests are answered very promptly! These two boys can really enhance a serious breeders breeding program.

We would like to congratulate the PUGET SOUND POMERANIAN CLUB on their first point show!

Congratulations to the CPC on another show and good luck on the July Show.

We'd like to send a special thanks to the Fiddick's for our newest black and tank boy, "Feisty's Bandit of Pom Acres" and thank you Delores Watts for letting us have such a special Timmy son, "Watt's Little Feisty PDQ." Look for both of these special boys in the ring this spring.

Congratulations to all the Mt. Rainier Pomeranian Fancier's Winners at the March Match.

And last, but not least, a BIG thank you to the Ohio Valley Pom Club for all the hospitality. YOU all went above and beyond the call of duty! Same time next year???

Annual Stud Dog Register

It is a well-known adage that in seeking a stud for one's broods, the surest road to success comes from selecting a stud which is from an excellent family of winning and producing dogs, which is an outstanding example of the breed himself and which has sired a number of winning progeny. There are many such Poms in this country and it should always be remembered that a study of the pedigree is of highest value in picking the most suitable stud for each particular female. It is foolish to select a stud dog ONLY on the basis of his show wins or because he is conveniently located next door.

The July issue of Pom Review each year is considered to be the Stud Issue. This issue will be a valuable information and pictorial resource for the whole country, the whole year, and maybe, for many to come. Deadline for the Stud Issue is May 15, 1990.

The cost of entering your dog in the Stud Dog Register is $10 for each entry, plus the cost of the photo (also $10). Dogs may be entered without photos, if none is available, and a description of the dog may be inserted in the space intended for the photograph. Color will reproduce very well; Polaroids are not acceptable. The best photo for reproduction is a black and white glossy. Description beneath the photo is limited to twenty words. Please send copies of pedigrees that do not need to be returned. The dog's color is also very important in the description. The Stud Dog Register will of course, be presented just as it always has, but don't hesitate to submit full and half page ads featuring your studs.

Pom Review is proud to pay honor to the two Top Studs for 1989, both having produced seven champions. Ch. Great Elms Prince Charming II (Skip Piazza & Olga Baker, owners; Ruth Beam, breeder)) and Ch. Chriscendo City Lights (Sue & Tim Goddard & Chris Hartz, owners; Chris Hartz, breeder) share the spotlight as the top studs of 1989.

Usually, this is done with the use of stud cards. But since no photo or pedigree were provided for use in such a format, we'll just extend our hearty CONGRATULATIONS to the owners and breeders.

OBEDIENCE NEWS

by Brenda Hutton

We have almost the greatest news possible to report to you. The Baltimore Pomeranian Club HAS BEEN APPROVED by the American Kennel Club to hold a licensed Obedience Trial in conjunction with their Speciality this summer. Write in Thursday, July 5, 1990 on your calendar and plan to attend. The Trial Chairman is Margaret McKee (Helpful Hints columnist). Write to her for information. The APC speciality is scheduled (I believe) for Friday, July 6 and will have conformation only. If you want to be a part of this first time ever in the United States AKC Sanctioned Pomeranian Obedience Specialty, start saving your pennies now and put in for your vacation time. It should be a great time!

(FLASH - The obedience members of the Pom Club of Baltimore will host "Site, Stay & Talk" beginning at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, July 4 in the Hospitality Room at the Holiday Inn, Timonium, Maryland. Come tell us about your Poms. Get suggestions on training. Meet Pom obedience people!

...Mary Vickers, APC Obedience Chair)

Now for the old news. The remainder of this column was supposed to have been run in the January issue. It was both mailed as hard copy and sent to the former editor on diskette compatible with her computer. But due to the oversight on her part, it wasn't included in the magazine. She forgot to transfer the file from WordPerfect to Pagemaker and never missed the column when proofing her work. I apologize for her as it made for somewhat less of an Obedience issue than it should have been. It's my hope this will not happen with the new editor.

We open with some really marvelous news. APC member Rosalind Goltz is really cooking. As you may remember, she finished the first (and only) Champion/Utility Dog combination on a Pomeranian with Ch. Emcee's Solid Gold O'Jabil UD (breeder: Morris and Betty Carson) last October. She's done it again. Ch. Penru's Sugar Plum Fairy CDX (breeder: Rosiland Goltz and Jessie Young out of Ch. Jabil's Pinto Hi-Tone CDxPenru Prima Ballerina O'Jabil CDX) finished her Utility Dog Title this October. To top that, she had already finished her Canadian UD in August and was the top obedience Pom in Canada for 1988. Sugar Plum is now the first and only Champion Pom with a UD in two countries. Not content with that, Roz left October 30 for Bermuda to attend a five show circuit to try for their Bermuda UD. She reports they did earn two legs toward that elusive UD with two first placements. She'll have to go back again for that third leg. Some people try to tell us that a good quality Pom can't do obedience, tracking, flyball, etc. It's people like Roz who dispell this myth. Roz, we're all so proud of you, Morris and Sugar Plum! Keep up the outstanding work.

Just a thought, but has the APC ever considered recognizing the breeder producing the most obedience titled Poms or the highest level obedience titles in a year (or maybe in a decade)? How about something for breeders producing the dual titled (Championship and Obedience) Pom? Let me know what you think or if you have any other ideas along this line. Wouldn't it be wonderful to have even more breeders interested in what we do in obedience and willing to sell us the sound, healthy dogs needed for participation both in the breed ring and the obedience ring!

MORE UTILITY DOGS

Last issue I reported on Linda Gallagher's new UD on Sunswept Hot Fudge Sundae CDX (breeder: Betty Jo Mason). Now I have the scores and dates. Their first leg was March 12 with a 184.5 at Timberland Valley Dog Fanciers Assoc.; following June 14 and 18 with a 186.0 at Snake River Canyon KC of Idaho and a 178.5 and 3rd place at Pocatello KC. I'm just so proud of the both of them. Sometimes (maybe most of the time?) when you're working for a UD you reach a barrier after CDX work. Maybe the dog burns out, maybe you do. But almost everyone finds Utility extremely difficult and I feel it takes like a lifetime to earn, if it's ever achieved. Many, many people give up. Linda and Sundae had their share of problems and heartaches. Congratulations, Linda, on sticking it out and being persistent. This one doesn't come easily, so it holds the greatest satisfaction for most of us. Some of the rest of us have either been there or are still stuck and we all salute you, Linda.

Speaking of persistent and stuck! Mary Vickers and Annon's Huggy Bear From Scamp CDX, Can. CD (breeder: Ann Cannon) have been working on Utility now for a long while, too. She and I have shared many a cry on being stuck — he won't do it! What am I doing wrong? What's wrong with his nose, darn those jumps anyway, etc. Mary just phoned to tell me "HUGGY GOT HIS FIRST UD LEG YESTERDAY!!!!" Or words to that effect. The message was delivered in something between a squeal and a scream. Talk about solid gold! It came 11/5/89. His performance was sparkling, so much so that he barked with joy throughout all the exercises. (Guess who didn't care?) As he did his second go-out and approached the bar jump (my Gosh, he's going to do it!) he cleared the jump with about 10" to spare and came in directly to heel position, losing more bunches of points after all that barking for a no front. As the judge was shaking his head, feeling sorry for not getting that front. Mary is just about screaming to herself "SAY EXERCISE FINISHED!!!!" I understand everyone near the ring just exploded when the judge finally released them. Mary's reaction to the barking and no front was, "I don't care! We got a leg!!!!" Congratulations Mary seems so small, but good luck getting those next two legs quickly.

A new UD title also goes to Eleanor and Charley Hamilton on Shawn of Brockton, CDX (breeder: Merle Sloughter). They finished this year. I think I'm missing a leg, but I have a 191.5 earned April 2, 1988 at Kanadasaga KC, a 183.0 June 30 of this year and 3rd place at Susque-Nango KC, and a 186.0 July 1 at Chenango Valley KC. Obviously, they're people who've stuck it out, too!

Mary Morse and Miss Chief Suzy Morse UD (breeder: Gertrude Wolczewski), after recently finishing their UD, are still out there showing. I've recorded two scores, June 10 and 11, a 191 and a 192 at Milwaukee DTC and K-9 OTC of Menominee Falls. Maybe we're trying for the next Pom OTCH?

NEW CDX TITLES

Once again, Linda Gallacher is in therewith another new title. Lady Di's Life of the Parti CD (breeder: Nancy Turner and Diane Clark-Bryant) have finished their CDX. Last issue I reported a 196.0 and 1st place and a 197.0 and 1st place. They went on to finish with a 195.0 and 3rd Place at Spokane KC under H.C. Jahelka; a 191.0 and 3rd place at Inland Empire Kennel Assoc.; and a 192.5 and

3rd place at Spokane Dog Training Club. Nice going, Linda! And to think she was doing Utility at the same time with Sundae. This is a Dog World Award if these were her first three shows. How about it, Linda?

Colleen Bennett and Silver Meadows Mr Munchkin, CD (breeder: Jacquelyn Klein, sired by Ch. Silver Meadows Starmister) have also earned a new CDX. They went out the month of June to earn a 190.0 and 3rd place at North Country Kennel Club; a 187.0 at Syracuse OTC; and a 195.0 and 2nd place at Susque-Nango KC under R.J. Ambrosio. Another very nice job.

In earlier columns I've mentioned Judy Bach and Niks Lil Crash of Angel Dust, CDX (breeder: Randy Nelson). Marian Lazzara wrote me about this duo and I had the marvelous opportunity to meet them during the Memorial Day Weekend Circuit in Kalamazoo, Michigan this year. A nicer young person you'd never hope to meet nor a more supportive mother than hers. Unfortunately, I did not have the chance to see them in the ring, but we visited and had a very nice time.

I hope to let Judy write a little something about Nik because they have a very interesting story. Anyway, after six shows in Open A to earn their title they were carrying a 195.08 average. Keeping on with the tradition, they also got a 196.0 and 4th place, a 197.5 and 1st place at Fox Valley DTC under Ms. L. Fitzgerald and a 195.5 under W.A. Oxandale. Memorial weekend in Open B they earned a 195.5 under John Blenkey who's known to be a very tough judge. Judy, keep up the good work. We hope to see you in the Utility ring in a year or so.

Just about two years ago I reported that Trish Barry put a CD on Mister Felix T Cat (breeder: Ed and Jessica Stark). They've now gone out and in a week's time earned their CDX. In May they received a 191.0 and 4th Place at Rio Grande ODC, 189.0 at Sandia DOC, and a 193.0 and 1st place at Chaparral KC. I'm keeping an eye out for her because I noticed that she put a UDT on a Toy Poodle in 1987. Maybe she's planning some tracking for her Pom next.

Elma Maines, who finished a CD on Gold Dust Pandly Maines CD (breeder: Louise Forrester) in June of 1988 is working on a CDX this year. So far they've got a 186.5 and 2nd Place at Shasta KC on the 16th and a 191.0 and 1st Place at Two Cities KC on the 18th. Nice job!

NEW CD TITLES FROM NOVICE B

APC member Lois Morkassel has been rather busy herself during 1988. After putting a CD on Kassels Gardean Sir Pant, CD (breeder: owner, by Ch. Thelduns John John x Kassel's Dandelion Down, CD) in April, 1988, she's put another CD on another dog I assume is a littermate. Kassels Gardean Sir Tifikat (same breeder, sire and dam as above) went out to earn their CD on one weekend. July 14th saw them earn a 188.0 at Iron Range DTC, the 15th brought a 180.0 at Twin Ports DTC, the 16th (tired yet?) saw a 174.5 at Duluth KC. Good work, Lois!

Margaretta Patton got a CD on Desiree's Spice of Life (breeder: Desaree Sandifer). They earned a 181.0 at Charlotte DTC, a 184.5 at Greater Columbia Obedience Club and a 180.0 at Palmetto OTC between March and June.

Tamara Patty also finished a CD on Amberlite Ashely Dancer (breeder: Joyce

Haire Bowles). In April they earned a 180.0 at Orlando DTC and a 181.5 at Imperial Polk Obedience Club of Lakeland, Florida. Their last score in August has not yet been published.

Ann Davis has done really well with One Little Tough Kid (breeder: Dawna Jones). They started a little slow with a 193.0 and 3rd place at Kanawha OTC in West Virginia; a 188.0 at Mount Pleasant, MI KC, then picked up a 196.5 and 1st place at Grand Traverse KC under Jim Ham to finish their CD. Next they got a 196.5 and 2nd place at Mountaineer KC under K.M. Naglerback in West Virginia; a 194.0 at Huntington KC and a 196.5 and 3rd place at Magic Valley KC under R.E. Murphy. Nice job, indeed!

Janet Feldmann and Patricia Foley also put a CD on Dover-Holihouse Le-Roy Brown (breeders: Pat Foley and Kathryn Hartz; sired by Ch. Pombreden's Heavenly Toy Boy). They got a 182.0 at Princeton DTC, a 183.0 at Bayshore Companion Dog Club, a 188.5 at Philadelphia DTC and a 186.0 at Trenton KC.

Gerald and Beverly Keller were successful with Holly Snowflake (breeder: Richard Edwards). They started out in Novice A with a 177.0 in 1987, then finished in Novice B with a 183.5 at Beaver Valley Training Club and a 182.5 at Golden Triangle OTC May 6 and 7.

NEW CD TITLES FROM NOVICE A

From Novice A we begin with Robin Weiss and Snuggle-Up Zackery (breeder: Mrs. William Urban). They managed nicely with a 194.0 and 3rd place at the International KC of Chicago (where Bernie Brown went High in Trial with Pomirish Twinkle Break, CDX); a 181.0 at Wilmington KC; a 194.0 at Badger KC and a 193.5 and 3rd place at Starved Rock KC.

Jeanette McKay earned her first CD on Honeyluv Fanciful Taffey (breeder: owner). They received a 187.0 at Longview KC, a 193.0 at Red River OTC and a 185.5 once again at Longview KC. All these trials were in Texas.

Teena Householder worked her way to a CD with Charcoal's Little Cinder (breeder: owner). They got a 190.0 and 1st place at Little Rock DTC, a 187.0 at Memphis OTC, followed by a 195.5 and 1st place again at Little Rock DTC under Miss L.M. Neeb.

Linda and Helmut Fleisch also earned their CD on Nancy of Baldwinsville (breeder: Marjorie Von Bergen). They got a 188.5 and 4th place at Onondaga Kennel Assoc.; a 190.0 at Finger Lakes KC; a 193.0 and 3rd place at St. Lawrence Valley DC; a 189.5 and 4th place at North Country KC; and a 189.0 at Syracuse OTC. All these trials were in New York.

Sandra and Devery Davis earned a CD with Ch. Devery's Diamond Josh (breeders: owner, sired by C. Millbrook's El Gran Caballero). They posted a 187.0 at Pocatello KC; a 186.5 at Eagle Rock KC, and a 190.0 and 2nd place at Snake River Canyon KC of Idaho. They had the chance to see Linda Gallacher at Snake River earn that precious Utility leg. I hope they were watching and learning.

Our last CD is by Jean Furguele on Red Feather Fritzy (breeders: Kermit and Darlene Henningsen). They've posted a 185.5 at Beaver Valley Training Club, a 187.0 at Golden Triangle OTC, and a 179.5 at Kittanning KC, all in Pennsylvania.

I'm sorry to report that Spunky did not earn his American TDX this year. We've been working really hard all year and made wonderful progress. Right after learning he had been drawn and was in a TDX test, the weather here turned very dry. The vegetation became very dry and difficult to hold a scent. He would have some problems tracking on a 30 minute track, and was very unsure and confused on a three hour old track. As luck would have it we drew a field of newly mown hay with very little greenery in it after two weeks of beautiful, 70 degree, dry weather. He started out ok but went the wrong way on the first turn and failed. In that test 9 out of the 10 dogs entered failed, most of the handlers lamenting the dry weather, so it turns out our problem was the same experienced by everyone else. But we won't give up! I hope to find a test this spring with suitable grounds to give it a try again. However, this means we'll have to keep working all winter. UGGGGGGHHH!!!

I do have one bit of good news. My terrific twosome, BK's Sunshine Supergirl AM/Can/UKC CD, TT (breeder: Ericka Moureau) and BK's Sir Spunky, CDX/TD, Can. OTCH/UDT, U-UD, TT (breeder: Ardith Neil) were entered in race competition at the July 2 trial of The Obedience Training Club of Greater Lansing. Out of the 10 braces entered, we finally took a first place with a 386.5. Everyone said they did really well that day so I was very pleased.

That's all the news I've got this time around. Call or write in your brags, results, questions, etc. at (517) 485-5183 anytime. If you have any ideas or suggestions about changes we can make to this column to make it more interesting, change the name, etc., let's hear from you. Here's hoping your dog is always a happy heeler and a terrific tracker!

Those Strange (and often funny) Telephone Calls on the Pom

By JoAnn Shifflett

Dear Fellow Breeders

Do you ever get Those calls? Calls that make you wonder "Is it all worth it?" Calls you cannot believe are happening. I would like to share a few of the such calls I have received and believe it or not - They are real!

Hello? I want you to tell me everything I need to know about breeding Pomeranians. I've already got my male. Bought him from the pet shop. Got a special deal on him. Only cost $150. They'uz wantin' to move him. He had been there four months. He's a real cute feller. Solid black with a white star on his chest and three white feet. Makes him unique. Pet shop man said this wuz a real rare color.

Weights about nine pounds. He's only six months old. Guess I'll have to wait another month or so to breed him.

Reply: Have the dog castrated and call me in the morning.

Hello? Hi! This is Bruce. My puppy is just sitting over in the corner, acting real strange. He yelps every once in a while. He's not normally like this. I'm concerned, of course, he did get hung up in the pen last night.

Reply: He must have gotten hung up in his pen last night. Better take him to the vet right away.

Hello? Do you raise the short haired Pomeranians or the long haired Pomeranians?

(Cont. on page 82)

Strange Phone Calls

Reply: I raise Pomeranians.

Hello? I'm looking for a Pomeranian puppy. I ain't gonna pay more than 100 dollars this time. Seems like every time I pay a big price for a dog something happens to it. My first one got run over - paid $400 for it. The next one got killed by our neighbor's Doberman - paid $300 for it. My mutt I had before these Poms lived to be 16 years old.

Reply: Take your $100 dollars, buy a used chain link portable kennel, go to the SPCA, adopt a mutt and keep him in it!

Hello? My puppy has been throwing up all day. He is really sick.

Did he eat anything he shouldn't have? No. Uh, well, my husband did give him about a half a cup of bacon grease this morning. It's supposed to be good for the coat. The puppy loved it. Ate it so fast he got choked a couple of times.

Reply: Give him one raw egg white & do not feed your dog grease anymore.

Hello? Yes, I am interested in purchasing a puppy. I saw that fantastic pom - Prince Charming - I want one just like that.

Reply: Sorry, I can't help you.

Hello? I'm calling in response to your ad. I'm looking for a female puppy to go with my male.

Reply: What lines are your male from? What do you mean?

What line? What does his pedigree say?

Oh! I don't fool with pedigrees. They are too much trouble. All I want is a female that's not related to my male!

Hello? I want a toy Pomeranian. Are yours toys, miniatures or standards?

Reply: The Pomeranian is classified as a toy breed - Adult weight 3 to 7 pounds.

Listen Lady - you say your standards are 3 to 7 pounds and your toys are 3 to 7 pounds. You are not making any sense.

My neighbor raises poodles. Let me give you her number.

Hello? I have a 1/2 full blooded Pom and I'm looking for a nice male to breed her with. The way I look at it, if I breed her with a 100% full blooded Pom, the puppies will look more like Pomeranians. The mother is a beagle/cocker spaniel mix.

Reply: No. The way I look at it is the puppies will look like a 3/4 Pomeranian, 1/4 beagle/cocker spaniel mix and there are already thousands of those waiting in dog pounds to be adopted. Have your dog spayed and call me in the morning.

Hello? I have a very nice AKC registered male Pom. I was wondering if you would like to use him with one of your females. I don't want to become a breeder. I just want something from him. I like him so much.

Reply: Sorry, I have my breedings planned for the next five years, and several champions in mind. Your dog's offspring may take after the mother - keep this in mind.

I would love to hear from other breeders who have had unusual questions asked of them and how they replied.

Ch. Nola's Lucky Charm-Sugar Hill

4 lb. red sable

Another group placer and multi-B.O.B. offspring from Ch. Prince Charming II and Great Elms Luvy of Lenette (who was pointed and pictured in the 6/88 issue of the Pom Reader).

Charm finished his championship with a 4 pt. major in August '89 at the Shrewsbury K.C. under judge Edd Embry Bivin.

My sincere thanks to all the judges who found him worthy and to his trainer, William J. Trainor, for his superb handling and his sincere belief in this little charmer.

agreeing with me, it's quite obvious that almost everybody does agree, because almost everybody trims!! Otherwise, it would not be such a big issue!

Trimming does not change the look of the Pom to such an extent that one could "cheat" by trimming. A good groomer only enhances what is already there. If trimming took away from the beauty of the Pom, then a trimmed one would not win in the ring, such is certainly not the case.

Our standard at present, further separates the professionals from most owner handlers. Only the professionals are usually good enough at trimming so it looks "natural" and "untrimmed." To change the standard to disqualifying for over trimming would make the professionals improve their techniques even more thus leading to nearly all Poms having to be pro-handled to compete and win. It would be directly penalizing amateur handlers. Is this what we want to happen to our breed?

Is it not time to put outdated rules away and change with the times? Re-

Yips and Yaps

Dear Editor:

This letter is in regards to comments in the Pom Review about excessive trimming. At the risk of sticking my neck out, I'd like to address this issue. I'd like to ask: Isn't dog showing supposed to be a sport? - not life and death. And, aren't rules made to be broken? - or at least changed from time to time?

Personally, I think Pomeranians are much more beautiful trimmed and whether or not anyone else will admit

CAN.AM.BDA. CH. MILLAMOR'S ROCK
MEDALLION ROM

January 1, 1977 - December 24, 1989

MEDALLION. His passing marks, for us, the end of an era, as well as the end of the decade.

MEDALLION. His first year in the ring, was Top Pom in Canada (1978). His second year, he was again Top Pom, Number 2 Toy, and Number 10 All Breeds. He won more points in a single year than any other Pom in the history of the Breed, a record which still stands. He won 12 Bests in Show, and almost 60 Group First before retiring.

MEDALLION. We hope he will always be remembered, not for his show record, but for his ability as a producer. While not used extensively, his contribution to the breed, both in Canada and the U.S., is remarkable. To date he has 29 Champions in Canada, 9 are Best in Show winners, 17 Group winners, and 10 are American Champions. His kids have won more than 35 Best in Shows in Canada. Others have gone on to become Top Producers themselves.

MEDALLION was all of these things, but more important, is the special place he will always have in our hearts.

ardless of how the standard reads now or in the future, the trimming fad just would not be eliminated. Because this fad is a wonderful look that most people seem to like!

I also think that trimmed Poms have a better chance of winning groups and Best In Shows because they look like show dogs. Natural Poms quite often look like someone's pet and sometimes appears straight out of the kennel! I say, let's go the extra mile, go to some extra trouble and make our Pom s look their very best in the ring, up to the full potential.

Do we APC members want to hold our breed back because of this one line in our standard or are we willing to change and improve and move ahead?

There are some serious things to consider disqualifying in the ring, such as slipping joints, open fontanels, and poor temperament. Let's keep perspective what is REALLY best for our breed.

Is there anyone out there not afraid to admit they feel this very same way?

Tammy Carrell
Roanoke, Va.

Co-Ownning Can Be An Enriching Experience

By Wendy Feist

To co-own or not to co-own is a valid and important question! I believe before any one takes on an arrangement such as this, one must fully understand what it means to co-own. The breeder who is parting with and the buyer who is buying a dog on a co-own contract, must fully understand that each partner owns equally! Being a co-owner doesn't mean that you own less than the owner mentioned first on the papers! It means to own jointly!

It can be hard for a breeder to let go of the idea that the dog isn't fully his/hers still and it can be equally hard for the new owner who has paid hard earned money for a dog to realize that he must share equally in all the aspects that entail co-owning.

If you believe this with you head and your HEART, you are truly ready to have a chance at a wonderful experience. I fully believe in co-owning and have had some good times and learned a lot in the process. It's like a lot of relationships in life — it doesn't just work on its own — YOU MUST PUT EFFORT into it. It isn't all give and take.

I believe in always having a contract/agreement in writing before buying or selling. With co-owning it is of the utmost importance! You must contemplate possible situations that can arise and be sure to cover these and all the bases in the contract. Even between friends! Several years down the road you may have forgotten anything verbal you may have promised. The following is an example of what I would include on a long term co-own contract:

1) The name and address of each party involved with an inclusion of any change of address or phone number.

2) This statement can be vital should things go array! This advice comes from any attorney when asked about putting together a legal document. "Any legal action will be done in _____ (City) and _____ (State)."

3) All the information on the AKC papers should also be included.

4) General medical care and up to keep is a must! If it is a bitch, what if there is a c-section? How will expenses be covered? Or non-regular problems, such as a broken leg? Death?

5) I then cover all details relating to breeding. In a bitch, you would cover:

a) How you choose a stud;

b) How is the stud paid for;

c) If you use your own stud, a no fee statement should be included;

d) Which partner will handle the details pertaining to the breeding.

You would follow the same suit if it should be a male you are to co-own. And what about brucellosis testing?

6) In a bitch, you must decide how you will split any litters. What if only one puppy is produced? Who will do the whelping? What if you need a c-section, what vet will you use?

7) With which party will the dog reside? What about boarding and feed expense?

8) It is also important to record in the contract how much the dog was purchased for and what was required of each partner.

9) What about showing and all the expense it entails? What if a handler is needed?

10) An account ledger should be kept with all receipts for each expenses.

11) A clause should be included should a partner wish to terminate their part of the contract.

These are just a few basics. But the point is to give you an idea of some important things to consider when writing up and entering into a co-owning contract. Trust your instincts and feelings you have about the people you are getting involved with. If something doesn't set right with you about a prospective partner, check it out! Something small in the beginning could turn out to be a mountain in the future!

Another point that should be mentioned in writing the contract is the type of print and print size must remain the same throughout the contract. If you use hand writing, it should all be done in hand writing. It it's done in all caps, it should all be done in caps, etc. I think you get the point.

Be consistent. It really can work and be a good experience for you — as it has been for me.
